9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

16 (4) such uncertainty threatens the continued
17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the 20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

(10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal portions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance market from developing the necessary reserves to handle possible future losses due to acts of terrorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001, the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that in determining the Administrator responsible for making any determinations, for purposes of this Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should consider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security.

21 MINISTRATOR.

To the extent such information is not otherwise available to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Administrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrator shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

- Sec. 16. Definitions.
- Sec. 17. Extension of program.
- Sec. 18. Regulations.

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

(2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If the appropriate Administrator determines that the States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations adequately providing for the disclosures described in paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time after the date of the enactment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator shall, after consultation with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis requiring such disclosure in a manner that supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrator shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrators shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrator shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

- Sec. 1. Short title and table of contents.
- Sec. 2. Congressional findings.

- Sec. 16. Definitions.
- Sec. 17. Extension of program.
- Sec. 18. Regulations.

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

16 (4) such uncertainty threatens the continued
17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
 1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

 IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
 2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
 5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
 7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrator shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

- Sec. 1. Short title and table of contents.
- Sec. 2. Congressional findings.

- Sec. 16. Definitions.
- Sec. 17. Extension of program.
- Sec. 18. Regulations.

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

16 (4) such uncertainty threatens the continued
17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrators shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

16 (4) such uncertainty threatens the continued
17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrator shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

- Sec. 1. Short title and table of contents.
- Sec. 2. Congressional findings.

- Sec. 13. Consultation with State insurance regulators and NAIC.
- Sec. 14. Sovereign immunity protections.
- Sec. 15. Study of potential effects of terrorism on life insurance industry.
- Sec. 16. Definitions.
- Sec. 17. Extension of program.
- Sec. 18. Regulations.

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

16 (4) such uncertainty threatens the continued
17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrators shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

- Sec. 1. Short title and table of contents.
- Sec. 2. Congressional findings.
- Sec. 3. Designation of Administrators.
- Sec. 4. Submission of premium information to Administrator.

- Sec. 13. Consultation with State insurance regulators and NAIC.
- Sec. 14. Sovereign immunity protections.
- Sec. 15. Study of potential effects of terrorism on life insurance industry.
- Sec. 16. Definitions.
- Sec. 17. Extension of program.
- Sec. 18. Regulations.

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

16 (4) such uncertainty threatens the continued
17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

(10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal portions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance market from developing the necessary reserves to handle possible future losses due to acts of terrorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001, the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

(b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that in determining the Administrator responsible for making any determinations, for purposes of this Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should consider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

To the extent such information is not otherwise available to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Administrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. R. _____

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. OXLEY introduced the following bill; which was referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To ensure the continued financial capacity of insurers to provide coverage for risks from terrorism.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE AND TABLE OF CONTENTS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the
5 “Terrorism Risk Protection Act”.

6 (b) TABLE OF CONTENTS.—The table of contents for
7 this Act is as follows:

1 aggregate written premium for such insurer for
2 the preceding calendar year.

3 (B) MULTIPLE PAYMENTS.—If any
4 amounts required to be repaid under this sec-
5 tion for a calendar year are limited by operation
6 of subparagraph (A), the appropriate Adminis-
7 trator shall provide that all such remaining
8 amounts shall be reallocated among all commer-
9 cial insurers (in the manner provided in para-
10 graph (1)) over such immediately succeeding
11 calendar years, and repaid over such years, as
12 may be necessary to provide for full payment of
13 such remaining amounts, except that the limita-
14 tion under subparagraph (A) shall apply to the 15 amounts paid in any such successive calendar
16 years.

17 (C) ADMINISTRATIVE FLEXIBILITY.—

18 (i) TIMING OF ASSESSMENTS.—As-
19 sessments under this section in connection
20 with a triggering demonstration shall be
21 made, to the extent that the appropriate
22 Administrator considers practicable and
23 appropriate, at the beginning of the cal-
24 endar year immediately following the trig-
25 gering determination.

1 (ii) ESTIMATES AND CORRECTIONS.—

2 If the appropriate Administrator makes an
3 assessment at a time other than provided
4 under clause (i), the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator may—

6 (I) require commercial insurers
7 to estimate their aggregate written
8 premiums for the year in which the
9 assessment is made; and

10 (II) make a subsequent refund or
11 require additional payments to correct
12 such estimation at the end of the cal-
13 endar year.

14 (4) DEFERRAL OF CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ap-
15 propriate Administrator may defer the payment of
16 part or all of the assessment required under para-
17 graph (2) to be paid by a commercial insurer, but
18 only to the extent that the appropriate Adminis-
19 trator determines that such deferral is necessary to
20 avoid the likely insolvency of the commercial insurer.

21 SEC. 8. TERRORISM LOSS REPAYMENT SURCHARGE.

22 (a) IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION.—If, pursuant to
23 a triggering determination, the appropriate Administrator
24 determines that the aggregate amount of industry-wide

1 losses resulting from the triggering event involved exceeds
2 $20,000,000,000, the appropriate Administrator shall—

3 (1) establish and impose a policyholder pre-
4 mium surcharge, as provided under this section, on
5 commercial property and casualty insurance written
6 after such determination, for the purpose of repay-
7 ing financial assistance made available under section
8 6 in connection with such triggering determination;
9 and

10 (2) provide for commercial insurers to collect
11 such surcharge and remit amounts collected to the
12 appropriate Administrator.

13 (b) AMOUNT AND DURATION.—The surcharge under
14 this section shall be established in such amount, and shall
15 apply to commercial property and casualty insurance writ-
16 ten during such period, as the appropriate Administrator
17 determines is necessary to recover the aggregate amount
18 of financial assistance provided under section 6 to cover
19 insured losses resulting from the triggering event that ex-
20 ceed $20,000,000,000.

21 (c) OTHER TERMS.—The surcharge under this sec-
22 tion shall—

23 (1) be based on a percentage of the amount of
24 commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
25 erage that a policy provides; and

1 (2) be imposed with respect to all commercial
2 property and casualty insurance coverage written
3 during the period referred to in subsection (b).

4 SEC. 9. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSESSMENTS AND SUR-
5 CHARGES.

6 (a) MANNER AND METHOD.—The appropriate Ad-
7 ministrator shall provide for the manner and method of
8 carrying out assessments under section 7 and surcharges
9 under section 8, including the timing and procedures of
10 making assessments and surcharges, notifying commercial
11 insurers of assessments or surcharge requirements, col-
12 lecting payments from and surcharges through commercial
13 insurers, and refunding of any excess amounts paid or
14 crediting such amounts against future assessments.

15 (b) TIMING OF COVERAGES AND ASSESSMENTS.—
16 The appropriate Administrator may adjust the timing of
17 coverages and assessments provided under this Act to pro-
18 vide for equivalent application of the provisions of this Act
19 to commercial insurers and policies that are not based on
20 a calendar year.

21 (c) APPLICATION TO SELF-INSURANCE ARRANGE-
22 MENTS.—The appropriate Administrator may, in con-
23 sultation with the NAIC, apply the provisions of this Act,
24 as appropriate, to self-insurance arrangements by munici-
25 palities and other entities, but only if such application is

1 determined before the occurrence of a triggering event and
2 all of the provisions of this Act are applied uniformly to
3 such entities.

4 (d) ADJUSTMENT.—The appropriate Administrator
5 may adjust the assessments charged under section 7 or
6 the percentage imposed under the surcharge under section
7 8 at any time, as the appropriate Administrator considers
8 appropriate to protect the national interest, which may in-
9 clude avoiding unreasonable economic disruption or exces-
10 sive market instability.

11 SEC. 10. RESERVE FOR TERRORISM COVERAGE UNDER
12 COMMERCIAL LINES OF BUSINESS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 832 of the Internal Rev-
14 enue Code of 1986 (relating to insurance company taxable
15 income) is amended by adding at the end the following
16 new subsection:

17 “(h) TERRORISM RESERVE FOR COMMERCIAL LINES
18 OF BUSINESS.—In the case of an insurance company sub-
19 ject to tax under section 831(a)—

20 “(1) INCLUSION FOR DECREASES, AND DEDUC-
21 TION FOR INCREASES, IN BALANCE OF RESERVE.—

22 “(A) DECREASE TREATED AS GROSS IN-
23 COME.—If for any taxable year—

24 “(i) the opening balance for the ter-
25 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

1 “(ii) the closing balance for such re-
2 serve,
3 such excess shall be included in gross income
4 under subsection (b)(1)(F).

5 “(B) INCREASE TREATED AS DEDUC-
6 TION.—If for any taxable year—

7 “(i) the closing balance for the ter-
8 rorism commercial business reserve exceeds

9 “(ii) the opening balance for such re-
10 serve,
11 such excess shall be taken into account as a de-
12 duction under subsection (c)(14).

13 “(2) TERRORISM COMMERCIAL BUSINESS RE-
14 SERVE.—For purposes of this section, the term ‘ter-
15 rorism commercial business reserve’ means amounts
16 held in a segregated account (or other separately
17 identifiable arrangement or account) which are set
18 aside exclusively—

19 “(A) to mature or liquidate, either by pay-
20 ment or reinsurance, future unaccrued claims
21 arising from declared terrorism losses under
22 commercial lines of business, and

23 “(B) if so directed by the insurance com-
24 missioner of any State, to pay other claims as

1 part of a plan of the company to avoid insol-
2 vency.

3 “(3) LIMITATION ON AMOUNT OF RESERVE.—

4 “(A) IN GENERAL.—If the closing balance
5 of any terrorism commercial business reserve
6 for any taxable year exceeds such reserve’s limit
7 for such year—

8 “(i) such excess shall be included in
9 gross income under subsection (b)(1)(F)
10 for the following taxable year, and

11 “(ii) if such excess is distributed dur-
12 ing such following taxable year, the open-
13 ing balance of such reserve for such fol-
14 lowing taxable year shall be determined
15 without regard to such excess.

16 “(B) RESERVE LIMIT.—

17 “(i) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of
18 subparagraph (A), a reserve’s limit for any
19 taxable year is such reserve’s allocable
20 share of the national limit for the calendar
21 year in which such taxable year begins.

22 “(ii) NATIONAL LIMIT.—The national
23 limit is $40,000,000,000 ($13,340,000,000
24 for 2002).

25 “(iii) ALLOCATION OF LIMIT.—

1 “(I) IN GENERAL.—A reserve’s
2 allocable share of the national limit
3 for any calendar year is the amount
4 which bears the same ratio to the na-
5 tional limit for such year as the com-
6 pany’s net written premiums for com-
7 mercial lines of business bears to such
8 net written premiums for all compa-
9 nies for commercial line of business.

10 “(II) EXCLUSION OF PREMIUMS
11 FOR INSURANCE NOT COVERING DE-
12 CLARED TERRORISM LOSSES AND FOR
13 REINSURANCE.—Subclause (I) shall
14 be applied without regard to pre-
15 miums for insurance which does not
16 cover declared terrorism losses and
17 premiums for reinsurance.

18 “(III) DETERMINATION OF NET
19 WRITTEN PREMIUMS.—Except as oth-
20 erwise provided in this section, all de-
21 terminations under this subsection
22 shall be made on the basis of the
23 amounts required to be set forth on
24 the annual statement approved by the

1 National Association of Insurance
2 Commissioners.

3 “(iv) INFLATION ADJUSTMENT OF
4 LIMIT.—In the case of any calendar year
5 after 2002, the $40,000,000,000 amount
6 in clause (ii) shall be increased by an
7 amount equal to the product of—

8 “(I) such dollar amount, and

9 “(II) the cost-of-living adjust-
10 ment determined under subsection
11 (f)(3) for such calendar year, deter-
12 mined by substituting ‘calendar year
13 2001’ for ‘calendar year 1992’ in sub-
14 paragraph (B) thereof.

15 If any amount after adjustment under the
16 preceding sentence is not a multiple of
17 $1,000,000, such amount shall be rounded
18 to the nearest multiple of $1,000,000.

19 “(4) DECLARED TERRORISM LOSSES.—For pur-
20 poses of this subsection—

21 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The term ‘declared
22 terrorism losses’ means, with respect to a tax-
23 able year—

24 “(i) the amount of losses and loss ad-
25 justment expenses incurred in commercial

1 lines of business that are attributable to 1
2 or more declared terrorism events, plus

3 “(ii) any nonrecoverable assessments,
4 surcharges, or other liabilities that are
5 borne by the company and are attributable
6 to such events.

7 “(B) DECLARED TERRORISM EVENT.—The
8 term ‘declared terrorism event’ means any event
9 declared by the President to be an act of ter-
10 rorism against the United States for purposes
11 of this section.

12 “(5) REGULATIONS.—The Secretary shall pre-
13 scribe such regulations as may be appropriate to
14 carry out this subsection, and shall prescribe such
15 regulations after consultation with the National As-
16 sociation of Insurance Commissioners.”

17 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—

18 (1) Paragraph (1) of section 832(b) of such
19 Code is amended by striking “and” at the end of
20 subparagraph (D), by striking the period at the end
21 of subparagraph (E) and inserting in lieu thereof “,
22 and”, and by adding at the end the following new
23 subparagraph:

24 “(F) each net decrease in reserves which is
25 required by paragraph (1) or (3) of subsection

1 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS.

2 The Congress finds that—

3 (1) the terrorist attacks on the World Trade
4 Center and the Pentagon of September 11, 2001, re-
5 sulted in a large number of deaths and injuries, the
6 destruction and damage to buildings, and interrup-
7 tion of business operations;

8 (2) the attacks have inflicted possibly the larg-
9 est losses ever incurred by insurers and reinsurers;

10 (3) while the insurance and reinsurance indus-
11 tries have committed to pay the losses arising from
12 the September 11 attacks, the resulting disruption
13 has created widespread market uncertainties with re-
14 gard to the risk of losses arising from possible fu-
15 ture terrorist attacks;

16 (4) such uncertainty threatens the continued
17 availability of United States commercial property

1 (h) to be taken into account under this sub-
2 paragraph.”

3 (2) Subsection (c) of section 832 of such Code
4 is amended by striking “and” at the end of para-
5 graph (12), by striking the period at the end of
6 paragraph (13) and inserting in lieu thereof “; and”,
7 and by adding at the end the following new para-
8 graph:

9 “(14) each net increase in reserves which is re-
10 quired by subsection (h)(1) to be taken into account
11 under this paragraph.”

12 (c) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendments made by
13 this subsection shall apply to taxable years beginning after
14 December 31, 2001.

15 SEC. 11. STATE PREEMPTION.

16 (a) COVERED PERILS.—A commercial insurer shall
17 be considered to have complied with any State law that
18 requires or regulates the provision of insurance coverage
19 for acts of terrorism if the insurer provides coverage in
20 accordance with the definitions regarding acts of terrorism
21 under the regulations issued by the Administrators.

22 (b) RATE LAWS.—If any provision of any State law
23 prevents an insurer from increasing its premium rates in
24 an amount necessary to recover any assessments pursuant
25 to section 7, such provision is preempted only to the extent

1 necessary to provide for such insurer to recover such
2 losses.

3 (c) FILE AND USE.—With respect only to commercial
4 property and casualty insurance covering acts of ter-
5 rorism, any provision of State law that requires, as a con-
6 dition precedent to the effectiveness of rates or policies
7 for such insurance that is made available by an insurer
8 licensed to transact such business in the State, any action
9 (including prior approval by the State insurance regulator
10 for such State) other than filing of such rates and policies
11 and related information with such State insurance regu-
12 lator is preempted to the extent such law requires such
13 additional actions for such insurance coverage. This sub-
14 section shall not be considered to preempt a provision of
15 State law solely because the law provides that rates and
16 policies for such insurance coverage are, upon such filing,
17 subject to subsequent review and action, which may in-
18 clude actions to disapprove or discontinue use of such
19 rates or policies, by the State insurance regulator.

20 SEC. 12. CONSISTENT STATE GUIDELINES FOR COVERAGE
21 FOR ACTS OF TERRORISM.

22 (a) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING COVERED
23 PERILS.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

24 (1) the NAIC, in consultation with the appro-
25 priate Administrator, should develop appropriate

1 definitions for acts of terrorism and appropriate
2 standards for making determinations regarding
3 events or occurrences of acts of terrorism;

4 (2) each State should adopt the definitions and
5 standards developed by the NAIC for purposes of
6 regulating insurance coverage made available in that
7 State;

8 (3) in consulting with the NAIC, the appro-
9 priate Administrator should advocate and promote
10 the development of definitions and standards that
11 are appropriate for purposes of this Act; and

12 (4) after consultation with the NAIC, the ap-
13 propriate Administrator should adopt definitions for
14 acts of terrorism and standards for determinations
15 that are appropriate for this Act.

16 (b) INSURANCE RESERVE GUIDELINES.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS REGARDING ADOPTION
18 BY STATES.—It is the sense of the Congress that—

19 (A) the NAIC should develop appropriate
20 guidelines for commercial insurers and pools re-
21 garding maintenance of reserves against the
22 risks of acts of terrorism; and

23 (B) each State should adopt such guide-
24 lines for purposes of regulating commercial in-
25 surers doing business in that State.

1 (2) CONSIDERATION OF ADOPTION OF NA-
2 TIONAL GUIDELINES.—Upon the expiration of the 6-
3 month period beginning on the date of the enact-
4 ment of this Act, the appropriate Administrator
5 shall make a determination of whether the guidelines
6 referred to in paragraph (1) have, by such time,
7 been developed and adopted by nearly all States in
8 a uniform manner. If the appropriate Administrator
9 determines that such guidelines have not been so de-
10 veloped and adopted, the appropriate Administrator
11 shall consider adopting, and may adopt, such guide-
12 lines on a national basis in a manner that would
13 supercede any State law regarding maintenance of
14 reserves against such risks.

15 (c) GUIDELINES REGARDING DISCLOSURE OF PRIC-
16 ING AND TERMS OF COVERAGE.—

17 (1) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of
18 the Congress that the States should require, by laws
19 or regulations governing the provision of commercial
20 property and casualty insurance that includes cov-
21 erage for acts of terrorism, that the price of any
22 such terrorism coverage, including the costs of any
23 terrorism related assessments or surcharges under
24 this Act, be separately disclosed.

1 (2) ADOPTION OF NATIONAL GUIDELINES.—If
2 the appropriate Administrator determines that the
3 States have not enacted laws or adopted regulations
4 adequately providing for the disclosures described in
5 paragraph (1) within a reasonable period of time
6 after the date of the enactment of this Act, the ap-
7 propriate Administrator shall, after consultation
8 with the NAIC, adopt guidelines on a national basis
9 requiring such disclosure in a manner that
10 supercedes any State law regarding such disclosure.

11 SEC. 13. CONSULTATION WITH STATE INSURANCE REGU-
12 LATORS AND NAIC.

13 The Administrators shall consult with the State in-
14 surance regulators and the NAIC in carrying out this Act.
15 The Administrators may take such actions, including en-
16 tering into such agreements and providing such technical
17 and organizational assistance to insurers and State insur-
18 ance regulators, as may be necessary to provide for the
19 distribution of financial assistance under section 6 and the
20 collection of assessments under section 7 and surcharges
21 under section 8.

22 SEC. 14. SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY PROTECTIONS.

23 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR DAMAGES
24 FROM TERRORIST ACTS RESULTING IN TRIGGERING DE-
25 TERMINATION.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—If a triggering determination
2 occurs requiring an assessment under section 7 or a
3 surcharge under section 8, there shall exist a Fed-
4 eral cause of action, which shall be the exclusive
5 remedy, for damages claimed pursuant to, or in con-
6 nection with, any acts of terrorism that caused the
7 insured losses resulting in such triggering deter-
8 mination.

9 (2) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
10 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
11 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
12 State in which such act of terrorism occurred, unless
13 such law is inconsistent with or preempted by Fed-
14 eral law.

15 (3) JURISDICTION.—Pursuant to each trig-
16 gering determination, the Judicial Panel on Multi-
17 district Litigation shall designate one or more dis-
18 trict courts of the United States which shall have
19 original and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions
20 brought pursuant to this subsection that arise out of
21 the triggering event involved.

22 (4) OFFSET FOR RELIEF PAYMENTS.—Any re-
23 covery by a plaintiff in an action under this sub-
24 section shall be offset by the amount, if any, re-
25 ceived by the plaintiff from the United States pursu-

1 ant to any emergency or disaster relief program, or
2 from any other collateral source, for compensation of
3 losses related to the act of terrorism involved.

4 (b) DAMAGES IN ACTIONS REGARDING INSURANCE
5 CLAIMS.—In an action brought under this section for
6 damages claimed by an insured pursuant to, or in connec-
7 tion with, any commercial property and casualty insurance
8 providing coverage for acts of terrorism that resulted in
9 a triggering determination:

10 (1) PROHIBITION OF PUNITIVE DAMAGES.—No
11 punitive damages intended to punish or deter may
12 be awarded.

13 (2) NONECONOMIC DAMAGES.—

14 (A) IN GENERAL.—Each defendant in such
15 an action shall be liable only for the amount of
16 noneconomic damages allocated to the defend-
17 ant in direct proportion to the percentage of re-
18 sponsibility of the defendant for the harm to
19 the claimant.

20 (B) DEFINITION.—For purposes of sub-
21 paragraph (A), the term “noneconomic dam-
22 ages” means damages for losses for physical
23 and emotional pain, suffering, inconvenience,
24 physical impairment, mental anguish, disfigure-
25 ment, loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society

1 and companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
2 damages, injury to reputation, and any other
3 nonpecuniary losses of any kind or nature.

4 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
5 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
6 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

7 (d) PROTECTIVE ORDERS.—The United States or
8 any appropriate Administrator carrying out responsibil-
9 ities under this Act may seek protective orders or assert
10 privileges ordinarily available to the United States to pro-
11 tect against the disclosure of classified information, in-
12 cluding the invocation of the military and State secrets
13 privilege

14 SEC. 15. STUDY OF POTENTIAL EFFECTS OF TERRORISM
15 ON LIFE INSURANCE INDUSTRY.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT.—Not later than 30 days after
17 the date of enactment of this Act, the President shall es-
18 tablish a commission (in this section referred to as the 19 “Commission”) to study and report on the potential ef-
20 fects of an act or acts of terrorism on the life insurance
21 industry in the United States and the markets served by
22 such industry.

23 (b) MEMBERSHIP AND OPERATIONS.—

24 (1) APPOINTMENT.—The Commission shall con-
25 sist of 5 members, as follows:

1 (A) The appropriate Administrator, as des-
2 ignated by the President.

3 (C) 4 members appointed by the President,
4 who shall be—

5 (i) a representative of direct under-
6 writers of life insurance within the United
7 States;

8 (ii) a representative of reinsurers of
9 life insurance within the United States;

10 (iii) an officer of the NAIC; and

11 (iv) a representative of insurance
12 agents for life underwriters.

13 (2) OPERATIONS.—The chairperson of the
14 Commission shall determine the manner in which
15 the Commission shall operate, including funding,
16 staffing, and coordination with other governmental
17 entities.

18 (c) STUDY.—The Commission shall conduct a study
19 of the life insurance industry in the United States, which
20 shall identify and make recommendations regarding—

21 (1) possible actions to encourage, facilitate, and
22 sustain provision by the life insurance industry in
23 the United States of coverage for losses due to death
24 or disability resulting from an act or acts of ter-

1 rorism, including in the face of threats of such acts;
2 and

3 (2) possible actions or mechanisms to sustain or
4 supplement the ability of the life insurance industry
5 in the United States to cover losses due to death or
6 disability resulting from an act or acts of terrorism
7 in the event that—

8 (A) such acts significantly affect mortality
9 experience of the population of the United
10 States over any period of time;

11 (B) such losses jeopardize the capital and
12 surplus of the life insurance industry in the
13 United States as a whole; or

14 (C) other consequences from such acts
15 occur, as determined by the Commission, that
16 may significantly affect the ability of the life in-
17 surance industry in the United States to inde-
18 pendently cover such losses.

19 (d) RECOMMENDATIONS.—The Commission may
20 make a recommendation pursuant to subsection (c) only
21 upon the concurrence of a majority of the members of the
22 Commission.

23 (e) REPORT.—Not later than 120 days after the date
24 of enactment of this Act, the Commission shall submit to
25 the House of Representatives and the Senate a report de-

1 casualty insurance for terrorism risk at meaningful
2 coverage levels;

3 (5) the unavailability of affordable commercial
4 property and casualty insurance for terrorist acts
5 threatens the growth and stability of the United
6 States economy, including impeding the ability of fi-
7 nancial services providers to finance commercial
8 property acquisitions and new construction;

9 (6) in the past, the private insurance markets
10 have shown a remarkable resiliency in adapting to
11 changed circumstances;

12 (7) given time, the private markets will diver-
13 sify and develop risk spreading mechanisms to in-
14 crease capacity and guard against possible future
15 losses incurred by terrorist attacks;

16 (8) it is necessary to create a temporary indus-
17 try risk sharing loan program to ensure the contin-
18 ued availability of commercial property and casualty
19 insurance and reinsurance for terrorism-related
20 risks;

21 (9) such action is necessary to limit immediate
22 market disruptions, encourage economic stabiliza-
23 tion, and facilitate a transition to a viable market
24 for private terrorism risk insurance; and

1 scribing the results of the study and any recommendations
2 developed under subsection (c).

3 (f) TERMINATION.—The Commission shall terminate
4 60 days after submission of the report as provided for in
5 subsection (e).

6 SEC. 16. DEFINITIONS.

7 For purposes of this Act, the following definitions
8 shall apply:

9 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

10 (A) IN GENERAL.—The term “act of ter-
11 rorism” means any act that the appropriate Ad-
12 ministrator determines meets the requirements
13 under subparagraph (B), as such requirements
14 are further defined and specified by the appro-
15 priate Administrator in consultation with the
16 NAIC.

17 (B) REQUIREMENTS.—An act meets the
18 requirements of this subparagraph if the act—

19 (i) is unlawful;

20 (ii) causes harm to a person, property,
21 or entity, in the United States;

22 (iii) is committed by a group of per-
23 sons or associations who—

1 (I) are not a government of a
2 foreign country or the de facto gov-
3 ernment of a foreign country; and

4 (II) are recognized by the De-
5 partment of State or the appropriate
6 Administrator as a terrorist group or
7 have conspired with such a group or
8 the group's agents or surrogates; and

9 (iv) has as its purpose to overthrow or
10 destabilize the government of any country
11 or to influence the policy or affect the con-
12 duct of the government of the United
13 States by coercion.

14 (2) APPROPRIATE ADMINISTRATORS.—The term
15 “appropriate Administrator” means, with respect to
16 any function or responsibility of the Federal Govern-
17 ment under this Act, the Federal officer designated
18 by the President pursuant to section 3 as respon-
19 sible for carrying out such function or responsibility.

20 (3) AFFILIATE.—The term “affiliate” means,
21 with respect to an insurer, any company that con-
22 trols, is controlled by, or is under common control
23 with the insurer.

24 (4) AGGREGATE WRITTEN PREMIUM.—The
25 term “aggregate written premium” means, with re-

1 spect to a year, the aggregate premium amount of
2 all commercial property and casualty insurance cov-
3 erage written during such year for persons or prop-
4 erties in the United States under all lines of com-
5 mercial property and casualty insurance.

6 (5) COMMERCIAL INSURANCE.—The term
7 “commercial insurance” means property and cas-
8 ualty insurance that is not insurance for home-
9 owners, tenants, private passenger nonfleet auto-
10 mobiles, mobile homes, or other insurance for per-
11 sonal, family, or household needs.

12 (6) COMMERCIAL INSURER.—The term “com-
13 mercial insurer” means any corporation, association,
14 society, order, firm, company, mutual, partnership,
15 individual, aggregation of individuals, or any other
16 legal entity that is engaged in the business of pro-
17 viding commercial property and casualty insurance
18 for persons or properties in the United States. Such
19 term includes any affiliates of a commercial insurer.

20 (7) COMMERCIAL PROPERTY AND CASUALTY IN-
21 SURANCE.—The term “commercial property and cas-
22 ualty insurance” means property and casualty insur-
23 ance that is commercial insurance.

24 (8) CONTROL.—A company has control over an-
25 other company if—

1 (A) the company directly or indirectly or
2 acting through one or more other persons owns,
3 controls, or has power to vote 25 percent or
4 more of any class of voting securities of the
5 other company;

6 (B) the company controls in any manner
7 the election of a majority of the directors or
8 trustees of the other company; or

9 (C) the appropriate Administrator deter-
10 mines, after notice and opportunity for hearing,
11 that the company directly or indirectly exercises
12 a controlling influence over the management or
13 policies of the other company.

14 (9) COVERED PERIOD.—The term “covered pe-
15 riod” has the meaning given such term in section
16 5(b).

17 (10) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSSES.—The term “in-
18 dustry-wide losses” means the aggregate insured
19 losses sustained by all insurers, from coverage writ-
20 ten for persons or properties in the United States,
21 under all lines of commercial property and casualty
22 insurance.

23 (11) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”
24 means any loss in the United States covered by com-
25 mercial property and casualty insurance.

1 (12) INSURER.—The term “insurer” means any
2 corporation, association, society, order, firm, com-
3 pany, mutual, partnership, individual, aggregation of
4 individuals, or any other legal entity that is engaged
5 in the business of providing property and casualty
6 insurance for persons or properties in the United
7 States. Such term includes any affiliates of an in-
8 surer.

9 (13) NAIC.—The term “NAIC” means the Na-
10 tional Association of Insurance Commissioners.

11 (14) PROPERTY AND CASUALTY INSURANCE.—
12 The term “property and casualty insurance” means
13 insurance against—

14 (A) loss of or damage to property;

15 (B) loss of income or extra expense in-
16 curred because of loss of or damage to prop-
17 erty; and

18 (C) third party liability claims caused by
19 negligence or imposed by statute or contract.

20 Such term does not include health or life insurance.

21 (15) STATE.—The term “State” means the
22 States of the United States, the District of Colum-
23 bia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Com-
24 monwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam,

1 the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and any other
2 territory or possession of the United States.

3 (16) STATE INSURANCE REGULATOR.—The
4 term “State insurance regulator” means, with re-
5 spect to a State, the principal insurance regulatory
6 authority of the State.

7 (17) TRIGGERING DETERMINATION.—The term
8 “triggering determination” has the meaning given
9 such term in section 5(a).

10 (18) TRIGGERING EVENT.—The term “trig-
11 gering event” means, with respect to a triggering de-
12 termination, the event of an act of terrorism, or the
13 events of such acts, that caused the insured losses
14 resulting in such triggering determination.

15 (19) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
16 States” means, collectively, the States (as such term
17 is defined in this section).

18 SEC. 17. EXTENSION OF PROGRAM.

19 (a) AUTHORITY.—If the appropriate Administrator
20 determines that action under this section is necessary to
21 ensure the adequate availability in the United States of
22 commercial property and casualty insurance coverage for
23 acts of terrorism, the appropriate Administrator may pro-
24 vide that the provisions of this Act shall continue to apply
25 with respect to a period or periods, as established by the

1 Administrator, that begin after the expiration of the cov-
2 ered period specified in section 5(b) and end before Janu-
3 ary 1, 2005.

4 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—If the appropriate Adminis-
5 trator exercises the authority under subsection (a), not-
6 withstanding section 5(b) and section 16(9), the period or
7 periods established by the appropriate Administrator shall
8 be considered to be the covered period for purposes of this
9 Act.

10 SEC. 18. REGULATIONS.

11 The appropriate Administrators shall issue any regu-
12 lations necessary to carry out this Act.

1 (10) in addition, it is necessary to repeal por-
2 tions of the tax law which prohibit the insurance
3 market from developing the necessary reserves to
4 handle possible future losses due to acts of ter-
5 rorism.

6 SEC. 3. DESIGNATION OF ADMINISTRATORS.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Not later than December 1, 2001,
8 the President shall designate a Federal officer or officers
9 to act as the Administrator or Administrators responsible
10 for carrying out this Act and the responsibilities under
11 this Act to be carried out by each such officer.

12 (b) SENSE OF CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the
13 Congress that in determining the Administrator respon-
14 sible for making any determinations, for purposes of this
15 Act, as to whether a loss was caused by an act of terrorism
16 and whether such loss was caused by one or multiple such
17 events, pursuant to section 5(b), the President should con-
18 sider the appropriate role of the Assistant to the President
19 for Homeland Security.

20 SEC. 4. SUBMISSION OF PREMIUM INFORMATION TO AD-
21 MINISTRATOR.

22 To the extent such information is not otherwise avail-
23 able to the Administrators, the appropriate Administrator
24 may require each insurer to submit, to the appropriate Ad-
25 ministrator or to the NAIC, a statement specifying the

1 aggregate premium amount of coverage written by such
2 insurer for properties and persons in the United States
3 under each line of commercial property and casualty insur-
4 ance sold by such insurer during such periods as the ap-
5 propriate Administrator may provide.

6 SEC. 5. TRIGGERING DETERMINATION AND COVERED PE-
7 RIOD.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of this Act, a “trig-
9 gering determination” is a determination by the appro-
10 priate Administrator that the insured losses resulting from
11 the event of an act of terrorism occurring during the cov-
12 ered period (as such term is defined in subsection (b)),
13 or the aggregate insured losses resulting from multiple
14 events of acts of terrorism all occurring during the covered
15 period, meet the requirements under either of the fol-
16 lowing paragraphs:

17 (1) INDUSTRY-WIDE LOSS TEST.—Such indus-
18 try-wide losses exceed $1,000,000,000.

19 (2) CAPITAL SURPLUS AND INDUSTRY AGGRE-
20 GATE TEST.—Such industry-wide losses exceed
21 $100,000,000 and some portion of such losses for
22 any single commercial insurer exceed—

23 (A) 10 percent of the capital surplus of
24 such commercial insurer (as such term is de-
25 fined by the appropriate Administrator); and

1 (B) 10 percent of the commercial property
2 and casualty premiums written by such com-
3 mercial insurer;
4 except that this paragraph shall not apply to any
5 commercial insurer that has been making commer-
6 cial property and casualty insurance coverage avail-
7 able for less than 4 years as of the date of the deter-
8 mination under this subsection.

9 (b) COVERED PERIOD.—For purposes of this Act, the
10 “covered period” is the period beginning on the date of
11 the enactment of this Act and ending on January 1, 2003.

12 (c) DETERMINATIONS REGARDING EVENTS.—For
13 purposes of subsection (a), the appropriate Administrator
14 shall have the sole authority for determining whether—

15 (1) an occurrence or event was caused by an act
16 of terrorism;

17 (2) insured losses from acts of terrorism were
18 caused by one or multiple events or occurrences; and

19 (3) whether an act of terrorism occurred during
20 the covered period.

21 SEC. 6. FEDERAL COST-SHARING FOR COMMERCIAL INSUR-
22 ERS.

23 (a) IN GENERAL.—Pursuant to a triggering deter-
24 mination, the appropriate Administrator shall provide fi-
25 nancial assistance to commercial insurers in accordance

1 with this section to cover insured losses resulting from
2 acts of terrorism, which shall be repaid in accordance with
3 subsection (e).

4 (b) AMOUNT.—Subject to subsection (c), with respect
5 to a triggering determination, the amount of financial as-
6 sistance made available under this section to each com-
7 mercial insurer shall be equal to 90 percent of the amount
8 of the insured losses of the insurer as a result of the trig-
9 gering event involved.

10 (c) AGGREGATE LIMITATION.—The aggregate
11 amount of financial assistance provided pursuant to this
12 section may not exceed $100,000,000,000.

13 (d) LIMITATIONS.—The appropriate Administrator
14 may establish such limitations as may be necessary to en-
15 sure that payments under this section in connection with
16 a triggering determination are made only to commercial
17 insurers that are not in default of any obligation under
18 section 7 to pay assessments or under section 8 to collect
19 surcharges.

20 (e) REPAYMENT.—Financial assistance made avail-
21 able under this section shall be repaid through assess-
22 ments under section 7 collected by the appropriate Admin-
23 istrator and surcharges remitted to the appropriate Ad-
24 ministrator under section 8. Any such amounts collected

1 or remitted shall be deposited into the general fund of the
2 Treasury.

3 (f) EMERGENCY DESIGNATION.—Congress des-
4 ignates the amount of new budget authority and outlays
5 in all fiscal years resulting from this section as an emer-
6 gency requirement pursuant to section 252(e) of the Bal-
7 anced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985
8 (2 U.S.C. 901(e)). Such amount shall be available only
9 to the extent that a request, that includes designation of
10 such amount as an emergency requirement as defined in
11 such Act, is transmitted by the President to Congress.

12 SEC. 7. ASSESSMENTS.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—In the case of a triggering deter-
14 mination, each commercial insurer shall be subject to as-
15 sessments under this section for the purpose of repaying
16 financial assistance made available under section 6 in con-
17 nection with such determination.

18 (b) AGGREGATE ASSESSMENT.—Pursuant to a trig-
19 gering determination, the appropriate Administrator shall
20 determine the aggregate amount to be assessed among all
21 commercial insurers, which shall be equal to 90 percent
22 of the lesser of—

23 (1) the amount of industry-wide losses resulting
24 from the triggering event involved; and

25 (2) $20,000,000,000.

1 (c) ALLOCATION OF ASSESSMENT.—

2 (1) IN GENERAL.—The appropriate Adminis-
3 trator shall allocate the aggregate assessment
4 amount determined under subsection (b) among all
5 commercial insurers. The portion of the aggregate
6 assessment amount that is allocated as an assess-
7 ment on each commercial insurer shall be based on
8 the percentage, written by that insurer, of the aggre-
9 gate written premium, for all commercial insurers,
10 for the calendar year preceding the assessment.

11 (2) PAYMENT REQUIREMENT.—Upon notifica-
12 tion by the appropriate Administrator of an assess-
13 ment under this section, each commercial insurer
14 shall be required to pay to the appropriate Adminis-
15 trator, in the manner provided under section 9 by
16 the appropriate Administrator, the amount equal to
17 the assessment on such commercial insurer (subject
18 to the limitation under paragraph (3)).

19 (3) ANNUAL LIMITATION ON AMOUNT ALLO-
20 CATED TO EACH COMMERCIAL INSURER.—

21 (A) IN GENERAL.—Of any assessments
22 under this section on a commercial insurer, the
23 portion required to be paid by any commercial
24 insurer during a calendar year shall not exceed
25 the amount that is equal to 3 percent of the ag-

none for me until 19th or 20th; even if POTUS has time this week,
I have assumed we should try to have only one meeting with POTUS if we can do that

Stuart told me that POTUS has a lot of available time this week. Why not do a batch now? I have two judges. How many do others have?

we haven't gotten anything today and the guy from the NYT editorial page never called again over the weekend.

Are you going to the hearing. I'll need to get a good read on what goes on. I'm sure it will stir people up again.

Thanks again for Friday night! I always have a great time with you and Joel.

Subject: Tomorrow's hearing on the Presidential Records Act, Executive Order

Henry Ray of the Horn Subcommittee just got back to me about this hearing, which he expects will be especially well attended because of the "controversial" Executive Order. He expects that, in addition to Subcommittee Chairman Horn, RMM Schakowsky, Members Ose and Maloney will attend, as well as Chairman Burton and Full Committee RMM Waxman will attend, reportedly because they are concerned that the new EO is inconsistent with the PRA and possibly unconstitutional. The panels are planned as follows:
I. Archivist Carlin and Anna Nelson, as historian, to explain the EO and provide a policy perspective, respectively;
II. AU political science professor Mark Roselle; Ed; Peter Shane of Univ. of Pittsburgh law school and Carnegie Mellon, and possibly Scott Nelson, of the Public Citizen Litigation Group. This panel is expected to talk about the legal issues presented by the EO, although he mentioned that Roselle could be moved to the first panel.

Henry expects that Ed will likely get lots of questions about whether the EO is constitutional and consistent with the PRA. Ed and Paul, do you want to address those questions more directly in the prepared statement? They would like to get the prepared statement as soon as it's available.

I mentioned to Henry that this line-up is inconsistent with the usual protocol that all Administration witnesses appear on the first panel, but he thinks this makes more sense. (Actually, protocol is that Admin. witnesses appear on the first panel and only with other Admin. witnesses, although there have been exceptions in special situations). Please let me know if you think we should pursue the matter in this instance.

John Mautz from House Judiciary left a message for Joel about the liability issues. He asked for a copy of our principles. Is it OK to fax him the talking pts on our liability proposals?

ATT CREATION TIME/DATE: 0 00:00:00.00
File attachment <P_DZXJ4004_WHO.TXT_1>

- The traditional tort system is designed to ensure that injured victims are compensated by those whose negligence or fault caused the injuries. The ordinary tort system cannot achieve that goal in a mass tort terrorism incident, however, because the resources of liable defendants (including resources from their liability insurance policies) almost never will suffice to compensate the class of successful plaintiff-victims. For that reason, apart from insurance and standard government benefits, mass torts often are resolved through bankruptcy (where plaintiffs rarely receive full compensation) or settlement (again, where plaintiffs rarely receive full compensation).
- Mass torts pose an additional problem in that the number and variety of cases, plaintiffs, defendants, causes of action, liability standards, and damages rules will overwhelm the legal system absent consolidation and uniform rules of substance and procedure. The extraordinary delays inherent in trying to apply the ordinary litigation process to mass torts further frustrate the ultimate goal of providing adequate compensation to injured victims.
- The procedures for litigation arising out of mass tort terrorism incidents must reflect those realities and should seek to achieve four main goals:
 - (i) ensure that victims receive adequate compensation, whether from insurance or standard government benefits, or from a tortfeasor in cases of fault;
 - (ii) manage the litigation process so that it is as expeditious and equitable as possible for plaintiffs and defendants;
 - (iii) provide economic stability by avoiding, where appropriate, widespread bankruptcies from litigation arising out of a mass terrorism incident where terrorists, by definition, are the wrongdoers, not the legitimate bystander property and business owners; and
 - (iv) appropriately spread the costs of terrorism incidents without requiring all federal taxpayers, in the first instance, to incur the full costs of compensation for injuries and property damage that insurance otherwise would cover.
- Legislation should merely establish the basic contours of the litigation process, and should not attempt to pre-ordain every substantive and procedural detail, which is best left to the discretion of the district court in light of the facts and circumstances of particular events.

CONSOLIDATION

LANGUAGE

(a) SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION. Notwithstanding any other law, within 90 days of an act of terrorism as defined in section 803, the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation shall assign a single federal district court to conduct pre-trial and trial proceedings in all pending and future civil actions for property damage, personal injury, or death arising out of or resulting from a single act of terrorism as defined in section 803, and shall transfer all such pending civil actions to that district court. The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation shall select and assign the district court based on the convenience of the parties and the just and efficient conduct of the proceedings. The district court assigned by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction over all such actions. For purposes of personal jurisdiction, the district court assigned by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation shall be deemed to sit in all judicial districts in the United States.

[Subsections (b) and (c) would ensure transfer of cases filed in other courts.]

PURPOSE

- A single federal court and a uniform standard of liability are necessary to ensure that the legal system is not overwhelmed by multiple cases in multiple courts in multiple states -- with similar claims in multiple forums decided under widely varying standards for liability, causation, defenses, and damages.
- Consolidation of cases in a single court is a common procedure in mass tort cases and was a central feature of the legislation recently enacted by Congress for the tort cases arising out of the September 11 attacks.

ANALOGUE IN AIR TRANSPORTATION ACT

- Section 408(b) of the Air Transportation Act consolidates all cases arising out of the September 11 attacks in a single federal court.

PUNITIVE DAMAGES

LANGUAGE

(e) PUNITIVE DAMAGES. Punitive damages, exemplary damages, and other damages not intended to compensate the plaintiff for actual losses shall not be available in any civil action subject to this title.

PURPOSE

- In mass tort cases, only a limited pool of resources will be available to plaintiffs who prove liability (whether because of bankruptcy or settlement).
- Because of the limited pool of resources, it would be grossly inequitable and unfair to allow one plaintiff or class of plaintiffs to receive an excessive award -- including a punitive component entirely unrelated to the plaintiff's injuries -- that could greatly limit or outright preclude recovery by other plaintiffs.
- Even for defendants who face no possibility of bankruptcy, the possibility of massive punitive or non-economic damages creates pressure to settle even unmeritorious cases and economic instability for potential defendants in terrorism cases.
- A business defendant who engages in the kind of wrongdoing that otherwise would trigger punitive damages will face a variety of federal and state criminal and administrative investigations and sanctions.

ANALOGUE IN AIR TRANSPORTATION ACT

- Section 405(b)(5) of the Air Transportation Act precludes recovery of punitive damages in the victims' claims process, and Section 408(a) limits any recovery against air carriers to the limits of their liability policies, which essentially precludes punitive damages against air carriers.

OFFSET

LANGUAGE

(f) OFFSET. In determining the amount of any money damages available under this title, the court shall offset any compensation or benefits received or entitled to be received by the plaintiff or plaintiffs from any collateral source, including the United States or any federal agency thereof, in response to or as a result of the act of terrorism

PURPOSE

- This procedure, which Congress adopted for the victims claims process applicable to individual cases arising out of the September 11 terrorist attacks, will ensure that plaintiffs are compensated for their losses, yet also prevent double recovery by plaintiffs. It thus will help preserve the limited pool of defendant resources available for successful plaintiffs without penalizing injured victims.
- The procedure is consistent with the principle that first-party private insurance and, where necessary, standard government benefits have been (and should be) the primary means for promptly and appropriately compensating the parties injured in a terrorism attack. Through these resources, injured parties will receive appropriate care and compensation without resort to an inefficient judicial process that would trigger widespread bankruptcies.
- Even in ordinary tort cases, many states offset past and prospective insurance benefits paid or payable to the plaintiff against the plaintiff's recovery.

ANALOGUE IN AIR TRANSPORTATION ACT

- Section 405(b)(6) of the Air Transportation Act requires that recovery by a claimant in the victims' claims process be reduced by the amount of collateral source compensation the plaintiff has received or is entitled to receive.

LANGUAGE

(g) NON-ECONOMIC DAMAGES. Each defendant shall be liable only for the amount of non-economic damages allocated to the defendant in direct proportion to the percentage of responsibility of the defendant for the harm to the claimant. No plaintiff may recover non-economic damages unless the plaintiff suffered physical harm.

PURPOSE

- The proposed language is more modest than many proposals: It would not eliminate non-economic damages, nor would it impose proportional fault for economic damages. In addition, this proposal for proportional liability for non-economic damages is less restrictive than state law provisions that may apply to many cases litigated under the cause of action recently established by Congress for the September 11 events.
- Without this provision, a court could hold any defendant “jointly and severally” liable for the full amount of the plaintiff’s non-economic damages, even for those damages unrelated to the defendant’s actions or attributable to the terrorists.
- Some studies suggest that non-economic damages can comprise 40-50% of damages in certain classes of tort cases. If any defendant, even the marginally involved, could be made to pay the full extent of non-economic damages in a mass terrorism incident, these damages could easily threaten to bankrupt hundreds of legitimate businesses.
- Limitations on joint and several liability are commonplace. At least thirty-seven states have enacted some form of proportional liability. Indeed, seventeen states have adopted proportional liability even for economic damages. Another eight states have adopted proportional liability for economic and non-economic damages for any marginally-involved defendant (e.g., one found to be less than 50% at fault).

ANALOGUE IN AIR TRANSPORTATION ACT

- Section 408(a) of the Air Transportation Act limits recovery against air carriers to the limits of their liability policies, which is an effective cap on non-economic damages against air carriers, and applies state law limits on joint and several liability, which in many cases will be more restrictive than this proposal.

SUBSTANTIVE STANDARD FOR LIABILITY

LANGUAGE

(h) SUBSTANTIVE LAW. The standard of care for the federal cause of action . . . shall be gross negligence. Unless otherwise specified in this title, the district court shall derive other substantive principles of liability for the federal cause of action from the principles of the common law.

PURPOSE

- The gross negligence standard is a middle-ground standard between simple negligence and intentional wrongdoing and is particularly appropriate in tort cases where, by definition, the injury has been caused by the criminal acts of an intervening third party, not by legitimate bystander property and business owners.
- A simple negligence standard would generate undue pressure towards a massive settlement and/or bankruptcy, yet legitimate businesses should not be forced to bankruptcy as a result of damage and injuries caused by terrorists, at least absent serious wrongdoing on the part of these legitimate businesses.
- On a forward-looking basis, a simple negligence standard for terrorism cases would inevitably discourage normal economic activity, particularly in locales that are susceptible to terrorist attacks. For similar reasons, the law of torts traditionally has established that criminal acts by an intervening agent are often so unlikely in any particular instance or specific location that the burden of taking continual precautions against them almost always exceeds the apparent risk.

ANALOGUE IN AIR TRANSPORTATION ACT

- Section 408(b) of the Air Transportation Act provides that the substantive standard for liability is to be derived from the law of the State where the incident occurred. That procedure could be unwieldy and unfair in a mass terrorism incident that occurs in multiple states.

Omnibus C/C bill (LRM IMS3)

Excepting paragraph (5) ("Compliance") -- which has been revised and is attached for you review -- the title III text below was agreed to during the conference call this afternoon. Thanks to all for your help.

Please let me know by 10:30 a.m. tomorrow morning whether or not you will clear the "Compliance" language below. If we do not hear from you by that time, we may, given the time constraints, assume that you have no comment. Thanks once again.

TITLE III) EQUAL TREATMENT FOR NONGOVERNMENTAL PROVIDERS

(1) In General. *For any social service program, as defined in section (4), that is carried out by the Federal Government, or by a State or local government using Federal funds --

(a) a nongovernmental organization shall not be required to alter provisions in its chartering documents, nor shall it be required to remove art, icons, scripture, or other symbols, or to change its name, because the provisions, symbols, or name are religious; and

(b) a nongovernmental organization shall not be required to alter religious qualifications for membership on its governing boards.

(2) Prior Grant Experience. * Nongovernmental organizations that have not previously been awarded a government grant or cooperative agreement shall not, for that reason, be disadvantaged in a competition to secure a grant or cooperative agreement to provide services under a social service program administered by the agency.

(3) Intermediate Grantors. *In matters of social service program eligibility and administration, the government agency administering the program may select a nongovernmental organization (hereafter +intermediate grantor,) to receive and administer a grant or cooperative agreement, the terms of which authorize the intermediate grantor to award contracts or subgrants to nongovernmental providers and to administer the contracts or subgrants with these providers.

(4) Social Service Program Defined. *For purposes of this section a & social service program⁸ shall include all programs having the primary purpose of delivering social services or health care, with Federal financial assistance, where nongovernmental providers of social services or health care are involved in the delivery thereof, and regardless of whether the Federal financial assistance to the nongovernmental providers is pursuant to a contract, or a grant or cooperative agreement, or pursuant to indirect means of aid such as individual grants or child-care certificates. A social service program does not include Federal financial assistance having the purpose of delivering educational assistance under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 or under the Higher Education Act, except activities to assist students in obtaining the recognized equivalents of secondary school diplomas and activities relating to non-school hours programs. However, a social service program does include after-school programs, day-care and child-care assistance, and programs to help adults prepare for the GED exam, improve reading skills, and increase literacy. For purposes of this subsection, Federal financial assistance does not include tax credits, deductions, or exemptions.

(5) Compliance.--If a Federal, State, or local government fails to comply with this title, then a nongovernmental organization may file an action for injunctive relief in an appropriate Federal district court or State court of general jurisdiction.

I'm not immediately opposed to it. I would think as a policy matter, we might want to headquarter it outside the United States if we really wanted to make it a "world" fund that would appeal to people around the world and that could be used as reward money. I'll ask our policy types. What is the Counsel's office objection to it? Just a gimmick?

This idea has apparently taken hold and many folks seem to be playing some role

-- great! The purpose of this message is to try to get us all on the same page...

WHAT: PRESS CONFERENCE

PURPOSE: HIGHLIGHT THE NEED FOR A FULL BENCH TO ADMINISTER THE NEW ANTI-TERRORISM LAW AND PROTECT THE PUBLIC FROM TERRORISTS (ESPECIALLY EXPEDITIOUS ALIEN DEPORTATIONS)

WHEN: THURSDAY, 11/8, 11:30am

WHERE: SENATE SWAMP

WHO: SENATORS (Santorum definite, Thompson & Hatch are interested but uncommitted), LAW ENFORCEMENT GROUPS, REP OF THE ADMINISTRATION (?)

Who is doing what to prepare...

Recruit senators -- Myers (SRC)

Distribute a media advisory on Wed & pitch the press -- Myers

Recruit law enforcement folks -- Ledeen (SRC) & Kay Daly. So far Kay has talked to the AG offices of DE, TX & AL. Plus the National Law Enforcement Council and the Law Enforcement Alliance of America have agreed to participate.

EXAMPLES of slowed terrorist-related decisions by an overworked bench -- the DoJ

& OPL (?? Viet, Jennifer, Dan, Brett, Bradford). This is critical. If we have good examples, we have a solid news hook.

STATEMENT OF SUPPORT by the White House & Dept of Justice -- ? Heather (Could we also try for a representative of the Administration to speak?)

STATEMENT
by John W. Carlin
Archivist of the United States^{Stat}

to the
Subcommittee on Government Efficiency, Financial Management, and Intergovernmental Relations of the Committee on Government Reform
House of Representatives
Congress of the United States

On the Implementation and Effectiveness of the Presidential Records Act of 1978

November 6, 2001

Chairman Horn, Congresswoman Schakowsky, members of the Subcommittee, and Subcommittee staff, I am John Carlin, Archivist of the United States, and I thank you for the opportunity to appear before you this morning on the implementation of the Presidential Records Act. Mr. Chairman, I particularly want to thank you for holding this hearing and for your continued interest in the programs and responsibilities of the National Archives and Records Administration. We are fully aware that with the jurisdiction of this subcommittee, attention to NARA is your job. However, you have taken a particular interest in our mission during your career in Congress and the people of NARA and our many constituent groups thank you for that interest.

In order to set the foundation for this dialogue today, I would like to set out the history of the Presidential Records Act and provide the Subcommittee with an overview of our implementation to date. The Presidential Records Act (PRA) was enacted in 1978 to establish public ownership of the records created by subsequent Presidents and their staffs and to establish procedures governing the preservation and public availability of the records. As noted in the House Report accompanying the pending bill:

The legislation would terminate the tradition of private ownership of Presidential papers and the reliance on volunteerism to determine the fate of their disposition. Instead, the preservation of the historical record of future Presidents would be assured and public access to the materials would be consistent under standards affixed in law. The primary function of the Presidential libraries remains unchanged. The libraries are to continue to provide information about their holdings and to make records available to researchers upon request on an impartial basis.

H. Rep. 95-1487, at 2-3 (95th Cong., 2d Sess., Aug. 14, 1978).

The PRA mandates that the Presidential records of an Administration be transferred to the legal and physical custody of the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) immediately upon the end of the President's last term of office. The Archivist of the United States is given the "responsibility for the custody, control, and preservation of, and access to, the Presidential records of th[e former] President." 44 U.S.C. § 2203(f)(1). The PRA also requires the Archivist to appoint a Library Director in "consultation with the former President." Id. § 2203(f)(2). The Library Director balances archival and public access considerations with national security, confidentiality, and privacy concerns.

Since its enactment, NARA has taken legal custody of the Presidential records of Presidents Ronald Reagan, George H.W. Bush, and William J. Clinton. The Reagan and Bush records are housed in Presidential Libraries in Simi Valley, California and College Station, Texas, respectively. The Clinton records are stored in a records storage facility in Little Rock, Arkansas, until they can be transferred to a Presidential Library that is being constructed by former President Clinton.

The PRA applies to all Vice-Presidential records in same manner as Presidential records, and affords the former Vice-Presidents the same authority as the former Presidents. Accordingly, all of the procedures and authorities that are ascribed in this testimony to the former Presidents also apply to the former Vice-Presidents (except that Vice-Presidential records may be stored at a separate location from the Presidential records).

Responsibilities of the Archivist of the United States Under the PRA

The PRA established Government control over Presidential records while codifying and preserving some of the basic practices that long existed with respect to the papers that Presidents had donated to the National Archives (dating back to President Hoover). As the House Report on the PRA bill stated: “It is anticipated that the Archivist will process the former Administration’s papers in a manner roughly similar to current practices.” H. Rep. 95-1487, at 15. The report also stated that “the determination whether access to a Presidential record or reasonably segregable portion thereof shall be restricted shall be made by the Archivist, in his discretion, after consultation with the former President.” Id. § 2204(b)(3).

The PRA mandates that “[t]he Archivist shall have an affirmative duty to make such records available to the public as rapidly and completely as possible consistent with the provisions of this Act.” Id. § 2203(f)(1). Overall, the PRA represents an effort to legislate a “careful balance between the public’s right to know, with its vast implications to historians and other academic interests, and the rights of privacy and confidentiality of certain sensitive records generated by the President and his staff during the course of their White House activities.” Floor Statement of Congressman Thompson, Cong. Rec., Oct. 10, 1978, at 34897.

Presidential Papers and Materials Prior to the PRA

Prior to the PRA, and with the exception of the materials of former President Richard M. Nixon, the Presidential papers and materials maintained under NARA’s control at the Presidential Libraries of former Presidents Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson, Ford, and Carter are controlled by the terms of the deeds of gift by which the former Presidents donated their records to the National Archives. Each of these deeds has provisions outlining categories of records that may be withheld from public access for some period of time. All of them seek to protect information that could harm national security, invade personal privacy, or cause embarrassment or harassment. Some also seek to protect documents involving confidential communications directly with the President. The deeds of Presidents Ford and Carter model the restrictions on the PRA exemptions.

In all instances, the Director of the Presidential Library, who is appointed by NARA in close consultation with the former President or representative, was given the independent authority and discretion to process and open the papers, with very limited involvement by the former President or representative. Living former Presidents in some cases would establish priorities for the processing of particular subjects or series of records. In other cases, a representative or review board was established – such as for Presidents Roosevelt and Kennedy because they died in office, as well as for Truman and Eisenhower – that exercised limited control over the decisions made by the Libraries. The boards' principal concern was with respect to the President's personal and family matters, and, in most cases, they disbanded after a short period of time.

Under these deeds of gift, NARA processed and opened Presidential materials based on the deeds and professional archival considerations. Moreover, because the materials at these Libraries were donated to the United States, they are not subject to request under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) or any other public access statute. This meant that the Library staff were able to process and open most records in an organized and systematic way based on how the records were filed or arranged. Such "systematic processing" is generally much more efficient and less time consuming than processing in response to FOIA requests. However, researchers have no legal recourse to challenge the withholding of records or delays in responding to requests.

The records of President Nixon are governed by the Presidential Recordings and Materials Preservation Act (PRMPA), 44 U.S.C. § 2111, note, which was passed by Congress in 1974 to ensure government control over the Nixon papers and tapes. The PRMPA also established a National Study Commission on Records and Documents of Federal Officials, which was charged with studying, among other things, "whether the historical practice regarding the records and documents produced by or on behalf of Presidents of the United States should be rejected or accepted and whether such practice should be made applicable with respect to all federal officials." Pub. L. 93-526, 88 Stat. 1695 (December 19, 1974), sec. 202. That commission produced a final report in 1977, and its recommendations were considered by Congress in drafting the PRA. See Hearings before a Subcommittee of the Committee on Government Operations on H.R. 10998 (the Presidential Records Act of 1978) and Related Bills, 95th Cong., 2d Sess., (Feb. 23, 28, Mar. 2, 7, 1978) (PRA Hearings).

Public Access to Presidential Records

Presidential records are not subject to public access requests during the President's term of office, and may be made available only by decision of the incumbent President. After the President leaves office, the records are also not available to public access requests for five years, unless NARA has processed an integral file segment sooner than five years. This five year period was intended principally to give NARA an opportunity to organize the records and begin systematic archival processing. At the end of the five year period, all Presidential records are subject to public access requests in accordance with the FOIA. However, for a period not to exceed 12 years from when the President leaves office, the President is authorized, but not required, to impose up to six Presidential restrictions (which must be imposed before the President leaves office and which are not subject to judicial review).

In addition, the PRA establishes that eight of the nine FOIA exemptions shall apply to Presidential records, which stay in effect after the Presidential restrictions expire. Congress specifically excluded Presidential records from the FOIA (b)(5) exemption concerning the deliberative process and other recognized privileges. Four of the six presidential restrictions are identical to corresponding FOIA exemptions: exemptions 1, for classified national security information; exemptions 3, for information protected by other statute; exemptions 4, for trade secrets and confidential business information; and exemptions 6, for unwarranted invasions of personal privacy. Presidential exemption 2 ("P2"), for "appointments to Federal office," has no

FOIA counterpart, but is subsumed, in large part, under FOIA exemption (b)(6). Presidential exemption 5 (“P5”), concerning “confidential communications requesting or submitting advice, between the President and his advisers, or between such advisers,” is similar to FOIA exemption (b)(5), and protects the disclosure of presidential communications, deliberations, and other information that could be subject to a common law or constitutionally-based privilege.

Because the PRA subjects all Presidential records to public access through the FOIA, PRA Libraries open records almost exclusively in response to FOIA requests (or mandatory declassification review requests under Executive Order 12958 on Classified National Security Information), and have very little opportunity to conduct systematic processing of records after the first five years. Moreover, Congressional and grand jury investigations and other litigation has significantly limited systematic processing even during the first five years.

PRA Restrictions

The PRA does not mandate the Presidential restrictions, but rather makes clear that they may be narrowed or waived any time after the President leaves office. Moreover, in the legislative history, Congress anticipated that the Archivist to do just that:

It is also expected that the Archivist will follow past practice in applying the restrictive categories in former Presidents’ deeds of gift, and negotiate with the ex-President or his representative on an on-going basis to lessen the number of years chosen for particular mandatory restriction categories, to eliminate entire categories, or to permit release of particular records otherwise restricted.

H. Rep. 95-1487, at 15. Former Presidents Reagan and Bush have both narrowed the application of PRA exemptions P2 and P5 to their records, allowing significantly more records to be opened than what might otherwise be authorized. NARA will work with former President Clinton and his representative regarding the application of these exemptions as well.

The PRA also removes the authority to withhold Presidential records under FOIA exemption (b)(5) after the expiration of the P5 exemption. The elimination of a statutory exemption in no way prevents a proper assertion of Executive privilege by the former or incumbent President. As the PRA itself notes, the incumbent and former Presidents have clear legal authority to assert an Executive privilege over the Presidential records of former Presidents: “Nothing in this Act shall be construed to confirm, limit, or expand any constitutionally-based privilege which may be available to an incumbent or former President.” 44 U.S.C. § 2204(c)(2). This provision reflects the holding by the Supreme Court that the constitutionally based privileges available to a President “survive[] the individual President’s tenure.” Nixon v. Administrator of General Services, 433 U.S. 425, 449 (1977). Although the Supreme Court also noted the privileges are “subject to erosion over time after an administration leaves office.” Id. at 451.

Special Access to Presidential Records

In addition to establishing procedures for public access, the PRA also establishes procedures for what NARA calls “special access” to Presidential records that are otherwise closed from public access. These special access provisions are designed to accommodate requests by Congressional investigators, Federal prosecutors, other parties in litigation, and the incumbent President for the ongoing business of the current Administration. However, prior to providing such access, NARA must notify the former and incumbent Presidents and provide them an opportunity to review the records and consider whether to assert any constitutionally-based privilege. Accordingly, either House of Congress, or a Committee or Subcommittee with appropriate jurisdiction, may request access to Presidential records. Similarly, Federal prosecutors may seek access through a grand jury subpoena, and other parties in litigation may seek access through court orders. The incumbent President may also obtain access to the records of a predecessor on behalf of his staff, such as the NSC, or any other agency, “for the conduct of current business.” 44 U.S.C. § 2205(2)(B). The former President and his designated representative are always entitled to access to the Presidential records of his Administration.

That concludes my formal statement, Mr. Chairman, and I would be happy to answer any questions at the appropriate time.

Why yes, Chris, I'd be happy to let you know who has expressed an interest in Thursday's event! ;)

LEAA (Law Enforcement Alliance of America), National Troopers Coalition, National Law Enforcement Council and former federal prosecutor types (e.g. Victoria Toensing) will be in attendance. In addition, several of our conservative organizations in the Coalition for a Fair Judiciary will be in attendance with press releases and supporting smiles.

We'll be there with bells on!

Democrats Fight Liability Ban in Insurance Measure (Update2)

Washington, Nov. 6 (Bloomberg) -- Some Democrats are demanding that pending terrorism insurance bills be changed to remove restrictions on punitive damage awards to victims and to guarantee that high-profile properties such as New York's Empire State Building have affordable insurance.

Senate Judiciary Committee Chairman Patrick Leahy of Vermont and Representative John Conyers Jr. of Michigan, senior Democrat on the House Judiciary panel, sent a letter to bill sponsors declaring their opposition to the punitive damages restrictions that are included in House and Senate bills designed to keep terrorism insurance available.

The letter, released Monday, sets up a battle with Treasury Secretary Paul O'Neill and the White House, which consider the punitive damages restrictions a priority. By claiming jurisdiction over part of the bill, the Judiciary committees can slow action on a measure that insurers say Congress must enact this year to prevent gaps in coverage after Jan. 1, when many policies expire.

The provision is aimed to protect taxpayers from costly lawsuits. Critics say it sets a disturbing precedent.

"We cannot support rewriting the tort law of each of the 50 states for the benefit of private industry and at the expense of terrorist victims and their families," Leahy and Conyers wrote.

Their letter went to Senate Banking Chairman Paul Sarbanes of Maryland and House Financial Services Chairman Michael Oxley of Ohio, who have sponsored the legislation.

Schumer's Objection

Senator Charles Schumer, a New York Democrat who serves on the Banking panel, said he can't support Sarbanes' plan because it doesn't prevent insurers from "cherry picking" low-risk properties while leaving the Empire State Building without coverage it can afford.

Schumer is developing a proposal to have the industry create some form of a risk-sharing pool to cover the major risks, with the government serving as a backup.

"We know that residential buildings in the suburbs of Omaha will be insured," Schumer said. "Will the Empire State Building? That's the question."

The Sarbanes proposal, co-sponsored by Republican Senator Phil Gramm of Texas and Democrat Chris Dodd of Connecticut, would require companies receiving federal assistance to offer terrorism coverage in all of its property and casualty policies. That doesn't mean it will be affordable, Schumer said.

Asked about Schumer's proposal, Sarbanes said, "Generally speaking, I'm open to adjustments that contribute towards consensus."

As for the punitive damages issue, Sarbanes said, "We'll keep working at it."

A Treasury official said the liability ban remains a priority.

"The litigation management provisions are an important part of the overall package," Treasury spokeswoman Betsy Holahan said.

Complex Path

The legislation faces a procedural maze in the Senate. The bill was introduced by Banking Committee leaders, and their panel is expected to act on it this week. Senate Commerce Committee Chairman Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina is drafting his own terrorism insurance plan. Leahy and Conyers suggested these legal liability provisions are outside the jurisdiction of those panels.

"We absolutely do think this is so divisive that it has the potential to slow down or kill this legislation," said Travis Plunkett, lobbyist for Consumer Federation of America, which opposes the punitive damages restrictions.

Congress is attempting to craft a bill to ensure terrorism insurance is affordable. Chubb Corp. and other insurers said availability of such insurance is drying up in wake of the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center and Pentagon.

At Chicago's O'Hare and Midway airports, terrorism insurance premiums jumped to nearly $7 million from $125,000 before the attacks while the scope of coverage declined.

Liability Details

The Senate bill would prevent victims from suing employers or companies

subject to terrorist attacks for punitive damages. The House bill would not allow federal payments for terrorism coverage to pay for punitive or non-economic damages. The bill doesn't limit a plaintiff's ability to sue, said Oxley spokeswoman Peggy Peterson.

Senator Phil Gramm, a Texas Republican and co-sponsor of the Senate bill, defended the proposal last week.

``The taxpayer is giving this coverage to American businesses and American workers, and the idea that they would sue the government because of it on a punitive basis is just doesn't make any sense,'' Gramm said.

Leahy and Conyers say the provision would lessen pressure for businesses ``taking the necessary precautions to prevent loss of life or limb in a future terrorist attack'' and let them skimp on security costs.

``It's an opportunistic rider and it's disappointing to see the White House tied so closely to it,'' Leahy spokesman David Carle said.

The House Financial Services Committee is scheduled to consider its bill tomorrow. That committee's top Democrat, Representative John LaFalce of New York, is preparing an alternative that's similar to Sarbanes bill, without the punitive damages restrictions, said LaFalce spokeswoman Amy Simmons.

The question is now, rather than Sec. Martinez can we use Fannie Mae as the sponsor and have Judge Gonzales as the speaker?

Hosts would be the same, YRHA, RHNA and Latino Coalition. Invitees would be Hispanic Administration appointees, Board members from the hosts and the Fannie Mae Representative.

Thanks and let us know,

hello. good morning. please help me.

if you want the president to call someone - please give us good #'s. in this case, let's err on the side of too many. more is good. we continually try and call people and the #'s don't work, or we call their scheduler that no longer works for them, or their senate office in AZ, or the main line that goes straight to voicemail...he's a nice person and he'll try and call your people if it doesn't take 5 hrs. to find them!

REV_00134860

thank you for any assistance you can provide. also - fyi - he tends to make these calls in the 7-8am hour b/c it's the only time we have open so home and cell phones are good.

Subject: Karl's flight to CA

Karl has a trip to CA this weekend. His plan was to return to DC on Mon, 11/12 via commercial carrier. Warren Tichenor would like to use his corporate plane owned by W.W. Tichenor & Co. (TX corp.) to fly Karl and Chris Henick back from San Diego to DC. What do you think?

Thank you for your recent inquiries regarding N765WT, Mr. Tichenor's airplane.

In as much as I've received the same or similar inquiries from each of you this morning, I'm responding to all of you with this correspondence.

N765WT is a Bombardier Challenger 601-3A, owned and operated by W.W.
Tichenor & Co., Inc., a Texas based corporation. Under our present and existing ownership, we flew during the campaign, Laura Bush, Barbara Bush, Secretary Evans, Director Allbaugh, Karen and Karl among numerous other campaign officials. For this reason, we believe that we can satisfy any requirements the Counsel's office may have.

Additionally, our lead counsel William D. White at Locke Liddell & Sapp in Dallas is a partner at the firm Ms. Miers headed before assuming her

Dear Chris,

Thank you for your time Monday.

I enjoyed the lunch and the visit. I'll look forward to seeing you in Los Angeles this weekend and to doing everything I can to engage Hollywood in helping to win the war on terrorism.

Thanks again. Please let me know if it works for Karl, you, and me to fly back to Washington Monday, as this would be an ideal time to plan the next steps.

Sincerely,

Warren W. Tichenor

The latest exercise relates to the authors series where authors may be giving away books to WH employees. This issue has come up before. I may have an idea for the appropriate receipt, use, and ultimate personal possession by WH officials of these items, even though they may exceed $20 in value. One question I have is, if the books are received and utilized in the White House workplace on the theory that those who give the books are interested having views (even of history or the arts or other similar fields) considered by administration officials, do the books become Presidential records?

COMPARISON OF SENATE AND HOUSE TORT REFORM PROVISIONS

Tort Reform	Senate Bill	House Bill
Exclusive Federal Cause of Action	Creates exclusive federal cause of action for property damage, personal injury or death arising out of covered terrorism acts.	Creates exclusive federal cause of action covered by commercial property and casualty insurance for damages caused by acts of terrorism.
Claims Consolidation	Within 90 days of terrorist act, Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation assigns jurisdiction for all claims for covered actions arising out of that terrorist act to a single Federal district court. Assignment based on convenience of parties and just and efficient conduct of proceedings. Cases filed in other federal or state courts are transferred/removed to the designated district court.	Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation assigns jurisdiction for all claims for covered actions to one or more federal district courts. No standards for assignment are given. No specific mention of transfer or removal, but would likely be mandated under jurisdictional provision.
Offset	No offset provision.	Offsets plaintiff's recovery from any Federal emergency or disaster relief program or from any other collateral source.
Punitive Damages	Disallows punitive or exemplary damages for covered actions. Thus, in any civil action involving property damage, personal injury or death arising from an act of terrorism, punitive damages would be disallowed..	Disallows punitive damages "intended to punish or deter" for covered actions, but only for damages claimed "by an insured." Intent of this provision appears to be to limit reimbursement for punitive damages to insured policyholders under the program, but language is ambiguous.
Proportional Liability	No proportional liability provision.	Requires proportional liability based on each defendant's responsibility for non-economic damages, but again, only for damages claimed "by an insured."

Tort Reform	Senate Bill	House Bill
Subrogation	No right to subrogation provision. [Is this an omission?]	United States has the right of subrogation for claims U.S. pays under the Act.
Statute of Limitations	No statute of limitations provision.	No statute of limitations provision.
Sunset	Provisions apply only to covered actions arising out of acts of terrorism that occur while program is in effect.	Same as Senate bill, although ambiguously drafted.
Prior Approval for Settlements	[Requires prior approval by the Secretary of the Treasury of any settlements for covered actions.]	No settlement provision
Protective Order	No protective order provision	Authorizes United States or Administrator to seek protective orders for classified information.
Claims against Terrorists or Aiders and Abettors	Act does not limit recovery against any person, government, or other entity that participated in or aided and abetted any act of terrorism.	Not mentioned

We will not have 8:15 am staff meeting on Monday.

If you have work to do be here.

REV_00134885

If you don't have work to do you are not required to come in.

Gentlemen - the President will be here so if you are going to be in the West Wing wear a tie.

Brett, did you get my phone message from awhile ago suggesting that we have a meeting with OA? I know you've got a lot going on. So, this is just a gentle reminder.

We should have one person giving information, updates and instructions to Ashley. Since the Judge has final sign off for calls in the form of approving the call sheets and tries to be with the President when calls, and I'm listed as the office contact on these the sheets this needs to be me.

Jason - can you come over here around 5:00 and chat for a few minutes about what will work best?

Thanks!

Actually not a grease fire, and at the IMF.

Fire in Old Pepco Building Out

Associated Press
Wednesday, November 7, 2001; 4:45 PM

Commuters will find a major traffic mess downtown this afternoon, thanks to a construction fire in the old Pepco Building.

Initially thought to be a grease fire in the Soho Cafe, D.C. fire officials now say the fire climbed through the ductwork from the first floor up to the tenth, but firefighters had it out within half an hour.

D.C. Fire spokesman Alan Etter said the fire started on the ground floor of the old Pepco building at 19th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue NW. A construction crew had been working in the building.

No one has been hurt, Etter said, but traffic in the area is a mess, with streets surrounding the building closed.

Pepco used to lease the building, which had the company's name on it, but they moved in late August. Pepco spokesman Charles Taylor said the building was sold by George Washington University to the International Monetary Fund.

Would you mind sending me your latest numbers on Judges. # of judges sent to the senate vs. #confirmed to date?
I need fairly quickly.....we are working on a call proposal for the Pres.
to call Daschle.

Thanks so much!

COMPARISON OF SENATE AND HOUSE TORT REFORM PROVISIONS

Tort Reform	Senate Bill	House Bill
Exclusive Federal Cause of Action	Creates exclusive federal cause of action for property damage, personal injury or death arising out of covered terrorism acts.	Creates exclusive federal cause of action covered by commercial property and casualty insurance for damages caused by acts of terrorism.
Claims Consolidation	Within 90 days of terrorist act, Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation assigns jurisdiction for all claims for covered actions arising out of that terrorist act to a single Federal district court. Assignment based on convenience of parties and just and efficient conduct of proceedings. Cases filed in other federal or state courts are transferred/removed to the designated district court.	Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation assigns jurisdiction for all claims for covered actions to one or more federal district courts. No standards for assignment are given. No specific mention of transfer or removal, but would likely be mandated under jurisdictional provision.
Offset	No offset provision.	Offsets plaintiff's recovery from any Federal emergency or disaster relief program or from any other collateral source.
Punitive Damages	Disallows punitive or exemplary damages for covered actions. Thus, in any civil action involving property damage, personal injury or death arising from an act of terrorism, punitive damages would be disallowed..	Disallows punitive damages "intended to punish or deter" for covered actions, but only for damages claimed "by an insured." Intent of this provision appears to be to limit reimbursement for punitive damages to insured policyholders under the program, but language is ambiguous.
Proportional Liability	No proportional liability provision.	Requires proportional liability based on each defendant's responsibility for non-economic damages, but again, only for damages claimed "by an insured."

Tort Reform	Senate Bill	House Bill
Subrogation	No right to subrogation provision. [Is this an omission?]	United States has the right of subrogation for claims U.S. pays under the Act.
Statute of Limitations	No statute of limitations provision.	No statute of limitations provision.
Sunset	Provisions apply only to covered actions arising out of acts of terrorism that occur while program is in effect.	Same as Senate bill, although ambiguously drafted.
Prior Approval for Settlements	[Requires prior approval by the Secretary of the Treasury of any settlements for covered actions.]	No settlement provision
Protective Order	No protective order provision	Authorizes United States or Administrator to seek protective orders for classified information.
Claims against Terrorists or Aiders and Abettors	Act does not limit recovery against any person, government, or other entity that participated in or aided and abetted any act of terrorism.	Not mentioned

H.R. 3210 – Terrorism Risk Protection Act of 2001
(Representative Oxley (R) Ohio and 30 cosponsors)

The Administration supports legislation that provides temporary federal support to encourage the continued provision of insurance for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. The Administration believes it is possible to craft a policy that accomplishes those goals in a manner better than H.R. 3210. We believe that a positive feature of H.R. 3210 is that by reducing risk of loss to individual companies, it increases the likelihood that potential “high risk” targets of terrorism will be able to obtain terrorism insurance at affordable rates. However, the Administration has several concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support HR 3210 in its current form.~~countering this advantage are the myriad concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support H.R. 3210 and urges the House of Representatives to consider an alternative measure along the lines outlined by the Senate Banking Committee.~~

H.R. 3210 provides for a government loss sharing mechanism under which insurance companies are responsible for 10 percent of insured losses with the government responsible for 90 percent of insured losses. Government payments would be triggered once either industry-wide losses exceed $1 billion or industry-wide losses exceed $100 million and any single commercial insurer’s losses exceeded 10 percent of capital surplus and 10 percent of premiums. Once a triggering determination is made, the government would be sharing first dollar losses with the insurance industry.

The triggering determination process in H.R. 3210 is overly complex and is set at low loss levels. ~~Furthermore, federal cost sharing on a 90/10 basis is much more generous than the 80/20 cost sharing proposed by the Administration.~~ Under H.R. 3210, the government would be responsible for a greater share of first dollar losses than under the Administration’s approach, and in comparison to the Senate approach government payments would start sooner. In addition, with only a small-required insurance company retention, a low triggering determination, and no deductible, H.R. 3210 provides weaker incentives for cost containment than other approaches.

H.R. 3210 provides a mechanism for the government to recoup payments made under the program. Insurance companies would be assessed (up to 3 percent of premiums) if industry-wide losses were less than $20 billion, and policyholders would be assessed a surcharge for industry-wide losses above $20 billion.

While ensuring the government is compensated for services provided is a laudable goal, requiring payments through this type of assessment mechanism would work counter to the goal of maintaining insurance coverage for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. Insurance companies would have to price not only their individual 10 percent retention, but also their exposure for potential future assessments. Thus, it is likely that an assessment mechanism would lead to higher premiums even if future terrorist acts did not occur, with a surcharge putting even more upward pressure on premiums if a future terrorist act did occur.

Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.

In effect, the recoupment mechanism contained in H.R. 3210 imposes a “national property tax” that will likely fall on capital-intensive operations – such as energy, transportation, and manufacturing. Such a “national property tax” may also disproportionately affect renters (especially in urban areas) versus homeowners because rental properties are denser centers of activity. As a result, costs to consumers in those sectors would likely see a disproportionate increase. To avoid such distributional consequences, a more equitable approach would be to spread costs over all taxpayers. Such an approach would also preserve the government’s flexibility to fund payments through reductions in other spending, increased borrowing, or increased taxes.

~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves violates fundamental principles of income taxation, and is unlikely to be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers will likely find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged.~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves would reduce the industry’s effective tax rate but likely would not be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers may find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged. Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~

The definition of terrorism specified in H.R. 3210, by excluding acts of terrorism sponsored by nation states, does not reflect the current global environment. We may find acts of terrorism have underlying state sponsorship, which leaves unanswered whether such acts would be covered only by insurance companies or not covered because of general war risk exclusions found in all policies.

~~[May be a weak point because administering the Senate’s $10 billion deductible may be at least as complex as the house bill.] While all terrorism insurance proposals have some inherent degree of complexity, the program envisioned in H.R. 3210 could be especially complex to administer and long-lived. The program involves complex determinations of triggering determinations and complicated repayment structures. This makes administering the program difficult and costly. Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.~~

Sheila:

Please find attached a revised version with Larry's edits (highlighted).
He was initially uncomfortable with an outright opposition of the bill, but I convinced him to leave it in. He also disagreed with the third paragraph, because he likes a low deductible and believes it is the Administration plan, not the House plan, that has first dollar government coverage. He also disagreed with the analysis that the bill hurt renters over homeowners. Please let me know if you have any questions/concerns.
Apparently, the Committee passed bill will be available on the web this afternoon.

Thanks,

Marc

Insurance companies would have to price not only their individual 10 percent retention, but also their exposure for potential future assessments. Thus, it is likely that an assessment mechanism would cause premiums to rise now to factor in the possibility of future events, and cause premiums to rise after an event to allow insurance companies to recoup actual costs and to price in the heightened possibility of more events. ~~lead to higher premiums even if future terrorist acts did not occur, with a surcharge putting even more upward pressure on premiums if a future terrorist act did occur.~~

Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.

In effect, the recoupment mechanism contained in H.R. 3210 imposes a “national property tax” that will likely fall on real property and tangible personal property, capital-intensive operations—impacting sectors such as energy, transportation, real estate, retail services, and manufacturing. Such a “national property tax” would not differentiate among different classes of risk. Homeowners and owners of real property outside of urban centers and away from potential targets would be forced to subsidize others. Using an insurance market for cross-subsidization is inefficient and potentially harmful to insurance markets. may also disproportionately affect renters (especially in urban areas) versus homeowners because rental properties are denser centers of activity. As a result, costs to consumers in those sectors would likely see a disproportionate increase. To avoid such distributional consequences, a more equitable approach would be to spread costs over all taxpayers, especially when the attacks are on the nation as a whole. Such an approach would also preserve the government’s flexibility to fund payments through reductions in other spending, increased borrowing, or increased taxes.

H.R. 3210 also provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves would reduce the industry's effective tax rate but likely would not be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers may find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged. Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves. Efforts to prevent this behavior would require additional regulations.

The definition of terrorism specified in H.R. 3210, by excluding acts of terrorism sponsored by nation states, does not reflect the current global environment. We may find acts of terrorism have underlying state sponsorship, which leaves unanswered whether such acts would be covered only by insurance companies or not covered because of general war risk exclusions found in all policies.

The House Financial Services Committee passed by voice vote the Oxley-Baker bill this evening. Baker, Kanjorski and LaFalce spent many hours in a back room and agreed to the following compromise:

Treasury Secretary is Administrator.

Surcharges capped at 3% per year with an agreement to work together on language regarding flexibility on assessments and surcharges.

LaFalce study on pooling mechanisms.

The remainder of the bill is Oxley-Baker base test. On many other issues, they agreed to disagree with the hope of working something out before floor consideration. On liability, Rep. Chris Cox offered an amendment to expand the liability provisions. The amendment passed on a recorded vote. But, Rep. Bentsen offered an amendment that essentially stripped the Cox provisions which somehow passed on voice vote. A motion to reconsider the Bentsen amendment then failed by a recorded vote.

Committee staff expect the bill to be on the House floor next week. Feel free to call if you would like any more of the gory details.

H.R. 3210 – Terrorism Risk Protection Act of 2001
(Representative Oxley (R) Ohio and 30 cosponsors)

The Administration supports legislation that provides temporary federal support to encourage the continued provision of insurance for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. The Administration believes it is possible to craft a policy that accomplishes those goals in a manner better than H.R. 3210. We believe that a positive feature of H.R. 3210 is that by reducing risk of loss to individual companies, it increases the likelihood that potential “high risk” targets of terrorism will be able to obtain terrorism insurance at affordable rates. However, the Administration has several concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support HR 3210 in its current form. ~~countering this advantage are the myriad concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support H.R. 3210 and urges the House of Representatives to consider an alternative measure along the lines outlined by the Senate Banking Committee.~~

H.R. 3210 provides for a government loss sharing mechanism under which insurance companies are responsible for 10 percent of insured losses with the government responsible for 90 percent of insured losses. Government payments would be triggered once either industry-wide losses exceed $1 billion or industry-wide losses exceed $100 million and any single commercial insurer’s losses exceeded 10 percent of capital surplus and 10 percent of premiums. Once a triggering determination is made, the government would be sharing first dollar losses with the insurance industry.

The triggering determination process in H.R. 3210 is overly complex and is set at low loss levels. ~~Furthermore, federal cost sharing on a 90/10 basis is much more generous than the 80/20 cost sharing proposed by the Administration.~~ Under H.R. 3210, the government would be responsible for a greater share of first dollar losses than under the Administration’s approach, and in comparison to the Senate approach government payments would start sooner. In addition, with only a small-required insurance company retention, a low triggering determination, and no deductible, H.R. 3210 provides weaker incentives for cost containment than other approaches.

H.R. 3210 provides a mechanism for the government to recoup payments made under the program. Insurance companies would be assessed (up to 3 percent of premiums) if industry-wide losses were less than $20 billion, and policyholders would be assessed a surcharge for industry-wide losses above $20 billion.

While ensuring the government is compensated for services provided is a laudable goal, requiring payments through this type of assessment mechanism would work counter to the goal of maintaining insurance coverage for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. Insurance companies would have to price not only their individual 10 percent retention, but also their exposure for potential future assessments. Thus, it is likely that an assessment mechanism would lead to higher premiums even if future terrorist acts did not occur, with a surcharge putting even more upward pressure on premiums if a future terrorist act did occur.

Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.

In effect, the recoupment mechanism contained in H.R. 3210 imposes a “national property tax” that will likely fall on capital-intensive operations – such as energy, transportation, and manufacturing. Such a “national property tax” may also disproportionately affect renters (especially in urban areas) versus homeowners because rental properties are denser centers of activity. As a result, costs to consumers in those sectors would likely see a disproportionate increase. To avoid such distributional consequences, a more equitable approach would be to spread costs over all taxpayers. Such an approach would also preserve the government’s flexibility to fund payments through reductions in other spending, increased borrowing, or increased taxes.

~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves violates fundamental principles of income taxation, and is unlikely to be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers will likely find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged.~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves would reduce the industry’s effective tax rate but likely would not be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers may find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged. Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~

The definition of terrorism specified in H.R. 3210, by excluding acts of terrorism sponsored by nation states, does not reflect the current global environment. We may find acts of terrorism have underlying state sponsorship, which leaves unanswered whether such acts would be covered only by insurance companies or not covered because of general war risk exclusions found in all policies.

~~[May be a weak point because administering the Senate’s $10 billion deductible may be at least as complex as the house bill.] While all terrorism insurance proposals have some inherent degree of complexity, the program envisioned in H.R. 3210 could be especially complex to administer and long-lived. The program involves complex determinations of triggering determinations and complicated repayment structures. This makes administering the program difficult and costly. Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.~~

The Administration supports legislation that provides temporary federal support to encourage the continued provision of insurance for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. The Administration believes it is possible to craft a policy that accomplishes those goals in a manner better than H.R. 3210. We believe that a positive feature of H.R. 3210 is that by reducing risk of loss to individual companies, it increases the likelihood that potential “high risk” targets of terrorism will be able to obtain terrorism insurance at affordable rates. However, the Administration has several concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support HR 3210 in its current form. ~~countering this advantage are the myriad concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support H.R. 3210 and urges the House of Representatives to consider an alternative measure along the lines outlined by the Senate Banking Committee.~~

H.R. 3210 provides for a government loss sharing mechanism under which insurance companies are responsible for 10 percent of insured losses with the government responsible for 90 percent of insured losses. Government payments would be triggered once either industry-wide losses exceed $1 billion or industry-wide losses exceed $100 million and any single commercial insurer’s losses exceeded 10 percent of capital surplus and 10 percent of premiums. Once a triggering determination is made, the government would be sharing first dollar losses with the insurance industry.

The triggering determination process in H.R. 3210 is overly complex and is set at low loss levels. ~~Furthermore, federal cost sharing on a 90/10 basis is much more generous than the 80/20 cost sharing proposed by the Administration.~~ Under H.R. 3210, the government would be responsible for a greater share of first dollar losses than under the Administration’s approach, and in comparison to the Senate approach government payments would start sooner. In addition, with only a small-required insurance company retention, a low triggering determination, and no deductible, H.R. 3210 provides weaker incentives for cost containment than other approaches.

H.R. 3210 provides a mechanism for the government to recoup payments made under the program. Insurance companies would be assessed (up to 3 percent of premiums) if industry-wide losses were less than $20 billion, and policyholders would be assessed a surcharge for industry-wide losses above $20 billion.

While ensuring the government is compensated for services provided is a laudable goal, requiring payments through this type of assessment mechanism would work counter to the goal of maintaining insurance coverage for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. Insurance companies would have to price not only their individual 10 percent retention, but also their exposure for potential future assessments. Thus, it is likely that an assessment mechanism would lead to higher premiums even if future terrorist acts did not occur, with a surcharge putting even more upward pressure on premiums if a future terrorist act did occur.

Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.

In effect, the recoupment mechanism contained in H.R. 3210 imposes a “national property tax” that will likely fall on capital-intensive operations – such as energy, transportation, and manufacturing. Such a “national property tax” may also disproportionately affect renters (especially in urban areas) versus homeowners because rental properties are denser centers of activity. As a result, costs to consumers in those sectors would likely see a disproportionate increase. To avoid such distributional consequences, a more equitable approach would be to spread costs over all taxpayers. Such an approach would also preserve the government’s flexibility to fund payments through reductions in other spending, increased borrowing, or increased taxes.

~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves violates fundamental principles of income taxation, and is unlikely to be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers will likely find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged.~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves would reduce the industry’s effective tax rate but likely would not be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~

The definition of terrorism specified in H.R. 3210, by excluding acts of terrorism sponsored by nation states, does not reflect the current global environment. We may find acts of terrorism have underlying state sponsorship, which leaves unanswered whether such acts would be covered only by insurance companies or not covered because of general war risk exclusions found in all policies.

~~[May be a weak point because administering the Senate’s $10 billion deductible may be at least as complex as the house bill.] While all terrorism insurance proposals have some inherent degree of complexity, the program envisioned in H.R. 3210 could be especially complex to administer and long-lived. The program involves complex determinations of triggering determinations and complicated repayment structures. This makes administering the program difficult and costly. Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.~~

(Representative Oxley (R) Ohio and 30 cosponsors)

The Administration supports legislation that provides temporary federal support to encourage the continued provision of insurance for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. The Administration believes it is possible to craft a policy that accomplishes those goals in a manner better than H.R. 3210. We believe that a positive feature of H.R. 3210 is that by reducing risk of loss to individual companies, it increases the likelihood that potential “high risk” targets of terrorism will be able to obtain terrorism insurance at affordable rates. However, the Administration has several concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support HR 3210 in its current form. ~~countering this advantage are the myriad concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support H.R. 3210 and urges the House of Representatives to consider an alternative measure along the lines outlined by the Senate Banking Committee.~~

H.R. 3210 provides for a government loss sharing mechanism under which insurance companies are responsible for 10 percent of insured losses with the government responsible for 90 percent of insured losses. Government payments would be triggered once either industry-wide losses exceed $1 billion or industry-wide losses exceed $100 million and any single commercial insurer’s losses exceeded 10 percent of capital surplus and 10 percent of premiums. Once a triggering determination is made, the government would be sharing first dollar losses with the insurance industry.

The triggering determination process in H.R. 3210 is overly complex and is set at low loss levels. ~~Furthermore, federal cost sharing on a 90/10 basis is much more generous than the 80/20 cost sharing proposed by the Administration.~~ Under H.R. 3210, the government would be responsible for a greater share of first dollar losses than under the Administration’s approach, and in comparison to the Senate approach government payments would start sooner. In addition, with only a small-required insurance company retention, a low triggering determination, and no deductible, H.R. 3210 provides weaker incentives for cost containment than other approaches.

H.R. 3210 provides a mechanism for the government to recoup payments made under the program. Insurance companies would be assessed (up to 3 percent of premiums) if industry-wide losses were less than $20 billion, and policyholders would be assessed a surcharge for industry-wide losses above $20 billion.

While ensuring the government is compensated for services provided is a laudable goal, requiring payments through this type of assessment mechanism would work counter to the goal of maintaining insurance coverage for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. Insurance companies would have to price not only their individual 10 percent retention, but also their exposure for potential future assessments. Thus, it is likely that an assessment mechanism would lead to higher premiums even if future terrorist acts did not occur, with a surcharge putting even more upward pressure on premiums if a future terrorist act did occur.

Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.

In effect, the recoupment mechanism contained in H.R. 3210 imposes a “national property tax” that will likely fall on capital-intensive operations – such as energy, transportation, and manufacturing. Such a “national property tax” may also disproportionately affect renters (especially in urban areas) versus homeowners because rental properties are denser centers of activity. As a result, costs to consumers in those sectors would likely see a disproportionate increase. To avoid such distributional consequences, a more equitable approach would be to spread costs over all taxpayers. Such an approach would also preserve the government’s flexibility to fund payments through reductions in other spending, increased borrowing, or increased taxes.

~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves violates fundamental principles of income taxation, and is unlikely to be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers will likely find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged.~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves would reduce the industry’s effective tax rate but likely would not be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers may find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged. Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~

The definition of terrorism specified in H.R. 3210, by excluding acts of terrorism sponsored by nation states, does not reflect the current global environment. We may find acts of terrorism have underlying state sponsorship, which leaves unanswered whether such acts would be covered only by insurance companies or not covered because of general war risk exclusions found in all policies.

~~[May be a weak point because administering the Senate’s $10 billion deductible may be at least as complex as the house bill.] While all terrorism insurance proposals have some inherent degree of complexity, the program envisioned in H.R. 3210 could be especially complex to administer and long-lived. The program involves complex determinations of triggering determinations and complicated repayment structures. This makes administering the program difficult and costly. Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.~~

(Representative Oxley (R) Ohio and 30 cosponsors)

The Administration supports legislation that provides temporary federal support to encourage the continued provision of insurance for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. The Administration believes it is possible to craft a policy that accomplishes those goals in a manner better than H.R. 3210. We believe that a positive feature of H.R. 3210 is that by reducing risk of loss to individual companies, it increases the likelihood that potential “high risk” targets of terrorism will be able to obtain terrorism insurance at affordable rates. However, the Administration has several concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support HR 3210 in its current form. ~~countering this advantage are the myriad concerns that we detail below. Hence, the Administration does not support H.R. 3210 and urges the House of Representatives to consider an alternative measure along the lines outlined by the Senate Banking Committee.~~

H.R. 3210 provides for a government loss sharing mechanism under which insurance companies are responsible for 10 percent of insured losses with the government responsible for 90 percent of insured losses. Government payments would be triggered once either industry-wide losses exceed $1 billion or industry-wide losses exceed $100 million and any single commercial insurer’s losses exceeded 10 percent of capital surplus and 10 percent of premiums. Once a triggering determination is made, the government would be sharing first dollar losses with the insurance industry.

The triggering determination process in H.R. 3210 is overly complex and is set at low loss levels. ~~Furthermore, federal cost sharing on a 90/10 basis is much more generous than the 80/20 cost sharing proposed by the Administration.~~ Under H.R. 3210, the government would be responsible for a greater share of first dollar losses than under the Administration’s approach, and in comparison to the Senate approach government payments would start sooner. In addition, with only a small-required insurance company retention, a low triggering determination, and no deductible, H.R. 3210 provides weaker incentives for cost containment than other approaches.

H.R. 3210 provides a mechanism for the government to recoup payments made under the program. Insurance companies would be assessed (up to 3 percent of premiums) if industry-wide losses were less than $20 billion, and policyholders would be assessed a surcharge for industry-wide losses above $20 billion.

While ensuring the government is compensated for services provided is a laudable goal, requiring payments through this type of assessment mechanism would work counter to the goal of maintaining insurance coverage for acts of terrorism at reasonable rates. Insurance companies would have to price not only their individual 10 percent retention, but also their exposure for potential future assessments. Thus, it is likely that an assessment mechanism would lead to higher premiums even if future terrorist acts did not occur, with a surcharge putting even more upward pressure on premiums if a future terrorist act did occur.

Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.

In effect, the recoupment mechanism contained in H.R. 3210 imposes a “national property tax” that will likely fall on capital-intensive operations – such as energy, transportation, and manufacturing. Such a “national property tax” may also disproportionately affect renters (especially in urban areas) versus homeowners because rental properties are denser centers of activity. As a result, costs to consumers in those sectors would likely see a disproportionate increase. To avoid such distributional consequences, a more equitable approach would be to spread costs over all taxpayers. Such an approach would also preserve the government’s flexibility to fund payments through reductions in other spending, increased borrowing, or increased taxes.

~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves violates fundamental principles of income taxation, and is unlikely to be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Insurers will likely find ways to substitute tax-favored capital for non-favored capital, leaving the industry’s total surplus funds unchanged.~~H.R. 3210 provides insurance companies tax benefits by allowing the tax-free accumulation of reserves. Building tax-free reserves would reduce the industry’s effective tax rate but likely would not be effective in ensuring future industry solvency. Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~Tax benefits could also hinder the re-emergence of reinsurance to cover terrorism risk, as companies would have greater incentive to hold such risks themselves.~~

The definition of terrorism specified in H.R. 3210, by excluding acts of terrorism sponsored by nation states, does not reflect the current global environment. We may find acts of terrorism have underlying state sponsorship, which leaves unanswered whether such acts would be covered only by insurance companies or not covered because of general war risk exclusions found in all policies.

~~[May be a weak point because administering the Senate’s $10 billion deductible may be at least as complex as the house bill.] While all terrorism insurance proposals have some inherent degree of complexity, the program envisioned in H.R. 3210 could be especially complex to administer and long-lived. The program involves complex determinations of triggering determinations and complicated repayment structures. This makes administering the program difficult and costly. Also, because loan repayments could be spread over many years, the program would require a collection mechanism that would need to be administered and could be in existence for many years. In addition, that collection mechanism would have to be monitored to ensure that insurance companies were not looking for ways to reduce their assessments.~~

Rebecca, Brett,

Here are two memos that we wrote. One is on the vaccine issue, and the other is on punitive damages in general. They encompass everything that we have been working on. Please let us know if we can provide you with more information.

If there are upcoming meetings, Mark McClellan and I would be interested in attending.

Diana - Could you circulate to me and Brett via email the various documents that you guys have put together on this issue? I know that there have been several things that have gone around, and I wanted to be sure that everyone had copies of the relevant materials. Also, I know Brett would like to get an idea of what it is that you guys think is the best approach to this issue. Thanks very much!

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT COUNCIL OF ECONOMIC ADVISERS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20502

November 6, 2001

MEMORANDUM FOR: DIANA FURCHTGOTT-ROTH
FROM: PETER FEATHER
SUBJECT: TORT LIABILITY AND TERRORISM

Introduction

The American civil liability system cost $161 billion in 1999, or 2 percent of the nation's gross domestic product, compared with 1.4 percent in 1970, and 0.6 percent in 1950. Breaking down tort costs, 24% go to litigants for their actual (economic) losses, and 22% to compensate for pain and suffering, 30% for lawyers fees and defense costs and 24% for administrative costs. Only 3 percent of liability claims are settled by court verdict. However, lawsuit verdicts have a disproportionate impact on liability costs because they influence the damage amount sought by plaintiffs and the size of out-of-court settlement.

Higher product prices, medical costs and insurance rates pay for the tort system. For example, it has been estimated that 55% of the price of a football helmet and 30% of the price of a stepladder are attributable to litigation risk cost. The extra cost imposed by liability costs from insurance on childhood vaccines accounts for 95% of the price. Studies have shown that physicians may prescribe unnecessary precautionary treatments, (referred to as “defensive medicine”), or avoid those they perceive as risky (referred to as “non-defensive medicine”) in order to avoid non-financial litigation penalties such as harm to their reputations and the time and stress associated with a malpractice suit.

The Tort system serves the economically useful purpose of what economists refer to as internalizing externalities. In other words, it makes persons who injure others aware of their actions and act appropriately. If the awards or the expectation of the liability exceeds the actual damage, then too much cost is passed onto consumers and distortions in the economy occur. Although it is nearly impossible to know exactly what defines an excessive award, it is useful to examine trends in awards over time. The levels of jury awards have risen dramatically in this decade. These jury awards are used as precedents in out of court settlements. During a five year period from 1994 to 1999:

1. average death awards have risen from $1.1 million to $5.5 million;
2. average business negligence awards have risen from $0.7 million to $1.7 million;
3. average personal negligence awards have risen from $0.3 million to 3.0 million;
4. average products liability awards have risen from $1.7 million to $7.4 million

The tort system can also be useful in keeping undesirable (usually unsafe) products out of the market place. If the expected harm these products will create (as defined in the tort system) exceeds their benefits, then the tort system serves a useful function. However, if the expectation of liability greatly exceeds the actual harm that will be caused, then (net) beneficial products may be kept out of the market. Economic theory tells us that the resources that would be used to produce these goods will be used to produce the next best alternative. Therefore, the loss is not the value of the good that isn't produced, but rather the difference in the value of the good that isn't produced less the value of the next best alternative. Since only one of these goods is produced, it is difficult to assess this loss. Still, anecdotal evidence suggests that some products that may have a net benefit to society as a whole are withheld from the market place due to excessive concerns of liability from the tort system.

1. Because many lawyers are familiar with asbestos liability theories, Monsanto decided to not release a safe, biodegradable asbestos substitute into the market place over a decade ago. At this date, it has still not been commercially utilized.
2. Concerns over liability have resulted in withdrawals of medicines such as bendectin and thalidomide, and halted the production of vaccines such as smallpox and DPT.

The terrorist attack on September 11 has added to the problem. Insurance companies uncertain how to assess new liability risks are raising premiums and, in some cases, denying coverage. A new survey of insurance agents and brokers reports that businesses across the U.S. are seeing large increases in premiums and more restrictive policy terms. The third quarter survey, conducted by the Council of Insurance Agents and Brokers, indicates that insurance policies covering property damages have some of the largest increases. Approximately 25% of respondents said their customers were paying rates 30%-50% higher than the previous quarter. Some (14%) said their clients face increases of more than 50%. Almost half (44%) of agents and brokers report premium increases of at least 30% in umbrella liability coverage. Although insurance costs were expected to trend upward due to a slowing economy, the September 11 terrorist attacks have probably added to the cost increases.

Several industries have been impacted by higher insurance costs that may force many to either raise prices, or exit the market.

Airlines

Airlines carry insurance for public liability, passenger liability, property damage, and damage to its aircraft. The policies in place before September 11 typically contained limits of liability that are reported by one major insurer to max out at $2 billion. Anything above this level would be left uncovered by an airline's insurance policy. Absent the provisions in the Airline Transport System Stabilization Act, the airlines have a large liability exposure. The New York Times reported September 14, 2001, that "While airlines are insured, William Shernoff, a lawyer in Claremont, Calif., who specializes in litigation against insurance companies, said liability claims could easily exceed the coverage, forcing airlines to pay much of the cost of claims directly."

In the aftermath of September 11, these risks will be incorporated into insurance costs, and therefore be a cost of doing business. Absent resolution of insurance and liability issues, costs of flying will rise. These costs could be significant given the precedents set by recent plane crash awards ranging from $3.5 million per passenger (Swissair Flight 111) to $5.7 million per passenger (Pan Am Flight 103).

Transportation

Many freight carriers cannot afford to pay insurance. Insurance costs have increased 200%-300% in some cases. The American Trucking Association has documented reports of increases as high as 800% -1000% since September 11. Most of the increases are in “umbrella” liability policies. Over the past several years, the number of claims has fallen, but the cost per claim has risen. Fewer companies are willing to insure carriers, which may force some out of the business. It appears that there will be no way to insure against terrorist attacks in the future.

The American Bus Association reports a similar situation. Insurance costs before September 11 were scheduled to rise. Since September 11, they have risen more than expected. On average, premiums have risen 25%-50%, and some as high as 100%. The biggest concern is that insurance companies will refuse to pay for “war risks” or acts of terrorism. Most bus operators are small companies with five or fewer buses. This type of risk will likely drive many out of business.

Construction

The Contractor’s Association of America reports that Insurance premiums have been trending up in the construction sector, especially in the areas of worker’s compensation and liability to the public. The biggest concern in the contracting industry is obtaining insurance in conjunction with the construction of public projects. Presently, insurers will not provide surety bonds unless the contractor has a net worth of at least $50 million. The previous net worth limit was $5 million. This requirement forces all but the largest companies out of the public projects construction sector.

Mail Services

There will be little if any impact on the U.S. Postal Service. The U.S. Postal Service is protected under the Federal Tort Claims Act and is self-insured. Employee can be compensated exclusively through the Federal Employee Compensation Act. Many mental distress claims are expected, but this legislation makes winning these difficult. Through a discretionary function exemption, the USPS cannot be sued on the grounds of insufficient security.

In the past, United Parcel Service has not been held liable for items they have shipped (e.g., firearms used to commit crimes). They do have a fleet of 240 jet aircraft and are buying FAA act of war insurance. UPS is also experiencing a large insurance cost increases for their vehicle fleet.

FROM: PETER FEATHER

SUBJECT: SMALLPOX VACCINE

Presently there are 15.4 million doses of smallpox vaccine maintained by the Government. An additional 40 million more doses have been contracted to be produced. Health risks associated with the present vaccine are thought to be similar to risks associated with smallpox vaccines administered in the past. The potential liabilities faced by a manufacturer for resulting fatalities, disabilities and hospitalizations are significant. Several options exist to mitigate these liabilities:

Options for Insuring Vaccine Manufacturers

1. Direct Government Indemnification: The Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has drafted a proposed executive order amending Executive Order 10789. This authorizes government agencies to enter into indemnification agreements with contractors engaged in unusually hazardous activities relating to national defense functions
2. Transfer Liability to the Government: The National Swine Flu Immunization Program of 1976 made a suit against the United States under the Federal Tort Claims Act to be the sole remedy for claims arising from adverse reactions to the swine flu vaccine. Such an approach could be used for smallpox vaccine to protect manufacturers. This requires an act of Congress.
3. Government Insurance Reimbursement: Under the Federal Acquisition Regulation, the Government may reimburse contractors for the cost of acquiring liability insurance. In some circumstances, the Government may require contractors to carry liability insurance, which is factored into their bids. This option does not require legislation, but may significantly increase the cost of a vaccine.
4. Vaccine Compensation Funds. Congress enacted the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program (VICP) as a no-fault alternative to the tort system for resolving claims resulting from adverse reactions to mandated childhood vaccines. A tax ($0.75 per antigen) is levied on vaccines and held in a fund to be used for damages. Awards include economic costs, pain and suffering, estimated costs of future care and attorney fees. A similar program could be established for smallpox vaccine if it were sold on the open market. Congress has to create the surcharge, so for smallpox vaccine to be added to the VICP program, an act of Congress would be required.

5. Extension of Executive Order: PLE-5804 grants indemnity to military contractors if they produce equipment according to contract specifications. Under Boyle vs United Technologies Corp (487 U.S. 500, 1988), liability design defects cannot be imposed where 1. The government provided reasonable precise specifications; 2. The product conformed to specifications; 3. The supplier warned about dangers in the case of the product of which it (but not the government) was aware. Its possible, but not known, that this precedent extends to vaccines produced under government contract.

Potential Liabilities

The health risks associated with smallpox vaccine are well documented. Data from vaccination programs in the 1960's show the following frequencies of adverse reactions.

- a. Fatalities: 0.5-2.5 per million
- b. Disability: 0.25-1.5 per million
- c. Hospitalization: 15-30 per million
- d. Medical Attended: 875 per million

It is difficult to accurately estimate the expected liability vaccine manufacturers are exposed to. Persons with compromised immune systems are at greater risk to adverse reactions. The U.S. population has significantly more of these individuals now than in the 1960's. On the other hand, persons with previous exposure to the vaccine are at less risk. Approximately half of the population of the U.S. is at least 35 years of age or older and has probably been exposed to the vaccine. It is believed that the additional risks from persons with compromised immune systems far outweigh the reductions in risk to previous exposure. The numbers above express these differences in the population from the 1960's to the present. The higher risk estimates are believed to be more likely to apply to the present U.S. population.

Damages paid by the VICP program (option 4 above) include economic costs, pain and suffering, estimated costs of future care and attorney fees. Awards have ranged from $120.00 to $7.9 million. The average injury award since the inception of the VICP for both Pre-1988 and Post-1988 claims is $822,045. Awards for death cases are capped at $250,000 plus attorneys' fees/costs.

Industry Estimate

Acambis Incorporated has contracted with the Government to produce 40 million doses of smallpox vaccine. The contract specifies that Acambis acquire $225 million of insurance for liabilities associated with the development, testing and potential utilization of the vaccine. Acambis identified three risks that would result in potential liability. Based on settlement information from previous lawsuits involving similar injuries, Acambis estimates the following liabilities¹:

¹ The CDC supplied this confidential information. It should not be made public.

1. Non-fatal Encephalopathies: Estimated frequency is 4.55 cases per million, or 182 cases per 40 million doses. Average liability is estimated to be $3 million per case (350 verdicts were examined with settlements ranging from $17,000 to $45 million – extreme settlements were discarded). Total liability is $546 million.
2. Non-fatal Scarring: Estimated frequency is 0.525 cases per million, or 21 cases per 40 million doses. Average liability is estimated to be $0.4 million per case (600 verdicts of similar injuries were examined ranging from $2,000 to $20 million – extreme settlements were discarded). Total liability is $8.4 million.
3. Death: Estimated frequency is 6.625 cases per million, or 265 cases per 40 million doses. Average liability is estimated to be $0.76 million per case (This is based on the present value of future earnings, a low estimate for the value of life. EPA, for example, uses $6.2 million). Total liability is $202 million.

Total estimated liability is $756.3 million -- approximately triple the insurance coverage. Instead of acquiring more insurance, Acambis advocates the use of consent forms at the time of inoculation to reduce liability risks. They also discuss the applicability of the Government contracts executive order (5 above).

Carey Hobbs plane was going to take 6 hours to fly down there -- which for a lot of reasons, Carey identified another plane and the Texas Federation of Republican Women have agreed to defray about half of the cost. The gentleman who owns the jet is Billy Meyer -- he personally owns the plane and, according to him, does not do business with the federal government.

Can we do it?

Subject: Re: Oxley bill

Hi, Kristen.

I have read the relevant sections of the Oxley Bill and your memo. I agree with your assessment. Section 14(b) purports to limit damages in actions regarding insurance claims after a "triggering determination" has occurred. But as you point out, under Section 5(a), a triggering determination cannot occur until the aggregate liability has been established. At that point, how can liability be limited?

I have tried my best to think of ways to make sense of this bill. Here are three possibilities to consider:

POSSIBILITY # 1 : "The Determination is an Estimation"

Maybe when Section 5(a) says that the Administrator will make a determination, it means that he or she is really supposed to make an estimation. In many cases, that might not be difficult even before any lawsuit is filed or completed. The $1 billion/$100 million figures are not tremendously large. Destruction of a large part of city easily could cost the insurance industry $1 billion. Similarly, anything involving airplanes is very expensive. (A brand new Boeing 747 jet costs $200 million.) But is it possible to interpret the word determination to mean estimation? What about close cases? Is that why the Administrator has sole authority to make the determination?

POSSIBILITY # 2 : "Application on to Post-Determination Lawsuits"

Maybe the limitations do not apply to everyone, but instead only to people who bring claims after the triggering determination is made. Until liability reaches the triggering level stated in Section 5(a), there is no limit of liability or exclusive federal cause of action. Once the threshold is met, however, all subsequent actions will be limited. But this interpretation does not seem very fair, and it would produce a race to the courthouse.

POSSIBILITY # 3 : "Retroactive Application"

Alternatively, maybe the limitation applies retroactively. In other words, after a triggering determination, all judgments would be retroactively limited whether they occurred before or after the triggering determination. But is this feasible? Would it be a taking? Would people who recovered on state law theories have to refile under federal law?

Good luck!

Greg

107TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. _____

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

_____ introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on _____

A BILL

To promote the stabilization of the economy by encouraging financial institutions to continue to support economic development, including development in urban areas, through the provision of affordable insurance coverage against acts of terrorism, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 (b) CONDITIONS FOR FEDERAL PAYMENTS.—No
2 payment may be made by the Secretary under subsection
3 (c), unless—

4 (1) a policyholder that suffers an insured loss,
5 or a person acting on behalf of that policyholder,
6 files a claim with a participating insurance company;

7 (2) at the time of offer, purchase, and renewal
8 of each policy covering an insured loss, the partici-
9 pating insurance company provides clear and con-
10 spicuous disclosure in the policy to the policyholder
11 of the premium charged for insured losses covered
12 by the Program and the Federal share of compensa-
13 tion for insured losses under the Program;

14 (3) the participating insurance company proc-
15 esses the claim for the insured loss in accordance 16 with its standard business practices, and any proce-
17 dures that the Secretary may reasonably prescribe;
18 and

19 (4) the participating insurance company sub-
20 mits to the Secretary, in accordance with such pro-
21 cedures as the Secretary may establish—

22 (A) a claim for payment of the Federal 23 share of compensation for insured losses under
24 the Program;

25 (B) written verification and certification—

- 1 (i) of the underlying claim; and
2 (ii) of all payments made to policy-
3 holders for insured losses; and
4 (C) certification of its compliance with the 5 provisions of this subsection.

6 (c) SHARED INSURANCE LOSS COVERAGE.—

7 (1) FEDERAL SHARE.—Subject to the limita-
8 tions in paragraph (2), the Federal share of com-
9 pensation under the Program, to be paid by the Sec-
10 retary, shall be—

11 (A) for insured losses resulting from an act
12 of terrorism occurring during the period begin-
13 ning on the date of enactment of this Act and 14 ending on December 31, 2002, 90 percent of 15 the aggregate amount of all such losses in ex-
16 cess of $10,000,000,000;

17 (B) for insured losses resulting from an 18 act of terrorism occurring during the period be-
19 ginning on January 1, 2003 and ending on De-
20 cember 31, 2003, 90 percent of the aggregate
21 amount of all such losses in excess of
22 $10,000,000,000; and

23 (C) if the Program is extended in accord-
24 ance with section 6, for insured losses resulting 25 from an act of terrorism occurring during the

1 period beginning on January 1, 2004 and end-
2 ing on December 31, 2004, 90 percent of the 3 aggregate amount of all such losses in excess of 4 $20,000,000,000.

5 (2) CAP ON ANNUAL LIABILITY.—Notwith-
6 standing paragraph (1), or any other provision of 7 Federal or State law, if the aggregate insured losses
8 exceed $100,000,000,000 during any period referred
9 to in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1)
10 (or the period referred to in subparagraph (C) of 11 paragraph (1) if the Program is extended in accord-
12 ance with section 6)—

13 (A) the Secretary shall not make any pay-
14 ment under this Act for any portion of the 15 amount of such losses that exceeds
16 $100,000,000,000; and

17 (B) participating insurance companies
18 shall not be liable for the payment of any por-
19 tion of the amount that exceeds
20 $100,000,000,000.

21 (3) NOTICE TO CONGRESS.—The Secretary
22 shall notify the Congress if estimated or actual ag-
23 gregate insured losses exceed $100,000,000,000 in 24 any period described in paragraph (1), and the Con-

1 gress shall determine the procedures for and the 2 source of any such excess payments.

3 (4) FINAL NETTING.—The Secretary shall have
4 sole discretion to determine the time at which claims
5 relating to any insured loss or act of terrorism shall 6 become final.

7 (5) DETERMINATIONS FINAL.—Any determina-
8 tion of the Secretary under this subsection shall be 9 final, and shall not be subject to judicial review.

10 (d) FUNDING.—

11 (1) PAYMENT AUTHORITY.—This Act con-
12 stitutes payment authority in advance of appropria-
13 tion Acts and represents the obligation of the Fed-
14 eral Government to provide for the Federal share of 15 compensation for insured losses under the Program.

16 (2) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—
17 There are authorized to be appropriated to the Sec-
18 retary such sums as may be necessary to pay the ad-
19 ministrative expenses of the Program.

20 SEC. 5. GENERAL AUTHORITY AND ADMINISTRATION OF 21 CLAIMS.

22 (a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—The Secretary shall have 23 the powers and authorities necessary to carry out the Pro-
24 gram, including authority—

1 (1) to investigate and audit all claims under the
2 Program; and

3 (2) to prescribe regulations and procedures to 4 implement the Program.

5 (b) INTERIM RULES AND PROCEDURES.—The Sec-
6 retary shall issue interim final rules or procedures speci-
7 fying the manner in which—

8 (1) participating insurance companies may file,
9 verify, and certify claims under the Program;

10 (2) the Secretary shall publish or otherwise
11 publicly announce the applicable percentage of in-
12 sured losses to be paid by participating insurance
13 companies and the Federal share of compensation
14 for insured losses under the Program;

15 (3) the Federal share of compensation for in-
16 sured losses will be paid under the Program, includ-
17 ing payments based on estimates of or actual aggre-
18 gate insured losses;

19 (4) the Secretary may, at any time, seek repay-
20 ment from or reimburse any participating insurance
21 company, based on estimates of insured losses under 22 the Program, to effectuate the insured loss sharing
23 schedule and limitations contained in section 4;

24 (5) participating insurance companies that 25 incur insured losses shall pay their pro rata share of

1 insured losses in accordance with the schedule and 2 limitations contained in section 4; and

3 (6) the Secretary will determine any final net-
4 ting of payments for actual insured losses under the 5 Program, including payments owed to the Federal
6 Government from any participating insurance com-
7 pany and any Federal share of compensation for in-
8 sured losses owed to any participating insurance
9 company, to effectuate the insured loss sharing
10 schedule and limitations contained in section 4.

11 (c) CONTRACTS FOR SERVICES.—The Secretary may 12 employ persons or contract for services as may be nec-
13 essary to implement the Program.

14 (d) CIVIL PENALTIES.—The Secretary may assess
15 civil money penalties for violations of this Act or any rule,
16 regulation, or order issued by the Secretary under this Act
17 relating to the submission of false or misleading informa-
18 tion for purposes of the Program, or any failure to repay
19 any amount required to be reimbursed under regulations
20 or procedures described in section 5(b)(5).

21 SEC. 6. TERMINATION OF PROGRAM; DISCRETIONARY EX-
22 TENSION.

23 (a) TERMINATION OF PROGRAM.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—This Act is repealed, and
2 the Program shall terminate, on December 31,
3 2003, unless the Secretary—

4 (A) determines, after considering the re-
5 port and finding required by this section, that 6 the Program should be extended for one addi-
7 tional year, until December 31, 2004; and

8 (B) promptly notifies the Congress of such 9 determination and the reasons therefore.

10 (2) DETERMINATION FINAL.—The determina-
11 tion of the Secretary under paragraph (1) shall be 12 final, and shall not be subject to judicial review.

13 (3) TERMINATION AFTER EXTENSION.—If the 14 Program is extended under paragraph (1), this Act
15 is repealed, and the Program shall terminate, on De-
16 cember 31, 2004.

17 (b) REPORT TO CONGRESS.—Not later than 18
18 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the Sec-
19 retary shall submit a report to Congress—

20 (1) regarding—

21 (A) the availability of insurance coverage
22 for acts of terrorism;

23 (B) the affordability of such coverage, in-
24 cluding the effect of such coverage on pre-
25 miums; and

1 (C) the capacity of the insurance industry
2 to absorb future losses resulting from acts of 3 terrorism, taking into account the profitability
4 of the insurance industry; and

5 (2) that considers—

6 (A) the impact of the Program on each of 7 the factors described in paragraph (1); and

8 (B) the probable impact on such factors
9 and on the United States economy if the Pro-
10 gram terminates on December 31, 2003.

11 (c) FINDING REQUIRED.—A determination under 12 subsection (a) to extend the Program shall be based on 13 a finding by the Secretary that—

14 (1) widespread market uncertainties continue to 15 disrupt the ability of insurance companies to price
16 insurance coverage for losses resulting from acts of 17 terrorism, thereby resulting in the continuing un-
18 availability of affordable insurance for consumers;
19 and

20 (2) extending the Program for an additional 21 year would likely encourage economic stabilization
22 and facilitate a transition to a viable market for pri-
23 vate terrorism risk insurance.

24 (d) CONTINUING AUTHORITY TO PAY OR ADJUST
25 COMPENSATION.—Notwithstanding the date on which the

1 Program terminates under subsection (a), the Secretary
2 may take any actions necessary to ensure payment, reim-
3 bursement, or adjustment of compensation for insured
4 losses arising out of any act of terrorism occurring during 5 the period during which the Program is in effect under 6 this Act.

7 (e) STUDY AND REPORT ON SCOPE OF THE PRO-
8 GRAM.—

9 (1) STUDY.—The Secretary, after consultation
10 with the National Association of Insurance Commis-
11 sioners, representatives of the insurance industry,
12 and other experts in the insurance field, shall con-
13 duct a study of the potential effects of acts of ter-
14 rorism on the availability of life insurance and other
15 lines of insurance coverage.

16 (2) REPORT.—Not later than 1 year after the 17 date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary shall 18 submit a report to the Congress on the results of the 19 study conducted under paragraph (1).

20 SEC. 7 PRESERVATION OF STATE LAW.

21 Nothing in this Act shall affect the jurisdiction or 22 regulatory authority of the insurance commissioner (or 23 any agency or office performing like functions) of any 24 State over any participating insurance company or other
25 person—

1 (1) except as specifically provided in this Act;

2 and

3 (2) except that—

4 (A) the definition of the term “act of ter-
5 rorism” in section 3 shall be the exclusive defi-
6 nition for purposes of compensation for insured
7 losses under this Act, and shall preempt any 8 provision of State law that is inconsistent with 9 that definition, to the extent that such provision
10 of law would otherwise apply to any insurance
11 policy relating to terrorism risk in the United 12 States; and

13 (B) during the period beginning on the 14 date of enactment of this Act and ending on 15 December 31, 2002, rates for terrorism risk in-16 surance covered by this Act and filed with any 17 State shall not be subject to prior approval or 18 a waiting period, under any law of a State that 19 would otherwise be applicable, provided that 20 nothing in this Act affects the ability of any 21 State to invalidate a rate as excessive, inad-
22 equate, or unfairly discriminatory.

23 SEC. 8. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS.

24 It is the sense of the Congress that the insurance in-25 dustry should build capacity and aggregate risk to provide

1 SECTION. 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “Terrorism Risk Insur-
3 ance Act of 2001”.

4 SEC. 2. CONGRESSIONAL FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

5 (a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that—

6 (1) property and casualty insurance firms are 7 important financial institutions, the products of 8 which allow mutualization of risk and the efficient
9 use of financial resources and enhance the ability of 10 the economy to maintain stability, while responding 11 to a variety of economic, political, environmental,
12 and other risks with a minimum of disruption;

13 (2) the ability of businesses and individuals to 14 obtain property and casualty insurance at reasonable 15 and predictable prices, in order to spread the risk of 16 both routine and catastrophic loss, is critical to eco-
17 nomic growth, urban development, and the construc-
18 tion and maintenance of public and private housing,
19 as well as to the promotion of United States exports
20 and foreign trade in an increasingly interconnected
21 world;

22 (3) the ability of the insurance industry to 23 cover the unprecedented financial risks presented by 24 potential acts of terrorism in the United States can 25 be a major factor in the recovery from terrorist at-

1 affordable property and casualty coverage for terrorism
2 risk.

3 SEC. 9. PROCEDURES FOR CIVIL ACTIONS.

4 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION.—There shall exist
5 a Federal cause of action for property damage, personal
6 injury, or death arising out of or resulting from an act
7 of terrorism, which shall be the exclusive cause of action
8 and remedy for claims for property damage, personal in-9 jury, or death arising out of or resulting from an act of 10 terrorism. All State causes of action of any kind for prop-
11 erty damage, personal injury, or death otherwise available
12 arising out of or resulting from an act of terrorism, are 13 hereby preempted, except as provided in subsection (f).

14 (b) GOVERNING LAW.—The substantive law for deci-
15 sion in an action for property damage, personal injury,
16 or death arising out of or resulting from an act of ter-
17 rorism under this section shall be derived from the law,
18 including applicable choice of law principles, of the [State,
19 or States determined to be required by the district court
20 assigned under subsection (c), unless such law is incon-
21 sistent with or otherwise preempted by Federal law.]

22 (c) FEDERAL JURISDICTION.—

23 (1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other
24 provision of law, not later than 90 days after the oc-
25 currence of an act of terrorism, the Judicial Panel

1 on Multidistrict Litigation shall assign a single Fed-
2 eral district court to conduct pretrial and trial pro-
3 ceedings in all pending and future civil actions for 4 property damage, personal injury, or death arising
5 out of or resulting from that act of terrorism.

6 (2) SELECTION CRITERIA.—The Judicial Panel
7 on Multidistrict Litigation shall select and assign the 8 district court under paragraph (1) based on the con-
9 venience of the parties and the just and efficient
10 conduct of the proceedings.

11 (3) JURISDICTION.—The district court assigned
12 by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation
13 shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction over all 14 actions under paragraph (1). For purposes of per-15 sonal jurisdiction, the district court assigned by the 16 Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation shall be 17 deemed to sit in all judicial districts in the United
18 States.

19 (4) TRANSFER OF CASES FILED IN OTHER FED-
20 ERAL COURTS.—Any civil action for property dam-
21 age, personal injury, or death arising out of or re-
22 sulting from an act of terrorism that is filed in a
23 Federal district court other than the Federal district
24 court assigned by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict

1 Litigation under paragraph (1) shall be transferred
2 to the Federal district court so assigned.

3 (5) REMOVAL OF CASES FILED IN STATE
4 COURTS.—Any civil action for property damage, per-
5 sonal injury, or death arising out of or resulting 6 from an act of terrorism that is filed in a State
7 court shall be removable to the Federal district court
8 assigned by the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Liti-
9 gation under paragraph (1).

10 [(d) APPROVAL OF SETTLEMENTS.—Any settlement
11 between the parties of a civil action described in this sec-
12 tion for property damage, personal injury, or death arising
13 out of or resulting from an act of terrorism shall be sub-
14 ject to prior approval by the Secretary.]

15 (e) LIMITATION ON DAMAGES.—Punitive or exem-
16 plary damages shall not be available in any civil action
17 subject to this section.

18 (f) CLAIMS AGAINST TERRORISTS.—Nothing in this
19 section shall in any way limit the ability of any plaintiff
20 to seek any form of recovery from any person, government 21 or other entity that was a participant in, or aider and 22 abettor of, any act of terrorism.

23 (g) EFFECTIVE PERIOD.—This section shall apply
24 only to actions for property damage, personal injury, or 25 death arising out of or resulting from acts of terrorism

1 that occur during the effective period of the Program, in-
2 cluding, if applicable, any extension period under section
3 6.

1 tacks, while maintaining the stability of the econ-
2 omy;

3 (4) widespread financial market uncertainties
4 have arisen following the terrorist attacks of Sep-
5 tember 11, 2001, including the absence of informa-
6 tion from which financial institutions can make sta-
7 tistically valid estimates of the probability and size
8 of future terrorist events, and therefore the size,
9 funding, and allocation of the risk of loss caused by 10 such acts of terrorism;

11 (5) a decision by property and casualty insurers
12 to deal with such uncertainties, either by termi-
13 nating property and casualty coverage for losses
14 arising from terrorist events, or by radically esca-
15 lating premium coverage to compensate for risks of 16 loss that are not readily predictable, could seriously
17 hamper ongoing and planned construction, property
18 acquisition, and other business projects, generate a 19 dramatic increase in rents, and otherwise suppress 20 economic activity; and

21 (6) the United States Government should pro-
22 vide temporary financial assistance to insured par-
23 ties, contributing to the stabilization of the United 24 States economy in a time of national crisis, while the 25 financial services industry develops the systems,

1 mechanisms, products, and programs necessary to
2 create a viable financial services market for private
3 terrorism risk insurance.

4 (b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this Act is to estab-
5 lish a temporary Federal program that provides for a
6 transparent system of shared public and private com-
7 pensation for insured losses resulting from acts of ter-
8 rorism in order to—

9 (1) protect consumers by addressing market
10 disruptions and ensure the continued widespread
11 availability and affordability of property and cas-
12 ualty insurance for terrorism risk; and

13 (2) allow for a transitional period for the pri-
14 vate markets to stabilize, resume pricing of such in-
15 surance, and build capacity to absorb any future
16 losses, while preserving State insurance regulation
17 and consumer protections.

18 SEC. 3. DEFINITIONS.

19 In this Act, the following definitions shall apply:

20 (1) ACT OF TERRORISM.—

21 (A) CERTIFICATION.—The term “act of 22 terrorism” means any act that is certified by 23 the Secretary, in concurrence with the Sec-
24 retary of State, and the Attorney General of the 25 United States—

1 (i) to be a violent act or an act that
2 is dangerous to—

3 (I) human life;

4 (II) property; or

5 (III) infrastructure;

6 (ii) to have resulted in damage within
7 the United States, or outside of the United
8 States in the case of an air carrier de-
9 scribed in paragraph (3)(A)(ii); and

10 (iii) to have been committed by an in-11 dividual or individuals acting on behalf of 12 any foreign person or foreign interest, as 13 part of an effort to coerce the civilian pop-
14 ulation of the United States or to influence
15 the policy or affect the conduct of the 16 United States Government by coercion.

17 (B) LIMITATION.—No act or event shall be 18 certified by the Secretary as an act of terrorism
19 if—

20 (i) the act or event is committed in 21 the course of a war declared by the Con-
22 gress; or

23 (ii) losses resulting from the act or 24 event, in the aggregate, do not exceed 25 $5,000,000.

1 (C) DETERMINATIONS FINAL.—Any certifi-
2 cation of, or determination not to certify, an act
3 or event as an act of terrorism under this para-
4 graph shall be final, and shall not be subject to 5 judicial review.

6 (2) BUSINESS INTERRUPTION COVERAGE.—The 7 term “business interruption coverage”—

8 (A) means coverage of losses for temporary 9 relocation expenses and ongoing expenses, in-
10 cluding ordinary wages, where—

11 (i) there is physical damage to the 12 business premises of such magnitude that 13 the business cannot open for business;

14 (ii) there is physical damage to other
15 property that totally prevents customers or 16 employees from gaining access to the busi-
17 ness premises; or

18 (iii) the Federal, State, or local gov-
19 ernment shuts down an area due to phys-
20 ical or environmental damage, thereby pre-
21 venting customers or employees from gain-
22 ing access to the business premises; and

23 (B) does not include lost profits, other 24 than in the case of a small business concern (as 25 defined in section 3 of the Small Business Act

1 (15 U.S.C. 632) and applicable regulations
2 thereunder) in any case described in clause (i),
3 (ii), or (iii) of subparagraph (A).

4 (3) INSURED LOSS.—The term “insured loss”—
5 (A) means any loss resulting from an act
6 of terrorism that is covered by any type of com-
7 mercial or personal property and casualty insur-
8 ance policy or endorsement, including business
9 interruption coverage, issued by a participating
10 insurance company—

11 (i) if such loss occurs within the 12 United States; and

13 (ii) to an air carrier (as defined in
14 section 40102 of title 49, United States
15 Code), regardless of where the loss occurs;
16 and

17 (B) does not include any loss covered by 18 any type of life or health insurance policy.

19 (4) PARTICIPATING INSURANCE COMPANY.—
20 The term “participating insurance company” means 21 any insurance company, including any subsidiary or 22 affiliate thereof—

23 (A) that—

1 (i) is licensed or admitted to engage
2 in the business of providing primary insur-
3 ance in any State; or

4 (ii) is not so licensed or admitted, if
5 it is an eligible surplus line carrier listed
6 on the Quarterly Listing of Alien Insurers
7 of the National Association of Insurance
8 Commissioners, or any successor thereto;

9 (B) that offers in all of its property and 10 casualty insurance policies, coverage for insured
11 losses;

12 (C) that offers property and casualty in-
13 surance coverage for insured losses that does
14 not differ materially from the terms, amounts,
15 and other coverage limitations applicable to 16 losses arising from events other than acts of 17 terrorism; and

18 (D) that meets any other criteria that the 19 Secretary may reasonably prescribe.

20 (6) PERSON.—The term “person” means any 21 individual, business, or nonprofit entity (including a
22 partnership, limited liability company, corporation,
23 or association), trust or estate, or a State or political 24 subdivision of a State or other governmental unit.

1 (7) PROGRAM.—The term “Program” means
2 the Terrorism Insured Loss Shared Compensation
3 Program established by this Act.

4 (8) SECRETARY.—The term “Secretary” means
5 the Secretary of the Treasury.

6 (9) STATE.—The term “State” means any
7 State of the United States, the District of Columbia,
8 the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, the Common-
9 wealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, American
10 Samoa, Guam, and each of the United States Virgin
11 Islands.

12 (10) UNITED STATES.—The term “United
13 States” means all States of the United States.

14 SEC. 4. TERRORISM INSURED LOSS SHARED COMPENSA-
15 TION PROGRAM.

16 (a) ESTABLISHMENT OF PROGRAM.—

17 (1) IN GENERAL.—There is established in the 18 Department of the Treasury the Terrorism Insured
19 Loss Shared Compensation Program.

20 (2) AUTHORITY OF THE SECRETARY.—Notwith-
21 standing any other provision of State or Federal 22 law, the Secretary shall administer the Program,
23 and shall pay the Federal share of compensation for 24 insured losses in accordance with subsection (c).

President Bush's recent executive order establishes sensible procedures for making public the records of former presidents. The order fulfills the president's statutory obligation to implement the Presidential Records Act, as well as his obligations under a 1977 Supreme Court ruling which held that former presidents continue to have the right to assert privileges over their records even after their term has ended.

Neither President Bush nor Congress has the power or authority to ignore that Supreme Court ruling. President Bush's order therefore allows a former President to assert privileges to protect sensitive documents, such as records that could impact national security. It is clear that virtually all criticism of President Bush's order is actually criticism of the Supreme Court decision guaranteeing the rights of former Presidents to assert privileges over their records. The Presidential Records Act fails to establish a procedure for former Presidents to assert their constitutionally guaranteed privilege. President Bush's order provides such procedures and sets a reasonable time frame for review of records and assertion of privileges. Importantly, the executive order does not expand or encourage the assertion of any privilege available to the former president.

Under President Bush's order, a large portion of Presidential records, for example those not covered by privilege, will be released no later than 12 years after President's term is over, as established by the Presidential Records Act.

In addition, history has proved that most former Presidents release the vast majority of even their privileged documents. Before the Presidential Records Act took effect in 1981, former Presidents were under no legal obligation to disclose any records, but those who visit the libraries of Presidents Kennedy, Ford or Carter know the valuable array of historical materials that are available. President Bush's executive order preserves this rich tradition.

Here is the latest update from McCallum. Notably, the City and the Contractors both appear to be trending towards an effort to expand the liability provisions of the current airline security legislation to include a federal indemnification for the contractors.

Attached you will find the position paper of the contractors, as forwarded to McCallum by the Deputy Mayor NYC.

Subject: Indemnification

I tried to reach you yesterday to urge that the City work actively to broaden the indemnification provisions of the aviation security legislation now pending in Washington in the House. As you know, the consultants and construction managers at the World Trade Center site feel extraordinarily vulnerable without written contracts and indemnification provisions that will protect their assets from unwarranted attacks in the courts.

The pending House leadership legislation (H. 3150) and the Democratic substitute (H. 3165) provide an ideal vehicle through which to achieve the indemnification provisions that are being sought by both the City and its construction managers working at Ground Zero. It is my understanding that the so-called managers' amendment, crafted and being offered to attract the votes of the New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania delegations, does provide some broad indemnification provisions and some very specific provisions, included at the urging of the Mayor and Governor Pataki, to hold the aviation industry, including the airlines and the aircraft manufacturers, and the Port Authority, including those who fabricated materials included in the buildings, harmless from liabilities arising out of the events of September 11. It does not appear, according to my sources in Washington, that the hold harmless and indemnifications were extended to those involved in the clean-up resulting from September 11, so that the City of New York, its consultants and its construction managers are still vulnerable.

I am told that there will be a chance to extend more clearly the indemnifications to the City and the construction managers and the a/e firms for the cleanup efforts if the legislation does go to conference today. This may be our only vehicle for getting the indemnification for the City that the Administration feels is the precursor to the provision of indemnification to its contractors. The GCA has already reached out to our two Senators and several House members (Nadler, Towns, McHugh, Reynolds, Quinn, Fossela) on the issue. We stand ready to do anything that we can to help gain the indemnifications for the City that is needed. You may call upon either myself or Rita Schwartz at the Association (212-687-3131) if we can be helpful.

Per our conversation on Fri here's the techie email that I said I'd send.... please let me know if this is not clear and you have additional questions.

We are getting close to finishing all of our testing of the BBs and are about ready to start the roll-out. Joe Hagin has said that the first wave should go to the 10 senior folks who have the commercial ones and to Legislative Affairs. Before we get to this point I want to be sure you understand the ARMS situation.
First some tech background..

I'll explain the services that are available on the BlackBerry 957 units purchased from Cingular. These are the units that we would be deploying to Presidential Agencies. There are two major services and one "hardware" service (PIN to PIN) installed on these units and the definition of each is as follows: .

1. The "Desktop" Service: This service is installed in order to pass EOP Lotus Notes e-mail to and from the BlackBerry. These emails get Records Managed because the emails pass through the senders desktop PC on there way to the Blackberry.
2. The "Interactive" Service: This service is provided by Cingular and allows for additional services above the Desktop Service. These services are provided by the Wireless Carrier (Cingular) and provide the ability to send messages to pagers, fax, and phone numbers. In addition to these services, e-mail is also available to be sent from the Blackberry to internet addresses via Cingular. It is also possible to send messages to the Blackberry using Cingular's Interactive Website.
3. PIN to PIN messaging: a message is composed on one BlackBerry to be sent to another BlackBerry directly via the Wireless Web. In this case, the message does not go through our Lotus Notes Mail Server and therefor is not Records Managed.

All EOP users of Blackberry's will have their composed and received e-mail routed to and from our Lotus Notes Servers as the default e-mail service used on the Blackberry's is the Desktop Service (# 1 above). This email will be Records Managed. In the case of sending messages to a pager, fax , phone number, or e-mail via the Cingulars "Interactive Service", or the PIN to PIN messaging (# 2 and 3 above) these communications are provided via Cingular and are not technologically capable of being Records Managed. Because they do not originate or communicate with our Lotus Notes Servers.

Presidential BlackBerry users: As explained above, we have an open "hole" in trying to Records Manage BlackBerry mail as users do have the ability to change the default service from "Desktop" to "Interactive". In this case, if a user changes the setting to "Interactive", all mail sent from the BlackBerry unit will bypass our Lotus Notes Mail Servers and thus not be Records Managed. It is important to note that many Companies and Government agencies want to have the ability to switch services during emergencies when the key Servers providers are overwhelmed and their Desktop Service (mail delivered through Lotus Notes) is not accessible.

EOP BlackBerry users: Features # 2 and 3 will be disabled. Thus avoiding any non Records Managed email.

Given this additional technical explanation, is it still your opinion we are ok to proceed with the fielding of these devices based on the rationale that we will Records Manage all email sent using the basic Desktop service and will not Records Manage email sent using the other BlackBerry and Cingular services?

Here is the latest update from McCallum. Notably, the City and the Contractors both appear to be trending towards an effort to expand the liability provisions of the current airline security legislation to include a federal indemnification for the contractors.

Attached you will find the position paper of the contractors, as forwarded to McCallum by the Deputy Mayor NYC.

Helgi: Here is a position paper received from Tony Coles after his conversation with me today. This position paper supposedly comes from the Contractors' rep. who has been interfacing with the City. Robt.

Subject: Indemnification

I tried to reach you yesterday to urge that the City work actively to broaden the indemnification provisions of the aviation security legislation now pending in Washington in the House. As you know, the consultants and construction managers at the World Trade Center site feel extraordinarily vulnerable without written contracts and indemnification provisions that will protect their assets from unwarranted attacks in the courts.

The pending House leadership legislation (H. 3150) and the Democratic substitute (H. 3165) provide an ideal vehicle through which to achieve the indemnification provisions that are being sought by both the City and its construction managers working at Ground Zero. It is my understanding that the so-called managers' amendment, crafted and being offered to attract the votes of the New York, Virginia and Pennsylvania delegations, does provide some broad indemnification provisions and some very specific provisions, included at the urging of the Mayor and Governor Pataki, to hold the aviation industry, including the airlines and the aircraft manufacturers, and the Port Authority, including those who fabricated materials included in the buildings, harmless from liabilities arising out of the events of September 11. It does not appear, according to my sources in Washington, that the hold harmless and indemnifications were extended to those involved in the clean-up resulting from September 11, so that the City of New York, its consultants and its construction managers are still vulnerable.

I am told that there will be a chance to extend more clearly the indemnifications to the City and the construction managers and the a/e firms for the cleanup efforts if the legislation does go to conference today. This may be our only vehicle for getting the indemnification for the City that the Administration feels is the precursor to the provision of indemnification to its contractors. The GCA has already reached out to our two Senators and several House members (Nadler, Towns, McHugh, Reynolds, Quinn, Fossella) on the issue. We stand ready to do anything that we can to help gain the indemnifications for the City that is needed. You may call upon either myself or Rita Schwartz at the Association (212-687-3131) if we can be helpful.

1 SEC. 15. LITIGATION MANAGEMENT.

2 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR CLAIMS RE-
3 LATING TO TERRORIST ACTS.—

4 (1) IN GENERAL.—If the Attorney General de-
5 termines that one or more acts of terrorism may re-
6 sult in litigation in which the number of parties ex-
7 ceeds 100, there shall exist a Federal cause of ac-
8 tion, which, except as provided in subsection (b),
9 shall be the exclusive remedy for claims arising out
10 of, relating to, or resulting from such acts of ter-
11 rorism.

12 (2) EFFECT OF DETERMINATION.—A deter-
13 mination under this subsection—

14 (A) shall be made at the sole discretion of 15 the Attorney General;

16 (B) shall be final and not subject to judi-
17 cial review; and

18 (C) shall take effect upon its publication in
19 the Federal Register.

20 (3) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
21 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
22 the law, including choice of law principles, of the 23 State in which such acts of terrorism occurred, un-
24 less such law is inconsistent with or preempted by
25 Federal law.

1 (4) JURISDICTION.—For each determination
2 under paragraph (1), the Judicial Panel on Multidis-
3 trict Litigation shall designate one or more district
4 courts of the United States which shall have original
5 and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions for any
6 claim (including any claim for loss of property, per-
7 sonal injury, or death) brought pursuant to this sub-
8 section. The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litiga-
9 tion shall select and assign the district court or 10 courts based on the convenience of the parties and
11 the just and efficient conduct of the proceedings.
12 For purposes of personal jurisdiction, the district
13 court or courts designated by the Judicial Panel on
14 Multidistrict Litigation shall be deemed to sit in all
15 judicial districts in the United States.

16 (5) LIMITS ON DAMAGES.—In an action
17 brought under this subsection for damages:

18 (A) No punitive damages intended to pun-
19 ish or deter, exemplary damages, or other dam-
20 ages not intended to compensate a plaintiff for 21 actual losses may be awarded, nor shall any
22 party be liable for interest prior to the judg-
23 ment.

24 (B)(i) Each defendant in such an action
25 shall be liable only for the amount of non-

1 economic damages allocated to the defendant in
2 direct proportion to the percentage of responsi-
3 bility of the defendant for the harm to the
4 plaintiff, and no plaintiff may recover non-
5 economic damages unless the plaintiff suffered
6 physical harm.

7 (ii) For purposes of clause (i), the
8 term “noneconomic damages” means dam-
9 ages for losses for physical and emotional
10 pain, suffering, inconvenience, physical im-
11 pairment, mental anguish, disfigurement,
12 loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society and
13 companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
14 damages, injury to reputation, and any
15 other nonpecuniary losses.

16 (6) COLLATERAL SOURCES.—Any recovery by a
17 plaintiff in an action under this subsection shall be
18 reduced by the amount of collateral source com-
19 pensation, if any, that the plaintiff has received or 20 is entitled to receive as a result of the acts of ter-
21 rorism with respect to which the determination
22 under paragraph (1) was made.

23 (7) ATTORNEY FEES.—Reasonable attorneys
24 fees for work performed shall be subject to the dis-
25 cretion of the court, but in no event shall any attor-

1 ney charge, demand, receive, or collect for services
2 rendered, fees or compensation in an amount in ex-
3 cess of 20 percent of the damages ordered by the
4 court to be paid pursuant to this section, or in ex-
5 cess of 20 percent of any court-approved settlement
6 made of any claim cognizable under this section.
7 Any attorney who charges, demands, receives, or col-
8 lects for services rendered in connection with such
9 claim any amount in excess of that allowed under
10 this section, if recovery be had, shall be fined not
11 more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than 1
12 year, or both.

13 (b) EXCLUSION.—Nothing in this section shall apply
14 to or in any way limit the liability of any person who—

15 (1) attempts to commit, knowingly participates
16 in, aids and abets, or commits any act of terrorism
17 with respect to which a determination under sub-
18 section (a)(1) was made, or any criminal act related
19 to or resulting from such act of terrorism; or

20 (2) participates in a conspiracy to commit any
21 such act of terrorism or any such criminal act.

22 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
23 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
24 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

1 (d) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER LAW.—Nothing in this
2 section shall be construed to affect—

3 (1) any party's contractual right to arbitrate a
4 dispute; or

5 (2) any provision of the Air Transportation
6 Safety and System Stabilization Act (Public Law
7 107–42; 49 U.S.C. 40101 note).

If he is meeting with a political organization (RNC, House Republican campaign committee, Senate Republican campaign committee, candidate's campaign committee) about specific election strategy for the 2002 elections (finding candidates, campaign message, raising money), then that falls into a political category where he should not use carpet. Sorry about this; I know it is a constant headache. One way to think about it as shorthand is: What is purpose of the group to which Ken is speaking? If purpose of group is to elect a specific candidate or slate of candidates, or to raise money for political candidates or political activity such as advertising, then that is when he should not use carpet. Note that if he were to use carpet for something later determined to be political, the remedy would be RNC/political organization reimbursement for costs. We are happy to sign off on these in advance so that we, not your office, is open to criticism in unlikely event of a misjudgment. We can guarantee a same-day turnaround on these if need be. MIGHT be wise. I also would talk to RNC about having a car Ken can use when going to clearly political events to make your lives easier. (Note that the reason the President and some others can use official cars when going to political events is the security exception to rules, but that exception does not apply here.)

Ken would like some concrete guidelines on when he can use White House cars for his meetings. He does not use them to go to the RNC or airport, etc. for meetings that are clearly political like fundraisers, but sometimes he has meetings at the capitol hill club or the committees that are somewhat unclear. Like, he often meets with Republican chief of staffs or friendly lobbyists at the NRCC to discuss the president's message/agenda. is ok to use carpet to get there for those? thanks

This version includes one small tweak that makes clear that the AG would have sole discretion to determine what constitutes an "act of terrorism."

<<SEC15_.PDF>>

1 SEC. 15. LITIGATION MANAGEMENT.

2 (a) FEDERAL CAUSE OF ACTION FOR CLAIMS RE-
3 LATING TO TERRORIST ACTS.—

4 (1) IN GENERAL.—If the Attorney General de-
5 termines that one or more acts of terrorism may re-
6 sult in litigation in which the number of parties ex-
7 ceeds 100, there shall exist a Federal cause of ac-
8 tion, which, except as provided in subsection (b),
9 shall be the exclusive remedy for claims arising out
10 of, relating to, or resulting from such acts of ter-
11 rorism.

12 (2) EFFECT OF DETERMINATION.—A deter-
13 mination under this subsection—

14 (A) shall be made at the sole discretion of
15 the Attorney General;

16 (B) shall be final and not subject to judi-
17 cial review; and

18 (C) shall take effect upon its publication in
19 the Federal Register.

20 (3) SUBSTANTIVE LAW.—The substantive law
21 for decision in any such action shall be derived from
22 the law, including choice of law principles, of the
23 State in which such acts of terrorism occurred, un-
24 less such law is inconsistent with or preempted by
25 Federal law.

1 (4) JURISDICTION.—For each determination
2 under paragraph (1), the Judicial Panel on Multidis-
3 trict Litigation shall designate one or more district
4 courts of the United States which shall have original
5 and exclusive jurisdiction over all actions for any
6 claim (including any claim for loss of property, per-
7 sonal injury, or death) brought pursuant to this sub-
8 section. The Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litiga-
9 tion shall select and assign the district court or
10 courts based on the convenience of the parties and
11 the just and efficient conduct of the proceedings.
12 For purposes of personal jurisdiction, the district
13 court or courts designated by the Judicial Panel on
14 Multidistrict Litigation shall be deemed to sit in all
15 judicial districts in the United States.

16 (5) LIMITS ON DAMAGES.—In an action
17 brought under this subsection for damages:

18 (A) No punitive damages intended to pun-
19 ish or deter, exemplary damages, or other dam-
20 ages not intended to compensate a plaintiff for 21 actual losses may be awarded, nor shall any
22 party be liable for interest prior to the judg-
23 ment.

24 (B)(i) Each defendant in such an action
25 shall be liable only for the amount of non-

1 economic damages allocated to the defendant in
2 direct proportion to the percentage of responsi-
3 bility of the defendant for the harm to the
4 plaintiff, and no plaintiff may recover non-
5 economic damages unless the plaintiff suffered
6 physical harm.

7 (ii) For purposes of clause (i), the
8 term “noneconomic damages” means dam-
9 ages for losses for physical and emotional
10 pain, suffering, inconvenience, physical im-
11 pairment, mental anguish, disfigurement,
12 loss of enjoyment of life, loss of society and
13 companionship, loss of consortium, hedonic
14 damages, injury to reputation, and any
15 other nonpecuniary losses.

16 (6) COLLATERAL SOURCES.—Any recovery by a
17 plaintiff in an action under this subsection shall be
18 reduced by the amount of collateral source com-
19 pensation, if any, that the plaintiff has received or
20 is entitled to receive as a result of the acts of ter-
21 rorism with respect to which the determination
22 under paragraph (1) was made.

23 (7) ATTORNEY FEES.—Reasonable attorneys
24 fees for work performed shall be subject to the dis-
25 cretion of the court, but in no event shall any attor-

1 ney charge, demand, receive, or collect for services
2 rendered, fees or compensation in an amount in ex-
3 cess of 20 percent of the damages ordered by the
4 court to be paid pursuant to this section, or in ex-
5 cess of 20 percent of any court-approved settlement
6 made of any claim cognizable under this section.
7 Any attorney who charges, demands, receives, or col-
8 lects for services rendered in connection with such
9 claim any amount in excess of that allowed under
10 this section, if recovery be had, shall be fined not
11 more than $2,000 or imprisoned not more than 1
12 year, or both.

13 (b) EXCLUSION.—Nothing in this section shall apply
14 to or in any way limit the liability of any person who—

15 (1) attempts to commit, knowingly participates
16 in, aids and abets, or commits any act of terrorism
17 with respect to which a determination under sub-
18 section (a)(1) was made, or any criminal act related
19 to or resulting from such act of terrorism; or

20 (2) participates in a conspiracy to commit any
21 such act of terrorism or any such criminal act.

22 (c) RIGHT OF SUBROGATION.—The United States
23 shall have the right of subrogation with respect to any
24 claim paid by the United States under this Act.

1 (d) RELATIONSHIP TO OTHER LAW.—Nothing in this
2 section shall be construed to affect—

3 (1) any party's contractual right to arbitrate a
4 dispute; or

5 (2) any provision of the Air Transportation
6 Safety and System Stabilization Act (Public Law
7 107–42; 49 U.S.C. 40101 note).

Presidential Libraries Act -- Primary Legal Provisions
(October 26, 2001)

- The Presidential Records Act requires that the Archivist of the United States take custody and control of all Presidential records and deposit them in a Presidential library (referred to in the statutes as a “Presidential archival depository”).
- The Presidential Libraries Act governs the establishment and operation of Presidential libraries. The provisions applicable to President Bush are codified at 44 U.S.C. § 2112.
 - The Archivist, on behalf of the United States, must
 - accept and take title to “land, a facility, and equipment offered as a gift to the United States for the purpose of creating” a Presidential library, id. at § 2112(a)(1)(A); or
 - enter into an agreement with “a State, political subdivision, university, institution of higher learning, institute, or foundation” to use its land, facilities, and equipment for that purpose, and to operate the Presidential library as part of the National Archives system, id. at § 2112(a)(1)(B).
 - The Archivist is required to submit to Congress a report on a proposed establishment of a Presidential library and wait 60 days of continuous session of Congress before taking title or entering into a use agreement for the purpose of establishing the library. Id. at § 2112(a)(3), (5). This process is also required before the Archivist may accept a gift for the purpose of renovating a Presidential library or implementing a statutory requirement to renovate a library. Id. at § 2112(a)(4). The statute specifies the contents of those reports. Id. at § 2112(a)(3)(A)-(G), (4)(A)-(F).
 - The Archivist is authorized to deposit in a Presidential library records not subject to the Presidential Records Act that the Archivist has been authorized to accept for deposit under other statutory authority. Id. at § 2112(b); see 44 U.S.C. § 2111 (“(1) the papers and other historical materials of a President or former President of the United States, or other official or former official[] of the Government, and other papers relating to and contemporary with a President or former President of the United States, subject to restrictions agreeable to the Archivist as to their use; and (2) documents, including motion-picture films, still pictures, and sound recordings, from private sources that are appropriate for preservation by the Government as evidence of its organization, functions, policies, decisions, procedures, and transactions”).
 - The authority to deposit additional records extends to agency records covered by the Federal Records Act. Id. at § 2112(b).

- With respect to such additionally deposited papers, the Archivist may exercise “all the functions and responsibilities otherwise vested in him pertaining to Federal records or other documentary materials in his custody or under his control,” and in negotiating for the deposit of such papers, “shall take steps to secure to the Government, as far as possible, the right to have continuous and permanent possession of the materials.” Id. at § 2112(c).
- With respect to the operation of Presidential libraries, the Archivist is authorized to “cooperate with and assist a university, institution of higher learning, institute, foundation, or other organization or qualified individual to further or to conduct study or research in historical materials deposited in a [Presidential library],” id. at § 2112(d), to charge fees to visitors to the library, id. at § 2112(e), and to provide office space in the library for the personal use of the former President, id. at § 2112(f).

November 12, 2001 Monday

TYPE: Profile

LENGTH: 434 words

HEADLINE: Impact the September 11th attack has had on the insurance industry

ANCHORS: DAN RATHER

REPORTERS: LEE COWAN

BODY:

DAN RATHER, anchor:

Many industries are seeking federal help to cover the costs of the attack on America and other disasters. The list includes the insurance industry as CBS' Lee Cowan reports.

LEE COWAN reporting:

REV_00135202

For the insurance industry, manmade disasters are a disaster for the bottom line. Oklahoma City, $125 million; the first World Trade Center bombing, $510 million; the LA riots, $775 million. Put together, they barely scratch the surface of the damage done on September 11th.

Ms. JULIE ROCHMAN (American Insurance Association): On that single day in September, three years of industry profits were wiped out.

COWAN: The total could well reach $70 billion, a hit the insurance industry warns it cannot and will not cover in the future unless Congress pitches in.

Mr. ROCHMAN: This is not a bailout for the insurance industry. We're not seeking to have any money put into our own pockets.

COWAN: What the industry is seeking is insurance on its insurance, guaranteed by Washington and the clock is ticking. At least 70 percent of the policies on skyscrapers, malls and hotels are set to expire at the end of the year. And without insurance, construction comes to a standstill, banks won't approve loans, investors won't invest. At Chicago's O'Hare, premiums could jump from $125,000 a year to nearly $7 million. At JFK, no matter what the price, the coverage simply isn't there, just ask developer Dave Sigman.

Mr. DAVE SIGMAN (Developer): We need a billion dollars worth of coverage. Right now, we can't get it.

COWAN: Which means the international terminal here at JFK is no longer covered in the event of a terrorist attack, a risk so high, Sigman almost considered shutting it down.

Mr. SIGMAN: The comparison for us is if we're at war, we send our soldiers into war well protected and yet commercially, we're really not well protected at this point.

COWAN: It's the same for any potential target--trucking companies, freeways, ports, even businesses with large mail rooms.

Mr. STEVE WECHSLER (Real Estate Executive): This is really about the economy and not insurance. Without insurance, there can't be a growing economy.

COWAN: And that, economists warn, is one of the hidden costs of terrorism.

Mr. SIGMAN: At the end of the today, it's an act of war. We rely on the federal government to protect us from those types of acts and I think it's the same issue on the insurance side.

COWAN: A new war with new casualties, where assessing risk is as impossible as comprehending the reality. Lee Cowan, CBS News, New York.

Summary of Key Points in Senate Commerce Committee Staff Working Draft: “National Terrorism Reinsurance Fund Act”

Terrorism Reinsurance Program and Administration. The Senate Commerce Committee draft bill would establish a three-year program to provide reinsurance to participating insurers for losses from “acts of terrorism.” Under the draft bill, the Program

- is administered by the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary)
- with advice from a 10 member committee (4 from property and casualty insurance industry; 2 from National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC); 1 from banking or real estate industry; 1 from Treasury and 1 consumer representative)
- ends on December 31, 2004, but the Secretary may terminate it sooner if private insurance market is deemed adequate.

Reinsurance Fund. To carry out the Program, the bill establishes a reinsurance pool called the “National Reinsurance Terrorism Fund” (Fund) to 1) make payments under reinsurance contracts with participating insurers 2) pay administrative expenses up to $5 million per year and 3) repay loans to the Fund from Treasury including interest (except for the first $5 billion loan).

Program Coverage and Retention. The Fund reimburses participating insurers for losses resulting from acts of terrorism after the loss exceeds 10 percent of the particular insurer’s gross direct written premiums for covered lines in the most recent ended calendar year, as reported by the insurer to the NAIC. If the loss exceeds an insurer’s retention level then the Program covers losses as follows: 1) 90% of covered losses in calendar year 2002 and 2) 80% for years after 2002. There are no industry aggregates other than the Program loan limit described below. Also note effect of the time limits in the definition of loss in the calculation of retention and reimbursement.

Treasury loans to the Fund and limit. The Fund is to be initially capitalized with a $5 billion interest free loan from Treasury. Subsequently, the Secretary [assume this means the Secretary on behalf of the Fund] borrows from Treasury amounts sufficient to satisfy obligations of the Fund and to maintain a positive balance of $5 billion (“shortfall loans”).

- The interest on Treasury loans (after the initial loan) is to be established by Treasury.
- There is an overall loan limit from Treasury to the Fund of $100 billion.

Repayment of loans by Fund. The Fund must repay loans borrowed from Treasury. Loans are to be repaid 1) from Fund reserves or 2) assessments on participating insurers or 3) a combination of 1 and 2. The Fund is credited with 1) reinsurance premiums, fees and other charges paid or collected in connection with reinsurance provided under the program 2) interest earned on investments of the Fund 3) funds borrowed from Treasury and 4) “receipts from any other source.”

Assessments on insurers and surcharges on policyholders. Beginning January 1, 2002, each participating insurer pays 3% of its annual gross written premiums in “covered lines.” The draft bill expressly provides that this premium and any assessment on the participating insurer may be recovered from (i.e. passed on to) the policyholder as a direct surcharge “calculated as a uniform percentage of premium.” Participating insurers with credit rating that is lower than second from highest rating by nationally recognized rating agency may be charged an additional “credit risk” premium of 0.5% of gross written premiums.

Mandatory coverage An insurer that provides covered lines as defined in the draft bill may not exclude or limit coverage in those lines for acts of terrorism in the United States and coverage for terrorism insurance must contain “the same deductibles, limits, terms and conditions as standard provisions of the policy for non catastrophic perils.”

Limits on rate increases. A participating insurer may not 1) increase annual rates for “covered risks”(presumably terrorism risk) in excess of the insurer’s assessment or 2) deny or cancel coverage due to losses from acts of terrorism in the United States.

“Participating insurers.” Participating insurers means all property and casualty insurance insurers writing on a direct basis any “covered line” of property and casualty insurance in any U.S. jurisdiction or territory. The term includes primary insurers and residual market insurers.

“Covered lines” of insurance. The definition of “covered lines” contains a long list of specific types of property and casualty insurance, including workers compensation, products liability, “allied lines”, fidelity surety, burglary and theft and any other property and casualty line reported by insurers on “Statutory Page 14 of the NAIC Annual Statement Blank.” In addition, this draft bill allows participating insurers to make a one time irrevocable election to include a number of additional lines of coverage beyond commercial property and casualty, for example “homeowners multiple peril” and “private passenger automobile” insurance. Moreover, the list of elected lines of coverage also includes earthquake and medical malpractice. It is unclear why some of these covered lines are included in a reinsurance program for losses from acts of terrorism.

“Act of terrorism” definition and determination. “Act of terrorism is defined in a manner similar but not identical to the way it is defined in Senate Banking draft. However, the act of terrorism determination process by the Secretary of Commerce differs. Under this draft, the Commerce Secretary makes an initial determination after receiving a claim by a participating insurer, then must give notice of, and hold a public hearing “for all interested parties” on the issue. Within 30 days, the Secretary must make a final determination subject to judicial review on a substantial evidence standard.

State law preemption. State laws relating to insurance rate and form requirements as well as insurer licensing and financial requirements are preempted with regard to [reinsurance] contracts entered into by the Fund. State laws prohibiting unfair or deceptive trade practices or claims are not preempted.

Tax exemptions. Section 110 of the draft bill provides exemptions from state and federal taxes for the Fund. This section also exempts reinsurance contract premiums and surcharges (“assessments recovered from policy holders”) from local, state or federal taxes.

Liability Limits – airline manufacturers and airports only. The only tort liability limits under this draft bill are related to airline manufacturers and airport owners. No other liability limits are included. The bill amends the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act (Airline Act) to 1) exclude airline hijackers and co-conspirators from liability limits in that Act and 2) to extend liability limits to airplane manufacturers and airport owners. This bill would also limit current U.S. subrogation rights in the Airline Act.

Summary of Key Points in Senate Commerce Committee Staff Working Draft: “National Terrorism Reinsurance Fund Act”

Terrorism Reinsurance Program and Administration. The Senate Commerce Committee draft bill would establish a three-year program to provide reinsurance to participating insurers for losses from “acts of terrorism.” Under the draft bill, the Program

- is administered by the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary)
- with advice from a 10 member committee (4 from property and casualty insurance industry; 2 from National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC); 1 from banking or real estate industry; 1 from Treasury and 1 consumer representative)
- ends on December 31, 2004, but the Secretary may terminate it sooner if private insurance market is deemed adequate.

Reinsurance Fund. To carry out the Program, the bill establishes a reinsurance pool called the “National Reinsurance Terrorism Fund” (Fund) to 1) make payments under reinsurance contracts with participating insurers 2) pay administrative expenses up to $5 million per year and 3) repay loans to the Fund from Treasury including interest (except for the first $5 billion loan).

Program Coverage and Retention. The Fund reimburses participating insurers for losses resulting from acts of terrorism after the loss exceeds 10 percent of the particular insurer’s gross direct written premiums for covered lines in the most recent ended calendar year, as reported by the insurer to the NAIC. If the loss exceeds an insurer’s retention level then the Program covers losses as follows: 1) 90% of covered losses in calendar year 2002 and 2) 80% for years after 2002. There are no industry aggregates other than the Program loan limit described below. Also note effect of the time limits in the definition of loss in the calculation of retention and reimbursement.

Treasury loans to the Fund and limit. The Fund is to be initially capitalized with a $5 billion interest free loan from Treasury. Subsequently, the Secretary [assume this means the Secretary on behalf of the Fund] borrows from Treasury amounts sufficient to satisfy obligations of the Fund and to maintain a positive balance of $5 billion (“shortfall loans”).

- The interest on Treasury loans (after the initial loan) is to be established by Treasury.
- There is an overall loan limit from Treasury to the Fund of $100 billion.

Repayment of loans by Fund. The Fund must repay loans borrowed from Treasury. Loans are to be repaid 1) from Fund reserves or 2) assessments on participating insurers or 3) a combination of 1 and 2. The Fund is credited with 1) reinsurance premiums, fees and other charges paid or collected in connection with reinsurance provided under the program 2) interest earned on investments of the Fund 3) funds borrowed from Treasury and 4) “receipts from any other source.”

Assessments on insurers and surcharges on policyholders. Beginning January 1, 2002, each participating insurer pays 3% of its annual gross written premiums in “covered lines.” The draft bill expressly provides that this premium and any assessment on the participating insurer may be recovered from (i.e. passed on to) the policyholder as a direct surcharge “calculated as a uniform percentage of premium.” Participating insurers with credit rating that is lower than second from highest rating by nationally recognized rating agency may be charged an additional “credit risk” premium of 0.5% of gross written premiums.

Mandatory coverage An insurer that provides covered lines as defined in the draft bill may not exclude or limit coverage in those lines for acts of terrorism in the United States and coverage for terrorism insurance must contain “the same deductibles, limits, terms and conditions as standard provisions of the policy for non catastrophic perils.”

Limits on rate increases. A participating insurer may not 1) increase annual rates for “covered risks”(presumably terrorism risk) in excess of the insurer’s assessment or 2) deny or cancel coverage due to losses from acts of terrorism in the United States.

“Participating insurers.” Participating insurers means all property and casualty insurance insurers writing on a direct basis any “covered line” of property and casualty insurance in any U.S. jurisdiction or territory. The term includes primary insurers and residual market insurers.

Moreover, the list of elected lines of coverage also includes earthquake and medical malpractice. It is unclear why some of these covered lines are included in a reinsurance program for losses from acts of terrorism.

“Losses” definition and claim payment time limit. As defined in this draft bill, losses means 1) “direct incurred losses” from an act of terrorism” for covered lines and 2) “defense and cost containment” expenses. However, a loss is not recognized for purposes of determining an insurer’s retention or reimbursement “unless the claim for the loss has been paid within 12 months after the terrorism event occurs and other loss adjustments.” It appears that this time limit would exclude many losses under, e.g. worker’s compensation, where claims may not be paid for many years.

“Act of terrorism” definition and determination. “Act of terrorism is defined in a manner similar but not identical to the way it is defined in Senate Banking draft. However, the act of terrorism determination process by the Secretary of Commerce differs. Under this draft, the Commerce Secretary makes an initial determination after receiving a claim by a participating insurer, then must give notice of, and hold a public hearing “for all interested parties” on the issue. This bill would also limit current U.S. subrogation rights in the Airline Act.

- The interest on Treasury loans (after the initial loan) is to be established by Treasury.
- There is an overall loan limit from Treasury to the Fund of $100 billion.

Repayment of loans by Fund. The Fund must repay loans borrowed from Treasury. Loans are to be repaid 1) from Fund reserves or 2) assessments on participating insurers or 3) a combination of 1 and 2. The Fund is credited with 1) reinsurance premiums, fees and other charges paid or collected in connection with reinsurance provided under the program 2) interest earned on investments of the Fund 3) funds borrowed from Treasury and 4) “receipts from any other source.”

Assessments on insurers and surcharges on policyholders. Beginning January 1, 2002, each participating insurer pays 3% of its annual gross written premiums in “covered lines.” The draft bill expressly provides that this premium and any assessment on the participating insurer may be recovered from (i.e. passed on to) the policyholder as a direct surcharge “calculated as a uniform percentage of premium.” Participating insurers with credit rating that is lower than second from highest rating by nationally recognized rating agency may be charged an additional “credit risk” premium of 0.5% of gross written premiums.

Mandatory coverage An insurer that provides covered lines as defined in the draft bill may not exclude or limit coverage in those lines for acts of terrorism in the United States and coverage for terrorism insurance must contain “the same deductibles, limits, terms and conditions as standard provisions of the policy for non catastrophic perils.”

Limits on rate increases. A participating insurer may not 1) increase annual rates for “covered risks”(presumably terrorism risk) in excess of the insurer’s assessment or 2) deny or cancel coverage due to losses from acts of terrorism in the United States.

“Participating insurers.” Participating insurers means all property and casualty insurance insurers writing on a direct basis any “covered line” of property and casualty insurance in any U.S. jurisdiction or territory. The term includes primary insurers and residual market insurers.

“Act of terrorism” definition and determination. “Act of terrorism is defined in a manner similar but not identical to the way it is defined in Senate Banking draft. However, the act of terrorism determination process by the Secretary of Commerce differs. Under this draft, the Commerce Secretary makes an initial determination after receiving a claim by a participating insurer, then must give notice of, and hold a public hearing “for all interested parties” on the issue. Within 30 days, the Secretary must make a final determination subject to judicial review on a substantial evidence standard.

State law preemption. State laws relating to insurance rate and form requirements as well as insurer licensing and financial requirements are preempted with regard to [reinsurance] contracts entered into by the Fund. State laws prohibiting unfair or deceptive trade practices or claims are not preempted.

Tax exemptions. Section 110 of the draft bill provides exemptions from state and federal taxes for the Fund. This section also exempts reinsurance contract premiums and surcharges (“assessments recovered from policy holders”) from local, state or federal taxes.

Liability Limits – airline manufacturers and airports only. The only tort liability limits under this draft bill are related to airline manufacturers and airport owners. No other liability limits are included. The bill amends the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act (Airline Act) to 1) exclude airline hijackers and co-conspirators from liability limits in that Act and 2) to extend liability limits to airplane manufacturers and airport owners. This bill would also limit current U.S. subrogation rights in the Airline Act.

Summary of Key Points in Senate Commerce Committee Staff Working Draft: “National Terrorism Reinsurance Fund Act”

Terrorism Reinsurance Program and Administration. The Senate Commerce Committee draft bill would establish a three-year program to provide reinsurance to participating insurers for losses from “acts of terrorism.” Under the draft bill, the Program

- is administered by the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary)
- with advice from a 10 member committee (4 from property and casualty insurance industry; 2 from National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC); 1 from banking or real estate industry; 1 from Treasury and 1 consumer representative)
- ends on December 31, 2004, but the Secretary may terminate it sooner if private insurance market is deemed adequate.

Reinsurance Fund. To carry out the Program, the bill establishes a reinsurance pool called the “National Reinsurance Terrorism Fund” (Fund) to 1) make payments under reinsurance contracts with participating insurers 2) pay administrative expenses up to $5 million per year and 3) repay loans to the Fund from Treasury including interest (except for the first $5 billion loan).

Program Coverage and Retention. The Fund reimburses participating insurers for losses resulting from acts of terrorism after the loss exceeds 10 percent of the particular insurer’s gross direct written premiums for covered lines in the most recent ended calendar year, as reported by the insurer to the NAIC. If the loss exceeds an insurer’s retention level then the Program covers losses as follows: 1) 90% of covered losses in calendar year 2002 and 2) 80% for years after 2002. There are no industry aggregates other than the Program loan limit described below. Also note effect of the time limits in the definition of loss in the calculation of retention and reimbursement.

Treasury loans to the Fund and limit. The Fund is to be initially capitalized with a $5 billion interest free loan from Treasury. Subsequently, the Secretary [assume this means the Secretary on behalf of the Fund] borrows from Treasury amounts sufficient to satisfy obligations of the Fund and to maintain a positive balance of $5 billion (“shortfall loans”).

- The interest on Treasury loans (after the initial loan) is to be established by Treasury.
- There is an overall loan limit from Treasury to the Fund of $100 billion.

Repayment of loans by Fund. The Fund must repay loans borrowed from Treasury. Loans are to be repaid 1) from Fund reserves or 2) assessments on participating insurers or 3) a combination of 1 and 2. The Fund is credited with 1) reinsurance premiums, fees and other charges paid or collected in connection with reinsurance provided under the program 2) interest earned on investments of the Fund 3) funds borrowed from Treasury and 4) “receipts from any other source.”

Assessments on insurers and surcharges on policyholders. Summary of Key Points in Senate Commerce Committee Staff Working Draft:
“National Terrorism Reinsurance Fund Act”

Terrorism Reinsurance Program and Administration. The Senate Commerce Committee draft bill would establish a three-year program to provide reinsurance to participating insurers for losses from “acts of terrorism.” Under the draft bill, the Program

- is administered by the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary)
- with advice from a 10 member committee (4 from property and casualty insurance industry; 2 from National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC); 1 from banking or real estate industry; 1 from Treasury and 1 consumer representative)
- ends on December 31, 2004, but the Secretary may terminate it sooner if private insurance market is deemed adequate.

Reinsurance Fund. To carry out the Program, the bill establishes a reinsurance pool called the “National Reinsurance Terrorism Fund” (Fund) to 1) make payments under reinsurance contracts with participating insurers 2) pay administrative expenses up to $5 million per year and 3) repay loans to the Fund from Treasury including interest (except for the first $5 billion loan).

Program Coverage and Retention. The Fund reimburses participating insurers for losses resulting from acts of terrorism after the loss exceeds 10 percent of the particular insurer’s gross direct written premiums for covered lines in the most recent ended calendar year, as reported by the insurer to the NAIC. If the loss exceeds an insurer’s retention level then the Program covers losses as follows: 1) 90% of covered losses in calendar year 2002 and 2) 80% for years after 2002. There are no industry aggregates other than the Program loan limit described below. Also note effect of the time limits in the definition of loss in the calculation of retention and reimbursement.

Treasury loans to the Fund and limit. The Fund is to be initially capitalized with a $5 billion interest free loan from Treasury. Subsequently, the Secretary [assume this means the Secretary on behalf of the Fund] borrows from Treasury amounts sufficient to satisfy obligations of the Fund and to maintain a positive balance of $5 billion (“shortfall loans”).

- The interest on Treasury loans (after the initial loan) is to be established by Treasury.
- There is an overall loan limit from Treasury to the Fund of $100 billion.

Repayment of loans by Fund. The Fund must repay loans borrowed from Treasury. Loans are to be repaid 1) from Fund reserves or 2) assessments on participating insurers or 3) a combination of 1 and 2. The Fund is credited with 1) reinsurance premiums, fees and other charges paid or collected in connection with reinsurance provided under the program 2) interest earned on investments of the Fund 3) funds borrowed from Treasury and 4) “receipts from any other source.”

Assessments on insurers and surcharges on policyholders. Beginning January 1, 2002, each participating insurer pays 3% of its annual gross written premiums in “covered lines.” The draft bill expressly provides that this premium and any assessment on the participating insurer may be recovered from (i.e. passed on to) the policyholder as a direct surcharge “calculated as a uniform percentage of premium.” Participating insurers with credit rating that is lower than second from highest rating by nationally recognized rating agency may be charged an additional “credit risk” premium of 0.5% of gross written premiums.

Mandatory coverage An insurer that provides covered lines as defined in the draft bill may not exclude or limit coverage in those lines for acts of terrorism in the United States and coverage for terrorism insurance must contain “the same deductibles, limits, terms and conditions as standard provisions of the policy for non catastrophic perils.”

Limits on rate increases. A participating insurer may not 1) increase annual rates for “covered risks”(presumably terrorism risk) in excess of the insurer’s assessment or 2) deny or cancel coverage due to losses from acts of terrorism in the United States.

“Participating insurers.” Participating insurers means all property and casualty insurance insurers writing on a direct basis any “covered line” of property and casualty insurance in any U.S. jurisdiction or territory. The term includes primary insurers and residual market insurers.

“Act of terrorism” definition and determination. “Act of terrorism is defined in a manner similar but not identical to the way it is defined in Senate Banking draft. However, the act of terrorism determination process by the Secretary of Commerce differs. Under this draft, the Commerce Secretary makes an initial determination after receiving a claim by a participating insurer, then must give notice of, and hold a public hearing “for all interested parties” on the issue. Within 30 days, the Secretary must make a final determination subject to judicial review on a substantial evidence standard.

State law preemption. State laws relating to insurance rate and form requirements as well as insurer licensing and financial requirements are preempted with regard to [reinsurance] contracts entered into by the Fund. State laws prohibiting unfair or deceptive trade practices or claims are not preempted.

Tax exemptions. Section 110 of the draft bill provides exemptions from state and federal taxes for the Fund. This section also exempts reinsurance contract premiums and surcharges (“assessments recovered from policy holders”) from local, state or federal taxes.

Liability Limits – airline manufacturers and airports only. The only tort liability limits under this draft bill are related to airline manufacturers and airport owners. No other liability limits are included. The bill amends the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act (Airline Act) to 1) exclude airline hijackers and co-conspirators from liability limits in that Act and 2) to extend liability limits to airplane manufacturers and airport owners. This bill would also limit current U.S. subrogation rights in the Airline Act.

Summary of Key Points in Senate Commerce Committee Staff Working Draft: “National Terrorism Reinsurance Fund Act”

Terrorism Reinsurance Program and Administration. The Senate Commerce Committee draft bill would establish a three-year program to provide reinsurance to participating insurers for losses from “acts of terrorism.” Under the draft bill, the Program

- is administered by the Secretary of Commerce (Secretary)
- with advice from a 10 member committee (4 from property and casualty insurance industry; 2 from National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC); 1 from banking or real estate industry; 1 from Treasury and 1 consumer representative)
- ends on December 31, 2004, but the Secretary may terminate it sooner if private insurance market is deemed adequate.

Reinsurance Fund. To carry out the Program, the bill establishes a reinsurance pool called the “National Reinsurance Terrorism Fund” (Fund) to 1) make payments under reinsurance contracts with participating insurers 2) pay administrative expenses up to $5 million per year and 3) repay loans to the Fund from Treasury including interest (except for the first $5 billion loan).

Program Coverage and Retention. The Fund reimburses participating insurers for losses resulting from acts of terrorism after the loss exceeds 10 percent of the particular insurer’s gross direct written premiums for covered lines in the most recent ended calendar year, as reported by the insurer to the NAIC. If the loss exceeds an insurer’s retention level then the Program covers losses as follows: 1) 90% of covered losses in calendar year 2002 and 2) 80% for years after 2002. There are no industry aggregates other than the Program loan limit described below. Also note effect of the time limits in the definition of loss in the calculation of retention and reimbursement.

Treasury loans to the Fund and limit. The Fund is to be initially capitalized with a $5 billion interest free loan from Treasury. Subsequently, the Secretary [assume this means the Secretary on behalf of the Fund] borrows from Treasury amounts sufficient to satisfy obligations of the Fund and to maintain a positive balance of $5 billion (“shortfall loans”).

- The interest on Treasury loans (after the initial loan) is to be established by Treasury.
- There is an overall loan limit from Treasury to the Fund of $100 billion.

Repayment of loans by Fund. The Fund must repay loans borrowed from Treasury. Loans are to be repaid 1) from Fund reserves or 2) assessments on participating insurers or 3) a combination of 1 and 2. The Fund is credited with 1) reinsurance premiums, fees and other charges paid or collected in connection with reinsurance provided under the program 2) interest earned on investments of the Fund 3) funds borrowed from Treasury and 4) “receipts from any other source.”

Assessments on insurers and surcharges on policyholders. Beginning January 1, 2002, each participating insurer pays 3% of its annual gross written premiums in “covered lines.” The draft bill expressly provides that this premium and any assessment on the participating insurer may be recovered from (i.e. passed on to) the policyholder as a direct surcharge “calculated as a uniform percentage of premium.” Participating insurers with credit rating that is lower than second from highest rating by nationally recognized rating agency may be charged an additional “credit risk” premium of 0.5% of gross written premiums.

Mandatory coverage An insurer that provides covered lines as defined in the draft bill may not exclude or limit coverage in those lines for acts of terrorism in the United States and coverage for terrorism insurance must contain “the same deductibles, limits, terms and conditions as standard provisions of the policy for non catastrophic perils.”

Limits on rate increases. A participating insurer may not 1) increase annual rates for “covered risks”(presumably terrorism risk) in excess of the insurer’s assessment or 2) deny or cancel coverage due to losses from acts of terrorism in the United States.

“Participating insurers.” Participating insurers means all property and casualty insurance insurers writing on a direct basis any “covered line” of property and casualty insurance in any U.S. jurisdiction or territory. The term includes primary insurers and residual market insurers.

“Act of terrorism” definition and determination. “Act of terrorism is defined in a manner similar but not identical to the way it is defined in Senate Banking draft. However, the act of terrorism determination process by the Secretary of Commerce differs. Under this draft, the Commerce Secretary makes an initial determination after receiving a claim by a participating insurer, then must give notice of, and hold a public hearing “for all interested parties” on the issue. Within 30 days, the Secretary must make a final determination subject to judicial review on a substantial evidence standard.

State law preemption. State laws relating to insurance rate and form requirements as well as insurer licensing and financial requirements are preempted with regard to [reinsurance] contracts entered into by the Fund. State laws prohibiting unfair or deceptive trade practices or claims are not preempted.

Tax exemptions. Section 110 of the draft bill provides exemptions from state and federal taxes for the Fund. This section also exempts reinsurance contract premiums and surcharges (“assessments recovered from policy holders”) from local, state or federal taxes.

Liability Limits – airline manufacturers and airports only. The only tort liability limits under this draft bill are related to airline manufacturers and airport owners. No other liability limits are included. The bill amends the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act (Airline Act) to 1) exclude airline hijackers and co-conspirators from liability limits in that Act and 2) to extend liability limits to airplane manufacturers and airport owners. This bill would also limit current U.S. subrogation rights in the Airline Act.

LABOR

MARTIN COUNTY COAL CORPORATION COAL WASTE IMPOUNDMENT

Tom FitzGerald, Director, National Citizens' Coal Law Project, Frankfort, Kentucky, is seeking, in his first request, copies of materials regarding the Martin County Coal Corporation (M.C.C.C.) Coal Waste Impoundment. Specifically, he asked for the following records:

- Transcripts of all interviews conducted as part of MSHA's investigation
- Records indicating whether M.C.C.C. ever sought approval or gave notice of injection of coal slurry material into the underground mine workings adjacent to the Big Branch Impoundment.
- Memorandum dated June 13, 1994, from Larry Wilson, P.E., to Jesse Cole, and related documents,
- Full names of K. Howard and M. Nichols and the positions they held on June 13, 1994, and whether those positions were supervisory to Mr. Wilson in his investigation of the 1994 impoundment release that was the subject of the June 13, 1994, memo.

In Mr. FitzGerald's second request, he asked for a copy of any report, analysis or evaluation submitted by Geo-Environmental and/or any other third party concerning or in response to MSHA's investigation report of the Big Branch Slurry Impoundment failure of October 2000. He also asked for a copy of any letter, appeal or other document submitted by or on behalf of M.C.C.C. in response to MSHA's investigation report.

This request is currently being processed by the Mine Safety and Health Administration. Both requests received: November 9, 2001.

THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS

Kristi Lamont Ellis, Reporter, The Birmingham News, Birmingham, Alabama, is seeking copies of all significant and substantial safety citations issued to Jim Walter Resources' (J.W.R.) Blue Creek No. 5 Mine from January 1, 1995 through September 30, 2001.

This request is currently being processed by the Mine Safety and Health Administration.
Date request received: November 13, 2001.

JOY MINING MACHINERY

Amy M. Oswald, Paralegal, Joy Mining Machinery, Law Department, Warrendale, Pennsylvania, is seeking copies of all accident, inspection, investigative information that pertains to either the accident that occurred at Jim Walter Resources, Inc. or the Blue Creek, Mine No. 5 in Brookwood, Alabama on September 23, 2001 or the location in the mine.

This request was acknowledged by the Mine Safety and Health Administration on October 24, 2001, and is currently being processed. Date request received: September 28, 2001.

UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Max Kennedy, International Representative, United Mine Workers of America, Fairfax, Virginia, is seeking:

- Occasions of which MSHA has applied Code AFD for events at coal mines since January 1, 1995.
- Outby activity logs from January 1, 2001 to September 23, 2001 to include any activity of work performed at J.W.R. No. 5 Mine.
- Don Fowler and Bert Duvall's company related daily notes.
- An expedited processing of all citations, orders or safeguards that have not been abated, terminated or vacated that was issued by MSHA.
- Requests MSHA has made to J.W.R., Inc., regarding records, reports, documents or any other information in connection with the investigation of the September 23, 2001, disaster, etc.

Mr. Kennedy sent the Mine Safety and Health Administration 11 requests concerning the September 23, 2001, disaster at J.W.R., Inc., No. 5 Mine. They are currently processing these requests. These requests were received: October 23, 2001, October 24, 2001, October 25, 2001, October 29, 2001, and October 31, 2001.

UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA

Joseph A. Main, Administrator, Department of Occupational Health and Safety, United Mine Workers of America (UMWA), Fairfax, Virginia, is seeking various records concerning Jim Walter Resources, Inc., No. 5 Mine, Brookwood, Alabama. The records included inspection records, conferences, 105(C) complaints, a breakdown of activities conducted by MSHA at the mine, record books, training records, mine maps, logs, etc.

Mr. Main sent the Mine Safety and Health Administration seven FOIA requests and they are currently being processed. These requests were acknowledged on October 23, 2001. These requests were received: October 3, 2001, October 5, 2001, October 7, 2001, October 10, 2001, October 25, 2001, and November 2, 2001.

JIM WALTER RESOURCES, INC.

Chuck Stewart, General Manager, Purchasing and Materials Control, Jim Walter Resources, Inc., Blue Creek Coal, is seeking the results of MSHA's analyses of rock dust samples collected at J.W.R., Inc., No. 5 Mine on October 13-14, 2001.

This request is currently being processed by the Mine Safety and Health Administration. Date request received: October 23, 2001.

BLUE CREEK MINE NUMBER 5

Jeffrey C. Rickard, Esq., Law Offices of Marsh, Rickard & Bryan, Birmingham, Alabama, is seeking information and/or documents that relate to Jim Walter Resources' Blue Creek Mine Number 5. Specifically, Mr. Rickard asked for the ventilation plan, evacuation plan, violation history, and accident history from September 1, 1999 through the present date.

This request was acknowledged by the Mine Safety and Health Administration on October 12, 2001 and is currently being processed. Date request received: October 2, 2001.

VETERANS

Mr. David Leshine of the Chatham, NJ, Federal Practitioner magazine, requested FY 2001 data extract of selected Patient Treatment File and Outpatient Clinic data from the Austin Automaton Center databases. This information is included in various charts and tables in their publication.

EPA

During the week of November 6-12, 2001, the Agency received a total of 202 FOIA requests. Of that total, 44 were received in Headquarters. Significant FOIA requests include: (1) Janet MacGillivray, Riverkeeper Project attorney, has requested any and all information pertaining to meetings, discussions and correspondence between or among EPA and representatives of the General Electric Company after April 1, 2001 regarding the Hudson River Superfund site; (2) David Marcelis, graduate student at Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism, has requested air sampling results from the Pentagon area for the days following September 11; and (3) Ryan Bell of American Rivers has requested information on Superfund sites located in and along rivers.

Terrorism Insurance: A Key to Economic Recovery

“Without full cooperation between our government and America’s private industries in support of insurance activities, there could be major disruption in the marketplace and harm to our economy.” -- Leslie Baker, Chairman of Wachovia Bank

“This issue is about the economy. If you can’t get insurance, you can’t get loans. If you can’t get loans, you can’t construct new buildings. If you can’t construct buildings, people cannot go to work. It affects everybody.” -- Lisa McGreevy of Financial Services Roundtable

The tragic events of September 11 enacted an economic as well as a human toll. The attacks directly impacted industries such as airlines and hotels, but also have reverberated throughout many other sectors of the economy. Because our military strength and our economic strength are inseparable, our nation must work with resolve to restore economic growth. The current lack of insurance for terrorist acts poses an unnecessary and avoidable barrier to economic recovery.

Lack of Insurance

The terrorist attacks proved that the probability of catastrophic property and casualty losses was much higher than anticipated. Due to the current inability to evaluate the probability of more events or to handle numerous large events in a short time, the reinsurance industry has been reluctant to cover terrorist events. According to Marc Morial, Mayor of New Orleans, “Reinsurers already are saying they will exclude ‘acts of terrorism’ from coverage on a going-forward basis.” Keith Buckley, an insurance analyst with Fitch Ratings Company, states that it is “the universally stated plan of reinsurance companies to add specific terrorism exclusions to reinsurance coverage.” Without reinsurance, primary insurers are forced to either exclude terrorism coverage, charge very high premiums, or withdraw from the market entirely:

- On October 31, AIG decided to drop coverage of Brookfield properties, which includes 8 million square feet of office space in lower Manhattan. Brookfield secured a new policy with FM Global Insurance, but the insurance specifically excludes events related to terrorism.
- At Chicago’s O’Hare airport, premiums have risen from $125,000 a year to $7 million a year.
- New York’s JFK international terminal cannot secure the $1 billion in insurance coverage it needs. Developer Dave Sigman has considered shutting the terminal down.
- Seventeen of the twenty-five property insurers that trade with Marsh, Inc. have enacted terrorism exclusions.

Although most state insurance commissioners are unlikely to approve terrorism exclusions to existing policies, insurance companies are free to completely drop coverage of potential targets. In addition, some states allow insurers to adopt exclusions to new policies without approval. Alternatively, insurers may move policies to non-admitted, or so-called “excess and surplus” carriers, which are non-licensed insurers whose policies are not subject to regulatory scrutiny and thus offer less protection to policyholders. Many insurance companies are likely to exercise this flexibility to protect their financial integrity. On October 23, Standard and Poor's warned that insurer ratings could fall if underwriters opted to continue offering terrorism coverage without support from reinsurers or the federal government.

Impact on Construction and Real Estate

Lenders require businesses to insure any property they use to secure loans. Without terrorism coverage, banks may not lend to new construction projects and many existing commercial properties may not be able to change hands. According to Thomas Donohue, President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, "Bank loans for major construction project undertakings such as new power plants, pipelines, and commercial office space would sharply decrease without coverage."

Without adequate insurance, it will be difficult to develop, operate, acquire, refinance, or sell property. Thomas J. O'Brien, Senior Vice President of Finance for LCOR Incorporated, argues that the disruption could be widespread: "It will not only affect the real estate owners and lenders but also their tenants who lease facilities, their employees and customers as well as anyone who rents an apartment."

Impact on Banking

The terms of most loans require adequate insurance, and without insurance borrowers may find themselves in technical default on their loan. As a result, lenders could be in a position of accelerating payments under the terms of the loan or calling in the loan in its entirety. If banks do not call the loans, they may be forced to reduce the amount of available credit as they build reserves to protect against a terrorist attack.

Thomas J. O'Brien of LCOR argues that a significant amount of real estate-backed debt runs the risk of being in non-monetary default without the availability of terrorism coverage. According to O'Brien, "This lack of coverage raises profound liquidity concerns not only on existing loans and the institutions that hold them but on the ability of borrowers to secure any type of financing going forward."

Impacted Sectors

The potential disruption will fall primarily on areas of dense economic activity, such as skyscrapers and industrial factories. But it is likely that stadiums, trains, and many other areas will be impacted as well. According to Thomas Donohoe, "without adequate coverage, trucking firms, railroads, airlines, and ships may be unable to transport many types of cargo or may limit their destinations."

Impact on the Overall Economy

The absence of insurance coverage for terrorism risks will likely reduce the willingness of lenders to provide financing for existing commercial structures and deter the construction of new projects. The result could look like a "credit crunch." The Council of Economic Advisers estimates an overall reduction in 2002 GDP of 0.3 percentage point if the problem is not solved. This reduced growth rate of GDP is equal to 0.8 percentage point in the first quarter of 2002, 0.7 percentage point in the second quarter of 2002, and diminishes thereafter. The decline is caused by a reduction in asset values that reduces the consumption purchases of the household sector. In addition, lower valuations reduce the incentive to invest in new structures. The overall liquidity effects also reduce the path for investment in non-residential structures.

Given the underlying weakness of the U.S. economy, it is not prudent to add more uncertainty by allowing insurance markets to fail. According to Steve Dreyer, Managing Director at Standard and Poor's Insurance Rating Service, "Absence of coverage could have a chilling effect on the economy if businesses from airlines to sports teams, to shopping centers curtail or even shut down activity, and if banks prove unwilling to make loans to companies without terrorism coverage." To prevent this disruption, the federal government must take action to provide a temporary backstop until the private sector develops the ability and capacity to insure against terrorist acts.

Talking Points on Terrorism Insurance

- The tragic events of September 11 had a considerable impact on our economy. We must act just as aggressively at home as we are abroad to prevent the U.S. economy from becoming a victim.
- At a time of economic weakness, we simply cannot afford to risk allowing more disruptions to the economy.
- Adequate insurance coverage is an essential component of a growing economy. Without insurance, you cannot get loans or sell existing property.
- The reinsurance industry is refusing to provide coverage against terrorist attacks, so the federal government must temporarily provide a backstop.
- This is not about helping insurance companies; it is about preventing a potential credit crunch and exacerbating an economic downturn.
- The federal government must also provide reasonable legal procedures.
- These procedures must: 1) ensure that victims can quickly recover real losses; 2) protect the taxpayers from spurious claims; 3) prevent unnecessary bankruptcies; and 4) reduce the likelihood that a terrorist attack will significantly burden the economy.
- Unfortunately, our current legal system cannot handle mass tort events.
- The end of the year is fast approaching, so the Congress must act quickly to prevent an unnecessary drag on our economic recovery.

I was speaking with Carol Harvey who is putting on the schedule c conference on Monday. She said you were speaking at 4pm, right after Elaine Kaplan at 3:30. Just so you know, Elaine Kaplan is the head of the Office of Special Counsel who, among other things, is responsible for Hatch Act enforcement. I thought you'd want to know. If you have time, you might consider attending her session. She's a pretty good speaker, and you may find the content helpful.

1 parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield direct services under
2 this section for any cost for which the airport operator,
3 on-airport parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield direct serv-
4 ices does not demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Sec-
5 retary, using sworn financial statements or other appro-
6 priate data, that—

7 (1) the cost is eligible for reimbursement under
8 subsection (a); and

9 (2) the cost was incurred by the airport oper-
10 ator, on-airport parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield
11 direct services.

12 The Inspector General of the Department of Transpor-
13 tation and the Comptroller General of the United States
14 may audit such statements and may request any other in-
15 formation ~~that~~ necessary to conduct such an audit.

16 (c) CLAIM PROCEDURE.—Within 30 days after the
17 date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary, after con-
18 sultation with airport operators, on-airport parking lots,
19 and vendors of on-airfield direct services, shall publish in 20 the Federal Register the procedures for filing claims for 21 reimbursement under this section of eligible costs incurred
22 by airport operators.

1 (c) DEADLINE FOR DEPLOYMENT OF FEDERAL
2 SCREENERS.—

3 (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after
4 the date of enactment of this Act, the Under Sec-
5 retary of Transportation for Security shall deploy at
6 all airports in the United States where screening is
7 required under section 44901 of title 49, United
8 States Code, a sufficient number of Federal screen-
9 ers, Federal Security Managers, Federal security
10 personnel, and Federal law enforcement officers to
11 conduct the screening of all passengers and property
12 under section 44901 of such title at such airports.

13 (2) CERTIFICATION TO CONGRESS.—Not later
14 than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act,
15 the Under Secretary shall transmit to Congress a
16 certification that the requirement of paragraph (1)
17 has been met.

1 Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transpor-
2 tation of the Senate and to the Committee on Trans-
3 portation and Infrastructure of the House of Rep-
4 resentatives on the deployment of the systems re-
5 quired by section 44901(c) of title 49, United States
6 Code. The Under Secretary shall include in the
7 report—

8 (A) an installation schedule;

9 (B) the dates of installation of each sys-
10 tem; and

11 (C) the date on which each system in-
12 stalled is operational.

13 (2) SCREENING OF SMALL AIRCRAFT.—Within
14 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the 15 Under Secretary of Transportation for Security shall
16 transmit a report to the Committee on Commerce,
17 Science, and Transportation of the Senate and Com-
18 mittee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the
19 House of Representatives on the screening require-
20 ments applicable to passengers boarding, and prop-
21 erty being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or
22 less used in scheduled passenger service with rec-
23 ommendations for any necessary changes in those
24 requirements.

111) 1 SEC. 109. TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT OF SECURITY

2 SCREENING PERSONNEL.

3 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 44935 of title 49, United
4 States Code, is amended—

5 (1) by redesignating subsection (f) as sub-
6 section (i); and

7 (2) by striking subsection (e) and inserting the
8 following:

9 “(e) SECURITY SCREENERS.—

10 “(1) TRAINING PROGRAM.—The Under Sec-
11 retary of Transportation for Security shall establish
12 a program for the hiring and training of security
13 screening personnel.

14 “(2) HIRING.—

15 “(A) QUALIFICATIONS.—Within 30 days
16 after the date of enactment of the Aviation and
17 Transportation Security Act, the Under Sec-
18 retary shall establish qualification standards for
19 individuals to be hired by the United States as 20 security screening personnel. Notwithstanding
21 any provision of law, those standards shall re-
22 quire, at a minimum, an individual—

23 “(i) to have a satisfactory or better
24 score on a Federal security screening per-
25 sonnel selection examination;

54

1 “(ii) to be a citizen of the United
2 States;

3 “(iii) to meet, at a minimum, the re-
4 quirements set forth in subsection (f);

5 “(iv) to meet such other qualifications
6 as the Under Secretary may establish; and

7 “(v) to have the ability to demonstrate
8 daily a fitness for duty without any impair-
9 ment due to illegal drugs, sleep depriva-
10 tion, medication, or alcohol.

11 “(B) BACKGROUND CHECKS.—The Under
12 Secretary shall require that an individual to be
13 hired as a security screener undergo an employ-
14 ment investigation (including a criminal history
15 record check) under section 44936(a)(1).

16 “(C) DISQUALIFICATION OF INDIVIDUALS
17 WHO PRESENT NATIONAL SECURITY RISKS.—
18 The Under Secretary, in consultation with the
19 heads of other appropriate Federal agencies,
20 shall establish procedures, in addition to any
21 background check conducted under section
22 44936, to ensure that no individual who pre-
23 sents a threat to national security is employed
24 as a security screener.

1 “(3) EXAMINATION; REVIEW OF EXISTING
2 RULES.—The Under Secretary shall develop a secu-
3 rity screening personnel examination for use in de-
4 termining the qualification of individuals seeking
5 employment as security screening personnel. The
6 Under Secretary shall also review, and revise as nec-
7 essary, any standard, rule, or regulation governing
8 the employment of individuals as security screening
9 personnel.

10 “(f) EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS FOR SCREENING
11 PERSONNEL.—

12 “(1) SCREENER REQUIREMENTS.—Notwith-
13 standing any provision of law, an individual may not
14 be deployed as a security screener unless that indi-
15 vidual meets the following requirements:

16 “(A) The individual shall possess a high
17 school diploma, a general equivalency diploma,
18 or experience that the Under Secretary has de-
19 termined to be sufficient for the individual to
20 perform the duties of the position.

21 “(B) The individual shall possess basic ap-
22 titudes and physical abilities, including color
23 perception, visual and aural acuity, physical co-
24 ordination, and motor skills, to the following
25 standards:

1 “(i) Screeners operating screening
2 equipment shall be able to distinguish on
3 the screening equipment monitor the ap-
4 propriate imaging standard specified by
5 the Under Secretary. Wherever the screen-
6 ing equipment system displays colors, the
7 operator shall be able to perceive each
8 color.

9 “(ii) Screeners operating any screen-
10 ing equipment shall be able to distinguish
11 each color displayed on every type of
12 screening equipment and explain what each
13 color signifies.

14 “(iii) Screeners shall be able to hear
15 and respond to the spoken voice and to au-
16 dible alarms generated by screening equip-
17 ment in an active checkpoint environment.

18 “(iv) Screeners performing physical
19 searches or other related operations shall
20 be able to efficiently and thoroughly ma-
21 nipulate and handle such baggage, con-
22 tainers, and other objects subject to secu-
23 rity processing.

24 “(v) Screeners who perform pat-downs
25 or hand-held metal detector searches of in-

1 individuals shall have sufficient dexterity and
2 capability to thoroughly conduct those pro-
3 cedures over a individual's entire body.

4 “(C) The individual shall be able to read,
5 speak, and write English well enough to—

6 “(i) carry out written and oral in-
7 structions regarding the proper perform-
8 ance of screening duties;

9 “(ii) read English language identifica-
10 tion media, credentials, airline tickets, and
11 labels on items normally encountered in
12 the screening process;

13 “(iii) provide direction to and under-
14 stand and answer questions from English-
15 speaking individuals undergoing screening;
16 and

17 “(iv) write incident reports and state-
18 ments and log entries into security records
19 in the English language.

20 “(D) The individual shall have satisfac-
21 torily completed all initial, recurrent, and ap-
22 propriate specialized training required by the
23 security program, except as provided in para-
24 graph (3).

1 “(2) VETERANS PREFERENCE.—The Under
2 Secretary shall provide a preference for the hiring of
3 an individual as a security screener if the individual
4 is a member or former member of the armed forces
5 and if the individual is entitled, under statute, to re-
6 tired, retirement, or retainer pay on account of serv-
7 ice as a member of the armed forces.

8 “(3) EXCEPTIONS.—An individual who has not
9 completed the training required by this section may
10 be deployed during the on-the-job portion of training
11 to perform functions if that individual—

12 “(A) is closely supervised; and

13 “(B) does not make independent judg-
14 ments as to whether individuals or property
15 may enter a sterile area or aircraft without fur-
16 ther inspection.

17 “(4) REMEDIAL TRAINING.—No individual em-
18 ployed as a security screener may perform a screen-
19 ing function after that individual has failed an oper-
20 ational test related to that function until that indi-
21 vidual has successfully completed the remedial train-
22 ing specified in the security program.

23 “(5) ANNUAL PROFICIENCY REVIEW.—The
24 Under Secretary shall provide that an annual eval-
25 uation of each individual assigned screening duties is

1 conducted and documented. An individual employed
2 as a security screener may not continue to be em-
3 ployed in that capacity unless the evaluation dem-
4 onstrates that the individual—

5 “(A) continues to meet all qualifications
6 and standards required to perform a screening
7 function;

8 “(B) has a satisfactory record of perform-
9 ance and attention to duty based on the stand-
10 ards and requirements in the security program;
11 and

12 “(C) demonstrates the current knowledge
13 and skills necessary to courteously, vigilantly,
14 and effectively perform screening functions.

15 “(6) OPERATIONAL TESTING.—In addition to
16 the annual proficiency review conducted under para-
17 graph (5), the Under Secretary shall provide for the 18 operational testing of such personnel.

19 “(g) TRAINING.—

20 “(1) USE OF OTHER AGENCIES.—The Under
21 Secretary may enter into a memorandum of under-
22 standing or other arrangement with any other Fed-
23 eral agency or department with appropriate law en-
24 forcement responsibilities, to provide personnel, re-

1 sources, or other forms of assistance in the training
2 of security screening personnel.

3 “(2) TRAINING PLAN.—Within 60 days after
4 the date of enactment of the Aviation and Transpor-
5 tation Security Act, the Under Secretary shall de-
6 velop a plan for the training of security screening
7 personnel. The plan shall require, at a minimum,
8 that a security screener—

9 “(A) has completed 40 hours of classroom
10 instruction or successfully completed a program
11 that the Under Secretary determines will train
12 individuals to a level of proficiency equivalent to 13 the level that would be achieved by such class-
14 room instruction;

15 “(B) has completed 60 hours of on-the-job
16 instruction; and

17 “(C) has successfully completed an on-the-
18 job training examination prescribed by the
19 Under Secretary.

20 “(3) EQUIPMENT-SPECIFIC TRAINING.—An in-
21 dividual employed as a security screener may not use
22 any security screening device or equipment in the 23 scope of that individual’s employment unless the in-
24 dividual has been trained on that device or equip-

13 SEC. 43. AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMS.

14 (a) COMPETITION PLAN.—Section 47106(f) is
15 amended—

16 (1) by redesignating paragraph (3) as para-
17 graph (4); and

18 (2) by inserting after paragraph (2) the fol-
19 lowing:

20 “(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR FISCAL YEAR 2002.—

21 This subsection does not apply to any passenger fa-
22 cility fee approved, or grant made, in fiscal year
23 2002 if the fee or grant is to be used to improve se-
24 curity at a covered airport.”.

1 ment and has successfully completed a test on the
2 use of the device or equipment.

3 “(h) TECHNOLOGICAL TRAINING.—

4 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The Under Secretary shall
5 require training to ensure that screeners are pro-
6 ficient in using the most up-to-date new technology
7 and to ensure their proficiency in recognizing new
8 threats and weapons.

9 “(2) PERIODIC ASSESSMENTS.—The Under
10 Secretary shall make periodic assessments to deter-
11 mine if there are dual use items and inform security
12 screening personnel of the existence of such items.

13 “(3) CURRENT LISTS OF DUAL USE ITEMS.—
14 Current lists of dual use items shall be part of the 15 ongoing training for screeners.

16 “(4) DUAL USE DEFINED.—For purposes of
17 this subsection, the term ‘dual use’ item means an 18 item that may seem harmless but that may be used
19 as a weapon.

20 “(i) LIMITATION ON RIGHT TO STRIKE.—An indi-
21 vidual that screens passengers or property, or both, at an
22 airport under this section may not participate in a strike,
23 or assert the right to strike, against the person (including 24 a governmental entity) employing such individual to per-
25 form such screening.

1 “(j) UNIFORMS.—The Under Secretary shall require
2 any individual who screens passengers and property pur-
3 suant to section 44901 to be attired while on duty in a
4 uniform approved by the Under Secretary.”.

5 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section
6 44936(a)(1) of title 49, United States Code, is amended—

7 (1) in subparagraph (A) by inserting “as a se-
8 curity screener under section 44935(e) or a posi-
9 tion” after “a position”; and

10 (2) in subparagraph (E) by striking clause (iv).

11 (c) TRANSITION.—The Under Secretary of Trans-
12 portation for Security shall complete the full implementa-
13 tion of section 44935 (e), (f), (g), and (h) of title 49,
14 United States Code, as amended by subsection (a), as soon
15 as is practicable. The Under Secretary may make or con-
16 tinue such arrangements for the training of security
17 screeners under that section as the ~~Attorney General~~ de-
18 termines necessary pending full implementation of that
19 section as so amended.

20 (d) SCREENER PERSONNEL.—Notwithstanding any
21 other provision of law, the Under Secretary of Transpor-
22 tation for Security may employ, appoint, discipline, termi-
23 nate, and fix the compensation, terms, and conditions of 24 employment of Federal service for such a number of indi-
25 viduals as the Under Secretary determines to be necessary

*Under
Secretary*

1 to carry out the screening functions of the Under Sec-
2 retary under section 44901 of title 49, United States
3 Code. The Under Secretary shall establish levels of com-
4 pensation and other benefits for individuals so employed.

5 ~~(e) FINAL RULES ESTABLISHING TRAINING STAND-~~
6 ~~ARDS FOR SCREENERS.—Section 44935(e)(1) of title 49,~~
7 ~~United States Code, is amended by striking “May 31,~~
8 ~~2001” and inserting “6 months after the date of enact-~~
9 ~~ment of the Airport and Transportation Security Act”~~

112 } 10 ~~SEC. 449. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT.~~

11 ~~[(a) IN GENERAL.—Section 44912(b)(1) of title 49,~~
12 ~~United States Code, is amended—~~

13 ~~[(1) by striking “complete an intensive review~~
14 ~~of” and inserting “periodically review”;~~

15 ~~[(2) by striking “commercial aircraft in service~~
16 ~~and expected to be in service in the 10-year period~~
17 ~~beginning on November 16, 1990;” in subparagraph~~
18 ~~(B) and inserting “aircraft in air transportation;”;~~

1 (D) the potential release of chemical, bi-
2 ological, or similar weapons or devices either
3 within an aircraft or within an airport;”.

4 (b) ADDITIONAL MATTERS REGARDING RESEARCH
5 AND DEVELOPMENT.—

6 (1) ADDITIONAL PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—

7 Subsection (a) of section 44912 of title 49, United
8 States Code, is amended—

9 (A) by redesignating paragraph (4) as
10 paragraph (5); and

11 (B) by inserting after paragraph (3) the
12 following new paragraph (4):

13 “(4)(A) In carrying out the program established
14 under this subsection, the Administrator shall designate
15 an individual to be responsible for engineering, research,
16 and development with respect to security technology under
17 the program.

18 “(B) The individual designated under subparagraph
19 (A) shall use appropriate systems engineering and risk
20 management models in making decisions regarding the al-
21 location of funds for engineering, research, and develop-
22 ment with respect to security technology under the pro-
23 gram.

24 “(C) The individual designated under subparagraph
25 (A) shall, on an annual basis, submit to the Research, En-

1 gineering and Development Advisory Committee a report
2 on activities under this paragraph during the preceding
3 year. Each report shall include, for the year covered by
4 such report, information on—

5 ~~“(i) progress made in engineering, research,~~
6 and development with respect to security technology;

7 ~~“(ii) the allocation of funds for engineering,~~
8 research, and development with respect to security
9 technology; and

10 ~~“(iii) engineering, research, and development~~
11 with respect to any technologies drawn from other
12 agencies, including the rationale for engineering, re-
13 search, and development with respect to such tech-
14 nologies.”.

15 ~~“(2) REVIEW OF THREATS.—Subsection (b)(1)~~
16 of that section is ~~amended—~~ (to the

17 ~~“(A) by redesignating subparagraphs (A)~~

20 ~~“(B) by inserting before subparagraph~~
21 (B), as so redesignated, the following new sub-
22 paragraph (A):

23 ~~“(A) a comprehensive systems analysis (em-~~
24 ploying vulnerability analysis, threat attribute defini-

1 tion, and technology roadmaps) of the civil aviation
2 system, including—

3 ~~“(i) the destruction, commandeering, or~~
4 diversion of civil aircraft or the use of civil air-
5 craft as a weapon; and

6 ~~“(ii) the disruption of civil aviation serv-~~
7 ice, including by cyber attack;”.

8 ~~“(3) SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY PANEL.—Subsection~~
9 (c) of that section is amended to read as follows:

10 ~~“(c) SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY PANEL.—(1) The Ad-~~
11 ministrator shall establish a scientific advisory panel, as
12 a subcommittee of the Research, Engineering, and Devel-
13 opment Advisory Committee, to review, comment on, ad-
14 vise the progress of, and recommend modifications in, the 15 program established under subsection (a) of this section,
16 including the need for long-range research programs to de-
17 tect and prevent catastrophic damage to commercial air-
18 craft, commercial aviation facilities, commercial aviation
19 personnel and passengers, and other components of the 20 commercial aviation system by the next generation of ter-
21 rorist weapons.

22 ~~“(2)(A) The advisory panel shall consist of individ-~~
23 uals who have scientific and technical expertise in—

24 ~~“(i) the development and testing of effective~~
25 explosive detection systems;

67
68

1 “(ii) aircraft structure and experimentation to
2 decide on the type and minimum weights of explo-
3 sives that an effective explosive detection technology
4 must be capable of detecting;

5 “(iii) technologies involved in minimizing air-
6 frame damage to aircraft from explosives; and

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 449 of title 49, United
 8 States Code, is amended by adding at the end the fol-
 9 lowing new section:

10 "§ 44939. Training to operate certain aircraft

11 "(a) WAITING PERIOD.—A person subject to regula-
 12 tion under this part may provide training in the operation
 13 of any aircraft having a maximum [certificated] takeoff
 14 weight of 12,500 pounds or less to an alien (as defined
 15 in section 101(a)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality
 16 Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(3))) or to any other individual
 17 specified by the Under Secretary of Transportation for Se-
 18 curity only if—

19 "(1) that person has first notified the Under
 20 Secretary [and the Attorney General] that the indi-
 21 vidual has requested such training and furnished the
 22 Under Secretary with that individual's identification
 23 in such form as the Under Secretary may require;
 24 and

Subchapter II
 of

Attorney
 General

1 “(2) the Attorney General has not directed,
2 within 45 days after being notified under paragraph
3 (1), that person not to provide the requested train-
4 ing because the Attorney General has determined
5 that the individual presents a risk to aviation or na-
6 tional security.

7 “(b) INTERRUPTION OF TRAINING.—If the Attorney
8 General, more than 45 days after receiving notification
9 under subsection (a) from a person providing training de-
10 scribed in subsection (a), determines that the individual
11 presents a risk to aviation or national security, the Attor-
12 ney General shall immediately notify the person providing 13 the training of the determination and that person shall 14 immediately terminate the training.

15 “(c) COVERED TRAINING.—For the purposes of sub-
16 section (a), training includes in-flight training, training in
17 a simulator, and any other form or aspect of training.

18 “(d) SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING FOR EMPLOY-
19 EES.—The Under Secretary shall require flight schools to 20 conduct a security awareness program for flight school
21 employees to increase their awareness of suspicious cir-
22 cumstances and activities of individuals enrolling in or at-
23 tending flight school.”.

1 (b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections
2 at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding
3 at the end the following new item:

“44939. Training to operate certain aircraft.”.

4 (c) INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION.—The Secretary
5 of Transportation, in consultation with the Secretary of
6 State, shall work with the International Civil Aviation Or-
7 ganization and the civil aviation authorities of other coun-
8 tries to improve international aviation security through
9 screening programs for flight instruction candidates.

10 (d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by
11 subsection (a) applies to applications for training received
12 after the date of enactment of this Act.

6 ysis for chapter 465 of such title is amended by inserting
7 after the item relating to section 46502 the following:

“46503. Interference with security screening personnel”.

117/ 8 SEC. 111. PASSENGER MANIFESTS.

9 Section 44909 is amended by adding at the end the
10 following:

11 “(c) FLIGHTS IN FOREIGN AIR TRANSPORTATION TO
12 THE UNITED STATES.—

13 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days
14 after the date of enactment of the Aviation and
15 Transportation Security Act, each air carrier and
16 foreign air carrier operating a passenger flight in
17 foreign air transportation to the United States shall
18 provide to the Commissioner of Customs by elec-
19 tronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest
20 containing the information specified in paragraph
21 (2). Carriers may use the advanced passenged infor-
22 mation system established under section 431 of the 23 Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1431) to provide the
24 information required by the preceding sentence.

1 “(2) INFORMATION.—A passenger and crew
2 manifest for a flight required under paragraph (1)
3 shall contain the following information:

4 “(A) The full name of each passenger and
5 crew member.

6 “(B) The date of birth and citizenship of
7 each passenger and crew member.

8 “(C) The sex of each passenger and crew
9 member.

10 “(D) The passport number and country of 11 issuance of each passenger and crew member if
12 required for travel.

13 “(E) The United States visa number or
14 resident alien card number of each passenger
15 and crew member, as applicable.

16 “(F) Such other information as the Under
17 Secretary, in consultation with the Commis-
18 sioner of Customs, determines is reasonably
19 necessary to ensure aviation safety.

20 “(3) PASSENGER NAME RECORDS.—The car-
21 riers shall make passenger name record information
22 available to the Customs Service upon request.

23 “(4) TRANSMISSION OF MANIFEST.—Subject to
24 paragraph (5), a passenger and crew manifest re-
25 quired for a flight under paragraph (1) shall be

1 transmitted to the Customs Service in advance of
2 the aircraft landing in the United States in such
3 manner, time, and form as the Customs Service pre-
4 scribes.

5 “(5) TRANSMISSION OF MANIFESTS TO OTHER
6 FEDERAL AGENCIES.—Upon request, information
7 provided to the Under Secretary or the Customs
8 Service under this subsection may be shared with
9 other Federal agencies for the purpose of protecting
10 national security.”

11 118) SEC. 148. AIR TRANSPORTATION ARRANGEMENTS IN CER-
12 TAIN STATES.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any provision of
14 section 41309(a) of title 49, United States Code, to the 15 contrary, air carriers providing air transportation on 16 flights which both originate and terminate at points within
17 the same State may file an agreement, request, modifica-
18 tion, or cancellation of an agreement within the scope of
19 that section with the Secretary of Transportation upon a
20 declaration by the Governor of the State that such agree-
21 ment, request, modification, or cancellation is necessary
22 to ensure the continuing availability of such air transpor-
23 tation within that State.

24 (b) APPROVAL OF SECRETARY.—The Secretary may
25 approve any such agreement, request, modification, or

1 cancellation and grant an exemption under section
2 41308(c) of title 49, United States Code, to the extent
3 necessary to effectuate such agreement, request, modifica-
4 tion, or cancellation, without regard to the provisions of
5 section 41309(b) or (c) of that title.

6 (c) PUBLIC INTEREST REQUIREMENT.—The Sec-
7 retary may approve such an agreement, request, modifica-
8 tion, or cancellation if the Secretary determines that—

9 (1) the State to which it relates has extraor-
10 dinary air transportation needs and concerns; and

11 (2) approval is in the public interest.

12 (d) TERMINATION.—An approval under subsection
13 (b) and an exemption under section 41308(c) of title 49,
14 United States Code, granted under subsection (b) shall
15 terminate on the earlier of the 2 following dates:

16 (1) A date established by the Secretary in the 17 Secretary's discretion.

18 (2) October 1, 2002.

19 (e) EXTENSION.—Notwithstanding subsection (d), if
20 the Secretary determines that it is in the public interest,
21 the Secretary may extend the termination date under sub-
22 section (d)(2) until a date no later than October 1, 2003.

23 (f) REPORTS.—If the Secretary approves any such
24 agreement, request, modification, or cancellation under
25 this section and grants an exemption, the Secretary shall

1 transmit a report to Committee on Commerce, Science,
2 and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on
3 Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Rep-
4 resentatives within 6 months describing what actions have
5 been taken by the air carriers to which the exemption was
6 granted. The Secretary shall also notify those committees
7 if the Secretary extends the termination date under sub-
8 section (e).

9 SEC. 117. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS.

10 In order to ensure that all airline computer reserva-
11 tion systems maintained by United States air carriers are
12 secure from unauthorized access by persons seeking infor-
13 mation on reservations, passenger manifests, or other non-
14 public information, the Secretary of Transportation shall
15 require all such air carriers to utilize to the maximum ex-
16 tent practicable the best technology available to secure
17 their computer reservation system against such unauthor-
18 ized access.

1 SEC. 116. SECURITY SERVICE FEE.

2 (a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 449 is
3 amended by adding at the end the following:

4 “§ 44940. Security service fee

5 “(a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—

6 “(1) PASSENGER FEES.—The Under Secretary
7 of Transportation for Security shall impose a uni-
8 form fee, on passengers of air carriers and foreign
9 air carriers in air transportation and intrastate air
10 transportation originating at airports in the United
11 States, to pay for the following costs of providing
12 civil aviation security services:

13 “(A) Salary, benefits, overtime, retirement
14 and other costs of screening personnel, their su-
15 pervisors and managers, and Federal law en-
16 forcement personnel deployed at airport security
17 screening locations under section 44901.

18 “(B) The costs of training personnel de-
19 scribed in subparagraph (A), and the acquisi-
20 tion, operation, and maintenance of equipment
21 used by such personnel.

22 “(C) The costs of performing background
23 investigations of personnel described in sub-
24 paragraphs (A), (D), (F), and (G).

1 “(D) The costs of the Federal air marshals
2 program.

3 “(E) The costs of performing civil aviation
4 security research and development under this
5 title.

6 “(F) The costs of Federal Security Man-
7 agers under section 44903.

8 “(G) The costs of deploying Federal law
9 enforcement personnel pursuant to section
10 44903(h).

11 The amount of such costs shall be determined by the 12 Under Secretary and shall not be subject to judicial 13 review ~~and section 44903.~~

14 “(2) AIR CARRIER FEES.—

15 “(A) AUTHORITY.—In addition to the fee
16 imposed pursuant to paragraph (1), and only to
17 the extent that the Under Secretary estimates
18 that such fee will be insufficient to pay for the 19 costs of providing civil aviation security services
20 described in paragraph (1), the Under Sec-
21 retary may impose a fee on air carriers and for-
22 eign air carriers engaged in air transportation
23 and intrastate air transportation to pay for the 24 difference between any such costs and the
25 amount collected from such fee, as estimated by

1 the Under Secretary at the beginning of each
2 fiscal year. The estimates of the Under Sec-
3 retary under this subparagraph are not subject
4 to judicial review.

5 “(B) LIMITATIONS.—

6 “(i) OVERALL LIMIT.—The amounts
7 of fees collected under this paragraph for
8 each fiscal year may not exceed, in the ag-
9 gregate, the amounts paid in calendar year
10 2000 by carriers described in subpara-
11 graph (A) for screening passengers and
12 property, as determined by the Under Sec-
13 retary.

14 “(ii) PER-CARRIER LIMIT.—The
15 amount of fees collected under this para-
16 graph from an air carrier described in sub-
17 paragraph (A) for each of fiscal years
18 2002, 2003, and 2004 may not exceed the
19 amount paid in calendar year 2000 by that
20 carrier for screening passengers and prop-
21 erty, as determined by the Under Sec-
22 retary.

23 “(iii) ADJUSTMENT OF PER-CARRIER
24 LIMIT.—For fiscal year 2005 and subse-
25 quent fiscal years, the per-carrier limita-

tion under clause (ii) may be determined by the Under Secretary on the basis of market share or any other appropriate measure in lieu of actual screening costs in calendar year 2000.

“(iv) FINALITY OF DETERMINATIONS.—Determinations of the Under Secretary under this subparagraph are not subject to judicial review.

“(c) SPECIAL RULE FOR FISCAL YEAR 2002.—The amount of fees collected under this paragraph from any carrier for fiscal year 2002 may not exceed the amounts paid by that carrier for screening passengers and property for a period of time in calendar year 2000 proportionate to the period of time in fiscal year 2002 during which fees are collected under this paragraph.

“(b) SCHEDULE OF FEES.—In imposing fees under subsection (a), the Under Secretary shall ensure that the fees are reasonably related to the Transportation Security Administration’s costs of providing services rendered.

“(c) LIMITATION ON FEE.—Fees imposed under subsection (a)(1) may not exceed $2.50 per enplanement in air transportation or intrastate air transportation that

1 originates at an airport in the United States, except that
2 the total amount of such fees may not exceed $5.00 per
3 one-way trip.

4 "(d) IMPOSITION OF FEE.—

5 "(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section
6 9701 of title 31 and the procedural requirements of
7 section 553 of title 5, the Under Secretary shall im-
8 pose the fee under subsection (a)(1), and may im-
9 pose a fee under subsection (a)(2), through the pub-
10 lication of notice of such fee in the Federal Register
11 and begin collection of the fee within 60 days of the 12 date of enactment of this Act, or as soon as possible
13 thereafter.

14 "(2) SPECIAL RULES PASSENGER FEES.—A fee
15 imposed under subsection (a)(1) through the proce-
16 dures under subsection (d) shall apply only to tickets
17 sold after the date on which such fee is imposed. If 18 a fee imposed under subsection (a)(1) through the 19 procedures under subsection (d) on transportation of 20 a passenger of a carrier described in subsection
21 (a)(1) is not collected from the passenger, the
22 amount of the fee shall be paid by the carrier.

23 "(3) SUBSEQUENT MODIFICATION OF FEE.—

24 After imposing a fee in accordance with paragraph
25 (1), the Under Secretary may modify, from time to

1 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO AIRPORT AND
2 AIRWAY TRUST FUND.—Section 9502(d)(1)(A) of the In-
3 ternal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to airport and air-
4 way program) is amended by inserting “or the ~~Airport and~~ (Aviation
5 Transportation Security ~~Federalization~~ Act” after “21st
6 Century”.

124) 7 SEC. 114. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS.

8 (a) REPORT DEADLINE.—Section 106(a) of the Air
9 Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act (Pub-
10 lic Law 107-42) is amended by striking “February 1,
11 2001” and inserting “February 1, 2002”.

12 (b) INSURANCE AND REINSURANCE OF AIRCRAFT.—
13 Section 44306(c) (as redesignated by section 201(d) of 14 such Act) is amended by inserting “in the interest of air
15 commerce or national security or” before “to carry out
16 foreign policy”.

17 (c) FEDERAL CREDIT INSTRUMENTS.—Section
18 102(c)(2)(A) of such Act is amended by striking “rep-
19 resentatives” and inserting “representations”.

20 (d) MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION PAYABLE
21 PER AIR CARRIER.—Section 103 of such Act is amended
22 by adding at the end the following:

23 “(d) COMPENSATION FOR CERTAIN AIR CARRIERS.—

24 “(1) SET-ASIDE.—The President may set aside
25 a portion of the amount of compensation payable to

1 time through publication of notice in the Federal
2 Register, the imposition or collection of such fee, or
3 both.

4 "(4) LIMITATION ON COLLECTION.—No fee
5 may be collected under this section except to the ex-
6 tent that the expenditure of the fee to pay the costs
7 of activities and services for which the fee is imposed
8 is provided for in advance in an appropriations Act.

9 "(e) ADMINISTRATION OF FEES.—

10 "(1) FEES PAYABLE TO UNDER SECRETARY.—
11 All fees imposed and amounts collected under this
12 section are payable to the Under Secretary.

13 "(2) FEES COLLECTED BY AIR CARRIER.—A fee
14 imposed under subsection (a)(1) shall be collected by 15 the air carrier or foreign air carrier that sells a tick-
16 et for transportation described in subsection (a)(1).

17 "(3) DUE DATE FOR REMITTANCE.—A fee col-
18 lected under this section shall be remitted on the
19 last day of each calendar month by the carrier col-
20 lecting the fee. The amount to be remitted shall be
21 for the calendar month preceding the calendar
22 month in which the remittance is made.

23 "(4) INFORMATION.—The Under Secretary may
24 require the provision of such information as the
25 Under Secretary decides is necessary to verify that

1 fees have been collected and remitted at the proper
2 times and in the proper amounts.

3 "(5) FEE NOT SUBJECT TO TAX.—For purposes
4 of section 4261 of the Internal Revenue Code of
5 1986 (26 U.S.C. 4261), a fee imposed under this
6 section shall not be considered to be part of the 7 amount paid for taxable transportation.

8 "(6) COST OF COLLECTING FEE.—No portion
9 of fee collected under this section may be retained
10 by the air carrier or foreign air carrier for the costs
11 of collecting, handling, or remitting the fee except 12 for interest accruing to the carrier after collection
13 and before remittance.

14 "(f) RECEIPTS CREDITED AS OFFSETTING COLLEC-
15 TIONS.—Notwithstanding section 3302 of title 31, any fee
16 collected under this section—

17 "(1) shall be credited as offsetting collections to 18 the account that finances the activities and services
19 for which the fee is imposed;

20 "(2) shall be available for expenditure only to 21 pay the costs of activities and services for which the
22 fee is imposed; and

23 "(3) shall remain available until expended.

1 “(g) REFUNDS.—The Under Secretary may refund
2 any fee paid by mistake or any amount paid in excess of
3 that required.

4 “(h) EXEMPTIONS.—The Under Secretary may ex-
5 empt from the passenger fee imposed under subsection
6 (a)(1) any passenger enplaning at an airport in the United
7 States that does not receive screening services under sec-
8 tion 44901 for that segment of the trip for which the pas-
9 senger does not receive screening.”.

10 “(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The analysis for 11 such chapter is amended by adding at the end the fol-
12 lowing:

“44940. Security service fee.”

1 ["§ 48114. User fee for security services charge

21 ance and Results Act of 1993 (GPRA), the
22 Secretary and the Under Secretary for
23 Transportation Security shall agree on a
24 performance plan for the succeeding 5
25 years that establishes measurable goals

1 and objectives for aviation security. The
2 plan shall identify action steps necessary to
3 achieve such goals.

I26

4 “(ii) In addition to meeting the require-
5 ments of GPRA, the performance plan should
6 clarify the responsibilities of the Secretary, the
7 Under Secretary for Transportation Security
8 and any other agency or organization that may
9 have a role in ensuring the safety and security
10 of the civil air transportation system.

I24

11 “(B) PERFORMANCE REPORT.—(i) Each
12 year, consistent with the requirements of
13 GPRA, the Under Secretary for Transportation
14 Security shall prepare and submit to Congress
15 an annual report including an evaluation of the 16 extent goals and objectives were met. The re-
17 port shall include the results achieved during 18 the year relative to the goals established in the 19 performance plan.

20 “§ 44943. Performance management system

21 “(a) ESTABLISHING A FAIR AND EQUITABLE SYS-

3 SEC. 129. VOLUNTARY PROVISION OF EMERGENCY SERV-
4 ICES DURING COMMERCIAL FLIGHTS.

5 (a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 449 of
6 title 49, United States Code, is amended by adding at the
7 end the following new section:

8 “§ 44944. Voluntary provision of emergency services

9 “(a) PROGRAM FOR PROVISION OF VOLUNTARY
10 SERVICES.—

11 “(1) PROGRAM.—The Under Secretary of
12 Transportation for Transportation Security shall
13 carry out a program to permit qualified law enforce-
14 ment officers, firefighters, and emergency medical
15 technicians to provide emergency services on com-
16 mercial air flights during emergencies.

17 “(2) REQUIREMENTS.—The Under Secretary
18 shall establish such requirements for qualifications
19 of providers of voluntary services under the program
20 under paragraph (1), including training require-
21 ments, as the Under Secretary considers appro-
22 priate.

23 “(3) CONFIDENTIALITY OF REGISTRY.—If as
24 part of the program under paragraph (1) the Under
25 Secretary requires or permits registration of law en-

1 enforcement officers, firefighters, or emergency med-
2 ical technicians who are willing to provide emergency
3 services on commercial flights during emergencies,
4 the Under Secretary shall take appropriate actions
5 to ensure that the registry is available only to appro-
6 priate airline personnel and otherwise remains con-
7 fidential.

8 “(4) CONSULTATION.—The Under Secretary
9 shall consult with appropriate representatives of the 10 commercial airline industry, and organizations rep-
11 resenting community-based law enforcement, fire-
12 fighters, and emergency medical technicians, in car-
13 rying out the program under paragraph (1), includ-
14 ing the actions taken under paragraph (3).

15 “(b) EXEMPTION FROM LIABILITY.—An individual
16 shall not be liable for damages in any action brought in
17 a Federal or State court that arises from an act or omis-
18 sion of the individual in providing or attempting to provide
19 assistance in the case of an in-flight emergency in an air-
20 craft of an air carrier if the individual meets such quali-
21 fications as the Under Secretary shall prescribe for pur-
22 poses of this section.

23 “(c) EXCEPTION.—The exemption under subsection
24 (b) shall not apply in any case in which an individual pro-
25 vides, or attempts to provide, assistance described in that

97
~~98~~

1 paragraph in a manner that constitutes gross negligence
2 or willful misconduct.”.

3 (b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections
4 at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding
5 at the end the following new item:

“44944. Voluntary provision of emergency services”.

6 (c) CONSTRUCTION REGARDING POSSESSION OF
7 FIREARMS.—Nothing in this section may be construed to
8 require any modification of regulations of the Department
9 of Transportation governing the possession of firearms
10 while in aircraft or air transportation facilities or to au-
11 thorize the possession of a firearm in an aircraft or any
12 such facility not authorized under those regulations.

132) 13 SEC. 13. GENERAL AVIATION AND AIR CHARTERS.

14 (a) AIR CHARTER PROGRAM.—Within 90 days after
15 the date of enactment of this Act, the Under Secretary
16 of Transportation for Transportation Security shall imple-
17 ment an aviation security program for charter air carriers
18 (as defined in section 40102(a)(13) of title 49, United 19 States Code) with a maximum ~~certified~~ takeoff weight of

15 eral Aviation Administration should continue negotiating
16 in good faith with flight service station employees of the 17 Administration with a goal of reaching agreement on a
18 contract as soon as possible.

19 (b) WAR RISK INSURANCE.—It is the sense of Con-
20 gress that the Secretary of Transportation should imple-
21 ment section 202 of the Air Transportation Safety and
22 System Stabilization Act (Public Law 107-42) so as to
23 make war risk insurance directly available to vendors,
24 agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all of their
25 domestic operations.

1 SEC. 186. SENSE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

2 It is the sense of the House of Representatives that

3 the Under Secretary of Transportation for Security should

4 develop security procedures to allow passengers trans-

5 porting a musical instrument on a flight of an air carrier

6 to transport the instrument in the passenger cabin of the

7 aircraft, notwithstanding any size or other restriction on

8 carry-on baggage but subject to such other reasonable se-

9 curity procedures, terms, and conditions as may be estab-

10 lished by the Under Secretary or the air carrier, including

11 imposing additional charges by the air carrier, and

12 SEC. —. SHORT-TERM ASSESSMENT AND DEPLOYMENT

13 OF EMERGING SECURITY TECHNOLOGIES

14 AND PROCEDURES.

15 Section 44903 of title 49, United States Code, is

16 amended by adding at the end the following:

17 “(i) SHORT-TERM ASSESSMENT AND DEPLOYMENT

18 OF EMERGING SECURITY TECHNOLOGIES AND PROCE-

19 DURES.—

20 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The Under Secretary for

21 Transportation Security shall recommend to airport

22 operators, within 6 months after the date of enact-

23 ment of the Aviation and Transportation Security

24 Act, commercially available measures or procedures

25 to prevent access to secure airport areas by unau-

26 thorized persons. As part of the 6-month assess-

1 report its findings and recommendations to the Secretary
2 of Transportation within 90 days after the date of enact-
3 ment of this Act.

(h) Arming
Flight Deck
Crew...

4 Section 44903 of title 49, United States Code, is
5 amended by adding at the end the following:

6 “(h) AUTHORITY TO ARM FLIGHT DECK CREW WITH
7 LESS-THAN-LETHAL WEAPONS.—

8 “(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary, after re-
9 ceiving the recommendations of the National Insti-
10 tute of Justice, determines, with the approval of the 11 Attorney General and the Secretary of State, that it
12 is appropriate and necessary and would effectively
13 serve the public interest in avoiding air piracy, the
14 Secretary may authorize members of the flight deck
15 crew on any aircraft providing air transportation or
16 intrastate air transportation to carry a less-than-le-
17 thal weapon while the aircraft is engaged in pro-
18 viding such transportation.

19 “(2) USAGE.—If the Secretary grants authority
20 under paragraph (1) for flight deck crew members
21 to carry a less-than-lethal weapon while engaged in
22 providing air transportation or intrastate air trans-
23 portation, the Secretary shall—

Insert to p. 99

- 1 (2) an air carrier that transports mail under a
- 2 contract with the United States Postal Service
- 3 should transport any animal that the Postal Service
- 4 allows to be shipped through the mail.

1 ment, the Under Secretary for Transportation Secu-
2 rity shall—

3 “(A) review the effectiveness of biometrics
4 systems currently in use at several United
5 States airports, including San Francisco Inter-
6 national;

7 “(B) review the effectiveness of increased
8 surveillance at access points;

9 “(C) review the effectiveness of card- or
10 keypad-based access systems;

11 “(D) review the effectiveness of airport
12 emergency exit systems and determine whether
13 those that lead to secure areas of the airport
14 should be monitored or how breaches can be
15 swiftly responded to; and

16 “(E) specifically target the elimination of
17 the “piggy-backing” phenomenon, where an-
18 other person follows an authorized person
19 through the access point.

20 The 6-month assessment shall include a 12-month
21 deployment strategy for currently available tech-
22 nology at all category X airports, as defined in the 23 Federal Aviation Administration approved air carrier
24 security programs required under part 108 of title
25 14, Code of Federal Regulations. Not later than 18

1 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the
2 Secretary of Transportation shall conduct a review
3 of reductions in unauthorized access at these air-
4 ports.

5 “(2) COMPUTER-ASSISTED PASSENGER
6 PRESCREENING SYSTEM.—

7 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of
8 Transportation shall ensure that the Computer-
9 Assisted Passenger Prescreening System, or
10 any successor system—

11 “(i) is used to evaluate all passengers
12 before they board an aircraft; and

13 “(ii) includes procedures to ensure
14 that individuals selected by the system and 15 their carry-on and checked baggage are
16 adequately screened.

17 “(B) MODIFICATIONS.—The Secretary of
18 Transportation may modify any requirement
19 under the Computer-Assisted Passenger
20 Prescreening System for flights that originate
21 and terminate within the same State, if the
22 Secretary determines that—

23 “(i) the State has extraordinary air
24 transportation needs or concerns due to its

1 isolation and dependence on air transpor-
2 tation; and

3 "(ii) the routine characteristics of
4 passengers, given the nature of the market,
5 regularly triggers primary selectee status.

137 } 6 SEC. —. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT OF AVIATION
7 SECURITY TECHNOLOGY.

8 (a) FUNDING.—To augment the programs authorized
9 in section 44912(a)(1) of title 49, United States Code,
10 there is authorized to be appropriated an additional
11 $50,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2002 through 2006
12 and such sums as are necessary for each fiscal year there-
13 after to the Transportation Security Administration, for
14 research, development, testing, and evaluation of the fol-
15 lowing technologies which may enhance aviation security
16 in the future. Grants to industry, academia, and Govern-
17 ment entities to carry out the provisions of this section
18 shall be available for fiscal years 2002 and 2003 for—

19 (1) the acceleration of research, development,
20 testing, and evaluation of explosives detection tech-
21 nology for checked baggage, specifically, technology
22 that is—

23 (A) more cost-effective for deployment for
24 explosives detection in checked baggage at
25 small- to medium-sized airports, and is cur-

1 rently under development as part of the Argus
2 research program at the Transportation Secu-
3 rity Administration;

4 (B) faster, to facilitate screening of all
5 checked baggage at larger airports; or

6 (C) more accurate, to reduce the number
7 of false positives requiring additional security
8 measures;

9 (2) acceleration of research, development, test-
10 ing, and evaluation of new screening technology for 11 carry-on items to provide more effective means of 12 detecting and identifying weapons, explosives, and
13 components of weapons of mass destruction, includ-
14 ing advanced x-ray technology;

15 (3) acceleration of research, development, test-
16 ing, and evaluation of threat screening technology
17 for other categories of items being loaded onto air-
18 craft, including cargo, catering, and duty-free items;

19 (4) acceleration of research, development, test-
20 ing, and evaluation of threats carried on persons
21 boarding aircraft or entering secure areas, including
22 detection of weapons, explosives, and components of
23 weapons of mass destruction;

24 (5) acceleration of research, development, test-
25 ing and evaluation of integrated systems of airport

104
ST

1 security enhancement, including quantitative meth-
2 ods of assessing security factors at airports selected
3 for testing such systems;

4 (6) expansion of the existing program of re-
5 search, development, testing, and evaluation of im-
6 proved methods of education, training, and testing
7 of key airport security personnel; and

8 (7) acceleration of research, development, test-
9 ing, and evaluation of aircraft hardening materials,
10 and techniques to reduce the vulnerability of aircraft
11 to terrorist attack.

12 (b) GRANTS.—Grants awarded under this subtitle
13 shall identify potential outcomes of the research, and pro-
14 pose a method for quantitatively assessing effective in-
15 creases in security upon completion of the research pro-
16 gram. At the conclusion of each grant, the grant recipient
17 shall submit a final report to the Transportation Security
18 Administration that shall include sufficient information to
19 permit the Under Secretary to prepare a cost-benefit anal-
20 ysis of potential improvements to airport security based 21 upon deployment of the proposed technology. The Under
22 Secretary shall begin awarding grants under this subtitle
23 within 90 days of the date of enactment of this Act.

24 (c) BUDGET SUBMISSION.—A budget submission and
25 detailed strategy for deploying the identified security up-

of Transportat
Security

1 grades recommended upon completion of the grants
2 awarded under subsection (b), shall be submitted to Con-
3 gress as part of the Department of Transportation's an-
4 nual budget submission.

5 (d) DEFENSE RESEARCH.—There is authorized to be
6 appropriated $20,000,000 to the Transportation Security
7 Administration to issue research grants in conjunction
8 with the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency.
9 Grants may be awarded under this section for—

10 (1) research and development of longer-term
11 improvements to airport security, including advanced
12 weapons detection;

13 (2) secure networking and sharing of threat in-
14 formation between Federal agencies, law enforce-
15 ment entities, and other appropriate parties;

16 (3) advances in biometrics for identification and
17 threat assessment; or

18 (4) other technologies for preventing acts of ter-
19 rorism in aviation.

127 } 7 SEC. 123. MAIL AND FREIGHT WAIVERS.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—During a national emergency af-
9 fecting air transportation or intrastate air transportation,
10 the Secretary of Transportation, after consultation with
11 the Transportation Security Oversight Board, may grant
12 a complete or partial waiver of any restrictions on the car-
13 riage by aircraft of freight, mail, emergency medical sup-
14 plies, personnel, or patients on aircraft, imposed by the 15 Department of Transportation (or other Federal agency
16 or department) that would permit such carriage of freight,
17 mail, emergency medical supplies, personnel, or patients
18 on flights, to, from, or within a State if the Secretary de-
19 termines that—

20 (1) extraordinary air transportation needs or
21 concerns exist; and —

22 (2) the waiver is in the public interest, taking
23 into consideration the isolation of and dependence on
24 air transportation of the State.

1 (b) RECORDS OF EMPLOYMENT OF PILOT APPLI-
2 CANTS.—Part A of subtitle VII is amended—

3 (1) by moving subsections (f), (g), and (h) of
4 section 44936 from section 44936, inserting them at

18 (a) TRANSFER OF ASSETS AND PERSONNEL.—Ex-
19 cept as otherwise provided in this Act, those personnel, 20 property, and records employed, used, held, available, or 21 to be made available in connection with a function trans-
22 ferred to the Transportation Security Administration by 23 this Act shall be transferred to the Transportation Secu-
24 rity Administration for use in connection with the func-
25 tions transferred. Unexpended balances of appropriations.

1 allocations, and other funds made available to the Federal
2 Aviation Administration to carry out such functions shall
3 also be transferred to the Transportation Security Admin-
4 istration for use in connection with the functions trans-
5 ferred.

6 (b) LEGAL DOCUMENTS.—All orders, determinations,
7 rules, regulations, permits, grants, loans, contracts, settle-
8 ments, agreements, certificates, licenses, and privileges—

9 (1) that have been issued, made, granted, or al-
10 lowed to become effective by the Federal Aviation
11 Administration, any officer or employee thereof, or
12 any other Government official, or by a court of com-
13 petent jurisdiction, in the performance of any func-
14 tion that is transferred by this Act; and

15 (2) that are in effect on the effective date of 16 such transfer (or become effective after such date
17 pursuant to their terms as in effect on such effective
18 date), shall continue in effect according to their
19 terms until modified, terminated, superseded, set
20 aside, or revoked in accordance with law by the 21 Under Secretary of Transportation for Security, any
22 other authorized official, a court of competent juris-
23 diction, or operation of law.

24 (c) PROCEEDINGS.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—The provisions of this Act
2 shall not affect any proceedings or any application
3 for any license pending before the Federal Aviation
4 Administration at the time this Act takes effect, in-
5 sofar as those functions are transferred by this Act;
6 but such proceedings and applications, to the extent
7 that they relate to functions so transferred, shall be
8 continued. Orders shall be issued in such pro-
9 ceedings, appeals shall be taken therefrom, and pay-
10 ments shall be made pursuant to such orders, as if 11 this Act had not been enacted; and orders issued in 12 any such proceedings shall continue in effect until
13 modified, terminated, superseded, or revoked by a
14 duly authorized official, by a court of competent ju-
15 risdiction, or by operation of law.

16 (2) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in
17 this subsection shall be deemed to prohibit the dis-
18 continuance or modification of any proceeding de-
19 scribed in paragraph (1) under the same terms and
20 conditions and to the same extent that such pro-
21 ceeding could have been discontinued or modified if
22 this Act had not been enacted.

23 (3) ORDERLY TRANSFER.—The Secretary of
24 Transportation is authorized to provide for the or-

3 (d) SUITS.—

4 (1) IN GENERAL.—This Act shall not affect
5 suits commenced before the date of the enactment of
6 this Act, except as provided in paragraphs (2) and
7 (3). In all such suits, proceeding shall be had, ap-
8 peals taken, and judgments rendered in the same
9 manner and with the same effect as if this Act had
10 not been enacted.

11 (2) SUITS BY OR AGAINST FAA.—Any suit by or
12 against the Federal Aviation Administration begun
13 before the date of the enactment of this Act shall be
14 continued, insofar as it involves a function retained
15 and transferred under this Act, with the Transpor-
16 tation Security Administration (to the extent the
17 suit involves functions transferred to the Transpor-
18 tation Security Administration under this Act) sub-
19 stituted for the Federal Aviation Administration.

20 (3) REMANDED CASES.—If the court in a suit
21 described in paragraph (1) remands a case to the
22 Transportation Security Administration, subsequent
23 proceedings related to such case shall proceed in ac-
24 cordance with applicable law and regulations as in
25 effect at the time of such subsequent proceedings.

1 (e) CONTINUANCE OF ACTIONS AGAINST OFFI-
2 CERS.—No suit, action, or other proceeding commenced
3 by or against any officer in his official capacity as an offi-
4 cer of the Federal Aviation Administration shall abate by
5 reason of the enactment of this Act. No cause of action
6 by or against the Federal Aviation Administration, or by 7 or against any officer thereof in his official capacity, shall
8 abate by reason of the enactment of this Act.

9 (f) EXERCISE OF AUTHORITIES.—Except as other-
10 wise provided by law, an officer or employee of the Trans-
11 portation Security Administration may, for purposes of 12 performing a function transferred by this Act or the 13 amendments made by this Act, exercise all authorities
14 under any other provision of law that were available with 15 respect to the performance of that function to the official
16 responsible for the performance of the function imme-
17 diately before the effective date of the transfer of the func-
18 tion under this Act.

19 (g) ACT DEFINED.—In this section, the term “Act”
20 includes the amendments made by this Act.

21 SEC. 142. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS.

22 The President’s budget submission for fiscal year
23 2003 and each fiscal year thereafter shall reflect the estab-
24 lishment of the Transportation Security Administration.

1 SEC. 143. LAND ACQUISITION COSTS.

2 In the case of a grant for land acquisition issued to
3 an airport under chapter 471 of title 49, United States
4 Code, prior to January 1, 1995, the Secretary of Trans-
5 portation may waive the provisions of section 47108 of
6 such title and provide an upward adjustment in the max-
7 imum obligation of the United States under that chapter
8 to assist the airport in funding land acquisition costs (and 9 associated eligible costs) that increased as a result of a
10 judicial order.

11 SEC. 144. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY FOR ACTS TO THWART
12 CRIMINAL VIOLENCE OR AIRCRAFT PIRACY.

13 Section 44903 is amended by adding at the end the
14 following:

15 "(h) LIMITATION ON LIABILITY FOR ACTS TO
16 THWART CRIMINAL VIOLENCE OR AIRCRAFT PIRACY.—
17 An individual shall not be liable for damages in any action
18 brought in a Federal or State court arising out of the acts
19 of the individual in attempting to thwart an act of criminal
20 violence or piracy on an aircraft if that individual reason-
21 ably believed that such an act of criminal violence or pi-
22 racy was occurring or was about to occur."

23 SEC. 145. AIR CARRIERS REQUIRED TO HONOR TICKETS
24 FOR SUSPENDED SERVICE.

25 (a) IN GENERAL.—Each air carrier that provides
26 scheduled air transportation on a route shall provide, to

1 the extent practicable, air transportation to passengers
2 ticketed for air transportation on that route by any other
3 air carrier that suspends, interrupts, or discontinues air
4 passenger service on the route by reason of insolvency or
5 bankruptcy of the other air carrier.

6 (b) PASSENGER OBLIGATION.—An air carrier is not
7 required to provide air transportation under subsection (a)
8 to a passenger unless that passenger makes alternative ar-
9 rangements with the air carrier for such transportation
10 within 60 days after the date on which that passenger's
11 air transportation was suspended, interrupted, or discon-
12 tinued (without regard to the originally scheduled travel
13 date on the ticket).

14 (c) SUNSET.—This section does not apply to air
15 transportation the suspension, interruption, or discontinu-
16 ance of which occurs more than 18 months after the date
17 of enactment of this Act.

18 SEC. 146. AIRCRAFT OPERATIONS IN ENHANCED CLASS B
19 AIRSPACE.

20 Upon request of an operator of an aircraft affected
21 by the restrictions imposed under Notice to Airmen FDC
22 1/0618 issued by the Federal Aviation Administration, or 23 any other notice issued after September 11, 2001, and
24 prior to the date of enactment of this Act that restricts
25 the ability of United States registered aircraft to conduct

1 operations under part 91 of title 14, Code of Federal Reg-
2 ulations, in enhanced class B airspace (as defined by such
3 Notice), such restrictions shall cease to be in effect for
4 the affected class of operator beginning on the 30th day
5 following the request, unless the Secretary of Transpor-
6 tation publishes a notice in the Federal Register before
7 such 30th day reimposing the restriction and explaining
8 the reasons for the restriction.

9 SEC. 147. AVIATION WAR RISK INSURANCE.

10 Section 44306(b) of title 49, United States Code, is 11 amended by striking "60 days" each place it appears and
12 inserting "1 year".

13 TITLE II—LIABILITY LIMITATION

14 SEC. 201. AIR TRANSPORTATION SAFETY AND SYSTEM STA-
15 BILIZATION ACT AMENDMENTS.

16 (a) RECOVERY OF COLLATERAL SOURCE OBLIGA-
17 TIONS OF TERRORISTS.—Section 405(c)(3)(B)(i) of the 18 Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act
19 (49 U.S.C. 40101 note) is amended by striking "obliga-
20 tions." and inserting "obligations, or to a civil action
21 against any person who is a knowing participant in any
22 conspiracy to hijack any aircraft or commit any terrorist
23 act.".

1 (b) EXTENSION OF LIABILITY RELIEF TO AIRCRAFT
2 MANUFACTURERS AND OTHERS.—Section 408 of that Act
3 is amended—

4 (1) by striking “air carrier” in the section
5 heading;

6 (2) by striking subsection (a) and inserting the
7 following:

8 “(a) IN GENERAL.—

9 “(1) LIABILITY LIMITED TO INSURANCE COV-
10 ERAGE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of
11 law, liability for all claims, whether for compen-
12 satory or punitive damages or for contribution or in-
13 demnity, arising from the terrorist-related aircraft
14 crashes of September 11, 2001, against an air car-
15 rier, aircraft manufacturer, airport sponsor, or per-
16 son with a property interest in the World Trade
17 Center, on September 11, 2001, whether fee simple,
18 leasehold or easement, direct or indirect, or their di-
19 rectors, officers, employees, or agents, shall not be 20 in an amount greater than the limits of liability in-
21 surance coverage maintained by that air carrier, air-
22 craft manufacturer, airport sponsor, or person.

23 “(2) WILLFUL DEFAULTS ON REBUILDING OB-
24 LIGATION.—Paragraph (1) does not apply to any
25 such person with a property interest in the World

1 Trade Center if the Attorney General determines.
2 after notice and an opportunity for a hearing on the
3 record, that the person has defaulted willfully on a
4 contractual obligation to rebuild, or assist in the re-
5 building of, the World Trade Center.

6 “(3) LIMITATIONS ON LIABILITY FOR NEW
7 YORK CITY.—Liability for all claims, whether for
8 compensatory or punitive damages or for contribu-
9 tion or indemnity arising from the terrorist-related
10 aircraft crashes of September 11, 2001, against the
11 City of New York shall not exceed the greater of the 12 city’s insurance coverage or $350,000,000. If a
13 claimant who is eligible to seek compensation under
14 section 405 of this Act, submits a claim under sec-
15 tion 405, the claimant waives the right to file a civil 16 action (or to be a party to an action) in any Federal 17 or State court for damages sustained as a result of 18 the terrorist-related aircraft crashes of September
19 11, 2001, including any such action against the City
20 of New York. The preceding sentence does not apply
21 to a civil action to recover collateral source obliga-
22 tions.”; and

23 (3) by adding at the end of subsection (c) the 24 following: “Subsections (a) and (b) do not apply to
25 civil actions to recover collateral source obligations.

1 Nothing in this section shall in any way limit any li-
2 ability of any person who is engaged in the business
3 of providing air transportation security and who is
4 not an airline or airport sponsor or director, officer,
5 or employee of an airline or airport sponsor.”.

6 (c) LIMITATION OF UNITED STATES SUBROGATION
7 RIGHT.—Section 409 of that Act is amended by striking
8 “title.” and inserting “title, subject to the limitations de-
9 scribed in section 408.”.

10 (d) DEFINITIONS.—Section 402 of that Act is 11 amended—

12 (1) by adding at the end of paragraph (1) the
13 following: “The term ‘air carrier’ does not include a
14 person, other than an air carrier, engaged in the 15 business of providing air transportation security.”.

16 (2) by redesignating paragraphs (3) through
17 (8) as paragraphs (5) through (10), respectively;
18 and

19 (3) by inserting after paragraph (2) the fol-
20 lowing:

21 “(3) AIRCRAFT MANUFACTURER.—The term
22 ‘aircraft manufacturer’ means any entity that manu-
23 factured the aircraft or any parts or components of 24 the aircraft involved in the terrorist related aircraft

1 crashes of September 11, 2001, including employees
2 and agents of that entity.

3 “(4) AIRPORT SPONSOR.—The term ‘airport
4 sponsor’ means the owner or operator of an airport
5 (as defined in section 40102 of title 49, United 6 States Code).”.

1 parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield direct services under
2 this section for any cost for which the airport operator,
3 on-airport parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield direct serv-
4 ices does not demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Sec-
5 retary, using sworn financial statements or other appro-
6 priate data, that—

7 (1) the cost is eligible for reimbursement under
8 subsection (a); and

9 (2) the cost was incurred by the airport oper-
10 ator, on-airport parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield
11 direct services.

12 The Inspector General of the Department of Transpor-
13 tation and the Comptroller General of the United States
14 may audit such statements and may request any other in-
15 formation ~~that~~ necessary to conduct such an audit.

16 (c) CLAIM PROCEDURE.—Within 30 days after the
17 date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary, after con-
18 sultation with airport operators, on-airport parking lots,
19 and vendors of on-airfield direct services, shall publish in
20 the Federal Register the procedures for filing claims for 21 reimbursement under this section of eligible costs incurred
22 by airport operators.

1 (c) DEADLINE FOR DEPLOYMENT OF FEDERAL
2 SCREENERS.—

3 (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after
4 the date of enactment of this Act, the Under Sec-
5 retary of Transportation for Security shall deploy at
6 all airports in the United States where screening is
7 required under section 44901 of title 49, United
8 States Code, a sufficient number of Federal screen-
9 ers, Federal Security Managers, Federal security
10 personnel, and Federal law enforcement officers to
11 conduct the screening of all passengers and property
12 under section 44901 of such title at such airports.

13 (2) CERTIFICATION TO CONGRESS.—Not later
14 than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act,
15 the Under Secretary shall transmit to Congress a
16 certification that the requirement of paragraph (1)
17 has been met.

1 Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transpor-
2 tation of the Senate and to the Committee on Trans-
3 portation and Infrastructure of the House of Rep-
4 resentatives on the deployment of the systems re-
5 quired by section 44901(c) of title 49, United States
6 Code. The Under Secretary shall include in the
7 report—

8 (A) an installation schedule;

9 (B) the dates of installation of each sys-
10 tem; and

11 (C) the date on which each system in-
12 stalled is operational.

13 (2) SCREENING OF SMALL AIRCRAFT.—Within
14 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the 15 Under Secretary of Transportation for Security shall
16 transmit a report to the Committee on Commerce,
17 Science, and Transportation of the Senate and Com-
18 mittee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the
19 House of Representatives on the screening require-
20 ments applicable to passengers boarding, and prop-
21 erty being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or
22 less used in scheduled passenger service with rec-
23 ommendations for any necessary changes in those
24 requirements.

111) 1 SEC. 109. TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT OF SECURITY
2 SCREENING PERSONNEL.

3 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 44935 of title 49, United
4 States Code, is amended—

5 (1) by redesignating subsection (f) as sub-
6 section (i); and

7 (2) by striking subsection (e) and inserting the
8 following:

9 “(e) SECURITY SCREENERS.—

10 “(1) TRAINING PROGRAM.—The Under Sec-
11 retary of Transportation for Security shall establish
12 a program for the hiring and training of security
13 screening personnel.

14 “(2) HIRING.—

15 “(A) QUALIFICATIONS.—Within 30 days
16 after the date of enactment of the Aviation and
17 Transportation Security Act, the Under Sec-
18 retary shall establish qualification standards for
19 individuals to be hired by the United States as 20 security screening personnel. Notwithstanding
21 any provision of law, those standards shall re-
22 quire, at a minimum, an individual—

23 “(i) to have a satisfactory or better
24 score on a Federal security screening per-
25 sonnel selection examination;

54

1 “(ii) to be a citizen of the United
2 States;

3 “(iii) to meet, at a minimum, the re-
4 quirements set forth in subsection (f);

5 “(iv) to meet such other qualifications
6 as the Under Secretary may establish; and

7 “(v) to have the ability to demonstrate
8 daily a fitness for duty without any impair-
9 ment due to illegal drugs, sleep depriva-
10 tion, medication, or alcohol.

11 “(B) BACKGROUND CHECKS.—The Under
12 Secretary shall require that an individual to be
13 hired as a security screener undergo an employ-
14 ment investigation (including a criminal history
15 record check) under section 44936(a)(1).

16 “(C) DISQUALIFICATION OF INDIVIDUALS
17 WHO PRESENT NATIONAL SECURITY RISKS.—
18 The Under Secretary, in consultation with the
19 heads of other appropriate Federal agencies,
20 shall establish procedures, in addition to any
21 background check conducted under section
22 44936, to ensure that no individual who pre-
23 sents a threat to national security is employed
24 as a security screener.

1 “(3) EXAMINATION; REVIEW OF EXISTING
2 RULES.—The Under Secretary shall develop a secu-
3 rity screening personnel examination for use in de-
4 termining the qualification of individuals seeking
5 employment as security screening personnel. The
6 Under Secretary shall also review, and revise as nec-
7 essary, any standard, rule, or regulation governing
8 the employment of individuals as security screening
9 personnel.

10 “(f) EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS FOR SCREENING
11 PERSONNEL.—

12 “(1) SCREENER REQUIREMENTS.—Notwith-
13 standing any provision of law, an individual may not
14 be deployed as a security screener unless that indi-
15 vidual meets the following requirements:

16 “(A) The individual shall possess a high
17 school diploma, a general equivalency diploma,
18 or experience that the Under Secretary has de-
19 termined to be sufficient for the individual to
20 perform the duties of the position.

21 “(B) The individual shall possess basic ap-
22 titudes and physical abilities, including color
23 perception, visual and aural acuity, physical co-
24 ordination, and motor skills, to the following
25 standards:

1 “(i) Screeners operating screening
2 equipment shall be able to distinguish on
3 the screening equipment monitor the ap-
4 propriate imaging standard specified by
5 the Under Secretary. Wherever the screen-
6 ing equipment system displays colors, the
7 operator shall be able to perceive each
8 color.

9 “(ii) Screeners operating any screen-
10 ing equipment shall be able to distinguish
11 each color displayed on every type of
12 screening equipment and explain what each
13 color signifies.

14 “(iii) Screeners shall be able to hear
15 and respond to the spoken voice and to au-
16 dible alarms generated by screening equip-
17 ment in an active checkpoint environment.

18 “(iv) Screeners performing physical
19 searches or other related operations shall
20 be able to efficiently and thoroughly ma-
21 nipulate and handle such baggage, con-
22 tainers, and other objects subject to secu-
23 rity processing.

24 “(v) Screeners who perform pat-downs
25 or hand-held metal detector searches of in-

1 individuals shall have sufficient dexterity and
2 capability to thoroughly conduct those pro-
3 cedures over a individual's entire body.

4 “(C) The individual shall be able to read,
5 speak, and write English well enough to—

6 “(i) carry out written and oral in-
7 structions regarding the proper perform-
8 ance of screening duties;

9 “(ii) read English language identifica-
10 tion media, credentials, airline tickets, and
11 labels on items normally encountered in
12 the screening process;

13 “(iii) provide direction to and under-
14 stand and answer questions from English-
15 speaking individuals undergoing screening;
16 and

17 “(iv) write incident reports and state-
18 ments and log entries into security records
19 in the English language.

20 “(D) The individual shall have satisfac-
21 torily completed all initial, recurrent, and ap-
22 propriate specialized training required by the
23 security program, except as provided in para-
24 graph (3).

1 “(2) VETERANS PREFERENCE.—The Under
2 Secretary shall provide a preference for the hiring of
3 an individual as a security screener if the individual
4 is a member or former member of the armed forces
5 and if the individual is entitled, under statute, to re-
6 tired, retirement, or retainer pay on account of serv-
7 ice as a member of the armed forces.

8 “(3) EXCEPTIONS.—An individual who has not
9 completed the training required by this section may
10 be deployed during the on-the-job portion of training
11 to perform functions if that individual—

12 “(A) is closely supervised; and

13 “(B) does not make independent judg-
14 ments as to whether individuals or property
15 may enter a sterile area or aircraft without fur-
16 ther inspection.

17 “(4) REMEDIAL TRAINING.—No individual em-
18 ployed as a security screener may perform a screen-
19 ing function after that individual has failed an oper-
20 ational test related to that function until that indi-
21 vidual has successfully completed the remedial train-
22 ing specified in the security program.

23 “(5) ANNUAL PROFICIENCY REVIEW.—The
24 Under Secretary shall provide that an annual eval-
25 uation of each individual assigned screening duties is

1 conducted and documented. An individual employed
2 as a security screener may not continue to be em-
3 ployed in that capacity unless the evaluation dem-
4 onstrates that the individual—

5 “(A) continues to meet all qualifications
6 and standards required to perform a screening
7 function;

8 “(B) has a satisfactory record of perform-
9 ance and attention to duty based on the stand-
10 ards and requirements in the security program;
11 and

12 “(C) demonstrates the current knowledge
13 and skills necessary to courteously, vigilantly,
14 and effectively perform screening functions.

15 “(6) OPERATIONAL TESTING.—In addition to
16 the annual proficiency review conducted under para-
17 graph (5), the Under Secretary shall provide for the 18 operational testing of such personnel.

19 “(g) TRAINING.—

20 “(1) USE OF OTHER AGENCIES.—The Under
21 Secretary may enter into a memorandum of under-
22 standing or other arrangement with any other Fed-
23 eral agency or department with appropriate law en-
24 forcement responsibilities, to provide personnel, re-

1 sources, or other forms of assistance in the training
2 of security screening personnel.

3 “(2) TRAINING PLAN.—Within 60 days after
4 the date of enactment of the Aviation and Transpor-
5 tation Security Act, the Under Secretary shall de-
6 velop a plan for the training of security screening
7 personnel. The plan shall require, at a minimum,
8 that a security screener—

9 “(A) has completed 40 hours of classroom
10 instruction or successfully completed a program
11 that the Under Secretary determines will train
12 individuals to a level of proficiency equivalent to 13 the level that would be achieved by such class-
14 room instruction;

15 “(B) has completed 60 hours of on-the-job
16 instruction; and

17 “(C) has successfully completed an on-the-
18 job training examination prescribed by the
19 Under Secretary.

20 “(3) EQUIPMENT-SPECIFIC TRAINING.—An in-
21 dividual employed as a security screener may not use
22 any security screening device or equipment in the 23 scope of that individual’s employment unless the in-
24 dividual has been trained on that device or equip-

13 SEC. 43. AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMS.

14 (a) COMPETITION PLAN.—Section 47106(f) is
15 amended—

16 (1) by redesignating paragraph (3) as para-
17 graph (4); and

18 (2) by inserting after paragraph (2) the fol-
19 lowing:

20 “(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR FISCAL YEAR 2002.—

21 This subsection does not apply to any passenger fa-
22 cility fee approved, or grant made, in fiscal year
23 2002 if the fee or grant is to be used to improve se-
24 curity at a covered airport.”.

1 ment and has successfully completed a test on the
2 use of the device or equipment.

3 “(h) TECHNOLOGICAL TRAINING.—

4 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The Under Secretary shall
5 require training to ensure that screeners are pro-
6 ficient in using the most up-to-date new technology
7 and to ensure their proficiency in recognizing new
8 threats and weapons.

9 “(2) PERIODIC ASSESSMENTS.—The Under
10 Secretary shall make periodic assessments to deter-
11 mine if there are dual use items and inform security
12 screening personnel of the existence of such items.

13 “(3) CURRENT LISTS OF DUAL USE ITEMS.—
14 Current lists of dual use items shall be part of the 15 ongoing training for screeners.

16 “(4) DUAL USE DEFINED.—For purposes of
17 this subsection, the term ‘dual use’ item means an 18 item that may seem harmless but that may be used
19 as a weapon.

20 “(i) LIMITATION ON RIGHT TO STRIKE.—An indi-
21 vidual that screens passengers or property, or both, at an
22 airport under this section may not participate in a strike,
23 or assert the right to strike, against the person (including 24 a governmental entity) employing such individual to per-
25 form such screening.

1 “(j) UNIFORMS.—The Under Secretary shall require
2 any individual who screens passengers and property pur-
3 suant to section 44901 to be attired while on duty in a
4 uniform approved by the Under Secretary.”.

5 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section
6 44936(a)(1) of title 49, United States Code, is amended—

7 (1) in subparagraph (A) by inserting “as a se-
8 curity screener under section 44935(e) or a posi-
9 tion” after “a position”; and

10 (2) in subparagraph (E) by striking clause (iv).

11 (c) TRANSITION.—The Under Secretary of Trans-
12 portation for Security shall complete the full implementa-
13 tion of section 44935 (e), (f), (g), and (h) of title 49,
14 United States Code, as amended by subsection (a), as soon
15 as is practicable. The Under Secretary may make or con-
16 tinue such arrangements for the training of security
17 screeners under that section as the ~~Attorney General~~ de-
18 termines necessary pending full implementation of that
19 section as so amended.

20 (d) SCREENER PERSONNEL.—Notwithstanding any
21 other provision of law, the Under Secretary of Transpor-
22 tation for Security may employ, appoint, discipline, termi-
23 nate, and fix the compensation, terms, and conditions of 24 employment of Federal service for such a number of indi-
25 viduals as the Under Secretary determines to be necessary

*Under
Secretary*

1 to carry out the screening functions of the Under Sec-
2 retary under section 44901 of title 49, United States
3 Code. The Under Secretary shall establish levels of com-
4 pensation and other benefits for individuals so employed.

5 ~~(e) FINAL RULES ESTABLISHING TRAINING STAND-~~
6 ~~ARDS FOR SCREENERS.—Section 44935(e)(1) of title 49,~~
7 ~~United States Code, is amended by striking “May 31,~~
8 ~~2001” and inserting “6 months after the date of enact-~~
9 ~~ment of the Airport and Transportation Security Act”~~

2 ological, or similar weapons or devices either
3 within an aircraft or within an airport;”.

4 (b) ADDITIONAL MATTERS REGARDING RESEARCH
5 AND DEVELOPMENT.—

6 (1) ADDITIONAL PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—

7 Subsection (a) of section 44912 of title 49, United
8 States Code, is amended—

9 (A) by redesignating paragraph (4) as
10 paragraph (5); and

11 (B) by inserting after paragraph (3) the
12 following new paragraph (4):

13 “(4)(A) In carrying out the program established
14 under this subsection, the Administrator shall designate
15 an individual to be responsible for engineering, research,
16 and development with respect to security technology under
17 the program.

18 “(B) The individual designated under subparagraph
19 (A) shall use appropriate systems engineering and risk
20 management models in making decisions regarding the al-
21 location of funds for engineering, research, and develop-
22 ment with respect to security technology under the pro-
23 gram.

24 “(C) The individual designated under subparagraph
25 (A) shall, on an annual basis, submit to the Research, En-

1 gineering and Development Advisory Committee a report
2 on activities under this paragraph during the preceding
3 year. Each report shall include, for the year covered by
4 such report, information on—

5 ~~“(i) progress made in engineering, research,~~
6 and development with respect to security technology;

7 ~~“(ii) the allocation of funds for engineering,~~
8 research, and development with respect to security
9 technology; and

10 ~~“(iii) engineering, research, and development~~
11 with respect to any technologies drawn from other
12 agencies, including the rationale for engineering, re-
13 search, and development with respect to such tech-
14 nologies.”.

4 diversion of civil aircraft or the use of civil air-
5 craft as a weapon; and

6 ~~“(ii) the disruption of civil aviation serv-~~
7 ice, including by cyber attack;”.

8 ~~“(3) SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY PANEL.—Subsection~~
9 (c) of that section is amended to read as follows:

10 ~~“(c) SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY PANEL.—(1) The Ad-~~
11 ministrator shall establish a scientific advisory panel, as
12 a subcommittee of the Research, Engineering, and Devel-
13 opment Advisory Committee, to review, comment on, ad-
14 vise the progress of, and recommend modifications in, the 15 program established under subsection (a) of this section,
16 including the need for long-range research programs to de-
17 tect and prevent catastrophic damage to commercial air-
18 craft, commercial aviation facilities, commercial aviation
19 personnel and passengers, and other components of the 20 commercial aviation system by the next generation of ter-
21 rorist weapons.

22 ~~“(2)(A) The advisory panel shall consist of individ-~~
23 uals who have scientific and technical expertise in—

24 ~~“(i) the development and testing of effective~~
25 explosive detection systems;

67
68

1 “(ii) aircraft structure and experimentation to
2 decide on the type and minimum weights of explo-
3 sives that an effective explosive detection technology
4 must be capable of detecting;

5 “(iii) technologies involved in minimizing air-
6 frame damage to aircraft from explosives; and

7 “(iv) other scientific and technical areas the
8 Administrator considers appropriate.

9 “(B) In appointing individuals to the advisory panel,
10 the Administrator should consider individuals from aca-
11 demia and the national laboratories, as appropriate.

12 “(3) The Administrator shall organize the advisory
13 panel into teams capable of undertaking the review of poli-
14 cies and technologies upon request.

15 “(4) Not later than 90 days after the date of the 16 enactment of the Aviation and Transportation Security
17 Act, and every two years thereafter, the Administrator
18 shall review the composition of the advisory panel in order
19 to ensure that the expertise of the individuals on the panel
20 is suited to the current and anticipated duties of the 21 panel.”.

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 449 of title 49, United
 8 States Code, is amended by adding at the end the fol-
 9 lowing new section:

10 "§ 44939. Training to operate certain aircraft

11 "(a) WAITING PERIOD.—A person subject to regula-
 12 tion under this part may provide training in the operation
 13 of any aircraft having a maximum [certificated] takeoff
 14 weight of 12,500 pounds or less to an alien (as defined
 15 in section 101(a)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality
 16 Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(3))) or to any other individual
 17 specified by the Under Secretary of Transportation for Se-
 18 curity only if—

19 "(1) that person has first notified the Under
 20 Secretary [and the Attorney General] that the indi-
 21 vidual has requested such training and furnished the
 22 Under Secretary with that individual's identification
 23 in such form as the Under Secretary may require;
 24 and

Subchapter II
 of

Attorney
 General

1 “(2) the Attorney General has not directed,
2 within 45 days after being notified under paragraph
3 (1), that person not to provide the requested train-
4 ing because the Attorney General has determined
5 that the individual presents a risk to aviation or na-
6 tional security.

7 “(b) INTERRUPTION OF TRAINING.—If the Attorney
8 General, more than 45 days after receiving notification
9 under subsection (a) from a person providing training de-
10 scribed in subsection (a), determines that the individual
11 presents a risk to aviation or national security, the Attor-
12 ney General shall immediately notify the person providing 13 the training of the determination and that person shall 14 immediately terminate the training.

15 “(c) COVERED TRAINING.—For the purposes of sub-
16 section (a), training includes in-flight training, training in
17 a simulator, and any other form or aspect of training.

18 “(d) SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING FOR EMPLOY-
19 EES.—The Under Secretary shall require flight schools to
20 conduct a security awareness program for flight school
21 employees to increase their awareness of suspicious cir-
22 cumstances and activities of individuals enrolling in or at-
23 tending flight school.”.

1 (b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections
2 at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding
3 at the end the following new item:

“44939. Training to operate certain aircraft.”.

4 (c) INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION.—The Secretary
5 of Transportation, in consultation with the Secretary of
6 State, shall work with the International Civil Aviation Or-
7 ganization and the civil aviation authorities of other coun-
8 tries to improve international aviation security through
9 screening programs for flight instruction candidates.

10 (d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by
11 subsection (a) applies to applications for training received
12 after the date of enactment of this Act.

6 ysis for chapter 465 of such title is amended by inserting
7 after the item relating to section 46502 the following:

“46503. Interference with security screening personnel”.

117/ 8 SEC. 441. PASSENGER MANIFESTS.

9 Section 44909 is amended by adding at the end the
10 following:

11 “(c) FLIGHTS IN FOREIGN AIR TRANSPORTATION TO
12 THE UNITED STATES.—

13 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days
14 after the date of enactment of the Aviation and
15 Transportation Security Act, each air carrier and
16 foreign air carrier operating a passenger flight in
17 foreign air transportation to the United States shall
18 provide to the Commissioner of Customs by elec-
19 tronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest
20 containing the information specified in paragraph
21 (2). Carriers may use the advanced passenger infor-
22 mation system established under section 431 of the 23 Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1431) to provide the
24 information required by the preceding sentence.

1 “(2) INFORMATION.—A passenger and crew
2 manifest for a flight required under paragraph (1)
3 shall contain the following information:

4 “(A) The full name of each passenger and
5 crew member.

6 “(B) The date of birth and citizenship of
7 each passenger and crew member.

8 “(C) The sex of each passenger and crew
9 member.

10 “(D) The passport number and country of 11 issuance of each passenger and crew member if
12 required for travel.

13 “(E) The United States visa number or
14 resident alien card number of each passenger
15 and crew member, as applicable.

16 “(F) Such other information as the Under
17 Secretary, in consultation with the Commis-
18 sioner of Customs, determines is reasonably
19 necessary to ensure aviation safety.

20 “(3) PASSENGER NAME RECORDS.—The car-
21 riers shall make passenger name record information
22 available to the Customs Service upon request.

23 “(4) TRANSMISSION OF MANIFEST.—Subject to
24 paragraph (5), a passenger and crew manifest re-
25 quired for a flight under paragraph (1) shall be

1 transmitted to the Customs Service in advance of
2 the aircraft landing in the United States in such
3 manner, time, and form as the Customs Service pre-
4 scribes.

5 “(5) TRANSMISSION OF MANIFESTS TO OTHER
6 FEDERAL AGENCIES.—Upon request, information
7 provided to the Under Secretary or the Customs
8 Service under this subsection may be shared with
9 other Federal agencies for the purpose of protecting
10 national security.”

11 118) SEC. 148. AIR TRANSPORTATION ARRANGEMENTS IN CER-
12 TAIN STATES.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any provision of
14 section 41309(a) of title 49, United States Code, to the 15 contrary, air carriers providing air transportation on
16 flights which both originate and terminate at points within
17 the same State may file an agreement, request, modifica-
18 tion, or cancellation of an agreement within the scope of
19 that section with the Secretary of Transportation upon a
20 declaration by the Governor of the State that such agree-
21 ment, request, modification, or cancellation is necessary
22 to ensure the continuing availability of such air transpor-
23 tation within that State.

24 (b) APPROVAL OF SECRETARY.—The Secretary may
25 approve any such agreement, request, modification, or

1 cancellation and grant an exemption under section
2 41308(c) of title 49, United States Code, to the extent
3 necessary to effectuate such agreement, request, modifica-
4 tion, or cancellation, without regard to the provisions of
5 section 41309(b) or (c) of that title.

6 (c) PUBLIC INTEREST REQUIREMENT.—The Sec-
7 retary may approve such an agreement, request, modifica-
8 tion, or cancellation if the Secretary determines that—

9 (1) the State to which it relates has extraor-
10 dinary air transportation needs and concerns; and

11 (2) approval is in the public interest.

12 (d) TERMINATION.—An approval under subsection
13 (b) and an exemption under section 41308(c) of title 49,
14 United States Code, granted under subsection (b) shall
15 terminate on the earlier of the 2 following dates:

16 (1) A date established by the Secretary in the
17 Secretary's discretion.

18 (2) October 1, 2002.

19 (e) EXTENSION.—Notwithstanding subsection (d), if
20 the Secretary determines that it is in the public interest,
21 the Secretary may extend the termination date under sub-
22 section (d)(2) until a date no later than October 1, 2003.

23 (f) REPORTS.—If the Secretary approves any such
24 agreement, request, modification, or cancellation under
25 this section and grants an exemption, the Secretary shall

1 transmit a report to Committee on Commerce, Science,
2 and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on
3 Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Rep-
4 resentatives within 6 months describing what actions have
5 been taken by the air carriers to which the exemption was
6 granted. The Secretary shall also notify those committees
7 if the Secretary extends the termination date under sub-
8 section (e).

9 SEC. 117. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS.

10 In order to ensure that all airline computer reserva-
11 tion systems maintained by United States air carriers are
12 secure from unauthorized access by persons seeking infor-
13 mation on reservations, passenger manifests, or other non-
14 public information, the Secretary of Transportation shall
15 require all such air carriers to utilize to the maximum ex-
16 tent practicable the best technology available to secure
17 their computer reservation system against such unauthor-
18 ized access.

1 SEC. 116. SECURITY SERVICE FEE.

2 (a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 449 is
3 amended by adding at the end the following:

4 “§ 44940. Security service fee

5 “(a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—

6 “(1) PASSENGER FEES.—The Under Secretary
7 of Transportation for Security shall impose a uni-
8 form fee, on passengers of air carriers and foreign
9 air carriers in air transportation and intrastate air
10 transportation originating at airports in the United
11 States, to pay for the following costs of providing
12 civil aviation security services:

13 “(A) Salary, benefits, overtime, retirement
14 and other costs of screening personnel, their su-
15 pervisors and managers, and Federal law en-
16 forcement personnel deployed at airport security
17 screening locations under section 44901.

18 “(B) The costs of training personnel de-
19 scribed in subparagraph (A), and the acquisi-
20 tion, operation, and maintenance of equipment
21 used by such personnel.

22 “(C) The costs of performing background
23 investigations of personnel described in sub-
24 paragraphs (A), (D), (F), and (G).

1 “(D) The costs of the Federal air marshals
2 program.

3 “(E) The costs of performing civil aviation
4 security research and development under this
5 title.

6 “(F) The costs of Federal Security Man-
7 agers under section 44903.

8 “(G) The costs of deploying Federal law
9 enforcement personnel pursuant to section
10 44903(h).

11 The amount of such costs shall be determined by the 12 Under Secretary and shall not be subject to judicial 13 review ~~under section 44903.~~

14 “(2) AIR CARRIER FEES.—

15 “(A) AUTHORITY.—In addition to the fee
16 imposed pursuant to paragraph (1), and only to
17 the extent that the Under Secretary estimates
18 that such fee will be insufficient to pay for the
19 costs of providing civil aviation security services
20 described in paragraph (1), the Under Sec-
21 retary may impose a fee on air carriers and for-
22 eign air carriers engaged in air transportation
23 and intrastate air transportation to pay for the 24 difference between any such costs and the
25 amount collected from such fee, as estimated by

1 the Under Secretary at the beginning of each
2 fiscal year. The estimates of the Under Sec-
3 retary under this subparagraph are not subject
4 to judicial review.

5 "(B) LIMITATIONS.—

6 "(i) OVERALL LIMIT.—The amounts
7 of fees collected under this paragraph for
8 each fiscal year may not exceed, in the ag-
9 gregate, the amounts paid in calendar year
10 2000 by carriers described in subpara-
11 graph (A) for screening passengers and
12 property, as determined by the Under Sec-
13 retary.

14 "(ii) PER-CARRIER LIMIT.—The
15 amount of fees collected under this para-
16 graph from an air carrier described in sub-
17 paragraph (A) for each of fiscal years
18 2002, 2003, and 2004 may not exceed the
19 amount paid in calendar year 2000 by that
20 carrier for screening passengers and prop-
21 erty, as determined by the Under Sec-
22 retary.

23 "(iii) ADJUSTMENT OF PER-CARRIER
24 LIMIT.—For fiscal year 2005 and subse-
25 quent fiscal years, the per-carrier limita-

tion under clause (ii) may be determined by the Under Secretary on the basis of market share or any other appropriate measure in lieu of actual screening costs in calendar year 2000.

“(iv) FINALITY OF DETERMINATIONS.—Determinations of the Under Secretary under this subparagraph are not subject to judicial review.

“(c) SPECIAL RULE FOR FISCAL YEAR 2002.—The amount of fees collected under this paragraph from any carrier for fiscal year 2002 may not exceed the amounts paid by that carrier for screening passengers and property for a period of time in calendar year 2000 proportionate to the period of time in fiscal year 2002 during which fees are collected under this paragraph.

“(b) SCHEDULE OF FEES.—In imposing fees under subsection (a), the Under Secretary shall ensure that the fees are reasonably related to the Transportation Security Administration’s costs of providing services rendered.

“(c) LIMITATION ON FEE.—Fees imposed under subsection (a)(1) may not exceed $2.50 per enplanement in air transportation or intrastate air transportation that

1 originates at an airport in the United States, except that
2 the total amount of such fees may not exceed $5.00 per
3 one-way trip.

4 "(d) IMPOSITION OF FEE.—

5 "(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section
6 9701 of title 31 and the procedural requirements of
7 section 553 of title 5, the Under Secretary shall im-
8 pose the fee under subsection (a)(1), and may im-
9 pose a fee under subsection (a)(2), through the pub-
10 lication of notice of such fee in the Federal Register
11 and begin collection of the fee within 60 days of the 12 date of enactment of this Act, or as soon as possible
13 thereafter.

14 "(2) SPECIAL RULES PASSENGER FEES.—A fee
15 imposed under subsection (a)(1) through the proce-
16 dures under subsection (d) shall apply only to tickets
17 sold after the date on which such fee is imposed. If 18 a fee imposed under subsection (a)(1) through the 19 procedures under subsection (d) on transportation of
20 a passenger of a carrier described in subsection
21 (a)(1) is not collected from the passenger, the
22 amount of the fee shall be paid by the carrier.

23 "(3) SUBSEQUENT MODIFICATION OF FEE.—

24 After imposing a fee in accordance with paragraph
25 (1), the Under Secretary may modify, from time to

1 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO AIRPORT AND
2 AIRWAY TRUST FUND.—Section 9502(d)(1)(A) of the In-
3 ternal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to airport and air-
4 way program) is amended by inserting “or the ~~Airport and~~ (Aviation
5 Transportation Security ~~Federalization~~ Act” after “21st
6 Century”.

124) 7 SEC. 114. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS.

8 (a) REPORT DEADLINE.—Section 106(a) of the Air
9 Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act (Pub-
10 lic Law 107-42) is amended by striking “February 1,
11 2001” and inserting “February 1, 2002”.

12 (b) INSURANCE AND REINSURANCE OF AIRCRAFT.—
13 Section 44306(c) (as redesignated by section 201(d) of 14 such Act) is amended by inserting “in the interest of air
15 commerce or national security or” before “to carry out
16 foreign policy”.

17 (c) FEDERAL CREDIT INSTRUMENTS.—Section
18 102(c)(2)(A) of such Act is amended by striking “rep-
19 resentatives” and inserting “representations”.

20 (d) MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION PAYABLE
21 PER AIR CARRIER.—Section 103 of such Act is amended
22 by adding at the end the following:

23 “(d) COMPENSATION FOR CERTAIN AIR CARRIERS.—

24 “(1) SET-ASIDE.—The President may set aside
25 a portion of the amount of compensation payable to

1 time through publication of notice in the Federal
2 Register, the imposition or collection of such fee, or
3 both.

4 "(4) LIMITATION ON COLLECTION.—No fee
5 may be collected under this section except to the ex-
6 tent that the expenditure of the fee to pay the costs
7 of activities and services for which the fee is imposed
8 is provided for in advance in an appropriations Act.

9 "(e) ADMINISTRATION OF FEES.—

10 "(1) FEES PAYABLE TO UNDER SECRETARY.—
11 All fees imposed and amounts collected under this
12 section are payable to the Under Secretary.

13 "(2) FEES COLLECTED BY AIR CARRIER.—A fee
14 imposed under subsection (a)(1) shall be collected by 15 the air carrier or foreign air carrier that sells a tick-
16 et for transportation described in subsection (a)(1).

17 "(3) DUE DATE FOR REMITTANCE.—A fee col-
18 lected under this section shall be remitted on the
19 last day of each calendar month by the carrier col-
20 lecting the fee. The amount to be remitted shall be
21 for the calendar month preceding the calendar
22 month in which the remittance is made.

23 "(4) INFORMATION.—The Under Secretary may
24 require the provision of such information as the
25 Under Secretary decides is necessary to verify that

1 fees have been collected and remitted at the proper
2 times and in the proper amounts.

3 "(5) FEE NOT SUBJECT TO TAX.—For purposes
4 of section 4261 of the Internal Revenue Code of
5 1986 (26 U.S.C. 4261), a fee imposed under this
6 section shall not be considered to be part of the 7 amount paid for taxable transportation.

8 "(6) COST OF COLLECTING FEE.—No portion
9 of fee collected under this section may be retained
10 by the air carrier or foreign air carrier for the costs
11 of collecting, handling, or remitting the fee except 12 for interest accruing to the carrier after collection
13 and before remittance.

14 "(f) RECEIPTS CREDITED AS OFFSETTING COLLEC-
15 TIONS.—Notwithstanding section 3302 of title 31, any fee
16 collected under this section—

17 "(1) shall be credited as offsetting collections to
18 the account that finances the activities and services
19 for which the fee is imposed;

20 "(2) shall be available for expenditure only to 21 pay the costs of activities and services for which the
22 fee is imposed; and

23 "(3) shall remain available until expended.

1 “(g) REFUNDS.—The Under Secretary may refund
2 any fee paid by mistake or any amount paid in excess of
3 that required.

4 “(h) EXEMPTIONS.—The Under Secretary may ex-
5 empt from the passenger fee imposed under subsection
6 (a)(1) any passenger enplaning at an airport in the United
7 States that does not receive screening services under sec-
8 tion 44901 for that segment of the trip for which the pas-
9 senger does not receive screening.”.

18 Subchapter II of chapter 449 of title 49, United 19 States Code, is amended by adding at the end the fol-
20 lowing:

21 “§ 44942. Performance goals and objectives

22 “(a) SHORT TERM TRANSITION.—

23 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Within 180 days after the 24 date of enactment of the Aviation and Transpor-
25 tation Security Act, the Under Secretary for Trans-

1 portation Security may, in consultation with 2 Congress—

3 “(A) establish acceptable levels of perform-
4 ance for aviation security, including screening
5 operations and access control, and

6 “(B) provide Congress with an action plan,
7 containing measurable goals and milestones,
8 that outlines how those levels of performance
9 will be achieved.

10 “(2) BASICS OF ACTION PLAN.—The action
11 plan shall clarify the responsibilities of the Trans-
12 portation Security Administration, the Federal Avia-
13 tion Administration and any other agency or organi-
14 zation that may have a role in ensuring the safety
15 and security of the civil air transportation system.

18 “(A) PERFORMANCE PLAN.—

19 “(i) Each year, consistent with the re-
20 quirements of the Government Perform-
21 ance and Results Act of 1993 (GPRA), the
22 Secretary and the Under Secretary for
23 Transportation Security shall agree on a
24 performance plan for the succeeding 5
25 years that establishes measurable goals

1 and objectives for aviation security. The
2 plan shall identify action steps necessary to
3 achieve such goals.

I26

4 “(ii) In addition to meeting the require-
5 ments of GPRA, the performance plan should
6 clarify the responsibilities of the Secretary, the
7 Under Secretary for Transportation Security
8 and any other agency or organization that may
9 have a role in ensuring the safety and security
10 of the civil air transportation system.

I24

11 “(B) PERFORMANCE REPORT.—(i) Each
12 year, consistent with the requirements of
13 GPRA, the Under Secretary for Transportation
14 Security shall prepare and submit to Congress
15 an annual report including an evaluation of the 16 extent goals and objectives were met. The re-
17 port shall include the results achieved during 18 the year relative to the goals established in the
19 performance plan.

20 “§ 44943. Performance management system

21 “(a) ESTABLISHING A FAIR AND EQUITABLE SYS-

1 lishment of goals and objectives for managers, employees,
2 and organizational performance consistent with the per-
3 formance plan.

4 "(b) ESTABLISHING MANAGEMENT ACCOUNTABILITY
5 FOR MEETING PERFORMANCE GOALS.—

6 "(1) Each year, the Secretary and Under Sec-
7 retary for Transportation Security shall enter into 8 an annual performance agreement that shall set
9 forth organizational and individual performance
10 goals for the Under Secretary.

11 "(2) Each year, the Under Secretary for ~~Transportation Security~~
12 ~~tation Security~~ and each senior manager who reports to 13 the Under Secretary for ~~Transportation Security~~ shall 14 enter into an annual performance agreement that sets
15 forth organization and individual goals for those man-

3 SEC. 129. VOLUNTARY PROVISION OF EMERGENCY SERV-
4 ICES DURING COMMERCIAL FLIGHTS.

5 (a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 449 of
6 title 49, United States Code, is amended by adding at the
7 end the following new section:

8 “§ 44944. Voluntary provision of emergency services

9 “(a) PROGRAM FOR PROVISION OF VOLUNTARY
10 SERVICES.—

11 “(1) PROGRAM.—The Under Secretary of
12 Transportation for Transportation Security shall
13 carry out a program to permit qualified law enforce-
14 ment officers, firefighters, and emergency medical
15 technicians to provide emergency services on com-
16 mercial air flights during emergencies.

17 “(2) REQUIREMENTS.—The Under Secretary
18 shall establish such requirements for qualifications
19 of providers of voluntary services under the program
20 under paragraph (1), including training require-
21 ments, as the Under Secretary considers appro-
22 priate.

23 “(3) CONFIDENTIALITY OF REGISTRY.—If as
24 part of the program under paragraph (1) the Under
25 Secretary requires or permits registration of law en-

1 enforcement officers, firefighters, or emergency med-
2 ical technicians who are willing to provide emergency
3 services on commercial flights during emergencies,
4 the Under Secretary shall take appropriate actions
5 to ensure that the registry is available only to appro-
6 priate airline personnel and otherwise remains con-
7 fidential.

8 “(4) CONSULTATION.—The Under Secretary
9 shall consult with appropriate representatives of the
10 commercial airline industry, and organizations rep-
11 resenting community-based law enforcement, fire-
12 fighters, and emergency medical technicians, in car-
13 rying out the program under paragraph (1), includ-
14 ing the actions taken under paragraph (3).

15 “(b) EXEMPTION FROM LIABILITY.—An individual
16 shall not be liable for damages in any action brought in
17 a Federal or State court that arises from an act or omis-
18 sion of the individual in providing or attempting to provide
19 assistance in the case of an in-flight emergency in an air-
20 craft of an air carrier if the individual meets such quali-
21 fications as the Under Secretary shall prescribe for pur-
22 poses of this section.

23 “(c) EXCEPTION.—The exemption under subsection
24 (b) shall not apply in any case in which an individual pro-
25 vides, or attempts to provide, assistance described in that

97
~~98~~

1 paragraph in a manner that constitutes gross negligence
2 or willful misconduct.”.

3 (b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections
4 at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding
5 at the end the following new item:

“44944. Voluntary provision of emergency services”.

6 (c) CONSTRUCTION REGARDING POSSESSION OF
7 FIREARMS.—Nothing in this section may be construed to
8 require any modification of regulations of the Department
9 of Transportation governing the possession of firearms
10 while in aircraft or air transportation facilities or to au-
11 thorize the possession of a firearm in an aircraft or any
12 such facility not authorized under those regulations.

132) 13 SEC. 13. GENERAL AVIATION AND AIR CHARTERS.

14 (a) AIR CHARTER PROGRAM.—Within 90 days after
15 the date of enactment of this Act, the Under Secretary
16 of Transportation for Transportation Security shall imple-
17 ment an aviation security program for charter air carriers
18 (as defined in section 40102(a)(13) of title 49, United 19 States Code) with a maximum ~~certified~~ takeoff weight of 20 12,500 pounds or more. (cert. aircraft)

21 (b) GENERAL AVIATION PROGRAM.—Within 30 days
22 after the date of enactment of this Act, the Under Sec-
23 retary of Transportation for Transportation Security shall 24 transmit a report on airspace and other security measures
25 that can be deployed, as necessary, to improve security (general aviation)

6 SEC. 135. DEFINITIONS.

7 Except as otherwise explicitly provided, any term
8 used in this title that is defined in section 40102 of title
9 49, United States Code, has the meaning given that term
10 in that section.

134

11 SEC. 123. SENSE OF CONGRESS ON CERTAIN AVIATION
12 MATTERS.

13 (a) FLIGHT SERVICE STATION EMPLOYEES.—It is 14 the sense of Congress that the Administrator of the Fed-
15 eral Aviation Administration should continue negotiating
16 in good faith with flight service station employees of the
17 Administration with a goal of reaching agreement on a
18 contract as soon as possible.

19 (b) WAR RISK INSURANCE.—It is the sense of Con-
20 gress that the Secretary of Transportation should imple-
21 ment section 202 of the Air Transportation Safety and
22 System Stabilization Act (Public Law 107-42) so as to
23 make war risk insurance directly available to vendors,
24 agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all of their
25 domestic operations.

135

1 SEC. 186. SENSE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

2 It is the sense of the House of Representatives that

3 the Under Secretary of Transportation for Security should

4 develop security procedures to allow passengers trans-

5 porting a musical instrument on a flight of an air carrier

6 to transport the instrument in the passenger cabin of the

7 aircraft, notwithstanding any size or other restriction on

8 carry-on baggage but subject to such other reasonable se-

9 curity procedures, terms, and conditions as may be estab-

10 lished by the Under Secretary or the air carrier, including

11 imposing additional charges by the air carrier, and

12 SEC. —. SHORT-TERM ASSESSMENT AND DEPLOYMENT

13 OF EMERGING SECURITY TECHNOLOGIES

14 AND PROCEDURES.

15 Section 44903 of title 49, United States Code, is

16 amended by adding at the end the following:

17 “(i) SHORT-TERM ASSESSMENT AND DEPLOYMENT

18 OF EMERGING SECURITY TECHNOLOGIES AND PROCE-

19 DURES.—

20 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The Under Secretary for

21 Transportation Security shall recommend to airport

22 operators, within 6 months after the date of enact-

23 ment of the Aviation and Transportation Security

24 Act, commercially available measures or procedures

25 to prevent access to secure airport areas by unau-

26 thorized persons. As part of the 6-month assess-

1 report its findings and recommendations to the Secretary
2 of Transportation within 90 days after the date of enact-
3 ment of this Act.

(h) Arming
Flight Deck
Crew...

4 Section 44903 of title 49, United States Code, is
5 amended by adding at the end the following:

6 “(h) AUTHORITY TO ARM FLIGHT DECK CREW WITH
7 LESS-THAN-LETHAL WEAPONS.—

8 “(1) IN GENERAL.—If the Secretary, after re-
9 ceiving the recommendations of the National Insti-
10 tute of Justice, determines, with the approval of the 11 Attorney General and the Secretary of State, that it
12 is appropriate and necessary and would effectively
13 serve the public interest in avoiding air piracy, the
14 Secretary may authorize members of the flight deck
15 crew on any aircraft providing air transportation or
16 intrastate air transportation to carry a less-than-le-
17 thal weapon while the aircraft is engaged in pro-
18 viding such transportation.

19 “(2) USAGE.—If the Secretary grants authority
20 under paragraph (1) for flight deck crew members
21 to carry a less-than-lethal weapon while engaged in
22 providing air transportation or intrastate air trans-
23 portation, the Secretary shall—

Insert to p. 99

- 1 (2) an air carrier that transports mail under a
- 2 contract with the United States Postal Service
- 3 should transport any animal that the Postal Service
- 4 allows to be shipped through the mail.

1 ment, the Under Secretary for Transportation Secu-
2 rity shall—

3 “(A) review the effectiveness of biometrics
4 systems currently in use at several United
5 States airports, including San Francisco Inter-
6 national;

7 “(B) review the effectiveness of increased
8 surveillance at access points;

9 “(C) review the effectiveness of card- or
10 keypad-based access systems;

11 “(D) review the effectiveness of airport
12 emergency exit systems and determine whether
13 those that lead to secure areas of the airport
14 should be monitored or how breaches can be
15 swiftly responded to; and

16 “(E) specifically target the elimination of
17 the “piggy-backing” phenomenon, where an-
18 other person follows an authorized person
19 through the access point.

20 The 6-month assessment shall include a 12-month
21 deployment strategy for currently available tech-
22 nology at all category X airports, as defined in the
23 Federal Aviation Administration approved air carrier
24 security programs required under part 108 of title
25 14, Code of Federal Regulations. Not later than 18

1 months after the date of enactment of this Act, the
2 Secretary of Transportation shall conduct a review
3 of reductions in unauthorized access at these air-
4 ports.

5 “(2) COMPUTER-ASSISTED PASSENGER
6 PRESCREENING SYSTEM.—

7 “(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of
8 Transportation shall ensure that the Computer-
9 Assisted Passenger Prescreening System, or
10 any successor system—

11 “(i) is used to evaluate all passengers
12 before they board an aircraft; and

13 “(ii) includes procedures to ensure
14 that individuals selected by the system and
15 their carry-on and checked baggage are
16 adequately screened.

17 “(B) MODIFICATIONS.—The Secretary of
18 Transportation may modify any requirement
19 under the Computer-Assisted Passenger
20 Prescreening System for flights that originate
21 and terminate within the same State, if the
22 Secretary determines that—

23 “(i) the State has extraordinary air
24 transportation needs or concerns due to its

1 isolation and dependence on air transpor-
2 tation; and

3 "(ii) the routine characteristics of
4 passengers, given the nature of the market,
5 regularly triggers primary selectee status.

137 } 6 SEC. —. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT OF AVIATION
7 SECURITY TECHNOLOGY.

8 (a) FUNDING.—To augment the programs authorized
9 in section 44912(a)(1) of title 49, United States Code,
10 there is authorized to be appropriated an additional
11 $50,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2002 through 2006
12 and such sums as are necessary for each fiscal year there-
13 after to the Transportation Security Administration, for
14 research, development, testing, and evaluation of the fol-
15 lowing technologies which may enhance aviation security
16 in the future. Grants to industry, academia, and Govern-
17 ment entities to carry out the provisions of this section
18 shall be available for fiscal years 2002 and 2003 for—

19 (1) the acceleration of research, development,
20 testing, and evaluation of explosives detection tech-
21 nology for checked baggage, specifically, technology
22 that is—

23 (A) more cost-effective for deployment for
24 explosives detection in checked baggage at
25 small- to medium-sized airports, and is cur-

1 rently under development as part of the Argus
2 research program at the Transportation Secu-
3 rity Administration;

4 (B) faster, to facilitate screening of all
5 checked baggage at larger airports; or

6 (C) more accurate, to reduce the number
7 of false positives requiring additional security
8 measures;

9 (2) acceleration of research, development, test-
10 ing, and evaluation of new screening technology for 11 carry-on items to provide more effective means of 12 detecting and identifying weapons, explosives, and
13 components of weapons of mass destruction, includ-
14 ing advanced x-ray technology;

15 (3) acceleration of research, development, test-
16 ing, and evaluation of threat screening technology
17 for other categories of items being loaded onto air-
18 craft, including cargo, catering, and duty-free items;

19 (4) acceleration of research, development, test-
20 ing, and evaluation of threats carried on persons
21 boarding aircraft or entering secure areas, including
22 detection of weapons, explosives, and components of
23 weapons of mass destruction;

24 (5) acceleration of research, development, test-
25 ing and evaluation of integrated systems of airport

104
ST

1 security enhancement, including quantitative meth-
2 ods of assessing security factors at airports selected
3 for testing such systems;

4 (6) expansion of the existing program of re-
5 search, development, testing, and evaluation of im-
6 proved methods of education, training, and testing
7 of key airport security personnel; and

8 (7) acceleration of research, development, test-
9 ing, and evaluation of aircraft hardening materials,
10 and techniques to reduce the vulnerability of aircraft
11 to terrorist attack.

12 (b) GRANTS.—Grants awarded under this subtitle
13 shall identify potential outcomes of the research, and pro-
14 pose a method for quantitatively assessing effective in-
15 creases in security upon completion of the research pro-
16 gram. At the conclusion of each grant, the grant recipient
17 shall submit a final report to the Transportation Security
18 Administration that shall include sufficient information to
19 permit the Under Secretary to prepare a cost-benefit anal-
20 ysis of potential improvements to airport security based
21 upon deployment of the proposed technology. The Under
22 Secretary shall begin awarding grants under this subtitle
23 within 90 days of the date of enactment of this Act.

24 (c) BUDGET SUBMISSION.—A budget submission and
25 detailed strategy for deploying the identified security up-

of Transp. Ad-mi-
Security

1 grades recommended upon completion of the grants
2 awarded under subsection (b), shall be submitted to Con-
3 gress as part of the Department of Transportation's an-
4 nual budget submission.

5 (d) DEFENSE RESEARCH.—There is authorized to be
6 appropriated $20,000,000 to the Transportation Security
7 Administration to issue research grants in conjunction
8 with the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency.
9 Grants may be awarded under this section for—

10 (1) research and development of longer-term
11 improvements to airport security, including advanced
12 weapons detection;

13 (2) secure networking and sharing of threat in-
14 formation between Federal agencies, law enforce-
15 ment entities, and other appropriate parties;

16 (3) advances in biometrics for identification and
17 threat assessment; or

18 (4) other technologies for preventing acts of ter-
19 rorism in aviation.

127 } 7 SEC. 123. MAIL AND FREIGHT WAIVERS.

8 (a) IN GENERAL.—During a national emergency af-
9 fecting air transportation or intrastate air transportation,
10 the Secretary of Transportation, after consultation with
11 the Transportation Security Oversight Board, may grant
12 a complete or partial waiver of any restrictions on the car-
13 riage by aircraft of freight, mail, emergency medical sup-
14 plies, personnel, or patients on aircraft, imposed by the
15 Department of Transportation (or other Federal agency
16 or department) that would permit such carriage of freight,
17 mail, emergency medical supplies, personnel, or patients
18 on flights, to, from, or within a State if the Secretary de-
19 termines that—

20 (1) extraordinary air transportation needs or
21 concerns exist; and —

22 (2) the waiver is in the public interest, taking
23 into consideration the isolation of and dependence on
24 air transportation of the State.

1 (b) RECORDS OF EMPLOYMENT OF PILOT APPLI-
2 CANTS.—Part A of subtitle VII is amended—

3 (1) by moving subsections (f), (g), and (h) of
4 section 44936 from section 44936, inserting them at 5 the end of section 44703, and redesignating them as 6 subsections (h), (i), and (j), respectively; and

10 lowed to become effective by the Federal Aviation
11 Administration, any officer or employee thereof, or
12 any other Government official, or by a court of com-
13 petent jurisdiction, in the performance of any func-
14 tion that is transferred by this Act; and

15 (2) that are in effect on the effective date of 16 such transfer (or become effective after such date
17 pursuant to their terms as in effect on such effective
18 date), shall continue in effect according to their
19 terms until modified, terminated, superseded, set
20 aside, or revoked in accordance with law by the 21 Under Secretary of Transportation for Security, any
22 other authorized official, a court of competent juris-
23 diction, or operation of law.

24 (c) PROCEEDINGS.—

1 (1) IN GENERAL.—The provisions of this Act
2 shall not affect any proceedings or any application
3 for any license pending before the Federal Aviation
4 Administration at the time this Act takes effect, in-
5 sofar as those functions are transferred by this Act;
6 but such proceedings and applications, to the extent
7 that they relate to functions so transferred, shall be
8 continued. Orders shall be issued in such pro-
9 ceedings, appeals shall be taken therefrom, and pay-
10 ments shall be made pursuant to such orders, as if
11 this Act had not been enacted; and orders issued in 12 any such proceedings shall continue in effect until
13 modified, terminated, superseded, or revoked by a
14 duly authorized official, by a court of competent ju-
15 risdiction, or by operation of law.

16 (2) STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION.—Nothing in
17 this subsection shall be deemed to prohibit the dis-
18 continuance or modification of any proceeding de-
19 scribed in paragraph (1) under the same terms and
20 conditions and to the same extent that such pro-
21 ceeding could have been discontinued or modified if
22 this Act had not been enacted.

23 (3) ORDERLY TRANSFER.—The Secretary of
24 Transportation is authorized to provide for the or-

OFFICE OF THE CLERK
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20541

1 derly transfer of pending proceedings from the Fed-
2 eral Aviation Administration.

3 (d) SUITS.—

4 (1) IN GENERAL.—This Act shall not affect
5 suits commenced before the date of the enactment of
6 this Act, except as provided in paragraphs (2) and
7 (3). In all such suits, proceeding shall be had, ap-
8 peals taken, and judgments rendered in the same
9 manner and with the same effect as if this Act had
10 not been enacted.

11 (2) SUITS BY OR AGAINST FAA.—Any suit by or
12 against the Federal Aviation Administration begun
13 before the date of the enactment of this Act shall be
14 continued, insofar as it involves a function retained
15 and transferred under this Act, with the Transpor-
16 tation Security Administration (to the extent the
17 suit involves functions transferred to the Transpor-
18 tation Security Administration under this Act) sub-
19 stituted for the Federal Aviation Administration.

20 (3) REMANDED CASES.—If the court in a suit
21 described in paragraph (1) remands a case to the
22 Transportation Security Administration, subsequent
23 proceedings related to such case shall proceed in ac-
24 cordance with applicable law and regulations as in
25 effect at the time of such subsequent proceedings.

1 (e) CONTINUANCE OF ACTIONS AGAINST OFFI-
2 CERS.—No suit, action, or other proceeding commenced
3 by or against any officer in his official capacity as an offi-
4 cer of the Federal Aviation Administration shall abate by
5 reason of the enactment of this Act. No cause of action
6 by or against the Federal Aviation Administration, or by
7 or against any officer thereof in his official capacity, shall
8 abate by reason of the enactment of this Act.

9 (f) EXERCISE OF AUTHORITIES.—Except as other-
10 wise provided by law, an officer or employee of the Trans-
11 portation Security Administration may, for purposes of
12 performing a function transferred by this Act or the
13 amendments made by this Act, exercise all authorities
14 under any other provision of law that were available with
15 respect to the performance of that function to the official
16 responsible for the performance of the function imme-
17 diately before the effective date of the transfer of the func-
18 tion under this Act.

19 (g) ACT DEFINED.—In this section, the term “Act”
20 includes the amendments made by this Act.

21 SEC. 142. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS.

22 The President’s budget submission for fiscal year
23 2003 and each fiscal year thereafter shall reflect the estab-
24 lishment of the Transportation Security Administration.

1 SEC. 143. LAND ACQUISITION COSTS.

2 In the case of a grant for land acquisition issued to
3 an airport under chapter 471 of title 49, United States
4 Code, prior to January 1, 1995, the Secretary of Trans-
5 portation may waive the provisions of section 47108 of
6 such title and provide an upward adjustment in the max-
7 imum obligation of the United States under that chapter
8 to assist the airport in funding land acquisition costs (and 9 associated eligible costs) that increased as a result of a
10 judicial order.

11 SEC. 144. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY FOR ACTS TO THWART
12 CRIMINAL VIOLENCE OR AIRCRAFT PIRACY.

13 Section 44903 is amended by adding at the end the
14 following:

15 "(h) LIMITATION ON LIABILITY FOR ACTS TO
16 THWART CRIMINAL VIOLENCE OR AIRCRAFT PIRACY.—
17 An individual shall not be liable for damages in any action
18 brought in a Federal or State court arising out of the acts
19 of the individual in attempting to thwart an act of criminal
20 violence or piracy on an aircraft if that individual reason-
21 ably believed that such an act of criminal violence or pi-
22 racy was occurring or was about to occur."

23 SEC. 145. AIR CARRIERS REQUIRED TO HONOR TICKETS
24 FOR SUSPENDED SERVICE.

25 (a) IN GENERAL.—Each air carrier that provides
26 scheduled air transportation on a route shall provide, to

1 the extent practicable, air transportation to passengers
2 ticketed for air transportation on that route by any other
3 air carrier that suspends, interrupts, or discontinues air
4 passenger service on the route by reason of insolvency or
5 bankruptcy of the other air carrier.

6 (b) PASSENGER OBLIGATION.—An air carrier is not
7 required to provide air transportation under subsection (a)
8 to a passenger unless that passenger makes alternative ar-
9 rangements with the air carrier for such transportation
10 within 60 days after the date on which that passenger's
11 air transportation was suspended, interrupted, or discon-
12 tinued (without regard to the originally scheduled travel
13 date on the ticket).

14 (c) SUNSET.—This section does not apply to air
15 transportation the suspension, interruption, or discontinu-
16 ance of which occurs more than 18 months after the date
17 of enactment of this Act.

18 SEC. 146. AIRCRAFT OPERATIONS IN ENHANCED CLASS B
19 AIRSPACE.

20 Upon request of an operator of an aircraft affected
21 by the restrictions imposed under Notice to Airmen FDC
22 1/0618 issued by the Federal Aviation Administration, or
23 any other notice issued after September 11, 2001, and
24 prior to the date of enactment of this Act that restricts
25 the ability of United States registered aircraft to conduct

1 operations under part 91 of title 14, Code of Federal Reg-
2 ulations, in enhanced class B airspace (as defined by such
3 Notice), such restrictions shall cease to be in effect for
4 the affected class of operator beginning on the 30th day
5 following the request, unless the Secretary of Transpor-
6 tation publishes a notice in the Federal Register before
7 such 30th day reimposing the restriction and explaining
8 the reasons for the restriction.

9 SEC. 147. AVIATION WAR RISK INSURANCE.

10 Section 44306(b) of title 49, United States Code, is 11 amended by striking "60 days" each place it appears and
12 inserting "1 year".

13 TITLE II—LIABILITY LIMITATION

14 SEC. 201. AIR TRANSPORTATION SAFETY AND SYSTEM STA-
15 BILIZATION ACT AMENDMENTS.

16 (a) RECOVERY OF COLLATERAL SOURCE OBLIGA-
17 TIONS OF TERRORISTS.—Section 405(c)(3)(B)(i) of the 18 Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act
19 (49 U.S.C. 40101 note) is amended by striking "obliga-
20 tions." and inserting "obligations, or to a civil action
21 against any person who is a knowing participant in any
22 conspiracy to hijack any aircraft or commit any terrorist
23 act."

1 (b) EXTENSION OF LIABILITY RELIEF TO AIRCRAFT
2 MANUFACTURERS AND OTHERS.—Section 408 of that Act
3 is amended—

4 (1) by striking “air carrier” in the section
5 heading;

6 (2) by striking subsection (a) and inserting the
7 following:

8 “(a) IN GENERAL.—

9 “(1) LIABILITY LIMITED TO INSURANCE COV-
10 ERAGE.—Notwithstanding any other provision of
11 law, liability for all claims, whether for compen-
12 satory or punitive damages or for contribution or in-
13 demnity, arising from the terrorist-related aircraft
14 crashes of September 11, 2001, against an air car-
15 rier, aircraft manufacturer, airport sponsor, or per-
16 son with a property interest in the World Trade
17 Center, on September 11, 2001, whether fee simple,
18 leasehold or easement, direct or indirect, or their di-
19 rectors, officers, employees, or agents, shall not be
20 in an amount greater than the limits of liability in-
21 surance coverage maintained by that air carrier, air-
22 craft manufacturer, airport sponsor, or person.

23 “(2) WILLFUL DEFAULTS ON REBUILDING OB-
24 LIGATION.—Paragraph (1) does not apply to any
25 such person with a property interest in the World

1 Trade Center if the Attorney General determines.
2 after notice and an opportunity for a hearing on the
3 record, that the person has defaulted willfully on a
4 contractual obligation to rebuild, or assist in the re-
5 building of, the World Trade Center.

6 “(3) LIMITATIONS ON LIABILITY FOR NEW
7 YORK CITY.—Liability for all claims, whether for
8 compensatory or punitive damages or for contribu-
9 tion or indemnity arising from the terrorist-related
10 aircraft crashes of September 11, 2001, against the
11 City of New York shall not exceed the greater of the 12 city’s insurance coverage or $350,000,000. If a
13 claimant who is eligible to seek compensation under
14 section 405 of this Act, submits a claim under sec-
15 tion 405, the claimant waives the right to file a civil
16 action (or to be a party to an action) in any Federal
17 or State court for damages sustained as a result of
18 the terrorist-related aircraft crashes of September
19 11, 2001, including any such action against the City
20 of New York. The preceding sentence does not apply
21 to a civil action to recover collateral source obliga-
22 tions.”; and

23 (3) by adding at the end of subsection (c) the 24 following: “Subsections (a) and (b) do not apply to
25 civil actions to recover collateral source obligations.

1 Nothing in this section shall in any way limit any li-
2 ability of any person who is engaged in the business
3 of providing air transportation security and who is
4 not an airline or airport sponsor or director, officer,
5 or employee of an airline or airport sponsor.”.

6 (c) LIMITATION OF UNITED STATES SUBROGATION
7 RIGHT.—Section 409 of that Act is amended by striking
8 “title.” and inserting “title, subject to the limitations de-
9 scribed in section 408.”.

10 (d) DEFINITIONS.—Section 402 of that Act is 11 amended—

12 (1) by adding at the end of paragraph (1) the
13 following: “The term ‘air carrier’ does not include a
14 person, other than an air carrier, engaged in the 15 business of providing air transportation security.”.

16 (2) by redesignating paragraphs (3) through
17 (8) as paragraphs (5) through (10), respectively;
18 and

19 (3) by inserting after paragraph (2) the fol-
20 lowing:

21 “(3) AIRCRAFT MANUFACTURER.—The term
22 ‘aircraft manufacturer’ means any entity that manu-
23 factured the aircraft or any parts or components of 24 the aircraft involved in the terrorist related aircraft

1 crashes of September 11, 2001, including employees
2 and agents of that entity.

3 “(4) AIRPORT SPONSOR.—The term ‘airport
4 sponsor’ means the owner or operator of an airport
5 (as defined in section 40102 of title 49, United
6 States Code).”.

I was speaking with Carol Harvey who is putting on the schedule c conference on Monday. She said you were speaking at 4pm, right after Elaine Kaplan at 3:30. Just so you know, Elaine Kaplan is the head of the Office of Special Counsel who, among other things, is responsible for Hatch Act enforcement. I thought you'd want to know. If you have time, you might consider attending her session. She's a pretty good speaker, and you may find the content helpful.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the Senate and House at the conference on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses on the amendment of the House of Representatives to the bill (S. 1447), to improve aviation security, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the Senate and House in explanation of the effects of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences between the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clerical changes.

1. SHORT TITLE

Senate bill

Section 1: "Aviation Security Act".

House amendment

Section 1: "Airport Security Federalization Act of 2001"

Conference substitute

The title of the legislation will be "The Aviation and Transportation Security Act."

2. FINDINGS

Senate bill

Section 101: 7 findings on the importance of security and the need for Federal control and other changes.

House amendment

No provision

Conference substitute

The conferees recognize that the safety and security of the civil air transportation system is critical to the security of the United States and its national defense, and that a safe and secure United States civil air transportation system is essential to the basic freedom of America to move in intrastate, interstate and international transportation. The conferees further note the terrorist hijacking and crashes of passenger aircraft on September 11, 2001, which converted civil aircraft into guided bombs for strikes against the United States, required a fundamental change in the way it approaches the task of ensuring the safety and security of the civil air transportation system.

(1)

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have instructed the Secretary to work with the TSOB to develop a data base that will allow the cross checking of the people on "watch lists" of various Federal law enforcement agencies to identify individuals that may pose a risk to security in an effort to identify potential risks to civil aviation. Passenger lists should be used in conjunction with this data base to help target those individuals that pose a threat, and allow appropriate action to be taken.

17. TERRORISM REPORT

Senate bill

Section 103(b): Require reports on all terrorism. Reports to be shared with DOT.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the intelligence community to ensure that reports on terrorism are shared with the DOT.

18. STRATEGIC PLANNING

Senate bill

Section 103(c): Require intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

19. COCKPIT SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 104: FAA shall issue a rule, without notice and comment, permitting only authorized persons to have access to the cockpit, requiring strengthening the door by installing locks and making them rigid, requiring the door to remain locked during flight except when the pilot needs to get out, and taking away the flight attendants key.

Special rules shall be issued for aircraft that do not have a door.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent the Under Secretary considers appropriate, the Under Secretary shall, after consultation with FAA, implement methods to restrict the opening of the cockpit door during flight and fortify those doors.

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Funds are authorized to help airlines pay for this.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report prohibits access to the flight deck of passenger aircraft by anyone other than the flight crew. Flight deck doors must be strengthened and remain locked while aircraft is in flight. Video cameras may be provided to alert pilots to cabin activity in the event of a security breach occurring during the flight.

These provisions apply to aircraft required to have a door between the flight deck and cabin. The Conferees also seek the redesign of cockpits to ensure the doors are secured at all times during flight. Redesign can encompass new flight deck materials, double doors to the cockpit as are used in Israel, and lavatories within the flight deck so that flight crew do not leave the flight deck. Once bathroom facilities are provided for the flight crew of passenger aircraft, the cockpit door no longer will need to be opened during flight.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to take into consideration the threat to aviation and national security when developing means to secure the flight deck on commuter aircraft. Any new burdens should be appropriate for the risk.

20. AIR MARSHALS

Senate bill

Section 105: Attorney General prescribes guidelines for training and deployment of sky marshals. DOT administers the program in accordance with these guidelines:

(1) Marshals may be placed on every flight but must be placed on every flight that DOT determines to be high risk.

(2) Marshals must be deployed in 30 days.

(3) Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

(4) DOT shall work with ICAO and foreign governments to address security concerns on foreign airlines.

(5) DOT may use personnel from other agencies, including the military, as air marshals.

Section 105: Waives age requirements for retired police, military and out-of-work pilots to work as air marshals, if they meet the background and fitness qualifications.

Report required in 18 months.

House bill

Section 105: Under Secretary deploys air marshals, provides for their background checks, trains them, and requires U.S. airlines to provide seats for them at no cost.

Preference for hiring laid off airline pilots as marshals.

Marshals must be placed on selected flights.

Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

DOT shall work with foreign governments to address security concerns on international flights from the U.S.

Until the Under Secretary has all the air marshals needed, personnel from other agencies may be used, with the other agency's concurrence, as air marshals on a non-reimbursable basis.

Airlines must provide seats, on a space-available basis, to off-duty marshals flying home.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that appropriately trained, supervised and equipped Federal Air Marshals (FAMs) may be deployed on every scheduled passenger flight, and must be placed on every "high risk" flight, which may include nonstop longhaul flights, or any other flight deemed appropriate, even if the flight is fully booked. For applicants who otherwise meet the background and fitness requirements, age restrictions may be waived to allow

of the 9-11-01.

(cockpit and cabin)

retired law enforcement officers, retired members of the armed forces, and members of commercial airline crews who have been furloughed from their positions. Personnel from other agencies may be deployed, with the agency's concurrence, as FAMs until an adequate number of FAMs are in place. Additionally, agreements may be entered into allowing trained law enforcement personnel from other agencies to travel with firearms in order to assist FAMs.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to follow air carrier passenger reservations and cancellation practices to the extent practicable. The Under Secretary should work cooperatively with air carriers to develop guidelines concerning reservations and cancellation for the transportation of Federal Air Marshals.

21. SCREENING

Senate bill

Section 108: Attorney General, in consultation with DOT, shall provide for screening of all passengers, property, mail, and cargo that will be carried aboard an aircraft.

Federal employees shall do screening.

Airport and airline employees shall be screened in the same way, except alternative methods may be used for security personnel.

Attorney General shall use screening technology approved by FAA.

Law enforcement personnel shall be deployed at each screening location.

At the 100 largest airports, additional police may be ordered.

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 120 days on effectiveness of security screening.

Section 106: DOJ and DOT may permit operational flexibility to tailor screening needs for seasonal variations, aircraft types, and special needs of small airports.

Section 108: Attorney General may require non-hub or smaller airports to use State or local law enforcement if the screening will be equivalent to that at larger airports, the training meets Federal standards, the airport is reimbursed by funds made available by this Act, and the airport is consulted.

House bill

Section 102: Federal government is responsible for screening passengers and property on passenger aircraft that originate in the U.S.. Silent on whether screeners are to be Federal employees or private contractors. Under Secretary shall deputize screeners to enforce Federal laws, but not to arrest people. Screeners must have common uniforms. Must be supervised by uniformed Federal employees.

Section 107: Under Secretary should consider certifying screeners and use TIP or similar technologies to measure their performance and revoke their certification if their performance is inadequate.

Section 104: Airport required to deploy law enforcement or military personnel at each screening location. Law enforcement can be either Federal or local.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the Federal government to hire, train and deploy Federal screeners, Federal managers, Federal security personnel and Federal law enforcement within 1 year. The participants in this Federal security workforce will not be able to strike or engage in work stoppages, and can be fired at the discretion of the Secretary if they are not able to adequately perform their duties.

The Conferees recognize that, in order to ensure that Federal screeners are able to provide the best security possible, the Secretary must be given wide latitude to determine the terms of employment of screeners. The Conference Committee expects that, in fixing the terms and conditions of employment the Secretary shall establish benefits and conditions of employment. The Conference Committee also recognizes that, in order to hire and retain screeners, the Secretary should also ensure that screeners have access to Federal health, life insurance, and retirement benefits, as well as workers' compensation benefits. The Committee believes that screening personnel must also be given whistleblower protections so that screeners may report security conditions without fear of reprisal.

The Conference Report requires the DOT to assume existing screening company contracts as soon as possible, but no later than 90 days after enactment of this legislation. The contracts for existing screeners can be extended for up to 6 months, and the DOT would have the option to extend contracts for no longer than 3 months, if necessary, to continue screening. DOT may also authorize additional Federal law enforcement, National Guard, and other personnel immediately to address the aviation security needs of the country.

The Conferees direct the Secretary to provide a report after one year from the date of enactment certifying deployment of the Federal screeners. Two years after certification airports can opt out of the Federalization of the screener level of the Federal workforce if the Secretary determines that these facilities would continue to provide an equal or higher level of security. Companies will be barred from providing screening if they violate federal standards, are found to allow repeated failures of the system, or prove to be a security risk. The DOT will also establish a Pilot Program for 5 airports, one from each category type, to apply for the use of private contract screeners.

Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the Act, the conferees expect the Transportation Security Administration to submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the screening requirements applicable to passengers boarding, and property being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or less used in scheduled passenger service with recommendations for any necessary changes in those requirements.

22. CITIZENSHIP OF SECURITY FIRMS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 104: Must be owned or controlled by a citizen of the U.S. to the extent the President determines that there are such firms.

Section 123(e): Similar sense of Congress.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that U.S. companies should be used to provide screening if they are available.

23. TRAINING OF PILOTS AND FLIGHT ATTENDANTS

Senate bill

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 6 months on crew training.

Section 107: DOT shall develop a mandatory airline training program for crews dealing with a hijacking. Training shall be developed in coordination with law enforcement experts.

House bill

Section 106: Under Secretary should consider updating training for dealing with hijacking that includes ways for dealing with suicidal hijackers. Report six months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that detailed guidance shall be developed for a mandatory air carrier training program to assist flight crews and attendants in hijack situations. The training curriculum will be developed in consultation with Federal law enforcement agencies with expertise in dealing with these types of threat conditions.

24. HOW FLIGHT ATTENDANTS NOTIFY PILOTS OF A HIJACKING

Senate bill

Section 107: FAA shall revise procedures by which flight attendants notify pilots and implement new measures as soon as practicable.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary should consider requiring the installation of switches in the cabin so that the flight attendants can discreetly notify the pilots.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Under Secretary to consider the installation of a switch to be located in the cabin for flight attendants to notify pilots in the event of a hijacking without the knowledge of passengers. or other devices

25. PROVISION OF PERSONNEL FROM OTHER AGENCIES

Senate bill

Section 105: Amends section 106(m) to allow other agencies to provide personnel to FAA.

House bill

Section 102(d): Same provision, worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conferees call upon other agencies to provide personnel that has received the proper training for use by the FAA as Federal air marshals (FAMs) in an effort to support and supplement ~~that~~ the FAM workforce in its early stages.

26. AIRPORT PERIMETER ACCESS SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 106: DOT may order deployment of law enforcement personnel as needed to bolster airport security by entering into an agreement with another agency to deploy Federal law enforcement at airports.

Section 106(b): FAA shall provide technical support and financial assistance to small airports to help defray security costs.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have given the Secretary the ability to work with the airports to address potential threats at individual facilities by ordering the deployment of Federal law enforcement authorities to improve airport perimeter and access security in an effort to counter potential criminal activities. Such actions also can include providing increased security at air traffic control facilities. Additionally, the FAA Administrator will develop a plan to provide technical support to enable small- and medium-sized airports to enhance their security operations, and shall include using network digital video surveillance systems.

27. INDIVIDUALS WITH ACCESS TO SECURE AREAS OF THE AIRPORT

Senate bill

See item 21

Section 106(a): DOT, in consultation with ASOC, shall consider whether such individuals should be screened.

Section 106(d): Amend 44903(g)(2) to delete 1/31/01 deadline and beef up language on access control requirements.

Consider deployment of biometric technologies.

Establish pilot programs at 20 airports to test new technologies.

DOT shall require airlines and airports to develop security awareness programs for employees.

Section 211: Within 6 months, DOT shall recommend to airports commercially available ways to prevent access to secure areas. As part of this, DOT shall review effectiveness of biometric and other systems, focus on eliminating piggy-backing, and include a 12-month deployment strategy for currently available technology at Category X airports. Not later than 18 months, DOT shall conduct a review of reductions in unauthorized access.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary shall consider imposing standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles that have access to secure areas and provide for the use of technology to verify the identity of those vehicles entering a secure area. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that all individuals, goods, property, vehicles, and other equipment seeking access to secure areas must be screened and inspected before entry. The Conference Committee instructs that prescribed requirements should provide at least the same level of protection as the screening of passengers and baggage. The Conferees, however, recognize that these requirements may make allowances for tools and equipment necessary to perform duties in secure areas. The Secretary will examine the physical configuration of individual airports, and consider the views of the TSOB to consider implementing standards to protect the integrity of secure areas.

28. BAN ON PARKING OF VEHICLES WITHIN 300 FEET OF TERMINAL

Senate bill

Section 106(b): FAA, in consultation with local law enforcement, shall reexamine the need for 300 feet restriction.

House bill

Section 121: Removes this parking ban if the airport, in consultation with local law enforcement, certifies to DOT, after doing a threat assessment, that safeguards are in place to protect public safety.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that all airports must consult with local law enforcement and inform DOT that proper safeguards are in place to ensure that parked vehicles are not a security risk. Each airport must submit views regarding its assessment of the needs of their facility.

29. CHECKED BAGGAGE

Senate bill

See item 9

Section 201(b)(1): Requirement for all baggage to be screened within 9 months.

FAA must establish within 60 days confidential goals for scanning a specific percentage of checked bags within 6 months and annual goals thereafter eventually scanning 100%.

Section 201(c) - page 85 FAA shall require airlines to upgrade the bag match system. Shall establish goals within 60 days to accomplish this including interim measures to match a higher percentage of bags until bomb detectors are used to scan 100% of bags.

Confidential report to Congress in 1 year.

House bill

See item 9

Section 106: All checked baggage must be screened by December 31, 2003. All existing explosive detection equipment must be used to the maximum extent possible.

Additional explosive detection equipment must be installed as soon as possible.

In the interim, airlines must implement a bag match program.

A system must be in place as soon as possible to screen cargo transported in passenger aircraft.

Section 123(d): Sense of Congress that all checked baggage should be screened by any available means.

Conference substitute

The Conferees feel strongly that all baggage to be placed on passenger flights must be screened. Existing technology, including EDS, should be used and upgraded in an effort to ensure that all checked baggage goes through such a system. Any baggage that does not go through EDS will be required to go through some form of manual or other comparable screening system. An alternate system of screening cargo should also be established, and periodic reports issued to provide an understanding of the progress made on these efforts.

30. COMPUTER ASSISTED PASSENGER PROFILING SYSTEM (CAPPS)

Senate bill

Section 201(d): FAA shall make all passengers subject to CAPPS even if they don't check bags so that their carry-ons and person will be subject to additional security measures. Report within 3 months.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASCC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to CAPPS and to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies. Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106(9): The Under Secretary should consider providing the enhanced use of CAPPS to more effectively screen passengers and carry-on baggage. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that an enhanced and upgraded use of the Computer Assisted Passenger Pre-Screening System (CAPPS) must be considered to more effectively screen passengers and baggage. The Conferees also recognize that adjustments may need to be made to reflect circumstances in some areas of the U.S., including State with unique transportation needs.

31. DEPUTIZING FOR ENFORCEMENT OF FEDERAL SECURITY LAWS

Senate bill

Section 108(b): Requires Attorney General to deputize State and local law enforcement to regulate screening at non-hubs.

House bill

Private contractor employees deputized.

Conference substitute

No provision.

32. HIRING AND TRAINING OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: DOJ, in consultation with DOT, shall establish a program for the hiring and training of screeners. Hiring qualifications shall be set in 30 days. Includes list of qualifications screeners must meet such as education and language requirements. Training plans must be developed within 60 days. Requires 40 hours of classroom training and 60 hours of on the job training. Current lists of dual use items (seemingly harmless items that could be used as a weapon) shall be part of the training. Section 104 - page 16

House bill

Under Secretary may set minimum pay for screeners. Preference shall be given to veterans in the hiring of screeners and laid off airline workers. Final rule for certification of screening companies changed from May 31, 2001 to 6 months after date of enactment. In the meantime, within 30 days of enactment, the standards in the proposed rule, such as education and language requirements, shall be in effect. All screeners must be in approved uniforms.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

33. CITIZENSHIP OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: Must have been a national of the U.S. for at least 5 years.

House bill

Section 104(a): Must be U.S. citizens.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that all airport screeners must be citizens of the U.S.

34. STATUS OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(d): Notwithstanding any law, the Attorney General may hire, fire, and pay screeners as he determines necessary.

House bill

Section 102: Federal supervisor can order the dismissal of any screener.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report provides the Under Secretary the authority to employ, terminate and fix the conditions of employment for the Federal screening workforce.

35. STRIKES BY SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(e): Strikes prohibited pursuant to Title 5.

House bill

Section 102: Strikes prohibited.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that the airport screening workforce will be prohibited from striking. The Conferees have provided the Transportation Security Administration authority to utilize existing authority provided to the FAA to develop personnel and acquisition systems. The authority gives the Administration flexibility to design its own policies and procedures and not use the FAA's system, while retaining the legal requirements under sections 40110 and 40112.

36. BACKGROUND CHECKS

Senate bill

Section 109(f): Requires background checks for current screeners and others with access to the airport.

Section 201(a): Requires background checks for current screeners and others to be completed in 9 months unless the person has had such a check in the past 5 years. Alternative checks shall be developed for those who have lived in the U.S. for less than 5 years.

House bill

Section 107: Allows smaller airports to use the same expedited procedures for criminal history background checks as the larger airports now use. (Under the 2000 Security Act these expedited procedures do not go into effect at smaller airports until 2003.)

Requires background check (including review of government data bases) for all current screeners and those with access to secure

areas except for those who have already had such a check or those who are exempted by FAA rules from such checks.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

The Conferees encourage the Under Secretary to provide channeling authority to professional organizations representing industry to FBI AFIS fingerprint databases to perform criminal history verification of aviation business employees. (S) ✓

37. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Senate bill

Section 110: Amends section 44912 to require periodic reviews of threats to civil aviation and the potential for the release of biological and chemical weapons. A person shall be designated to be responsible for security research. The person shall file an annual report on research activities. A scientific advisory panel shall be established. DOT shall coordinate research with DOJ.

Section 221: Authorizes $50 million per year to research various security technologies.

House bill

Section 101: Transfers security research from FAA to the TSA. The TSA can use FAA research facilities.

Conference substitute

A modified version of the Senate provision.

38. FLIGHT SCHOOLS

Senate bill

Section 111: Regarding jet-propelled aircraft, a person shall not give flight instruction, including instruction in simulator, to an alien (or other person specified by DOT) unless DOJ issues that person a certificate of completion of the background check of the alien. Requests for the background check shall be made jointly by the alien and the flight school. Investigation must be completed in 30 days. Investigation includes fingerprint check, immigration check, and a determination of whether alien is a national security risk. Expedited procedures shall be developed for an alien seeking recurrent training. Penalties for violations shall be developed by DOT rulemaking. Flight schools shall report aliens that they train.

Section 111(c): DOT and State shall work with ICAO to improve screening of student pilots.

House bill

Section 106(13): The Under Secretary should consider requiring background checks on individuals seeking flying lessons (including simulator lessons) on aircraft weighing more than 12,500 pounds. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter until the Under Secretary implements the checks or decides not to require them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that flight school training for aircraft with a minimum certificated weight of 12,500 pounds or more should not be allowed for any alien within the United States unless they have passed a sufficient background check. Such individuals seeking to attend flight school may begin pilot training after 45 days or upon being certified as having passed a background investigation regarding their criminal history and immigration status. A

1 And the House agree to the same.

security awareness program will be developed to assist employees that work at flight schools by helping to increase their awareness of a potential threat.

39. PENALTIES

Senate bill

Section 114: Imposes criminal penalties for interfering with security personnel at a commercial service airport.

House bill

Section 116(c): Transfers the relevant civil penalty authorities from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that an individual who disrupts the duties of security screening personnel within a commercial service airport shall be fined and/or imprisoned for up to 10 years. The use of a dangerous weapon to interfere with security screening may result in up to life imprisonment.

40. INTRASTATE AIR SERVICE

Senate bill

Section 116: DOT may grant antitrust exemptions to ensure continued viability of air service in that State.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that DOT may grant anti-trust immunity to ensure continued viability of air service within a state. If the Secretary approves any such request, a report must be given to the relevant Senate and House Committees within six months of the approval describing what actions have been taken by the carriers receiving the exemption.

41. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS

Senate bill

Section 117: DOT shall require all airlines to use the best technology to ensure that their systems are secure from unauthorized access. DOT shall submit an annual report on compliance.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

Under the direction of the Conference Report airlines are required to take action that will prevent unauthorized access to computer reservation systems and the information they contain on passengers. Technology should be utilized to the greatest extent possible to ensure the integrity of these systems.

42. FEES

Senate bill

Section 118(a): Within 180 days, airlines remit a $2.50 fee per enplanement.

House bill

Section 108: Under Secretary shall impose a fee of not more than $2.50 per one-way trip. The amount of the fee shall be reasonably related to the costs of providing the screening service. In addition, a fee can be imposed directly on the airlines but it cannot be more than the airlines paid for screening services in 2000. Fees shall be credited as off-setting collections. Passengers using airports where screening services are not provided may be exempted from the fee.

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute requires a fee to be charged to cover the cost of providing the aviation security services. The fee will be based on the number of times a passenger boards a plane during the course of travel, but will be capped at $5.00 per one-way trip. Any additional funds needed will be authorized to be appropriated or may come from a fee imposed directly on the airlines.

The Secretary may waive or modify the security fee to take into account the isolation of certain communities. In determining whether to waive or modify this fee, the Secretary shall consider the costs of transportation security and the benefits of transportation security that is bestowed on those communities. The Conference substitute amends section 45301(b) of title 49, United States Code, with respect to limitations on overflight fees to (1) to make the language consistent with the new security fee language of this Act, and (2) to clarify Congressional intent with respect to the FAA costs upon which the fees can be based. Specifically, the conference substitute replaces the word "directly" with "reasonably", since the word "directly" has been a source of much confusion and narrow interpretation, and has been a primary cause of recurring litigation which has frustrated and delayed the FAA's imposition of the overflight fees for a number of years. Additionally, this amendment specifies that the FAA's costs upon which the fees are based are to be determined solely by the Administrator. This is to clarify that the Administrator has full authority to determine costs by appropriate means. This amendment is not intended to require revision of the fees recently promulgated by the FAA (66 FR 43680, Aug. 20, 2001) but rather, to clarify longstanding Congressional intent that the FAA expeditiously and continuously collect the fees authorized under section 45301(a) of title 49.

43. AUTHORIZATION

Senate bill

Section 118(b): Authorizes such sums for the next 3 years as may be necessary to carry out the security functions.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes such sums as may be necessary to the TSA for operating costs and for screening services not covered by the above fee.

Authorizes $500 million for grants to airlines to fortify cockpit doors, install video monitors to view the passenger cabin, ensure continuous operation of transponder, and use of other technologies.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report authorizes the necessary spending for the cost of providing aviation security.

44. AIRPORT FUNDING

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 119(a): Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay security costs in FY 2002 for any cost incurred after 9/11 regardless of when it was incurred. Waives the local matching share. In deciding whether to make a discretionary AIP grant for security costs, the availability and use of non-Federal funding by the airport shall be considered.

Section 120: Authorizes such sums in 2002 to compensate airports for security costs. Costs must be documented and subject to an IG audit. DOT shall publish procedures for filing claims in 30 days.

Section 119(c): PFC requests for security funding should be expedited.

Section 119(b): For the purpose of determining AIP entitlements in FY 2003, enplanements in 2000 or 2001, whichever is higher, shall be used.

Section 201(b): Modifying terminal and baggage systems in order to install bomb detection equipment is made AIP eligible. Section 113: Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay for added law enforcement costs in at a non-hub or small hub airport regardless of when the cost was incurred.

Waives the local matching share.

In FY 2002, allows AIP and PFC money to be used to pay debt service if that would prevent an airport, or privately owned terminal, from defaulting on its bond.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes a total of $1.5 billion in 2002 and 2003 to reimburse airports for direct costs they incurred to meet new security requirements. Such sums to remain available until expended. Before getting the money, the airport must agree to meet with its concessionaires to discuss rent adjustments and provide an itemized list of costs incurred.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

45. COMPETITION PLANS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(a): Waives an airport's obligation to submit a competition plan in FY 2002 when it is seeking money to improve security.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report waives the obligation of an airport to submit a competition plan in FY '02 when seeking money to improve security.

46. REPORTING SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITIES

Senate bill

Section 121: Exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing, in good faith, suspicious activity. DOJ shall establish procedures to notify the FAA of people who may pose a risk of hijacking. Report shall be submitted in 120 days on the implementation of this notification.

House bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report encourages and exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing suspicious activities in response to a "reasonably believed" threat.

47. ARMING PILOTS

Senate bill

Section 122: National Institute of Justice shall assess non-lethal weapons for use by pilots and report to DOT in 90 days. After receiving report, DOT may authorize pilots to carry such weapons. DOT shall establish training and procedural requirements for using these weapons.

Section 125: Authorizes FAA to permit a pilot with proper training to carry a gun in the cockpit. FAA shall establish a training program. Report shall be submitted every 6 months on the effectiveness of this provision.

House bill

Section 106: DOT cannot take any action to prevent a pilot from taking a gun into the cockpit if the policy of the airline allows it and the pilot has completed a training program acceptable to the Under Secretary.

Conference substitute

A pilot is authorized to carry an approved firearm into the cockpit if approved by the Under Secretary and the air carrier, and the pilot has received proper training.

48. ISOLATED COMMUNITIES

Senate bill

Section 123: During an emergency, DOT, after consulting with the ASCC, may grant waivers on flight restrictions to allow flights carrying freight, mail, patients, and medical supplies to areas with extraordinary transportation needs given isolation of the area and if the waiver is in the public interest.

House bill

Section 120: Similar provision but worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that during an emergency DOT may grant waivers on flight restrictions to areas with extraordinary transportation needs.

49. SUPPLIES ON BOARD AIRCRAFT

Senate bill

Section 124: DOT shall ensure the safety of food and other supplies on aircraft by sealing packages, screening personnel and vehicles, etc.

House bill

See item 27

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that DOT should establish procedures to ensure the safety and security of on-board supplies for intrastate passenger aircraft. The Secretary will establish procedures that may increase security for the point of origin of the supplier, provide for sealed supplies, and the screening of the supplies as they enter the airport.

50. AIRMAN REGISTRY

Senate bill

Section 126: Directs FAA to modify the registry to make it more effective in combating terrorism. FAA should work with State and locals to assist in identifying those applying for or holding airmen certificates.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the FAA must take steps to make the airman registry more effective to combat terrorism by working with the appropriate authorities to assist in properly identifying persons applying for or in possession of airmen certificates.

51. PASSENGER MANIFESTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 111: Within 60 days, U.S. and foreign airlines on international flights to the U.S. must provide to the Under Secretary (or another agency) by electronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest with specified information.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires air carriers to use the Air Passenger Information System (APIS) to provide a crew and passenger manifest and related information to Customs for each flight.

52. RESULTS-BASED MANAGEMENT

Senate bill

Section 127: With 60 days, DOT shall establish acceptable performance levels for aviation security and provide Congress with an action plan clarifying the responsibilities of the government agencies involved. Each year, a performance plan shall be made available. Any contracts to implement this Act shall try to maximize the use of performance based service contracts.

House bill

Section 106(7): Consider establishing performance goals for screeners. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter until this is implemented or rejected.

Conference substitute

Modified Senate provision.

53. EMPLOYMENT REGISTER

Senate bill

Section 128(a): DOT shall establish and maintain an employment register.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

No provision.

54. TRAINING FACILITIES

Senate bill

Section 128(b): DOT may use FAA training facilities to train security screeners.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Secretary to use existing Federal training facilities, where possible, to address the training needs of security screening personnel.

55. AIRSPACE RESTRICTIONS

Senate bill

Section 129: President shall submit a report within 30 days describing any airspace restrictions that remain in place and the justification for those restrictions.

House bill

Section 119: The restrictions on Class B airspace shall cease to be in effect 10 days after enactment unless a notice is published prior to the 10th day reimposing and explaining the reasons for those restrictions.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to lift restrictions on Class B airspace under specified requirements.

56. VOLUNTEERS

Senate bill

Section 130: DOT shall carry out a program to permit police, firefighters, and paramedics to provide emergency services during flight. Exempts from liability those who help in an emergency. This does not authorize the possession of firearms.

House bill

No provision but exemption from liability seems to be covered by existing law, section 5(b) of Aviation Medical Assistance Act.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to implement a program that will allow qualified law enforcement, firefighters and emergency service technicians to assist in the event of an emergency during commercial air flights. This program will establish the credentials of volunteers, maintain their confidentiality and exempt them from liability.

57. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 110: Limits liability of passenger or crew who hurts a person they, in good faith, believe was hijacking or about to hijack the plane.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report exempts passengers and crew from liability if an individual "reasonably believed" that a hijacking was occurring.

58. GENERAL AVIATION SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 131: FAA shall begin a security program for aircraft over 12,500 pounds within 90 days. Waivers from this requirement can be granted. A security program for smaller aircraft shall begin in 1 year. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

Aircraft may not be sold or leased to an alien unless a background check has been done or until the security programs described above are implemented.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference report directs the Secretary to provide Congress a report on improving general aviation security in the United States within 3 months of enactment of the legislation.

The Conferees note that a number of issues on aviation security research merit the prompt attention of the Department of Transportation. In particular, the Conferees observe that research into providing better security with minimal disruption in the system in the area of general aviation is important.

The Conferees note that the FAA has recently designated a consortium of schools as a general aviation center of excellence and anticipates that the FAA would draw upon the expertise of these institutions in formulating a security program for general aviation.

The Conferees also note that NASA, in coordination with the DOT, is investigating technology that would facilitate remote screening of small aircraft prior to takeoff.

Such a general aviation remote screening system (GARSS) could be installed on a vehicle or mobile platform, or in a fixed facility alongside a taxiway, and would provide a pre-takeoff alert if suspicious objects or materials were detected aboard an aircraft.

The Conferees urge that the development and implementation of GARSS be pursued.

59. FUNDING FOR GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(b): In FY 2002, allows non-primary airports within Class B airspace to seek AIP money for any purpose, including operational costs.

Conference substitute

Modified House position.

60. CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO IRS CODE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(e): Amends Code to cross-reference this Security Act so that the money authorized by this Act out of the Trust Fund can be spent.

Conference substitute

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

The Conference Report amends the IRS code to cross-reference this legislation to provide for the authorization of spending ~~from~~ ^{from} the Trust Fund.

61. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

62. ALCOHOL AND DRUG TESTING

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 115: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to transfer alcohol and drug testing functions from the FAA to the TSA.

63. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 116: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

64. SAVINGS PROVISION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 117: Ensures a smooth transfer from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

65. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 118: Requires the President's budget submissions starting in 2003 to list the TSA budget separately.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

66. AIR AMBULANCES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Amends the Airline Stabilization Act to modify the method for distributing compensation to air ambulances.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends the Airline Stabilization Act to allow for a modified system of providing compensation to air tour operators and air ambulances to better address their needs after industry wide losses. It is the Conferees' position that the Stabilization Act's section 103 compensation formula language, "revenue ton miles or any other auditable measure" should be broadly construed and should not restrict compensation exclusively to Revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} Miles reported on previously filed DOT Form 41s. If Air, Crew, Maintenance, Insurance lessors can provide accurate and auditable records of their revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} miles during the relevant time period, then they should be eligible for compensation based under the Stabilization Act.

67. PASSENGERS WHO BOUGHT TICKETS ON BANKRUPT AIRLINES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123: Other airlines must honor these tickets to the extent practicable.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the air carriers, to the extent practicable, to honor the tickets of passengers purchased by airlines that file for bankruptcy, if the purchaser requests the use of his or her ticket within 60 days of the suspended or canceled flight, for the first 18 months after enactment of this legislation.

68. FLIGHT SERVICE STATION EMPLOYEES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(a): Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with these employees.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with flight service station employees.

69. WAR RISK INSURANCE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(b): Sense of Congress that vendors agents and subcontractors of general aviation aircraft should get war risk insurance.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress on the availability of war risk insurance to vendors, agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all their domestic operations.

70. ANIMALS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(c): Sense of Congress that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the Postal Service allows to be mailed.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the House that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the U.S. Postal Service permits to be sent in the mail.

71. CARRY-ON BAGGAGE

Senate bill

Report on carry-on baggage.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the Congress that the FAA should continue its current restrictions on carry-on baggage of 1 bag plus 1 personal item. A backpack should be considered a personal item.

72. USPS MAIL POLICY IN ALASKA

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees encourage the Congress to pass legislation quickly to restructure the United States Postal Service's process of tendering non-priority bypass mail with the State of Alaska. Restructuring this program to direct more carriers to convert to 121 passenger operators will improve the safety of air transportation in Alaska and enhance the security of passengers.

73. VICTIMS COMPENSATION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Title II:

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute extends the liability limitations of the Air Transportation Stabilization Act to aircraft manufacturers, State port authorities, owners and operators of airports, and persons with property interests in the World Trade Center.

These provisions limit liability under the Act to the maximum level of their insurance coverage.

The Conferees expect that security functions at United States airports should become a Federal government responsibility, and it is their belief that while the number of Federal air marshals is classified, their presence would have a deterrent effect on hijacking and would further bolster public confidence in the safety of air travel. The Conferees also noted that the effectiveness of existing security measures, including employee background checks and passenger pre-screening, is currently impaired because of the inaccessibility of, or the failure to share information among, data bases maintained by different Federal and international agencies for criminal behavior or pertinent intelligence information.

The Conferees developed this legislation to address the security of the nation's transportation system.

3. ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY FUNCTION WITHIN DOT

Senate bill

Section 102: Creates a new Deputy Secretary of Transportation.

House amendment

Section 101: Creates a new Transportation Security Administration (TSA) within DOT headed by an Under Secretary. Establishes qualifications. Sets 5-year term. TSA has same procurement and personnel authority as the FAA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report creates the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to be headed by an Under Secretary within the DOT.

4. FUNCTIONS OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Coordinate and direct the functions of DOT and FAA under Chapter 449.

Work with the FAA on actions that affect safety.

Coordinate with DOJ, DOD, and other agencies on matters related to aviation security.

Coordinate transportation and actions of other agencies during an emergency. (This does not supersede the authority of any other agency.)

Establish uniform standards for transportation during an emergency.

Provide notice to other agencies about threats during an emergency. The Secretary defines what constitutes an emergency.

Take other actions, the Secretary shall prescribe.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary will be responsible for security in all modes of transportation. Specifically, Under Secretary is responsible for the following:

Receiving, assessing, and distributing intelligence information to the appropriate people in the transportation community.

Assessing threats to transportation.

Developing policies to deal with these threats.

Coordinating with other agencies.

Serve as the liaison with the intelligence community.

Any person with a property interest in the World Trade Center, as a condition to receiving liability protection under the Act, is required to satisfy all contractual obligations to rebuild or assist in the rebuilding of the World Trade Center.

The Conference substitute also limits the liability for all claims arising from the terrorist-related attacks of September 11, 2001, brought against the City of New York to the greater of the City's insurance coverage or $350,000,000.

8 This limitation on damages against the City of New York, however, ~~does~~ not apply to any non-government or private entity that is contracted with the City.

The Conference substitute also excludes entities primarily engaged in the business of airport security from its limitation on liability.

Supervising airport security using Federal uniformed personnel.

Manage the Federal security personnel in the field

Enforce security regulations.

Undertake research to improve security.

Inspect, maintain, and test security equipment.

Ensure that adequate security is provided for the transportation of cargo.

Oversee the security at airports and other transportation facilities.

Perform background checks on screeners and those who work at airports.

Develop standards for the hiring and firing of screeners.

Train and test screeners.

Conference substitute

The Conferees believe the best way to ensure effective Federal management of the nation's transportation system is through the creation of a new Administration within DOT to be called the Transportation Security Administration (TSA). The TSA's responsibilities will encompass security in all modes of transportation.

5. PAY OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 127: Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule plus bonuses based on performance.

House amendment

Section 101(c): Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000).

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the Under Secretary is to be paid at Level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000). A bonus, not to exceed thirty percent of the annual salary may be provided based on the performance of the US to be determined by the Secretary.

6. REPORTS

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Annual report of activities.

Section 127: Annual DOT report on results achieved relative to the agency security performance plan.

Section 112: 60-day report on additional security measures.

Section 133: 120-day report on the new DOJ responsibilities for aviation security.

Section 113: 3-month report on how to improve security of general aviation and air charters.

House amendment

Section 106: Eliminates existing report in section 44938 of title 49, United States Code.

Conference substitute

6A. ENHANCED SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 115: 120 day report on the following issues:

- (1) Requiring verification of airport employees' identity.
- (2) Installing switches so flight attendants can notify pilots of a hijacking.
- (3) Revalidating airline and airport employee identification cards.
- (4) Updating strategy for dealing with hijackings.
- (5) Technology to improve communication between aircraft and ground facilities.

Section 211: DOT shall study options for improving positive IDs of passengers at check-in counters and boarding areas. Report required in 6 months.

House amendment

Section 106: Requires the Under Secretary to address the issues listed below and to report 6 months after the date of enactment on the progress being made in implementing each.

A similar report would have to be submitted each year thereafter until all the items had either been implemented or rejected:

- (1) Develop procedures (such as barrel roles or depressurizing the aircraft) and authorize equipment (such as lethal or non-lethal weapons) to help the pilot defend the aircraft against hijackers.
- (2) After consultation with the FAA, find ways to—
 - (A) limit access to the cockpit;
 - (B) strengthen cockpit doors;
 - (C) use video cameras to alert pilots to problems in the passenger cabin without having to open the cockpit door;
 - (D) ensure that the aircraft transponder cannot be turned off in flight.
- (3) Impose standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles and employees of aircraft fuelers, caterers, cleaners, and others who have access to aircraft and secure areas of airports.
- (4) Require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains.
- (5) Use various technologies, such as voice stress analysis, to prevent a dangerous person from boarding a plane.
- (6) Develop certification standards for individual screeners.
- (7) Establish performance goals and use Threat Image Projection (TIP) or similar devices to test whether screeners are meeting those goals or certification standards.
- (8) Develop ways for airlines to have access to law enforcement and immigration data bases to ensure that dangerous people do not board their planes.
- (9) Use the profiling system known as CAPS to not only give special scrutiny to selected checked baggage but also to the passengers who fit the profile and their carry-on baggage.
- (10) Use technology to ensure that airport and airline employees and law enforcement officers are who they claim to be.
- (11) Install switches in the passenger cabin so that flight attendants can discreetly notify a pilot if there is a problem.
- (12) Change the training of airline personnel in light of the change in the methods and goals of hijackers as evidenced by the attack of September 11th.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

(13) Provide for background checks for those seeking flying lessons on large aircraft or flight simulators of such aircraft.

(14) Enter into agreements allowing trained law enforcement personnel of other agencies to travel with guns in order to assist a sky marshal.

(15) Perform more thorough background checks (including review of immigration and other government records) of airport screeners, student pilots, and others who have unescorted access to secure areas of the airport.

(16) Establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel authorized to carry a gun on board to ensure they are who they claim to be.

(17) Allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening for those passengers that wish to participate.

(18) Develop security procedures for stem cells and other medical containers that cannot be opened or x-rayed.

(19) Develop security procedures to allow musical instruments to be carried in the passenger cabin.

(20) Provide for the use of wireless devices to enable communications among airport security personnel about potential threats.

Conference substitute

The Under Secretary shall decide upon establishing security measures to: ensure that the flight transponder cannot be turned off in flight; require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains; use voice stress analysis, biometric, and other technologies to prevent dangerous persons from boarding a plane; establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel traveling with firearms to ensure they are who they claim to be; require the consideration of alternative security procedures that would not damage medical products; allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening on a voluntary basis; and, provide for the use of technology to enhance communications among airport security personnel about potential threats. The conferees encourage efforts by the Transportation Security Administration and professional organizations representing industry to use biometric information, such as fingerprints collected initially as input to the background check process, for future verification of identity at access control points to secure airport areas. The Conferees applaud efforts to improve day-to-day airport security by utilizing this raw biometric information collected from individuals as a recurrent identifier for access to secure areas. The Conferees urge the Transportation Security Administration to work with industry organizations that ~~can~~ assist in the process of background checks, record-keeping, and universal access control data. 7. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Senate bill

Section 102(b): Responsible for screening, including the hiring and training of screeners.

House amendment

No provision—The Under Secretary is responsible for screening.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

Conference substitute
No provision.

8. TRANSITION

Senate bill

Section 102(d): Until Deputy Secretary takes office, the functions are performed by the Assistant Administrator of the FAA.

Section 108: Transition to Attorney General immediate. Actions completed in 9 months.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary shall assume civil aviation security responsibilities in 3 months. In the meantime, Under Secretary can take over airline contracts with screening companies.

No change until Under Secretary is appointed.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the Under Secretary to assume responsibility for civil aviation security within 3 months of the enactment of this legislation.

9. TECHNOLOGY AND EQUIPMENT

Senate bill

Section 102(c): Amends 44932(c) to require FAA to ensure the use of the best available security equipment, not merely the best available x-ray equipment.

Section 108: Restates provision in current law requiring manual process where equipment is now underutilized.

Section 132: By September 30, 2002, FAA shall decide the feasibility of implementing technologies designed to protect aviation and automatically detect bombs, drugs, hazardous chemicals, and nuclear devices.

Section 201(b): FAA shall deploy and use existing bomb detection equipment. Within 60 days, FAA shall establish goals for—

- (1) deploying equipment now in storage;
- (2) specifying a percentage of checked bags to be scanned within 6 months, with a goal of scanning 100 percent;
- (3) the number of bomb detectors that will be purchased for deployment at medium sized airports within 6 months. [See item 29.]

House amendment

Section 106: Makes no change in section 44932(c) of title 49, United States Code, but directs Under Secretary to consider requiring various technologies described in item 6 above and report to Congress on them 6 months after enactment and annually thereafter until those technologies are deployed or a decision is made not to deploy them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees want new, state-of-the-art security equipment installed at airports on an expedited basis, and immediate action taken to ensure that existing explosive detection equipment is employed to the greatest extent possible for the screening of checked baggage. It is expected that additional equipment will be installed in as timely a manner as possible, and in the interim, other systems will be used to screen baggage. The Conferees agree that ev-

used

everything going on board a passenger aircraft should be screened within 60 days by FAA-approved methods.

10. AIRWORTHINESS OBJECTIONS BY FAA

Senate bill

Section 102: Must consult with FAA on all matters affecting safety and operations.

House amendment

Section 106: Under Secretary cannot take an action if notified by the FAA that it would adversely affect the airworthiness of the aircraft unless the Secretary approves the action.

Conference substitute

House provision.

11. ROLE OF NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD (NTSB)

Senate bill

No provision.

House amendment

Section 106: In taking an action that could affect safety, Under Secretary shall solicit and give great weight to views of NTSB.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct that in taking actions that could affect safety, the timely views of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) will be taken into consideration by the Under Secretary. The conferees wished to emphasize that the views of the NTSB should be provided in a sufficiently and timely manner so those views could be fully considered by the Under Secretary.

12. BIOLOGICAL AND CHEMICAL WEAPONS

Senate bill

Section 102(c): FAA shall develop ways to enhance the ability to detect biological and chemical weapons.

Section 106(c): DOT shall require airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect these weapons.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect and neutralize biological and chemical weapons, and instructs the FAA to develop ways to enhance the detection of these weapons. ✓

13. OVERSIGHT AND COORDINATION

Senate bill

Section 103: Establishes Aviation Security Oversight Council (ASOC), chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, and any other agency head DOT and DOJ determine to be appropriate.

House bill

Section 112: Establishes Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, and either NSC or Homeland Security. TSOB

shares intelligence, reviews emergency rules, and oversees actions of Under Secretary.

Establishes Advisory Council, composed of industry, labor, families, and others to advise Under Secretary on security matters.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report establishes the Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by the Secretary of DOT and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, NSC and Homeland Security. The TSOB may review and ratify or disapprove regulations issued by the Under Secretary; facilitate the coordination of intelligence, security and law enforcement activities affecting transportation; and, perform other duties including making recommendations to the Under Secretary for use in combating threats to the integrity of the nation's transportation system.

14. RULEMAKING

Senate bill

No Rules required by DOJ for its own employees; cockpit requirements issuable without APA.

House bill

Section 101: Under Secretary can issue security rules immediately without notice and comment, DOT or OMB review, and without a cost-benefit analysis but subject to disapproval by the TSOB.

Conference substitute

House provision.

15. INSPECTOR GENERAL

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 101: TSA is subject to the Inspector General Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference report instructs that the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will be subject to the Inspector General Act.

16. CROSS CHECKING DATA BASES

Senate bill

Section 103(a): DOT, acting through ASOC, shall try to develop a common data base with other agencies and share information about people.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASOC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies.

Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months.

A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent that the Under Secretary determines appropriate, the Under Secretary shall (1) establish procedures requiring airlines to use information from government agencies to identify people who may be a threat to civil aviation and (2) require more thorough background checks that include a review of other agency data bases.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the Senate and House at the conference on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses on the amendment of the House of Representatives to the bill (S. 1447), to improve aviation security, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the Senate and House in explanation of the effects of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences between the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clerical changes.

1. SHORT TITLE

Senate bill

Section 1: "Aviation Security Act".

House amendment

Section 1: "Airport Security Federalization Act of 2001"

Conference substitute

The title of the legislation will be "The Aviation and Transportation Security Act."

2. FINDINGS

Senate bill

Section 101: 7 findings on the importance of security and the need for Federal control and other changes.

House amendment

No provision

Conference substitute

The conferees recognize that the safety and security of the civil air transportation system is critical to the security of the United States and its national defense, and that a safe and secure United States civil air transportation system is essential to the basic freedom of America to move in intrastate, interstate and international transportation. The conferees further note the terrorist hijacking and crashes of passenger aircraft on September 11, 2001, which converted civil aircraft into guided bombs for strikes against the United States, required a fundamental change in the way it approaches the task of ensuring the safety and security of the civil air transportation system.

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have instructed the Secretary to work with the TSOB to develop a data base that will allow the cross checking of the people on "watch lists" of various Federal law enforcement agencies to identify individuals that may pose a risk to security in an effort to identify potential risks to civil aviation. Passenger lists should be used in conjunction with this data base to help target those individuals that pose a threat, and allow appropriate action to be taken.

17. TERRORISM REPORT

Senate bill

Section 103(b): Require reports on all terrorism. Reports to be shared with DOT.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the intelligence community to ensure that reports on terrorism are shared with the DOT.

18. STRATEGIC PLANNING

Senate bill

Section 103(c): Require intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

19. COCKPIT SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 104: FAA shall issue a rule, without notice and comment, permitting only authorized persons to have access to the cockpit, requiring strengthening the door by installing locks and making them rigid, requiring the door to remain locked during flight except when the pilot needs to get out, and taking away the flight attendants key.

Special rules shall be issued for aircraft that do not have a door.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent the Under Secretary considers appropriate, the Under Secretary shall, after consultation with FAA, implement methods to restrict the opening of the cockpit door during flight and fortify those doors.

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Funds are authorized to help airlines pay for this.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report prohibits access to the flight deck of passenger aircraft by anyone other than the flight crew. Flight deck doors must be strengthened and remain locked while aircraft is in flight. Video cameras may be provided to alert pilots to cabin activity in the event of a security breach occurring during the flight.

These provisions apply to aircraft required to have a door between the flight deck and cabin. The Conferees also seek the redesign of cockpits to ensure the doors are secured at all times during flight. Redesign can encompass new flight deck materials, double doors to the cockpit as are used in Israel, and lavatories within the flight deck so that flight crew do not leave the flight deck. Once bathroom facilities are provided for the flight crew of passenger aircraft, the cockpit door no longer will need to be opened during flight.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to take into consideration the threat to aviation and national security when developing means to secure the flight deck on commuter aircraft. Any new burdens should be appropriate for the risk.

20. AIR MARSHALS

Senate bill

Section 105: Attorney General prescribes guidelines for training and deployment of sky marshals. DOT administers the program in accordance with these guidelines:

(1) Marshals may be placed on every flight but must be placed on every flight that DOT determines to be high risk.

(2) Marshals must be deployed in 30 days.

(3) Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

(4) DOT shall work with ICAO and foreign governments to address security concerns on foreign airlines.

(5) DOT may use personnel from other agencies, including the military, as air marshals.

Section 105: Waives age requirements for retired police, military and out-of-work pilots to work as air marshals, if they meet the background and fitness qualifications.

Report required in 18 months.

House bill

Section 105: Under Secretary deploys air marshals, provides for their background checks, trains them, and requires U.S. airlines to provide seats for them at no cost.

Preference for hiring laid off airline pilots as marshals.

Marshals must be placed on selected flights.

Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

DOT shall work with foreign governments to address security concerns on international flights from the U.S.

Until the Under Secretary has all the air marshals needed, personnel from other agencies may be used, with the other agency's concurrence, as air marshals on a non-reimbursable basis.

Airlines must provide seats, on a space-available basis, to off-duty marshals flying home.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that appropriately trained, supervised and equipped Federal Air Marshals (FAMs) may be deployed on every scheduled passenger flight, and must be placed on every "high risk" flight, which may include nonstop longhaul flights, or any other flight deemed appropriate, even if the flight is fully booked. For applicants who otherwise meet the background and fitness requirements, age restrictions may be waived to allow

of the 9-11-01.

(cockpit and cabin)

retired law enforcement officers, retired members of the armed forces, and members of commercial airline crews who have been furloughed from their positions. Personnel from other agencies may be deployed, with the agency's concurrence, as FAMs until an adequate number of FAMs are in place. Additionally, agreements may be entered into allowing trained law enforcement personnel from other agencies to travel with firearms in order to assist FAMs.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to follow air carrier passenger reservations and cancellation practices to the extent practicable. The Under Secretary should work cooperatively with air carriers to develop guidelines concerning reservations and cancellation for the transportation of Federal Air Marshals.

21. SCREENING

Senate bill

Section 108: Attorney General, in consultation with DOT, shall provide for screening of all passengers, property, mail, and cargo that will be carried aboard an aircraft.

Federal employees shall do screening.

Airport and airline employees shall be screened in the same way, except alternative methods may be used for security personnel.

Attorney General shall use screening technology approved by FAA.

Law enforcement personnel shall be deployed at each screening location.

At the 100 largest airports, additional police may be ordered.

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 120 days on effectiveness of security screening.

Section 106: DOJ and DOT may permit operational flexibility to tailor screening needs for seasonal variations, aircraft types, and special needs of small airports.

Section 108: Attorney General may require non-hub or smaller airports to use State or local law enforcement if the screening will be equivalent to that at larger airports, the training meets Federal standards, the airport is reimbursed by funds made available by this Act, and the airport is consulted.

House bill

Section 102: Federal government is responsible for screening passengers and property on passenger aircraft that originate in the U.S.. Silent on whether screeners are to be Federal employees or private contractors. Under Secretary shall deputize screeners to enforce Federal laws, but not to arrest people. Screeners must have common uniforms. Must be supervised by uniformed Federal employees.

Section 107: Under Secretary should consider certifying screeners and use TIP or similar technologies to measure their performance and revoke their certification if their performance is inadequate.

Section 104: Airport required to deploy law enforcement or military personnel at each screening location. Law enforcement can be either Federal or local.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the Federal government to hire, train and deploy Federal screeners, Federal managers, Federal se-

curity personnel and Federal law enforcement within 1 year. The participants in this Federal security workforce will not be able to strike or engage in work stoppages, and can be fired at the discretion of the Secretary if they are not able to adequately perform their duties.

The Conferees recognize that, in order to ensure that Federal screeners are able to provide the best security possible, the Secretary must be given wide latitude to determine the terms of employment of screeners. The Conference Committee expects that, in fixing the terms and conditions of employment the Secretary shall establish benefits and conditions of employment. The Conference Committee also recognizes that, in order to hire and retain screeners, the Secretary should also ensure that screeners have access to Federal health, life insurance, and retirement benefits, as well as workers' compensation benefits. The Committee believes that screening personnel must also be given whistleblower protections so that screeners may report security conditions without fear of reprisal.

The Conference Report requires the DOT to assume existing screening company contracts as soon as possible, but no later than 90 days after enactment of this legislation. The contracts for existing screeners can be extended for up to 6 months, and the DOT would have the option to extend contracts for no longer than 3 months, if necessary, to continue screening. DOT may also authorize additional Federal law enforcement, National Guard, and other personnel immediately to address the aviation security needs of the country.

The Conferees direct the Secretary to provide a report after one year from the date of enactment certifying deployment of the Federal screeners. Two years after certification airports can opt out of the Federalization of the screener level of the Federal workforce if the Secretary determines that these facilities would continue to provide an equal or higher level of security. Companies will be barred from providing screening if they violate federal standards, are found to allow repeated failures of the system, or prove to be a security risk. The DOT will also establish a Pilot Program for 5 airports, one from each category type, to apply for the use of private contract screeners.

Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the Act, the conferees expect the Transportation Security Administration to submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the screening requirements applicable to passengers boarding, and property being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or less used in scheduled passenger service with recommendations for any necessary changes in those requirements.

22. CITIZENSHIP OF SECURITY FIRMS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 104: Must be owned or controlled by a citizen of the U.S. to the extent the President determines that there are such firms.

Section 123(e): Similar sense of Congress.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that U.S. companies should be used to provide screening if they are available.

23. TRAINING OF PILOTS AND FLIGHT ATTENDANTS

Senate bill

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 6 months on crew training.

Section 107: DOT shall develop a mandatory airline training program for crews dealing with a hijacking. Training shall be developed in coordination with law enforcement experts.

House bill

Section 106: Under Secretary should consider updating training for dealing with hijacking that includes ways for dealing with suicidal hijackers. Report six months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that detailed guidance shall be developed for a mandatory air carrier training program to assist flight crews and attendants in hijack situations. The training curriculum will be developed in consultation with Federal law enforcement agencies with expertise in dealing with these types of threat conditions.

24. HOW FLIGHT ATTENDANTS NOTIFY PILOTS OF A HIJACKING

Senate bill

Section 107: FAA shall revise procedures by which flight attendants notify pilots and implement new measures as soon as practicable.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary should consider requiring the installation of switches in the cabin so that the flight attendants can discreetly notify the pilots.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Under Secretary to consider the installation of a switch to be located in the cabin for flight attendants to notify pilots in the event of a hijacking without the knowledge of passengers. or other devices

25. PROVISION OF PERSONNEL FROM OTHER AGENCIES

Senate bill

Section 105: Amends section 106(m) to allow other agencies to provide personnel to FAA.

House bill

Section 102(d): Same provision, worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conferees call upon other agencies to provide personnel that has received the proper training for use by the FAA as Federal air marshals (FAMs) in an effort to support and supplement ~~that~~ the FAM workforce in its early stages.

26. AIRPORT PERIMETER ACCESS SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 106: DOT may order deployment of law enforcement personnel as needed to bolster airport security by entering into an agreement with another agency to deploy Federal law enforcement at airports.

Section 106(b): FAA shall provide technical support and financial assistance to small airports to help defray security costs.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have given the Secretary the ability to work with the airports to address potential threats at individual facilities by ordering the deployment of Federal law enforcement authorities to improve airport perimeter and access security in an effort to counter potential criminal activities. Such actions also can include providing increased security at air traffic control facilities. Additionally, the FAA Administrator will develop a plan to provide technical support to enable small- and medium-sized airports to enhance their security operations, and shall include using network digital video surveillance systems.

27. INDIVIDUALS WITH ACCESS TO SECURE AREAS OF THE AIRPORT

Senate bill

See item 21

Section 106(a): DOT, in consultation with ASOC, shall consider whether such individuals should be screened.

Section 106(d): Amend 44903(g)(2) to delete 1/31/01 deadline and beef up language on access control requirements.

Consider deployment of biometric technologies.

Establish pilot programs at 20 airports to test new technologies.

DOT shall require airlines and airports to develop security awareness programs for employees.

Section 211: Within 6 months, DOT shall recommend to airports commercially available ways to prevent access to secure areas. As part of this, DOT shall review effectiveness of biometric and other systems, focus on eliminating piggy-backing, and include a 12-month deployment strategy for currently available technology at Category X airports. Not later than 18 months, DOT shall conduct a review of reductions in unauthorized access.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary shall consider imposing standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles that have access to secure areas and provide for the use of technology to verify the identity of those vehicles entering a secure area. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that all individuals, goods, property, vehicles, and other equipment seeking access to secure areas must be screened and inspected before entry. The Conference Committee instructs that prescribed requirements should provide at least the same level of protection as the screening of passengers and baggage. The Conferees, however, recognize that these requirements may make allowances for tools and equipment necessary to perform duties in secure areas. The Secretary will examine the physical configuration of individual airports, and consider the views of the TSOB to consider implementing standards to protect the integrity of secure areas.

28. BAN ON PARKING OF VEHICLES WITHIN 300 FEET OF TERMINAL

Senate bill

Section 106(b): FAA, in consultation with local law enforcement, shall reexamine the need for 300 feet restriction.

House bill

Section 121: Removes this parking ban if the airport, in consultation with local law enforcement, certifies to DOT, after doing a threat assessment, that safeguards are in place to protect public safety.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that all airports must consult with local law enforcement and inform DOT that proper safeguards are in place to ensure that parked vehicles are not a security risk. Each airport must submit views regarding its assessment of the needs of their facility.

29. CHECKED BAGGAGE

Senate bill

See item 9

Section 201(b)(1): Requirement for all baggage to be screened within 9 months.

FAA must establish within 60 days confidential goals for scanning a specific percentage of checked bags within 6 months and annual goals thereafter eventually scanning 100%.

Section 201(c) - page 85 FAA shall require airlines to upgrade the bag match system. Shall establish goals within 60 days to accomplish this including interim measures to match a higher percentage of bags until bomb detectors are used to scan 100% of bags.

Confidential report to Congress in 1 year.

House bill

See item 9

Section 106: All checked baggage must be screened by December 31, 2003. All existing explosive detection equipment must be used to the maximum extent possible.

Additional explosive detection equipment must be installed as soon as possible.

In the interim, airlines must implement a bag match program.

A system must be in place as soon as possible to screen cargo transported in passenger aircraft.

Section 123(d): Sense of Congress that all checked baggage should be screened by any available means.

Conference substitute

The Conferees feel strongly that all baggage to be placed on passenger flights must be screened. Existing technology, including EDS, should be used and upgraded in an effort to ensure that all checked baggage goes through such a system. Any baggage that does not go through EDS will be required to go through some form of manual or other comparable screening system. An alternate system of screening cargo should also be established, and periodic reports issued to provide an understanding of the progress made on these efforts.

30. COMPUTER ASSISTED PASSENGER PROFILING SYSTEM (CAPPS)

Senate bill

Section 201(d): FAA shall make all passengers subject to CAPPS even if they don't check bags so that their carry-ons and person will be subject to additional security measures. Report within 3 months.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASCC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to CAPPS and to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies. Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106(9): The Under Secretary should consider providing the enhanced use of CAPPS to more effectively screen passengers and carry-on baggage. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that an enhanced and upgraded use of the Computer Assisted Passenger Pre-Screening System (CAPPS) must be considered to more effectively screen passengers and baggage. The Conferees also recognize that adjustments may need to be made to reflect circumstances in some areas of the U.S., including State with unique transportation needs.

31. DEPUTIZING FOR ENFORCEMENT OF FEDERAL SECURITY LAWS

Senate bill

Section 108(b): Requires Attorney General to deputize State and local law enforcement to regulate screening at non-hubs.

House bill

Private contractor employees deputized.

Conference substitute

No provision.

32. HIRING AND TRAINING OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: DOJ, in consultation with DOT, shall establish a program for the hiring and training of screeners. Hiring qualifications shall be set in 30 days. Includes list of qualifications screeners must meet such as education and language requirements. Training plans must be developed within 60 days. Requires 40 hours of classroom training and 60 hours of on the job training. Current lists of dual use items (seemingly harmless items that could be used as a weapon) shall be part of the training. Section 104 - page 16

House bill

Under Secretary may set minimum pay for screeners. Preference shall be given to veterans in the hiring of screeners and laid off airline workers. Final rule for certification of screening companies changed from May 31, 2001 to 6 months after date of enactment. In the meantime, within 30 days of enactment, the standards in the proposed rule, such as education and language requirements, shall be in effect. All screeners must be in approved uniforms.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

33. CITIZENSHIP OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: Must have been a national of the U.S. for at least 5 years.

House bill

Section 104(a): Must be U.S. citizens.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that all airport screeners must be citizens of the U.S.

34. STATUS OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(d): Notwithstanding any law, the Attorney General may hire, fire, and pay screeners as he determines necessary.

House bill

Section 102: Federal supervisor can order the dismissal of any screener.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report provides the Under Secretary the authority to employ, terminate and fix the conditions of employment for the Federal screening workforce.

35. STRIKES BY SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(e): Strikes prohibited pursuant to Title 5.

House bill

Section 102: Strikes prohibited.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that the airport screening workforce will be prohibited from striking. The Conferees have provided the Transportation Security Administration authority to utilize existing authority provided to the FAA to develop personnel and acquisition systems. The authority gives the Administration flexibility to design its own policies and procedures and not use the FAA's system, while retaining the legal requirements under sections 40110 and 40112.

36. BACKGROUND CHECKS

Senate bill

Section 109(f): Requires background checks for current screeners and others with access to the airport.

Section 201(a): Requires background checks for current screeners and others to be completed in 9 months unless the person has had such a check in the past 5 years. Alternative checks shall be developed for those who have lived in the U.S. for less than 5 years.

House bill

Section 107: Allows smaller airports to use the same expedited procedures for criminal history background checks as the larger airports now use. (Under the 2000 Security Act these expedited procedures do not go into effect at smaller airports until 2003.)

Requires background check (including review of government data bases) for all current screeners and those with access to secure

areas except for those who have already had such a check or those who are exempted by FAA rules from such checks.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

The Conferees encourage the Under Secretary to provide channeling authority to professional organizations representing industry to FBI AFIS fingerprint databases to perform criminal history verification of aviation business employees. (S) ✓

37. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Senate bill

Section 110: Amends section 44912 to require periodic reviews of threats to civil aviation and the potential for the release of biological and chemical weapons. A person shall be designated to be responsible for security research. The person shall file an annual report on research activities. A scientific advisory panel shall be established. DOT shall coordinate research with DOJ.

Section 221: Authorizes $50 million per year to research various security technologies.

House bill

Section 101: Transfers security research from FAA to the TSA. The TSA can use FAA research facilities.

Conference substitute

A modified version of the Senate provision.

38. FLIGHT SCHOOLS

Senate bill

Section 111: Regarding jet-propelled aircraft, a person shall not give flight instruction, including instruction in simulator, to an alien (or other person specified by DOT) unless DOJ issues that person a certificate of completion of the background check of the alien. Requests for the background check shall be made jointly by the alien and the flight school. Investigation must be completed in 30 days. Investigation includes fingerprint check, immigration check, and a determination of whether alien is a national security risk. Expedited procedures shall be developed for an alien seeking recurrent training. Penalties for violations shall be developed by DOT rulemaking. Flight schools shall report aliens that they train.

Section 111(c): DOT and State shall work with ICAO to improve screening of student pilots.

House bill

Section 106(13): The Under Secretary should consider requiring background checks on individuals seeking flying lessons (including simulator lessons) on aircraft weighing more than 12,500 pounds. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter until the Under Secretary implements the checks or decides not to require them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that flight school training for aircraft with a minimum certificated weight of 12,500 pounds or more should not be allowed for any alien within the United States unless they have passed a sufficient background check. Such individuals seeking to attend flight school may begin pilot training after 45 days or upon being certified as having passed a background investigation regarding their criminal history and immigration status. A

1 And the House agree to the same.

security awareness program will be developed to assist employees that work at flight schools by helping to increase their awareness of a potential threat.

39. PENALTIES

Senate bill

Section 114: Imposes criminal penalties for interfering with security personnel at a commercial service airport.

House bill

Section 116(c): Transfers the relevant civil penalty authorities from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that an individual who disrupts the duties of security screening personnel within a commercial service airport shall be fined and/or imprisoned for up to 10 years. The use of a dangerous weapon to interfere with security screening may result in up to life imprisonment.

40. INTRASTATE AIR SERVICE

Senate bill

Section 116: DOT may grant antitrust exemptions to ensure continued viability of air service in that State.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that DOT may grant anti-trust immunity to ensure continued viability of air service within a state. If the Secretary approves any such request, a report must be given to the relevant Senate and House Committees within six months of the approval describing what actions have been taken by the carriers receiving the exemption.

41. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS

Senate bill

Section 117: DOT shall require all airlines to use the best technology to ensure that their systems are secure from unauthorized access. DOT shall submit an annual report on compliance.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

Under the direction of the Conference Report airlines are required to take action that will prevent unauthorized access to computer reservation systems and the information they contain on passengers. Technology should be utilized to the greatest extent possible to ensure the integrity of these systems.

42. FEES

Senate bill

Section 118(a): Within 180 days, airlines remit a $2.50 fee per enplanement.

House bill

Section 108: Under Secretary shall impose a fee of not more than $2.50 per one-way trip. The amount of the fee shall be reasonably related to the costs of providing the screening service. In addition, a fee can be imposed directly on the airlines but it cannot be more than the airlines paid for screening services in 2000. Fees shall be credited as off-setting collections. Passengers using airports where screening services are not provided may be exempted from the fee.

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute requires a fee to be charged to cover the cost of providing the aviation security services. The fee will be based on the number of times a passenger boards a plane during the course of travel, but will be capped at $5.00 per one-way trip. Any additional funds needed will be authorized to be appropriated or may come from a fee imposed directly on the airlines.

The Secretary may waive or modify the security fee to take into account the isolation of certain communities. In determining whether to waive or modify this fee, the Secretary shall consider the costs of transportation security and the benefits of transportation security that is bestowed on those communities. The Conference substitute amends section 45301(b) of title 49, United States Code, with respect to limitations on overflight fees to (1) to make the language consistent with the new security fee language of this Act, and (2) to clarify Congressional intent with respect to the FAA costs upon which the fees can be based. Specifically, the conference substitute replaces the word "directly" with "reasonably", since the word "directly" has been a source of much confusion and narrow interpretation, and has been a primary cause of recurring litigation which has frustrated and delayed the FAA's imposition of the overflight fees for a number of years. Additionally, this amendment specifies that the FAA's costs upon which the fees are based are to be determined solely by the Administrator. This is to clarify that the Administrator has full authority to determine costs by appropriate means. This amendment is not intended to require revision of the fees recently promulgated by the FAA (66 FR 43680, Aug. 20, 2001) but rather, to clarify longstanding Congressional intent that the FAA expeditiously and continuously collect the fees authorized under section 45301(a) of title 49.

43. AUTHORIZATION

Senate bill

Section 118(b): Authorizes such sums for the next 3 years as may be necessary to carry out the security functions.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes such sums as may be necessary to the TSA for operating costs and for screening services not covered by the above fee.

Authorizes $500 million for grants to airlines to fortify cockpit doors, install video monitors to view the passenger cabin, ensure continuous operation of transponder, and use of other technologies.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report authorizes the necessary spending for the cost of providing aviation security.

44. AIRPORT FUNDING

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 119(a): Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay security costs in FY 2002 for any cost incurred after 9/11 regardless of when it was incurred. Waives the local matching share. In deciding whether to make a discretionary AIP grant for security costs, the availability and use of non-Federal funding by the airport shall be considered.

Section 120: Authorizes such sums in 2002 to compensate airports for security costs. Costs must be documented and subject to an IG audit. DOT shall publish procedures for filing claims in 30 days.

Section 119(c): PFC requests for security funding should be expedited.

Section 119(b): For the purpose of determining AIP entitlements in FY 2003, enplanements in 2000 or 2001, whichever is higher, shall be used.

Section 201(b): Modifying terminal and baggage systems in order to install bomb detection equipment is made AIP eligible. Section 113: Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay for added law enforcement costs in at a non-hub or small hub airport regardless of when the cost was incurred.

Waives the local matching share.

In FY 2002, allows AIP and PFC money to be used to pay debt service if that would prevent an airport, or privately owned terminal, from defaulting on its bond.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes a total of $1.5 billion in 2002 and 2003 to reimburse airports for direct costs they incurred to meet new security requirements. Such sums to remain available until expended. Before getting the money, the airport must agree to meet with its concessionaires to discuss rent adjustments and provide an itemized list of costs incurred.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

45. COMPETITION PLANS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(a): Waives an airport's obligation to submit a competition plan in FY 2002 when it is seeking money to improve security.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report waives the obligation of an airport to submit a competition plan in FY '02 when seeking money to improve security.

46. REPORTING SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITIES

Senate bill

Section 121: Exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing, in good faith, suspicious activity. DOJ shall establish procedures to notify the FAA of people who may pose a risk of hijacking. Report shall be submitted in 120 days on the implementation of this notification.

House bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report encourages and exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing suspicious activities in response to a "reasonably believed" threat.

47. ARMING PILOTS

Senate bill

Section 122: National Institute of Justice shall assess non-lethal weapons for use by pilots and report to DOT in 90 days. After receiving report, DOT may authorize pilots to carry such weapons. DOT shall establish training and procedural requirements for using these weapons.

Section 125: Authorizes FAA to permit a pilot with proper training to carry a gun in the cockpit. FAA shall establish a training program. Report shall be submitted every 6 months on the effectiveness of this provision.

House bill

Section 106: DOT cannot take any action to prevent a pilot from taking a gun into the cockpit if the policy of the airline allows it and the pilot has completed a training program acceptable to the Under Secretary.

Conference substitute

A pilot is authorized to carry an approved firearm into the cockpit if approved by the Under Secretary and the air carrier, and the pilot has received proper training.

48. ISOLATED COMMUNITIES

Senate bill

Section 123: During an emergency, DOT, after consulting with the ASCC, may grant waivers on flight restrictions to allow flights carrying freight, mail, patients, and medical supplies to areas with extraordinary transportation needs given isolation of the area and if the waiver is in the public interest.

House bill

Section 120: Similar provision but worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that during an emergency DOT may grant waivers on flight restrictions to areas with extraordinary transportation needs.

49. SUPPLIES ON BOARD AIRCRAFT

Senate bill

Section 124: DOT shall ensure the safety of food and other supplies on aircraft by sealing packages, screening personnel and vehicles, etc.

House bill

See item 27

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that DOT should establish procedures to ensure the safety and security of on-board supplies for intrastate passenger aircraft. The Secretary will establish procedures that may increase security for the point of origin of the supplier, provide for sealed supplies, and the screening of the supplies as they enter the airport.

50. AIRMAN REGISTRY

Senate bill

Section 126: Directs FAA to modify the registry to make it more effective in combating terrorism. FAA should work with State and locals to assist in identifying those applying for or holding airmen certificates.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the FAA must take steps to make the airman registry more effective to combat terrorism by working with the appropriate authorities to assist in properly identifying persons applying for or in possession of airmen certificates.

51. PASSENGER MANIFESTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 111: Within 60 days, U.S. and foreign airlines on international flights to the U.S. must provide to the Under Secretary (or another agency) by electronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest with specified information.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires air carriers to use the Air Passenger Information System (APIS) to provide a crew and passenger manifest and related information to Customs for each flight.

52. RESULTS-BASED MANAGEMENT

Senate bill

Section 127: With 60 days, DOT shall establish acceptable performance levels for aviation security and provide Congress with an action plan clarifying the responsibilities of the government agencies involved. Each year, a performance plan shall be made available. Any contracts to implement this Act shall try to maximize the use of performance based service contracts.

House bill

Section 106(7): Consider establishing performance goals for screeners. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter until this is implemented or rejected.

Conference substitute

Modified Senate provision.

53. EMPLOYMENT REGISTER

Senate bill

Section 128(a): DOT shall establish and maintain an employment register.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

No provision.

54. TRAINING FACILITIES

Senate bill

Section 128(b): DOT may use FAA training facilities to train security screeners.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Secretary to use existing Federal training facilities, where possible, to address the training needs of security screening personnel.

55. AIRSPACE RESTRICTIONS

Senate bill

Section 129: President shall submit a report within 30 days describing any airspace restrictions that remain in place and the justification for those restrictions.

House bill

Section 119: The restrictions on Class B airspace shall cease to be in effect 10 days after enactment unless a notice is published prior to the 10th day reimposing and explaining the reasons for those restrictions.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to lift restrictions on Class B airspace under specified requirements.

56. VOLUNTEERS

Senate bill

Section 130: DOT shall carry out a program to permit police, firefighters, and paramedics to provide emergency services during flight. Exempts from liability those who help in an emergency. This does not authorize the possession of firearms.

House bill

No provision but exemption from liability seems to be covered by existing law, section 5(b) of Aviation Medical Assistance Act.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to implement a program that will allow qualified law enforcement, firefighters and emergency service technicians to assist in the event of an emergency during commercial air flights. This program will establish the credentials of volunteers, maintain their confidentiality and exempt them from liability.

57. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 110: Limits liability of passenger or crew who hurts a person they, in good faith, believe was hijacking or about to hijack the plane.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report exempts passengers and crew from liability if an individual "reasonably believed" that a hijacking was occurring.

58. GENERAL AVIATION SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 131: FAA shall begin a security program for aircraft over 12,500 pounds within 90 days. Waivers from this requirement can be granted. A security program for smaller aircraft shall begin in 1 year. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

Aircraft may not be sold or leased to an alien unless a background check has been done or until the security programs described above are implemented.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference report directs the Secretary to provide Congress a report on improving general aviation security in the United States within 3 months of enactment of the legislation.

The Conferees note that a number of issues on aviation security research merit the prompt attention of the Department of Transportation. In particular, the Conferees observe that research into providing better security with minimal disruption in the system in the area of general aviation is important.

The Conferees note that the FAA has recently designated a consortium of schools as a general aviation center of excellence and anticipates that the FAA would draw upon the expertise of these institutions in formulating a security program for general aviation.

The Conferees also note that NASA, in coordination with the DOT, is investigating technology that would facilitate remote screening of small aircraft prior to takeoff.

Such a general aviation remote screening system (GARSS) could be installed on a vehicle or mobile platform, or in a fixed facility alongside a taxiway, and would provide a pre-takeoff alert if suspicious objects or materials were detected aboard an aircraft.

The Conferees urge that the development and implementation of GARSS be pursued.

59. FUNDING FOR GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(b): In FY 2002, allows non-primary airports within Class B airspace to seek AIP money for any purpose, including operational costs.

Conference substitute

Modified House position.

60. CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO IRS CODE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(e): Amends Code to cross-reference this Security Act so that the money authorized by this Act out of the Trust Fund can be spent.

Conference substitute

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

The Conference Report amends the IRS code to cross-reference this legislation to provide for the authorization of spending ~~from~~ ^{from} the Trust Fund.

61. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

62. ALCOHOL AND DRUG TESTING

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 115: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to transfer alcohol and drug testing functions from the FAA to the TSA.

63. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 116: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

64. SAVINGS PROVISION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 117: Ensures a smooth transfer from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

65. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 118: Requires the President's budget submissions starting in 2003 to list the TSA budget separately.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

66. AIR AMBULANCES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Amends the Airline Stabilization Act to modify the method for distributing compensation to air ambulances.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends the Airline Stabilization Act to allow for a modified system of providing compensation to air tour operators and air ambulances to better address their needs after industry wide losses. It is the Conferees' position that the Stabilization Act's section 103 compensation formula language, "revenue ton miles or any other auditable measure" should be broadly construed and should not restrict compensation exclusively to Revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} Miles reported on previously filed DOT Form 41s. If Air, Crew, Maintenance, Insurance lessors can provide accurate and auditable records of their revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} miles during the relevant time period, then they should be eligible for compensation based under the Stabilization Act.

67. PASSENGERS WHO BOUGHT TICKETS ON BANKRUPT AIRLINES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123: Other airlines must honor these tickets to the extent practicable.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the air carriers, to the extent practicable, to honor the tickets of passengers purchased by airlines that file for bankruptcy, if the purchaser requests the use of his or her ticket within 60 days of the suspended or canceled flight, for the first 18 months after enactment of this legislation.

68. FLIGHT SERVICE STATION EMPLOYEES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(a): Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with these employees.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with flight service station employees.

69. WAR RISK INSURANCE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(b): Sense of Congress that vendors agents and sub-contractors of general aviation aircraft should get war risk insurance.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress on the availability of war risk insurance to vendors, agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all their domestic operations.

70. ANIMALS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(c): Sense of Congress that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the Postal Service allows to be mailed.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the House that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the U.S. Postal Service permits to be sent in the mail.

71. CARRY-ON BAGGAGE

Senate bill

Report on carry-on baggage.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the Congress that the FAA should continue its current restrictions on carry-on baggage of 1 bag plus 1 personal item. A backpack should be considered a personal item.

72. USPS MAIL POLICY IN ALASKA

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees encourage the Congress to pass legislation quickly to restructure the United States Postal Service's process of tendering non-priority bypass mail with the State of Alaska. Restructuring this program to direct more carriers to convert to 121 passenger operators will improve the safety of air transportation in Alaska and enhance the security of passengers.

73. VICTIMS COMPENSATION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Title II:

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute extends the liability limitations of the Air Transportation Stabilization Act to aircraft manufacturers, State port authorities, owners and operators of airports, and persons with property interests in the World Trade Center.

These provisions limit liability under the Act to the maximum level of their insurance coverage.

The Conferees expect that security functions at United States airports should become a Federal government responsibility, and it is their belief that while the number of Federal air marshals is classified, their presence would have a deterrent effect on hijacking and would further bolster public confidence in the safety of air travel. The Conferees also noted that the effectiveness of existing security measures, including employee background checks and passenger pre-screening, is currently impaired because of the inaccessibility of, or the failure to share information among, data bases maintained by different Federal and international agencies for criminal behavior or pertinent intelligence information.

The Conferees developed this legislation to address the security of the nation's transportation system.

3. ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY FUNCTION WITHIN DOT

Senate bill

Section 102: Creates a new Deputy Secretary of Transportation.

House amendment

Section 101: Creates a new Transportation Security Administration (TSA) within DOT headed by an Under Secretary. Establishes qualifications. Sets 5-year term. TSA has same procurement and personnel authority as the FAA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report creates the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to be headed by an Under Secretary within the DOT.

4. FUNCTIONS OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Coordinate and direct the functions of DOT and FAA under Chapter 449.

Work with the FAA on actions that affect safety.

Coordinate with DOJ, DOD, and other agencies on matters related to aviation security.

Coordinate transportation and actions of other agencies during an emergency. (This does not supersede the authority of any other agency.)

Establish uniform standards for transportation during an emergency.

Provide notice to other agencies about threats during an emergency. The Secretary defines what constitutes an emergency.

Take other actions, the Secretary shall prescribe.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary will be responsible for security in all modes of transportation. Specifically, Under Secretary is responsible for the following:

Receiving, assessing, and distributing intelligence information to the appropriate people in the transportation community.

Assessing threats to transportation.

Developing policies to deal with these threats.

Coordinating with other agencies.

Serve as the liaison with the intelligence community.

Any person with a property interest in the World Trade Center, as a condition to receiving liability protection under the Act, is required to satisfy all contractual obligations to rebuild or assist in the rebuilding of the World Trade Center.

The Conference substitute also limits the liability for all claims arising from the terrorist-related attacks of September 11, 2001, brought against the City of New York to the greater of the City's insurance coverage or $350,000,000.

8 This limitation on damages against the City of New York, however, ~~does~~ not apply to any non-government or private entity that is contracted with the City.

The Conference substitute also excludes entities primarily engaged in the business of airport security from its limitation on liability.

Supervising airport security using Federal uniformed personnel.

Manage the Federal security personnel in the field

Enforce security regulations.

Undertake research to improve security.

Inspect, maintain, and test security equipment.

Ensure that adequate security is provided for the transportation of cargo.

Oversee the security at airports and other transportation facilities.

Perform background checks on screeners and those who work at airports.

Develop standards for the hiring and firing of screeners.

Train and test screeners.

Conference substitute

The Conferees believe the best way to ensure effective Federal management of the nation's transportation system is through the creation of a new Administration within DOT to be called the Transportation Security Administration (TSA). The TSA's responsibilities will encompass security in all modes of transportation.

5. PAY OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 127: Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule plus bonuses based on performance.

House amendment

Section 101(c): Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000).

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the Under Secretary is to be paid at Level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000). A bonus, not to exceed thirty percent of the annual salary may be provided based on the performance of the US to be determined by the Secretary.

6. REPORTS

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Annual report of activities.

Section 127: Annual DOT report on results achieved relative to the agency security performance plan.

Section 112: 60-day report on additional security measures.

Section 133: 120-day report on the new DOJ responsibilities for aviation security.

Section 113: 3-month report on how to improve security of general aviation and air charters.

House amendment

Section 106: Eliminates existing report in section 44938 of title 49, United States Code.

Conference substitute

6A. ENHANCED SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 115: 120 day report on the following issues:

- (1) Requiring verification of airport employees' identity.
- (2) Installing switches so flight attendants can notify pilots of a hijacking.
- (3) Revalidating airline and airport employee identification cards.
- (4) Updating strategy for dealing with hijackings.
- (5) Technology to improve communication between aircraft and ground facilities.

Section 211: DOT shall study options for improving positive IDs of passengers at check-in counters and boarding areas. Report required in 6 months.

House amendment

Section 106: Requires the Under Secretary to address the issues listed below and to report 6 months after the date of enactment on the progress being made in implementing each.

A similar report would have to be submitted each year thereafter until all the items had either been implemented or rejected:

- (1) Develop procedures (such as barrel rolls or depressurizing the aircraft) and authorize equipment (such as lethal or non-lethal weapons) to help the pilot defend the aircraft against hijackers.
- (2) After consultation with the FAA, find ways to—
 - (A) limit access to the cockpit;
 - (B) strengthen cockpit doors;
 - (C) use video cameras to alert pilots to problems in the passenger cabin without having to open the cockpit door;
 - (D) ensure that the aircraft transponder cannot be turned off in flight.
- (3) Impose standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles and employees of aircraft fuelers, caterers, cleaners, and others who have access to aircraft and secure areas of airports.
- (4) Require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains.
- (5) Use various technologies, such as voice stress analysis, to prevent a dangerous person from boarding a plane.
- (6) Develop certification standards for individual screeners.
- (7) Establish performance goals and use Threat Image Projection (TIP) or similar devices to test whether screeners are meeting those goals or certification standards.
- (8) Develop ways for airlines to have access to law enforcement and immigration data bases to ensure that dangerous people do not board their planes.
- (9) Use the profiling system known as CAPS to not only give special scrutiny to selected checked baggage but also to the passengers who fit the profile and their carry-on baggage.
- (10) Use technology to ensure that airport and airline employees and law enforcement officers are who they claim to be.
- (11) Install switches in the passenger cabin so that flight attendants can discreetly notify a pilot if there is a problem.
- (12) Change the training of airline personnel in light of the change in the methods and goals of hijackers as evidenced by the attack of September 11th.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

(13) Provide for background checks for those seeking flying lessons on large aircraft or flight simulators of such aircraft.

(14) Enter into agreements allowing trained law enforcement personnel of other agencies to travel with guns in order to assist a sky marshal.

(15) Perform more thorough background checks (including review of immigration and other government records) of airport screeners, student pilots, and others who have unescorted access to secure areas of the airport.

(16) Establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel authorized to carry a gun on board to ensure they are who they claim to be.

(17) Allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening for those passengers that wish to participate.

(18) Develop security procedures for stem cells and other medical containers that cannot be opened or x-rayed.

(19) Develop security procedures to allow musical instruments to be carried in the passenger cabin.

(20) Provide for the use of wireless devices to enable communications among airport security personnel about potential threats.

Conference substitute

The Under Secretary shall decide upon establishing security measures to: ensure that the flight transponder cannot be turned off in flight; require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains; use voice stress analysis, biometric, and other technologies to prevent dangerous persons from boarding a plane; establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel traveling with firearms to ensure they are who they claim to be; require the consideration of alternative security procedures that would not damage medical products; allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening on a voluntary basis; and, provide for the use of technology to enhance communications among airport security personnel about potential threats. The conferees encourage efforts by the Transportation Security Administration and professional organizations representing industry to use biometric information, such as fingerprints collected initially as input to the background check process, for future verification of identity at access control points to secure airport areas. The Conferees applaud efforts to improve day-to-day airport security by utilizing this raw biometric information collected from individuals as a recurrent identifier for access to secure areas. The Conferees urge the Transportation Security Administration to work with industry organizations that ~~can~~ assist in the process of background checks, record-keeping, and universal access control data. 7. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Senate bill

Section 102(b): Responsible for screening, including the hiring and training of screeners.

House amendment

No provision—The Under Secretary is responsible for screening.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

Conference substitute
No provision.

8. TRANSITION

Senate bill

Section 102(d): Until Deputy Secretary takes office, the functions are performed by the Assistant Administrator of the FAA.

Section 108: Transition to Attorney General immediate. Actions completed in 9 months.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary shall assume civil aviation security responsibilities in 3 months. In the meantime, Under Secretary can take over airline contracts with screening companies.

No change until Under Secretary is appointed.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the Under Secretary to assume responsibility for civil aviation security within 3 months of the enactment of this legislation.

9. TECHNOLOGY AND EQUIPMENT

Senate bill

Section 102(c): Amends 44932(c) to require FAA to ensure the use of the best available security equipment, not merely the best available x-ray equipment.

Section 108: Restates provision in current law requiring manual process where equipment is now underutilized.

Section 132: By September 30, 2002, FAA shall decide the feasibility of implementing technologies designed to protect aviation and automatically detect bombs, drugs, hazardous chemicals, and nuclear devices.

Section 201(b): FAA shall deploy and use existing bomb detection equipment. Within 60 days, FAA shall establish goals for—

- (1) deploying equipment now in storage;
- (2) specifying a percentage of checked bags to be scanned within 6 months, with a goal of scanning 100 percent;
- (3) the number of bomb detectors that will be purchased for deployment at medium sized airports within 6 months. [See item 29.]

House amendment

Section 106: Makes no change in section 44932(c) of title 49, United States Code, but directs Under Secretary to consider requiring various technologies described in item 6 above and report to Congress on them 6 months after enactment and annually thereafter until those technologies are deployed or a decision is made not to deploy them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees want new, state-of-the-art security equipment installed at airports on an expedited basis, and immediate action taken to ensure that existing explosive detection equipment is employed to the greatest extent possible for the screening of checked baggage. It is expected that additional equipment will be installed in as timely a manner as possible, and in the interim, other systems will be used to screen baggage. The Conferees agree that ev-

everything going on board a passenger aircraft should be screened within 60 days by FAA-approved methods.

10. AIRWORTHINESS OBJECTIONS BY FAA

Senate bill

Section 102: Must consult with FAA on all matters affecting safety and operations.

House amendment

Section 106: Under Secretary cannot take an action if notified by the FAA that it would adversely affect the airworthiness of the aircraft unless the Secretary approves the action.

Conference substitute

House provision.

11. ROLE OF NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD (NTSB)

Senate bill

No provision.

House amendment

Section 106: In taking an action that could affect safety, Under Secretary shall solicit and give great weight to views of NTSB.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct that in taking actions that could affect safety, the timely views of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) will be taken into consideration by the Under Secretary. The conferees wished to emphasize that the views of the NTSB should be provided in a sufficiently and timely manner so those views could be fully considered by the Under Secretary.

12. BIOLOGICAL AND CHEMICAL WEAPONS

Senate bill

Section 102(c): FAA shall develop ways to enhance the ability to detect biological and chemical weapons.

Section 106(c): DOT shall require airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect these weapons.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect and neutralize biological and chemical weapons, and instructs the FAA to develop ways to enhance the detection of these weapons. ✓

13. OVERSIGHT AND COORDINATION

Senate bill

Section 103: Establishes Aviation Security Oversight Council (ASOC), chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, and any other agency head DOT and DOJ determine to be appropriate.

House bill

Section 112: Establishes Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, and either NSC or Homeland Security. TSOB

shares intelligence, reviews emergency rules, and oversees actions of Under Secretary.

Establishes Advisory Council, composed of industry, labor, families, and others to advise Under Secretary on security matters.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report establishes the Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by the Secretary of DOT and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, NSC and Homeland Security. The TSOB may review and ratify or disapprove regulations issued by the Under Secretary; facilitate the coordination of intelligence, security and law enforcement activities affecting transportation; and, perform other duties including making recommendations to the Under Secretary for use in combating threats to the integrity of the nation's transportation system.

14. RULEMAKING

Senate bill

No Rules required by DOJ for its own employees; cockpit requirements issuable without APA.

House bill

Section 101: Under Secretary can issue security rules immediately without notice and comment, DOT or OMB review, and without a cost-benefit analysis but subject to disapproval by the TSOB.

Conference substitute

House provision.

15. INSPECTOR GENERAL

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 101: TSA is subject to the Inspector General Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference report instructs that the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will be subject to the Inspector General Act.

16. CROSS CHECKING DATA BASES

Senate bill

Section 103(a): DOT, acting through ASOC, shall try to develop a common data base with other agencies and share information about people.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASOC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies.

Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months.

A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent that the Under Secretary determines appropriate, the Under Secretary shall (1) establish procedures requiring airlines to use information from government agencies to identify people who may be a threat to civil aviation and (2) require more thorough background checks that include a review of other agency data bases.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the Senate and House at the conference on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses on the amendment of the House of Representatives to the bill (S. 1447), to improve aviation security, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the Senate and House in explanation of the effects of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences between the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clerical changes.

1. SHORT TITLE

Senate bill

Section 1: "Aviation Security Act".

House amendment

Section 1: "Airport Security Federalization Act of 2001"

Conference substitute

The title of the legislation will be "The Aviation and Transportation Security Act."

2. FINDINGS

Senate bill

Section 101: 7 findings on the importance of security and the need for Federal control and other changes.

House amendment

No provision

Conference substitute

The conferees recognize that the safety and security of the civil air transportation system is critical to the security of the United States and its national defense, and that a safe and secure United States civil air transportation system is essential to the basic freedom of America to move in intrastate, interstate and international transportation. The conferees further note the terrorist hijacking and crashes of passenger aircraft on September 11, 2001, which converted civil aircraft into guided bombs for strikes against the United States, required a fundamental change in the way it approaches the task of ensuring the safety and security of the civil air transportation system.

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

REV_00135705

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have instructed the Secretary to work with the TSOB to develop a data base that will allow the cross checking of the people on "watch lists" of various Federal law enforcement agencies to identify individuals that may pose a risk to security in an effort to identify potential risks to civil aviation. Passenger lists should be used in conjunction with this data base to help target those individuals that pose a threat, and allow appropriate action to be taken.

17. TERRORISM REPORT

Senate bill

Section 103(b): Require reports on all terrorism. Reports to be shared with DOT.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the intelligence community to ensure that reports on terrorism are shared with the DOT.

18. STRATEGIC PLANNING

Senate bill

Section 103(c): Require intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

19. COCKPIT SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 104: FAA shall issue a rule, without notice and comment, permitting only authorized persons to have access to the cockpit, requiring strengthening the door by installing locks and making them rigid, requiring the door to remain locked during flight except when the pilot needs to get out, and taking away the flight attendants key.

Special rules shall be issued for aircraft that do not have a door.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent the Under Secretary considers appropriate, the Under Secretary shall, after consultation with FAA, implement methods to restrict the opening of the cockpit door during flight and fortify those doors.

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Funds are authorized to help airlines pay for this.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report prohibits access to the flight deck of passenger aircraft by anyone other than the flight crew. Flight deck doors must be strengthened and remain locked while aircraft is in flight. Video cameras may be provided to alert pilots to cabin activity in the event of a security breach occurring during the flight.

These provisions apply to aircraft required to have a door between the flight deck and cabin. The Conferees also seek the redesign of cockpits to ensure the doors are secured at all times during flight. Redesign can encompass new flight deck materials, double doors to the cockpit as are used in Israel, and lavatories within the flight deck so that flight crew do not leave the flight deck. Once bathroom facilities are provided for the flight crew of passenger aircraft, the cockpit door no longer will need to be opened during flight.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to take into consideration the threat to aviation and national security when developing means to secure the flight deck on commuter aircraft. Any new burdens should be appropriate for the risk.

20. AIR MARSHALS

Senate bill

Section 105: Attorney General prescribes guidelines for training and deployment of sky marshals. DOT administers the program in accordance with these guidelines:

(1) Marshals may be placed on every flight but must be placed on every flight that DOT determines to be high risk.

(2) Marshals must be deployed in 30 days.

(3) Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

(4) DOT shall work with ICAO and foreign governments to address security concerns on foreign airlines.

(5) DOT may use personnel from other agencies, including the military, as air marshals.

Section 105: Waives age requirements for retired police, military and out-of-work pilots to work as air marshals, if they meet the background and fitness qualifications.

Report required in 18 months.

House bill

Section 105: Under Secretary deploys air marshals, provides for their background checks, trains them, and requires U.S. airlines to provide seats for them at no cost.

Preference for hiring laid off airline pilots as marshals.

Marshals must be placed on selected flights.

Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

DOT shall work with foreign governments to address security concerns on international flights from the U.S.

Until the Under Secretary has all the air marshals needed, personnel from other agencies may be used, with the other agency's concurrence, as air marshals on a non-reimbursable basis.

Airlines must provide seats, on a space-available basis, to off-duty marshals flying home.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that appropriately trained, supervised and equipped Federal Air Marshals (FAMs) may be deployed on every scheduled passenger flight, and must be placed on every "high risk" flight, which may include nonstop longhaul flights, or any other flight deemed appropriate, even if the flight is fully booked. For applicants who otherwise meet the background and fitness requirements, age restrictions may be waived to allow

of the 9-11-01.

(cockpit and cabin)

retired law enforcement officers, retired members of the armed forces, and members of commercial airline crews who have been furloughed from their positions. Personnel from other agencies may be deployed, with the agency's concurrence, as FAMs until an adequate number of FAMs are in place. Additionally, agreements may be entered into allowing trained law enforcement personnel from other agencies to travel with firearms in order to assist FAMs.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to follow air carrier passenger reservations and cancellation practices to the extent practicable. The Under Secretary should work cooperatively with air carriers to develop guidelines concerning reservations and cancellation for the transportation of Federal Air Marshals.

21. SCREENING

Senate bill

Section 108: Attorney General, in consultation with DOT, shall provide for screening of all passengers, property, mail, and cargo that will be carried aboard an aircraft.

Federal employees shall do screening.

Airport and airline employees shall be screened in the same way, except alternative methods may be used for security personnel.

Attorney General shall use screening technology approved by FAA.

Law enforcement personnel shall be deployed at each screening location.

At the 100 largest airports, additional police may be ordered.

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 120 days on effectiveness of security screening.

Section 106: DOJ and DOT may permit operational flexibility to tailor screening needs for seasonal variations, aircraft types, and special needs of small airports.

Section 108: Attorney General may require non-hub or smaller airports to use State or local law enforcement if the screening will be equivalent to that at larger airports, the training meets Federal standards, the airport is reimbursed by funds made available by this Act, and the airport is consulted.

House bill

Section 102: Federal government is responsible for screening passengers and property on passenger aircraft that originate in the U.S.. Silent on whether screeners are to be Federal employees or private contractors. Under Secretary shall deputize screeners to enforce Federal laws, but not to arrest people. Screeners must have common uniforms. Must be supervised by uniformed Federal employees.

Section 107: Under Secretary should consider certifying screeners and use TIP or similar technologies to measure their performance and revoke their certification if their performance is inadequate.

Section 104: Airport required to deploy law enforcement or military personnel at each screening location. Law enforcement can be either Federal or local.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the Federal government to hire, train and deploy Federal screeners, Federal managers, Federal security personnel and Federal law enforcement within 1 year. The participants in this Federal security workforce will not be able to strike or engage in work stoppages, and can be fired at the discretion of the Secretary if they are not able to adequately perform their duties.

The Conferees recognize that, in order to ensure that Federal screeners are able to provide the best security possible, the Secretary must be given wide latitude to determine the terms of employment of screeners. The Conference Committee expects that, in fixing the terms and conditions of employment the Secretary shall establish benefits and conditions of employment. The Conference Committee also recognizes that, in order to hire and retain screeners, the Secretary should also ensure that screeners have access to Federal health, life insurance, and retirement benefits, as well as workers' compensation benefits. The Committee believes that screening personnel must also be given whistleblower protections so that screeners may report security conditions without fear of reprisal.

The Conference Report requires the DOT to assume existing screening company contracts as soon as possible, but no later than 90 days after enactment of this legislation. The contracts for existing screeners can be extended for up to 6 months, and the DOT would have the option to extend contracts for no longer than 3 months, if necessary, to continue screening. DOT may also authorize additional Federal law enforcement, National Guard, and other personnel immediately to address the aviation security needs of the country.

The Conferees direct the Secretary to provide a report after one year from the date of enactment certifying deployment of the Federal screeners. Two years after certification airports can opt out of the Federalization of the screener level of the Federal workforce if the Secretary determines that these facilities would continue to provide an equal or higher level of security. Companies will be barred from providing screening if they violate federal standards, are found to allow repeated failures of the system, or prove to be a security risk. The DOT will also establish a Pilot Program for 5 airports, one from each category type, to apply for the use of private contract screeners.

Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the Act, the conferees expect the Transportation Security Administration to submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the screening requirements applicable to passengers boarding, and property being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or less used in scheduled passenger service with recommendations for any necessary changes in those requirements.

22. CITIZENSHIP OF SECURITY FIRMS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 104: Must be owned or controlled by a citizen of the U.S. to the extent the President determines that there are such firms.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\111601.015

Section 123(e): Similar sense of Congress.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that U.S. companies should be used to provide screening if they are available.

23. TRAINING OF PILOTS AND FLIGHT ATTENDANTS

Senate bill

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 6 months on crew training.

Section 107: DOT shall develop a mandatory airline training program for crews dealing with a hijacking. Training shall be developed in coordination with law enforcement experts.

House bill

Section 106: Under Secretary should consider updating training for dealing with hijacking that includes ways for dealing with suicidal hijackers. Report six months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that detailed guidance shall be developed for a mandatory air carrier training program to assist flight crews and attendants in hijack situations. The training curriculum will be developed in consultation with Federal law enforcement agencies with expertise in dealing with these types of threat conditions.

24. HOW FLIGHT ATTENDANTS NOTIFY PILOTS OF A HIJACKING

Senate bill

Section 107: FAA shall revise procedures by which flight attendants notify pilots and implement new measures as soon as practicable.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary should consider requiring the installation of switches in the cabin so that the flight attendants can discreetly notify the pilots.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Under Secretary to consider the installation of a switch to be located in the cabin for flight attendants to notify pilots in the event of a hijacking without the knowledge of passengers. or other devices

25. PROVISION OF PERSONNEL FROM OTHER AGENCIES

Senate bill

Section 105: Amends section 106(m) to allow other agencies to provide personnel to FAA.

House bill

Section 102(d): Same provision, worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conferees call upon other agencies to provide personnel that has received the proper training for use by the FAA as Federal air marshals (FAMs) in an effort to support and supplement ~~that~~ the FAM workforce in its early stages.

26. AIRPORT PERIMETER ACCESS SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 106: DOT may order deployment of law enforcement personnel as needed to bolster airport security by entering into an agreement with another agency to deploy Federal law enforcement at airports.

Section 106(b): FAA shall provide technical support and financial assistance to small airports to help defray security costs.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have given the Secretary the ability to work with the airports to address potential threats at individual facilities by ordering the deployment of Federal law enforcement authorities to improve airport perimeter and access security in an effort to counter potential criminal activities. Such actions also can include providing increased security at air traffic control facilities. Additionally, the FAA Administrator will develop a plan to provide technical support to enable small- and medium-sized airports to enhance their security operations, and shall include using network digital video surveillance systems.

27. INDIVIDUALS WITH ACCESS TO SECURE AREAS OF THE AIRPORT

Senate bill

See item 21

Section 106(a): DOT, in consultation with ASOC, shall consider whether such individuals should be screened.

Section 106(d): Amend 44903(g)(2) to delete 1/31/01 deadline and beef up language on access control requirements.

Consider deployment of biometric technologies.

Establish pilot programs at 20 airports to test new technologies.

DOT shall require airlines and airports to develop security awareness programs for employees.

Section 211: Within 6 months, DOT shall recommend to airports commercially available ways to prevent access to secure areas. As part of this, DOT shall review effectiveness of biometric and other systems, focus on eliminating piggy-backing, and include a 12-month deployment strategy for currently available technology at Category X airports. Not later than 18 months, DOT shall conduct a review of reductions in unauthorized access.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary shall consider imposing standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles that have access to secure areas and provide for the use of technology to verify the identity of those vehicles entering a secure area. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that all individuals, goods, property, vehicles, and other equipment seeking access to secure areas must be screened and inspected before entry. The Conference Committee instructs that prescribed requirements should provide at least the same level of protection as the screening of passengers and baggage. The Conferees, however, recognize that these requirements may make allowances for tools and equipment necessary to perform duties in secure areas. The Secretary will examine the physical configuration of individual airports, and consider the views of the TSOB to consider implementing standards to protect the integrity of secure areas.

28. BAN ON PARKING OF VEHICLES WITHIN 300 FEET OF TERMINAL

Senate bill

Section 106(b): FAA, in consultation with local law enforcement, shall reexamine the need for 300 feet restriction.

House bill

Section 121: Removes this parking ban if the airport, in consultation with local law enforcement, certifies to DOT, after doing a threat assessment, that safeguards are in place to protect public safety.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that all airports must consult with local law enforcement and inform DOT that proper safeguards are in place to ensure that parked vehicles are not a security risk. Each airport must submit views regarding its assessment of the needs of their facility.

29. CHECKED BAGGAGE

Senate bill

See item 9

Section 201(b)(1): Requirement for all baggage to be screened within 9 months.

FAA must establish within 60 days confidential goals for scanning a specific percentage of checked bags within 6 months and annual goals thereafter eventually scanning 100%.

Section 201(c) - page 85 FAA shall require airlines to upgrade the bag match system. Shall establish goals within 60 days to accomplish this including interim measures to match a higher percentage of bags until bomb detectors are used to scan 100% of bags.

Confidential report to Congress in 1 year.

House bill

See item 9

Section 106: All checked baggage must be screened by December 31, 2003. All existing explosive detection equipment must be used to the maximum extent possible.

Additional explosive detection equipment must be installed as soon as possible.

In the interim, airlines must implement a bag match program.

A system must be in place as soon as possible to screen cargo transported in passenger aircraft.

Section 123(d): Sense of Congress that all checked baggage should be screened by any available means.

Conference substitute

The Conferees feel strongly that all baggage to be placed on passenger flights must be screened. Existing technology, including EDS, should be used and upgraded in an effort to ensure that all checked baggage goes through such a system. Any baggage that does not go through EDS will be required to go through some form of manual or other comparable screening system. An alternate system of screening cargo should also be established, and periodic reports issued to provide an understanding of the progress made on these efforts.

30. COMPUTER ASSISTED PASSENGER PROFILING SYSTEM (CAPPS)

Senate bill

Section 201(d): FAA shall make all passengers subject to CAPPS even if they don't check bags so that their carry-ons and person will be subject to additional security measures. Report within 3 months.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASCC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to CAPPS and to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies. Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106(9): The Under Secretary should consider providing the enhanced use of CAPPS to more effectively screen passengers and carry-on baggage. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that an enhanced and upgraded use of the Computer Assisted Passenger Pre-Screening System (CAPPS) must be considered to more effectively screen passengers and baggage. The Conferees also recognize that adjustments may need to be made to reflect circumstances in some areas of the U.S., including State with unique transportation needs.

31. DEPUTIZING FOR ENFORCEMENT OF FEDERAL SECURITY LAWS

Senate bill

Section 108(b): Requires Attorney General to deputize State and local law enforcement to regulate screening at non-hubs.

House bill

Private contractor employees deputized.

Conference substitute

No provision.

32. HIRING AND TRAINING OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: DOJ, in consultation with DOT, shall establish a program for the hiring and training of screeners. Hiring qualifications shall be set in 30 days. Includes list of qualifications screeners must meet such as education and language requirements. Training plans must be developed within 60 days. Requires 40 hours of classroom training and 60 hours of on the job training. Current lists of dual use items (seemingly harmless items that could be used as a weapon) shall be part of the training. Section 104 - page 16

House bill

Under Secretary may set minimum pay for screeners. Preference shall be given to veterans in the hiring of screeners and laid off airline workers. Final rule for certification of screening companies changed from May 31, 2001 to 6 months after date of enactment. In the meantime, within 30 days of enactment, the standards in the proposed rule, such as education and language requirements, shall be in effect. All screeners must be in approved uniforms.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

33. CITIZENSHIP OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: Must have been a national of the U.S. for at least 5 years.

House bill

Section 104(a): Must be U.S. citizens.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that all airport screeners must be citizens of the U.S.

34. STATUS OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(d): Notwithstanding any law, the Attorney General may hire, fire, and pay screeners as he determines necessary.

House bill

Section 102: Federal supervisor can order the dismissal of any screener.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report provides the Under Secretary the authority to employ, terminate and fix the conditions of employment for the Federal screening workforce.

35. STRIKES BY SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(e): Strikes prohibited pursuant to Title 5.

House bill

Section 102: Strikes prohibited.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that the airport screening workforce will be prohibited from striking. The Conferees have provided the Transportation Security Administration authority to utilize existing authority provided to the FAA to develop personnel and acquisition systems. The authority gives the Administration flexibility to design its own policies and procedures and not use the FAA's system, while retaining the legal requirements under sections 40110 and 40112.

36. BACKGROUND CHECKS

Senate bill

Section 109(f): Requires background checks for current screeners and others with access to the airport.

Section 201(a): Requires background checks for current screeners and others to be completed in 9 months unless the person has had such a check in the past 5 years. Alternative checks shall be developed for those who have lived in the U.S. for less than 5 years.

House bill

Section 107: Allows smaller airports to use the same expedited procedures for criminal history background checks as the larger airports now use. (Under the 2000 Security Act these expedited procedures do not go into effect at smaller airports until 2003.)

Requires background check (including review of government data bases) for all current screeners and those with access to secure

areas except for those who have already had such a check or those who are exempted by FAA rules from such checks.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

The Conferees encourage the Under Secretary to provide channeling authority to professional organizations representing industry to FBI AFIS fingerprint databases to perform criminal history verification of aviation business employees. (S) ✓

37. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Senate bill

Section 110: Amends section 44912 to require periodic reviews of threats to civil aviation and the potential for the release of biological and chemical weapons. A person shall be designated to be responsible for security research. The person shall file an annual report on research activities. A scientific advisory panel shall be established. DOT shall coordinate research with DOJ.

Section 221: Authorizes $50 million per year to research various security technologies.

House bill

Section 101: Transfers security research from FAA to the TSA. The TSA can use FAA research facilities.

Conference substitute

A modified version of the Senate provision.

38. FLIGHT SCHOOLS

Senate bill

Section 111: Regarding jet-propelled aircraft, a person shall not give flight instruction, including instruction in simulator, to an alien (or other person specified by DOT) unless DOJ issues that person a certificate of completion of the background check of the alien. Requests for the background check shall be made jointly by the alien and the flight school. Investigation must be completed in 30 days. Investigation includes fingerprint check, immigration check, and a determination of whether alien is a national security risk. Expedited procedures shall be developed for an alien seeking recurrent training. Penalties for violations shall be developed by DOT rulemaking. Flight schools shall report aliens that they train.

Section 111(c): DOT and State shall work with ICAO to improve screening of student pilots.

House bill

Section 106(13): The Under Secretary should consider requiring background checks on individuals seeking flying lessons (including simulator lessons) on aircraft weighing more than 12,500 pounds. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter until the Under Secretary implements the checks or decides not to require them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that flight school training for aircraft with a minimum certificated weight of 12,500 pounds or more should not be allowed for any alien within the United States unless they have passed a sufficient background check. Such individuals seeking to attend flight school may begin pilot training after 45 days or upon being certified as having passed a background investigation regarding their criminal history and immigration status. A

1 And the House agree to the same.

security awareness program will be developed to assist employees that work at flight schools by helping to increase their awareness of a potential threat.

39. PENALTIES

Senate bill

Section 114: Imposes criminal penalties for interfering with security personnel at a commercial service airport.

House bill

Section 116(c): Transfers the relevant civil penalty authorities from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that an individual who disrupts the duties of security screening personnel within a commercial service airport shall be fined and/or imprisoned for up to 10 years. The use of a dangerous weapon to interfere with security screening may result in up to life imprisonment.

40. INTRASTATE AIR SERVICE

Senate bill

Section 116: DOT may grant antitrust exemptions to ensure continued viability of air service in that State.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that DOT may grant anti-trust immunity to ensure continued viability of air service within a state. If the Secretary approves any such request, a report must be given to the relevant Senate and House Committees within six months of the approval describing what actions have been taken by the carriers receiving the exemption.

41. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS

Senate bill

Section 117: DOT shall require all airlines to use the best technology to ensure that their systems are secure from unauthorized access. DOT shall submit an annual report on compliance.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

Under the direction of the Conference Report airlines are required to take action that will prevent unauthorized access to computer reservation systems and the information they contain on passengers. Technology should be utilized to the greatest extent possible to ensure the integrity of these systems.

42. FEES

Senate bill

Section 118(a): Within 180 days, airlines remit a $2.50 fee per enplanement.

House bill

Section 108: Under Secretary shall impose a fee of not more than $2.50 per one-way trip. The amount of the fee shall be reasonably related to the costs of providing the screening service. In addition, a fee can be imposed directly on the airlines but it cannot be more than the airlines paid for screening services in 2000. Fees shall be credited as off-setting collections. Passengers using airports where screening services are not provided may be exempted from the fee.

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute requires a fee to be charged to cover the cost of providing the aviation security services. The fee will be based on the number of times a passenger boards a plane during the course of travel, but will be capped at $5.00 per one-way trip. Any additional funds needed will be authorized to be appropriated or may come from a fee imposed directly on the airlines.

The Secretary may waive or modify the security fee to take into account the isolation of certain communities. In determining whether to waive or modify this fee, the Secretary shall consider the costs of transportation security and the benefits of transportation security that is bestowed on those communities. The Conference substitute amends section 45301(b) of title 49, United States Code, with respect to limitations on overflight fees to (1) to make the language consistent with the new security fee language of this Act, and (2) to clarify Congressional intent with respect to the FAA costs upon which the fees can be based. Specifically, the conference substitute replaces the word "directly" with "reasonably", since the word "directly" has been a source of much confusion and narrow interpretation, and has been a primary cause of recurring litigation which has frustrated and delayed the FAA's imposition of the overflight fees for a number of years. Additionally, this amendment specifies that the FAA's costs upon which the fees are based are to be determined solely by the Administrator. This is to clarify that the Administrator has full authority to determine costs by appropriate means. This amendment is not intended to require revision of the fees recently promulgated by the FAA (66 FR 43680, Aug. 20, 2001) but rather, to clarify longstanding Congressional intent that the FAA expeditiously and continuously collect the fees authorized under section 45301(a) of title 49.

43. AUTHORIZATION

Senate bill

Section 118(b): Authorizes such sums for the next 3 years as may be necessary to carry out the security functions.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes such sums as may be necessary to the TSA for operating costs and for screening services not covered by the above fee.

Authorizes $500 million for grants to airlines to fortify cockpit doors, install video monitors to view the passenger cabin, ensure continuous operation of transponder, and use of other technologies.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report authorizes the necessary spending for the cost of providing aviation security.

44. AIRPORT FUNDING

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 119(a): Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay security costs in FY 2002 for any cost incurred after 9/11 regardless of when it was incurred. Waives the local matching share. In deciding whether to make a discretionary AIP grant for security costs, the availability and use of non-Federal funding by the airport shall be considered.

Section 120: Authorizes such sums in 2002 to compensate airports for security costs. Costs must be documented and subject to an IG audit. DOT shall publish procedures for filing claims in 30 days.

Section 119(c): PFC requests for security funding should be expedited.

Section 119(b): For the purpose of determining AIP entitlements in FY 2003, enplanements in 2000 or 2001, whichever is higher, shall be used.

Section 201(b): Modifying terminal and baggage systems in order to install bomb detection equipment is made AIP eligible. Section 113: Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay for added law enforcement costs in at a non-hub or small hub airport regardless of when the cost was incurred.

Waives the local matching share.

In FY 2002, allows AIP and PFC money to be used to pay debt service if that would prevent an airport, or privately owned terminal, from defaulting on its bond.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes a total of $1.5 billion in 2002 and 2003 to reimburse airports for direct costs they incurred to meet new security requirements. Such sums to remain available until expended. Before getting the money, the airport must agree to meet with its concessionaires to discuss rent adjustments and provide an itemized list of costs incurred.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

45. COMPETITION PLANS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(a): Waives an airport's obligation to submit a competition plan in FY 2002 when it is seeking money to improve security.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report waives the obligation of an airport to submit a competition plan in FY '02 when seeking money to improve security.

46. REPORTING SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITIES

Senate bill

Section 121: Exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing, in good faith, suspicious activity. DOJ shall establish procedures to notify the FAA of people who may pose a risk of hijacking. Report shall be submitted in 120 days on the implementation of this notification.

House bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report encourages and exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing suspicious activities in response to a "reasonably believed" threat.

47. ARMING PILOTS

Senate bill

Section 122: National Institute of Justice shall assess non-lethal weapons for use by pilots and report to DOT in 90 days. After receiving report, DOT may authorize pilots to carry such weapons. DOT shall establish training and procedural requirements for using these weapons.

Section 125: Authorizes FAA to permit a pilot with proper training to carry a gun in the cockpit. FAA shall establish a training program. Report shall be submitted every 6 months on the effectiveness of this provision.

House bill

Section 106: DOT cannot take any action to prevent a pilot from taking a gun into the cockpit if the policy of the airline allows it and the pilot has completed a training program acceptable to the Under Secretary.

Conference substitute

A pilot is authorized to carry an approved firearm into the cockpit if approved by the Under Secretary and the air carrier, and the pilot has received proper training.

48. ISOLATED COMMUNITIES

Senate bill

Section 123: During an emergency, DOT, after consulting with the ASCC, may grant waivers on flight restrictions to allow flights carrying freight, mail, patients, and medical supplies to areas with extraordinary transportation needs given isolation of the area and if the waiver is in the public interest.

House bill

Section 120: Similar provision but worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that during an emergency DOT may grant waivers on flight restrictions to areas with extraordinary transportation needs.

49. SUPPLIES ON BOARD AIRCRAFT

Senate bill

Section 124: DOT shall ensure the safety of food and other supplies on aircraft by sealing packages, screening personnel and vehicles, etc.

House bill

See item 27

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that DOT should establish procedures to ensure the safety and security of on-board supplies for intrastate passenger aircraft. The Secretary will establish procedures that may increase security for the point of origin of the supplier, provide for sealed supplies, and the screening of the supplies as they enter the airport.

50. AIRMAN REGISTRY

Senate bill

Section 126: Directs FAA to modify the registry to make it more effective in combating terrorism. FAA should work with State and locals to assist in identifying those applying for or holding airmen certificates.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the FAA must take steps to make the airman registry more effective to combat terrorism by working with the appropriate authorities to assist in properly identifying persons applying for or in possession of airmen certificates.

51. PASSENGER MANIFESTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 111: Within 60 days, U.S. and foreign airlines on international flights to the U.S. must provide to the Under Secretary (or another agency) by electronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest with specified information.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires air carriers to use the Air Passenger Information System (APIS) to provide a crew and passenger manifest and related information to Customs for each flight.

52. RESULTS-BASED MANAGEMENT

Senate bill

Section 127: With 60 days, DOT shall establish acceptable performance levels for aviation security and provide Congress with an action plan clarifying the responsibilities of the government agencies involved. Each year, a performance plan shall be made available. Any contracts to implement this Act shall try to maximize the use of performance based service contracts.

House bill

Section 106(7): Consider establishing performance goals for screeners. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter until this is implemented or rejected.

Conference substitute

Modified Senate provision.

53. EMPLOYMENT REGISTER

Senate bill

Section 128(a): DOT shall establish and maintain an employment register.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

No provision.

54. TRAINING FACILITIES

Senate bill

Section 128(b): DOT may use FAA training facilities to train security screeners.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Secretary to use existing Federal training facilities, where possible, to address the training needs of security screening personnel.

55. AIRSPACE RESTRICTIONS

Senate bill

Section 129: President shall submit a report within 30 days describing any airspace restrictions that remain in place and the justification for those restrictions.

House bill

Section 119: The restrictions on Class B airspace shall cease to be in effect 10 days after enactment unless a notice is published prior to the 10th day reimposing and explaining the reasons for those restrictions.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to lift restrictions on Class B airspace under specified requirements.

56. VOLUNTEERS

Senate bill

Section 130: DOT shall carry out a program to permit police, firefighters, and paramedics to provide emergency services during flight. Exempts from liability those who help in an emergency. This does not authorize the possession of firearms.

House bill

No provision but exemption from liability seems to be covered by existing law, section 5(b) of Aviation Medical Assistance Act.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to implement a program that will allow qualified law enforcement, firefighters and emergency service technicians to assist in the event of an emergency during commercial air flights. This program will establish the credentials of volunteers, maintain their confidentiality and exempt them from liability.

57. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 110: Limits liability of passenger or crew who hurts a person they, in good faith, believe was hijacking or about to hijack the plane.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report exempts passengers and crew from liability if an individual "reasonably believed" that a hijacking was occurring.

58. GENERAL AVIATION SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 131: FAA shall begin a security program for aircraft over 12,500 pounds within 90 days. Waivers from this requirement can be granted. A security program for smaller aircraft shall begin in 1 year. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

Aircraft may not be sold or leased to an alien unless a background check has been done or until the security programs described above are implemented.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference report directs the Secretary to provide Congress a report on improving general aviation security in the United States within 3 months of enactment of the legislation.

The Conferees note that a number of issues on aviation security research merit the prompt attention of the Department of Transportation. In particular, the Conferees observe that research into providing better security with minimal disruption in the system in the area of general aviation is important.

The Conferees note that the FAA has recently designated a consortium of schools as a general aviation center of excellence and anticipates that the FAA would draw upon the expertise of these institutions in formulating a security program for general aviation.

The Conferees also note that NASA, in coordination with the DOT, is investigating technology that would facilitate remote screening of small aircraft prior to takeoff.

Such a general aviation remote screening system (GARSS) could be installed on a vehicle or mobile platform, or in a fixed facility alongside a taxiway, and would provide a pre-takeoff alert if suspicious objects or materials were detected aboard an aircraft.

The Conferees urge that the development and implementation of GARSS be pursued.

59. FUNDING FOR GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(b): In FY 2002, allows non-primary airports within Class B airspace to seek AIP money for any purpose, including operational costs.

Conference substitute

Modified House position.

60. CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO IRS CODE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(e): Amends Code to cross-reference this Security Act so that the money authorized by this Act out of the Trust Fund can be spent.

Conference substitute

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

The Conference Report amends the IRS code to cross-reference this legislation to provide for the authorization of spending ~~from~~ ^{from} the Trust Fund.

61. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

62. ALCOHOL AND DRUG TESTING

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 115: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to transfer alcohol and drug testing functions from the FAA to the TSA.

63. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 116: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

64. SAVINGS PROVISION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 117: Ensures a smooth transfer from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report

House provision.

65. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 118: Requires the President's budget submissions starting in 2003 to list the TSA budget separately.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report

House provision.

66. AIR AMBULANCES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Amends the Airline Stabilization Act to modify the method for distributing compensation to air ambulances.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends the Airline Stabilization Act to allow for a modified system of providing compensation to air tour operators and air ambulances to better address their needs after industry wide losses. It is the Conferees' position that the Stabilization Act's section 103 compensation formula language, "revenue ton miles or any other auditable measure" should be broadly construed and should not restrict compensation exclusively to Revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} Miles reported on previously filed DOT Form 41s. If Air, Crew, Maintenance, Insurance lessors can provide accurate and auditable records of their revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} miles during the relevant time period, then they should be eligible for compensation based under the Stabilization Act.

67. PASSENGERS WHO BOUGHT TICKETS ON BANKRUPT AIRLINES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123: Other airlines must honor these tickets to the extent practicable.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the air carriers, to the extent practicable, to honor the tickets of passengers purchased by airlines that file for bankruptcy, if the purchaser requests the use of his or her ticket within 60 days of the suspended or canceled flight, for the first 18 months after enactment of this legislation.

68. FLIGHT SERVICE STATION EMPLOYEES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(a): Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with these employees.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with flight service station employees.

69. WAR RISK INSURANCE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(b): Sense of Congress that vendors agents and sub-contractors of general aviation aircraft should get war risk insurance.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress on the availability of war risk insurance to vendors, agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all their domestic operations.

70. ANIMALS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(c): Sense of Congress that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the Postal Service allows to be mailed.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the House that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the U.S. Postal Service permits to be sent in the mail.

71. CARRY-ON BAGGAGE

Senate bill

Report on carry-on baggage.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the Congress that the FAA should continue its current restrictions on carry-on baggage of 1 bag plus 1 personal item. A backpack should be considered a personal item.

72. USPS MAIL POLICY IN ALASKA

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees encourage the Congress to pass legislation quickly to restructure the United States Postal Service's process of tendering non-priority bypass mail with the State of Alaska. Restructuring this program to direct more carriers to convert to 121 passenger operators will improve the safety of air transportation in Alaska and enhance the security of passengers.

73. VICTIMS COMPENSATION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Title II:

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute extends the liability limitations of the Air Transportation Stabilization Act to aircraft manufacturers, State port authorities, owners and operators of airports, and persons with property interests in the World Trade Center.

These provisions limit liability under the Act to the maximum level of their insurance coverage.

The Conferees expect that security functions at United States airports should become a Federal government responsibility, and it is their belief that while the number of Federal air marshals is classified, their presence would have a deterrent effect on hijacking and would further bolster public confidence in the safety of air travel. The Conferees also noted that the effectiveness of existing security measures, including employee background checks and passenger pre-screening, is currently impaired because of the inaccessibility of, or the failure to share information among, data bases maintained by different Federal and international agencies for criminal behavior or pertinent intelligence information.

The Conferees developed this legislation to address the security of the nation's transportation system.

3. ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY FUNCTION WITHIN DOT

Senate bill

Section 102: Creates a new Deputy Secretary of Transportation.

House amendment

Section 101: Creates a new Transportation Security Administration (TSA) within DOT headed by an Under Secretary. Establishes qualifications. Sets 5-year term. TSA has same procurement and personnel authority as the FAA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report creates the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to be headed by an Under Secretary within the DOT.

4. FUNCTIONS OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Coordinate and direct the functions of DOT and FAA under Chapter 449.

Work with the FAA on actions that affect safety.

Coordinate with DOJ, DOD, and other agencies on matters related to aviation security.

Coordinate transportation and actions of other agencies during an emergency. (This does not supersede the authority of any other agency.)

Establish uniform standards for transportation during an emergency.

Provide notice to other agencies about threats during an emergency. The Secretary defines what constitutes an emergency.

Take other actions, the Secretary shall prescribe.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary will be responsible for security in all modes of transportation. Specifically, Under Secretary is responsible for the following:

Receiving, assessing, and distributing intelligence information to the appropriate people in the transportation community.

Assessing threats to transportation.

Developing policies to deal with these threats.

Coordinating with other agencies.

Serve as the liaison with the intelligence community.

Any person with a property interest in the World Trade Center, as a condition to receiving liability protection under the Act, is required to satisfy all contractual obligations to rebuild or assist in the rebuilding of the World Trade Center.

The Conference substitute also limits the liability for all claims arising from the terrorist-related attacks of September 11, 2001, brought against the City of New York to the greater of the City's insurance coverage or $350,000,000.

8 This limitation on damages against the City of New York, however, ~~does~~ not apply to any non-government or private entity that is contracted with the City.

The Conference substitute also excludes entities primarily engaged in the business of airport security from its limitation on liability.

Supervising airport security using Federal uniformed personnel.

Manage the Federal security personnel in the field

Enforce security regulations.

Undertake research to improve security.

Inspect, maintain, and test security equipment.

Ensure that adequate security is provided for the transportation of cargo.

Oversee the security at airports and other transportation facilities.

Perform background checks on screeners and those who work at airports.

Develop standards for the hiring and firing of screeners.

Train and test screeners.

Conference substitute

The Conferees believe the best way to ensure effective Federal management of the nation's transportation system is through the creation of a new Administration within DOT to be called the Transportation Security Administration (TSA). The TSA's responsibilities will encompass security in all modes of transportation.

5. PAY OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 127: Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule plus bonuses based on performance.

House amendment

Section 101(c): Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000).

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the Under Secretary is to be paid at Level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000). A bonus, not to exceed thirty percent of the annual salary may be provided based on the performance of the US to be determined by the Secretary.

6. REPORTS

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Annual report of activities.

Section 127: Annual DOT report on results achieved relative to the agency security performance plan.

Section 112: 60-day report on additional security measures.

Section 133: 120-day report on the new DOJ responsibilities for aviation security.

Section 113: 3-month report on how to improve security of general aviation and air charters.

House amendment

Section 106: Eliminates existing report in section 44938 of title 49, United States Code.

Conference substitute

6A. ENHANCED SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 115: 120 day report on the following issues:

- (1) Requiring verification of airport employees' identity.
- (2) Installing switches so flight attendants can notify pilots of a hijacking.
- (3) Revalidating airline and airport employee identification cards.
- (4) Updating strategy for dealing with hijackings.
- (5) Technology to improve communication between aircraft and ground facilities.

Section 211: DOT shall study options for improving positive IDs of passengers at check-in counters and boarding areas. Report required in 6 months.

House amendment

Section 106: Requires the Under Secretary to address the issues listed below and to report 6 months after the date of enactment on the progress being made in implementing each.

A similar report would have to be submitted each year thereafter until all the items had either been implemented or rejected:

- (1) Develop procedures (such as barrel roles or depressurizing the aircraft) and authorize equipment (such as lethal or non-lethal weapons) to help the pilot defend the aircraft against hijackers.
- (2) After consultation with the FAA, find ways to—
 - (A) limit access to the cockpit;
 - (B) strengthen cockpit doors;
 - (C) use video cameras to alert pilots to problems in the passenger cabin without having to open the cockpit door;
 - (D) ensure that the aircraft transponder cannot be turned off in flight.
- (3) Impose standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles and employees of aircraft fuelers, caterers, cleaners, and others who have access to aircraft and secure areas of airports.
- (4) Require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains.
- (5) Use various technologies, such as voice stress analysis, to prevent a dangerous person from boarding a plane.
- (6) Develop certification standards for individual screeners.
- (7) Establish performance goals and use Threat Image Projection (TIP) or similar devices to test whether screeners are meeting those goals or certification standards.
- (8) Develop ways for airlines to have access to law enforcement and immigration data bases to ensure that dangerous people do not board their planes.
- (9) Use the profiling system known as CAPS to not only give special scrutiny to selected checked baggage but also to the passengers who fit the profile and their carry-on baggage.
- (10) Use technology to ensure that airport and airline employees and law enforcement officers are who they claim to be.
- (11) Install switches in the passenger cabin so that flight attendants can discreetly notify a pilot if there is a problem.
- (12) Change the training of airline personnel in light of the change in the methods and goals of hijackers as evidenced by the attack of September 11th.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

(13) Provide for background checks for those seeking flying lessons on large aircraft or flight simulators of such aircraft.

(14) Enter into agreements allowing trained law enforcement personnel of other agencies to travel with guns in order to assist a sky marshal.

(15) Perform more thorough background checks (including review of immigration and other government records) of airport screeners, student pilots, and others who have unescorted access to secure areas of the airport.

(16) Establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel authorized to carry a gun on board to ensure they are who they claim to be.

(17) Allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening for those passengers that wish to participate.

(18) Develop security procedures for stem cells and other medical containers that cannot be opened or x-rayed.

(19) Develop security procedures to allow musical instruments to be carried in the passenger cabin.

(20) Provide for the use of wireless devices to enable communications among airport security personnel about potential threats.

Conference substitute

The Under Secretary shall decide upon establishing security measures to: ensure that the flight transponder cannot be turned off in flight; require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains; use voice stress analysis, biometric, and other technologies to prevent dangerous persons from boarding a plane; establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel traveling with firearms to ensure they are who they claim to be; require the consideration of alternative security procedures that would not damage medical products; allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening on a voluntary basis; and, provide for the use of technology to enhance communications among airport security personnel about potential threats. The conferees encourage efforts by the Transportation Security Administration and professional organizations representing industry to use biometric information, such as fingerprints collected initially as input to the background check process, for future verification of identity at access control points to secure airport areas. The Conferees applaud efforts to improve day-to-day airport security by utilizing this raw biometric information collected from individuals as a recurrent identifier for access to secure areas. The Conferees urge the Transportation Security Administration to work with industry organizations that ~~can~~ assist in the process of background checks, record-keeping, and universal access control data. 7. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Senate bill

Section 102(b): Responsible for screening, including the hiring and training of screeners.

House amendment

No provision—The Under Secretary is responsible for screening.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

Conference substitute
No provision.

8. TRANSITION

Senate bill

Section 102(d): Until Deputy Secretary takes office, the functions are performed by the Assistant Administrator of the FAA.

Section 108: Transition to Attorney General immediate. Actions completed in 9 months.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary shall assume civil aviation security responsibilities in 3 months. In the meantime, Under Secretary can take over airline contracts with screening companies.

No change until Under Secretary is appointed.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the Under Secretary to assume responsibility for civil aviation security within 3 months of the enactment of this legislation.

9. TECHNOLOGY AND EQUIPMENT

Senate bill

Section 102(c): Amends 44932(c) to require FAA to ensure the use of the best available security equipment, not merely the best available x-ray equipment.

Section 108: Restates provision in current law requiring manual process where equipment is now underutilized.

Section 132: By September 30, 2002, FAA shall decide the feasibility of implementing technologies designed to protect aviation and automatically detect bombs, drugs, hazardous chemicals, and nuclear devices.

Section 201(b): FAA shall deploy and use existing bomb detection equipment. Within 60 days, FAA shall establish goals for—

- (1) deploying equipment now in storage;
- (2) specifying a percentage of checked bags to be scanned within 6 months, with a goal of scanning 100 percent;
- (3) the number of bomb detectors that will be purchased for deployment at medium sized airports within 6 months. [See item 29.]

House amendment

Section 106: Makes no change in section 44932(c) of title 49, United States Code, but directs Under Secretary to consider requiring various technologies described in item 6 above and report to Congress on them 6 months after enactment and annually thereafter until those technologies are deployed or a decision is made not to deploy them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees want new, state-of-the-art security equipment installed at airports on an expedited basis, and immediate action taken to ensure that existing explosive detection equipment is employed to the greatest extent possible for the screening of checked baggage. It is expected that additional equipment will be installed in as timely a manner as possible, and in the interim, other systems will be used to screen baggage. The Conferees agree that ev-

everything going on board a passenger aircraft should be screened within 60 days by FAA-approved methods.

10. AIRWORTHINESS OBJECTIONS BY FAA

Senate bill

Section 102: Must consult with FAA on all matters affecting safety and operations.

House amendment

Section 106: Under Secretary cannot take an action if notified by the FAA that it would adversely affect the airworthiness of the aircraft unless the Secretary approves the action.

Conference substitute

House provision.

11. ROLE OF NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD (NTSB)

Senate bill

No provision.

House amendment

Section 106: In taking an action that could affect safety, Under Secretary shall solicit and give great weight to views of NTSB.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct that in taking actions that could affect safety, the timely views of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) will be taken into consideration by the Under Secretary. The conferees wished to emphasize that the views of the NTSB should be provided in a sufficiently and timely manner so those views could be fully considered by the Under Secretary.

12. BIOLOGICAL AND CHEMICAL WEAPONS

Senate bill

Section 102(c): FAA shall develop ways to enhance the ability to detect biological and chemical weapons.

Section 106(c): DOT shall require airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect these weapons.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect and neutralize biological and chemical weapons, and instructs the FAA to develop ways to enhance the detection of these weapons. ✓

13. OVERSIGHT AND COORDINATION

Senate bill

Section 103: Establishes Aviation Security Oversight Council (ASOC), chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, and any other agency head DOT and DOJ determine to be appropriate.

House bill

Section 112: Establishes Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, and either NSC or Homeland Security. TSOB

shares intelligence, reviews emergency rules, and oversees actions of Under Secretary.

Establishes Advisory Council, composed of industry, labor, families, and others to advise Under Secretary on security matters.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report establishes the Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by the Secretary of DOT and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, NSC and Homeland Security. The TSOB may review and ratify or disapprove regulations issued by the Under Secretary; facilitate the coordination of intelligence, security and law enforcement activities affecting transportation; and, perform other duties including making recommendations to the Under Secretary for use in combating threats to the integrity of the nation's transportation system.

14. RULEMAKING

Senate bill

No Rules required by DOJ for its own employees; cockpit requirements issuable without APA.

House bill

Section 101: Under Secretary can issue security rules immediately without notice and comment, DOT or OMB review, and without a cost-benefit analysis but subject to disapproval by the TSOB.

Conference substitute

House provision.

15. INSPECTOR GENERAL

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 101: TSA is subject to the Inspector General Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference report instructs that the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will be subject to the Inspector General Act.

16. CROSS CHECKING DATA BASES

Senate bill

Section 103(a): DOT, acting through ASOC, shall try to develop a common data base with other agencies and share information about people.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASOC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies.

Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months.

A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent that the Under Secretary determines appropriate, the Under Secretary shall (1) establish procedures requiring airlines to use information from government agencies to identify people who may be a threat to civil aviation and (2) require more thorough background checks that include a review of other agency data bases.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the Senate and House at the conference on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses on the amendment of the House of Representatives to the bill (S. 1447), to improve aviation security, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the Senate and House in explanation of the effects of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences between the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clerical changes.

1. SHORT TITLE

Senate bill

Section 1: "Aviation Security Act".

House amendment

Section 1: "Airport Security Federalization Act of 2001"

Conference substitute

The title of the legislation will be "The Aviation and Transportation Security Act."

2. FINDINGS

Senate bill

Section 101: 7 findings on the importance of security and the need for Federal control and other changes.

House amendment

No provision

Conference substitute

The conferees recognize that the safety and security of the civil air transportation system is critical to the security of the United States and its national defense, and that a safe and secure United States civil air transportation system is essential to the basic freedom of America to move in intrastate, interstate and international transportation. The conferees further note the terrorist hijacking and crashes of passenger aircraft on September 11, 2001, which converted civil aircraft into guided bombs for strikes against the United States, required a fundamental change in the way it approaches the task of ensuring the safety and security of the civil air transportation system.

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

REV_00135740

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have instructed the Secretary to work with the TSOB to develop a data base that will allow the cross checking of the people on "watch lists" of various Federal law enforcement agencies to identify individuals that may pose a risk to security in an effort to identify potential risks to civil aviation. Passenger lists should be used in conjunction with this data base to help target those individuals that pose a threat, and allow appropriate action to be taken.

17. TERRORISM REPORT

Senate bill

Section 103(b): Require reports on all terrorism. Reports to be shared with DOT.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the intelligence community to ensure that reports on terrorism are shared with the DOT.

18. STRATEGIC PLANNING

Senate bill

Section 103(c): Require intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

19. COCKPIT SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 104: FAA shall issue a rule, without notice and comment, permitting only authorized persons to have access to the cockpit, requiring strengthening the door by installing locks and making them rigid, requiring the door to remain locked during flight except when the pilot needs to get out, and taking away the flight attendants key.

Special rules shall be issued for aircraft that do not have a door.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent the Under Secretary considers appropriate, the Under Secretary shall, after consultation with FAA, implement methods to restrict the opening of the cockpit door during flight and fortify those doors.

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Funds are authorized to help airlines pay for this.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report prohibits access to the flight deck of passenger aircraft by anyone other than the flight crew. Flight deck doors must be strengthened and remain locked while aircraft is in flight. Video cameras may be provided to alert pilots to cabin activity in the event of a security breach occurring during the flight.

These provisions apply to aircraft required to have a door between the flight deck and cabin. The Conferees also seek the redesign of cockpits to ensure the doors are secured at all times during flight. Redesign can encompass new flight deck materials, double doors to the cockpit as are used in Israel, and lavatories within the flight deck so that flight crew do not leave the flight deck. Once bathroom facilities are provided for the flight crew of passenger aircraft, the cockpit door no longer will need to be opened during flight.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to take into consideration the threat to aviation and national security when developing means to secure the flight deck on commuter aircraft. Any new burdens should be appropriate for the risk.

20. AIR MARSHALS

Senate bill

Section 105: Attorney General prescribes guidelines for training and deployment of sky marshals. DOT administers the program in accordance with these guidelines:

(1) Marshals may be placed on every flight but must be placed on every flight that DOT determines to be high risk.

(2) Marshals must be deployed in 30 days.

(3) Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

(4) DOT shall work with ICAO and foreign governments to address security concerns on foreign airlines.

(5) DOT may use personnel from other agencies, including the military, as air marshals.

Section 105: Waives age requirements for retired police, military and out-of-work pilots to work as air marshals, if they meet the background and fitness qualifications.

Report required in 18 months.

House bill

Section 105: Under Secretary deploys air marshals, provides for their background checks, trains them, and requires U.S. airlines to provide seats for them at no cost.

Preference for hiring laid off airline pilots as marshals.

Marshals must be placed on selected flights.

Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

DOT shall work with foreign governments to address security concerns on international flights from the U.S.

Until the Under Secretary has all the air marshals needed, personnel from other agencies may be used, with the other agency's concurrence, as air marshals on a non-reimbursable basis.

Airlines must provide seats, on a space-available basis, to off-duty marshals flying home.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that appropriately trained, supervised and equipped Federal Air Marshals (FAMs) may be deployed on every scheduled passenger flight, and must be placed on every "high risk" flight, which may include nonstop longhaul flights, or any other flight deemed appropriate, even if the flight is fully booked. For applicants who otherwise meet the background and fitness requirements, age restrictions may be waived to allow

of the 9-11-01.

(cockpit and cabin)

retired law enforcement officers, retired members of the armed forces, and members of commercial airline crews who have been furloughed from their positions. Personnel from other agencies may be deployed, with the agency's concurrence, as FAMs until an adequate number of FAMs are in place. Additionally, agreements may be entered into allowing trained law enforcement personnel from other agencies to travel with firearms in order to assist FAMs.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to follow air carrier passenger reservations and cancellation practices to the extent practicable. The Under Secretary should work cooperatively with air carriers to develop guidelines concerning reservations and cancellation for the transportation of Federal Air Marshals.

21. SCREENING

Senate bill

Section 108: Attorney General, in consultation with DOT, shall provide for screening of all passengers, property, mail, and cargo that will be carried aboard an aircraft.

Federal employees shall do screening.

Airport and airline employees shall be screened in the same way, except alternative methods may be used for security personnel.

Attorney General shall use screening technology approved by FAA.

Law enforcement personnel shall be deployed at each screening location.

At the 100 largest airports, additional police may be ordered.

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 120 days on effectiveness of security screening.

Section 106: DOJ and DOT may permit operational flexibility to tailor screening needs for seasonal variations, aircraft types, and special needs of small airports.

Section 108: Attorney General may require non-hub or smaller airports to use State or local law enforcement if the screening will be equivalent to that at larger airports, the training meets Federal standards, the airport is reimbursed by funds made available by this Act, and the airport is consulted.

House bill

Section 102: Federal government is responsible for screening passengers and property on passenger aircraft that originate in the U.S.. Silent on whether screeners are to be Federal employees or private contractors. Under Secretary shall deputize screeners to enforce Federal laws, but not to arrest people. Screeners must have common uniforms. Must be supervised by uniformed Federal employees.

Section 107: Under Secretary should consider certifying screeners and use TIP or similar technologies to measure their performance and revoke their certification if their performance is inadequate.

Section 104: Airport required to deploy law enforcement or military personnel at each screening location. Law enforcement can be either Federal or local.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the Federal government to hire, train and deploy Federal screeners, Federal managers, Federal security personnel and Federal law enforcement within 1 year. The participants in this Federal security workforce will not be able to strike or engage in work stoppages, and can be fired at the discretion of the Secretary if they are not able to adequately perform their duties.

The Conferees recognize that, in order to ensure that Federal screeners are able to provide the best security possible, the Secretary must be given wide latitude to determine the terms of employment of screeners. The Conference Committee expects that, in fixing the terms and conditions of employment the Secretary shall establish benefits and conditions of employment. The Conference Committee also recognizes that, in order to hire and retain screeners, the Secretary should also ensure that screeners have access to Federal health, life insurance, and retirement benefits, as well as workers' compensation benefits. The Committee believes that screening personnel must also be given whistleblower protections so that screeners may report security conditions without fear of reprisal.

The Conference Report requires the DOT to assume existing screening company contracts as soon as possible, but no later than 90 days after enactment of this legislation. The contracts for existing screeners can be extended for up to 6 months, and the DOT would have the option to extend contracts for no longer than 3 months, if necessary, to continue screening. DOT may also authorize additional Federal law enforcement, National Guard, and other personnel immediately to address the aviation security needs of the country.

The Conferees direct the Secretary to provide a report after one year from the date of enactment certifying deployment of the Federal screeners. Two years after certification airports can opt out of the Federalization of the screener level of the Federal workforce if the Secretary determines that these facilities would continue to provide an equal or higher level of security. Companies will be barred from providing screening if they violate federal standards, are found to allow repeated failures of the system, or prove to be a security risk. The DOT will also establish a Pilot Program for 5 airports, one from each category type, to apply for the use of private contract screeners.

Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the Act, the conferees expect the Transportation Security Administration to submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the screening requirements applicable to passengers boarding, and property being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or less used in scheduled passenger service with recommendations for any necessary changes in those requirements.

22. CITIZENSHIP OF SECURITY FIRMS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 104: Must be owned or controlled by a citizen of the U.S. to the extent the President determines that there are such firms.

Section 123(e): Similar sense of Congress.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that U.S. companies should be used to provide screening if they are available.

23. TRAINING OF PILOTS AND FLIGHT ATTENDANTS

Senate bill

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 6 months on crew training.

Section 107: DOT shall develop a mandatory airline training program for crews dealing with a hijacking. Training shall be developed in coordination with law enforcement experts.

House bill

Section 106: Under Secretary should consider updating training for dealing with hijacking that includes ways for dealing with suicidal hijackers. Report six months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that detailed guidance shall be developed for a mandatory air carrier training program to assist flight crews and attendants in hijack situations. The training curriculum will be developed in consultation with Federal law enforcement agencies with expertise in dealing with these types of threat conditions.

24. HOW FLIGHT ATTENDANTS NOTIFY PILOTS OF A HIJACKING

Senate bill

Section 107: FAA shall revise procedures by which flight attendants notify pilots and implement new measures as soon as practicable.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary should consider requiring the installation of switches in the cabin so that the flight attendants can discreetly notify the pilots.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Under Secretary to consider the installation of a switch to be located in the cabin for flight attendants to notify pilots in the event of a hijacking without the knowledge of passengers. or other devices

25. PROVISION OF PERSONNEL FROM OTHER AGENCIES

Senate bill

Section 105: Amends section 106(m) to allow other agencies to provide personnel to FAA.

House bill

Section 102(d): Same provision, worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conferees call upon other agencies to provide personnel that has received the proper training for use by the FAA as Federal air marshals (FAMs) in an effort to support and supplement ~~that~~ the FAM workforce in its early stages.

26. AIRPORT PERIMETER ACCESS SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 106: DOT may order deployment of law enforcement personnel as needed to bolster airport security by entering into an agreement with another agency to deploy Federal law enforcement at airports.

Section 106(b): FAA shall provide technical support and financial assistance to small airports to help defray security costs.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have given the Secretary the ability to work with the airports to address potential threats at individual facilities by ordering the deployment of Federal law enforcement authorities to improve airport perimeter and access security in an effort to counter potential criminal activities. Such actions also can include providing increased security at air traffic control facilities. Additionally, the FAA Administrator will develop a plan to provide technical support to enable small- and medium-sized airports to enhance their security operations, and shall include using network digital video surveillance systems.

27. INDIVIDUALS WITH ACCESS TO SECURE AREAS OF THE AIRPORT

Senate bill

See item 21

Section 106(a): DOT, in consultation with ASOC, shall consider whether such individuals should be screened.

Section 106(d): Amend 44903(g)(2) to delete 1/31/01 deadline and beef up language on access control requirements.

Consider deployment of biometric technologies.

Establish pilot programs at 20 airports to test new technologies.

DOT shall require airlines and airports to develop security awareness programs for employees.

Section 211: Within 6 months, DOT shall recommend to airports commercially available ways to prevent access to secure areas. As part of this, DOT shall review effectiveness of biometric and other systems, focus on eliminating piggy-backing, and include a 12-month deployment strategy for currently available technology at Category X airports. Not later than 18 months, DOT shall conduct a review of reductions in unauthorized access.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary shall consider imposing standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles that have access to secure areas and provide for the use of technology to verify the identity of those vehicles entering a secure area. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that all individuals, goods, property, vehicles, and other equipment seeking access to secure areas must be screened and inspected before entry. The Conference Committee instructs that prescribed requirements should provide at least the same level of protection as the screening of passengers and baggage. The Conferees, however, recognize that these requirements may make allowances for tools and equipment necessary to perform duties in secure areas. The Secretary will examine the physical configuration of individual airports, and consider the views of the TSOB to consider implementing standards to protect the integrity of secure areas.

28. BAN ON PARKING OF VEHICLES WITHIN 300 FEET OF TERMINAL

Senate bill

Section 106(b): FAA, in consultation with local law enforcement, shall reexamine the need for 300 feet restriction.

House bill

Section 121: Removes this parking ban if the airport, in consultation with local law enforcement, certifies to DOT, after doing a threat assessment, that safeguards are in place to protect public safety.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that all airports must consult with local law enforcement and inform DOT that proper safeguards are in place to ensure that parked vehicles are not a security risk. Each airport must submit views regarding its assessment of the needs of their facility.

29. CHECKED BAGGAGE

Senate bill

See item 9

Section 201(b)(1): Requirement for all baggage to be screened within 9 months.

FAA must establish within 60 days confidential goals for scanning a specific percentage of checked bags within 6 months and annual goals thereafter eventually scanning 100%.

Section 201(c) - page 85 FAA shall require airlines to upgrade the bag match system. Shall establish goals within 60 days to accomplish this including interim measures to match a higher percentage of bags until bomb detectors are used to scan 100% of bags.

Confidential report to Congress in 1 year.

House bill

See item 9

Section 106: All checked baggage must be screened by December 31, 2003. All existing explosive detection equipment must be used to the maximum extent possible.

Additional explosive detection equipment must be installed as soon as possible.

In the interim, airlines must implement a bag match program.

A system must be in place as soon as possible to screen cargo transported in passenger aircraft.

Section 123(d): Sense of Congress that all checked baggage should be screened by any available means.

Conference substitute

The Conferees feel strongly that all baggage to be placed on passenger flights must be screened. Existing technology, including EDS, should be used and upgraded in an effort to ensure that all checked baggage goes through such a system. Any baggage that does not go through EDS will be required to go through some form of manual or other comparable screening system. An alternate system of screening cargo should also be established, and periodic reports issued to provide an understanding of the progress made on these efforts.

30. COMPUTER ASSISTED PASSENGER PROFILING SYSTEM (CAPPS)

Senate bill

Section 201(d): FAA shall make all passengers subject to CAPPS even if they don't check bags so that their carry-ons and person will be subject to additional security measures. Report within 3 months.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASCC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to CAPPS and to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies. Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106(9): The Under Secretary should consider providing the enhanced use of CAPPS to more effectively screen passengers and carry-on baggage. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that an enhanced and upgraded use of the Computer Assisted Passenger Pre-Screening System (CAPPS) must be considered to more effectively screen passengers and baggage. The Conferees also recognize that adjustments may need to be made to reflect circumstances in some areas of the U.S., including State with unique transportation needs.

31. DEPUTIZING FOR ENFORCEMENT OF FEDERAL SECURITY LAWS

Senate bill

Section 108(b): Requires Attorney General to deputize State and local law enforcement to regulate screening at non-hubs.

House bill

Private contractor employees deputized.

Conference substitute

No provision.

32. HIRING AND TRAINING OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: DOJ, in consultation with DOT, shall establish a program for the hiring and training of screeners. Hiring qualifications shall be set in 30 days. Includes list of qualifications screeners must meet such as education and language requirements. Training plans must be developed within 60 days. Requires 40 hours of classroom training and 60 hours of on the job training. Current lists of dual use items (seemingly harmless items that could be used as a weapon) shall be part of the training. Section 104 - page 16

House bill

Under Secretary may set minimum pay for screeners. Preference shall be given to veterans in the hiring of screeners and laid off airline workers. Final rule for certification of screening companies changed from May 31, 2001 to 6 months after date of enactment. In the meantime, within 30 days of enactment, the standards in the proposed rule, such as education and language requirements, shall be in effect. All screeners must be in approved uniforms.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

33. CITIZENSHIP OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: Must have been a national of the U.S. for at least 5 years.

House bill

Section 104(a): Must be U.S. citizens.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that all airport screeners must be citizens of the U.S.

34. STATUS OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(d): Notwithstanding any law, the Attorney General may hire, fire, and pay screeners as he determines necessary.

House bill

Section 102: Federal supervisor can order the dismissal of any screener.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report provides the Under Secretary the authority to employ, terminate and fix the conditions of employment for the Federal screening workforce.

35. STRIKES BY SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(e): Strikes prohibited pursuant to Title 5.

House bill

Section 102: Strikes prohibited.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that the airport screening workforce will be prohibited from striking. The Conferees have provided the Transportation Security Administration authority to utilize existing authority provided to the FAA to develop personnel and acquisition systems. The authority gives the Administration flexibility to design its own policies and procedures and not use the FAA's system, while retaining the legal requirements under sections 40110 and 40112.

36. BACKGROUND CHECKS

Senate bill

Section 109(f): Requires background checks for current screeners and others with access to the airport.

Section 201(a): Requires background checks for current screeners and others to be completed in 9 months unless the person has had such a check in the past 5 years. Alternative checks shall be developed for those who have lived in the U.S. for less than 5 years.

House bill

Section 107: Allows smaller airports to use the same expedited procedures for criminal history background checks as the larger airports now use. (Under the 2000 Security Act these expedited procedures do not go into effect at smaller airports until 2003.)

Requires background check (including review of government data bases) for all current screeners and those with access to secure

areas except for those who have already had such a check or those who are exempted by FAA rules from such checks.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

The Conferees encourage the Under Secretary to provide channeling authority to professional organizations representing industry to FBI AFIS fingerprint databases to perform criminal history verification of aviation business employees. (S) ✓

37. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Senate bill

Section 110: Amends section 44912 to require periodic reviews of threats to civil aviation and the potential for the release of biological and chemical weapons. A person shall be designated to be responsible for security research. The person shall file an annual report on research activities. A scientific advisory panel shall be established. DOT shall coordinate research with DOJ.

Section 221: Authorizes $50 million per year to research various security technologies.

House bill

Section 101: Transfers security research from FAA to the TSA. The TSA can use FAA research facilities.

Conference substitute

A modified version of the Senate provision.

38. FLIGHT SCHOOLS

Senate bill

Section 111: Regarding jet-propelled aircraft, a person shall not give flight instruction, including instruction in simulator, to an alien (or other person specified by DOT) unless DOJ issues that person a certificate of completion of the background check of the alien. Requests for the background check shall be made jointly by the alien and the flight school. Investigation must be completed in 30 days. Investigation includes fingerprint check, immigration check, and a determination of whether alien is a national security risk. Expedited procedures shall be developed for an alien seeking recurrent training. Penalties for violations shall be developed by DOT rulemaking. Flight schools shall report aliens that they train.

Section 111(c): DOT and State shall work with ICAO to improve screening of student pilots.

House bill

Section 106(13): The Under Secretary should consider requiring background checks on individuals seeking flying lessons (including simulator lessons) on aircraft weighing more than 12,500 pounds. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter until the Under Secretary implements the checks or decides not to require them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that flight school training for aircraft with a minimum certificated weight of 12,500 pounds or more should not be allowed for any alien within the United States unless they have passed a sufficient background check. Such individuals seeking to attend flight school may begin pilot training after 45 days or upon being certified as having passed a background investigation regarding their criminal history and immigration status. A

1 And the House agree to the same.

security awareness program will be developed to assist employees that work at flight schools by helping to increase their awareness of a potential threat.

39. PENALTIES

Senate bill

Section 114: Imposes criminal penalties for interfering with security personnel at a commercial service airport.

House bill

Section 116(c): Transfers the relevant civil penalty authorities from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that an individual who disrupts the duties of security screening personnel within a commercial service airport shall be fined and/or imprisoned for up to 10 years. The use of a dangerous weapon to interfere with security screening may result in up to life imprisonment.

40. INTRASTATE AIR SERVICE

Senate bill

Section 116: DOT may grant antitrust exemptions to ensure continued viability of air service in that State.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that DOT may grant anti-trust immunity to ensure continued viability of air service within a state. If the Secretary approves any such request, a report must be given to the relevant Senate and House Committees within six months of the approval describing what actions have been taken by the carriers receiving the exemption.

41. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS

Senate bill

Section 117: DOT shall require all airlines to use the best technology to ensure that their systems are secure from unauthorized access. DOT shall submit an annual report on compliance.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

Under the direction of the Conference Report airlines are required to take action that will prevent unauthorized access to computer reservation systems and the information they contain on passengers. Technology should be utilized to the greatest extent possible to ensure the integrity of these systems.

42. FEES

Senate bill

Section 118(a): Within 180 days, airlines remit a $2.50 fee per enplanement.

House bill

Section 108: Under Secretary shall impose a fee of not more than $2.50 per one-way trip. The amount of the fee shall be reasonably related to the costs of providing the screening service. In addition, a fee can be imposed directly on the airlines but it cannot be more than the airlines paid for screening services in 2000. Fees shall be credited as off-setting collections. Passengers using airports where screening services are not provided may be exempted from the fee.

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute requires a fee to be charged to cover the cost of providing the aviation security services. The fee will be based on the number of times a passenger boards a plane during the course of travel, but will be capped at $5.00 per one-way trip. Any additional funds needed will be authorized to be appropriated or may come from a fee imposed directly on the airlines.

The Secretary may waive or modify the security fee to take into account the isolation of certain communities. In determining whether to waive or modify this fee, the Secretary shall consider the costs of transportation security and the benefits of transportation security that is bestowed on those communities. The Conference substitute amends section 45301(b) of title 49, United States Code, with respect to limitations on overflight fees to (1) to make the language consistent with the new security fee language of this Act, and (2) to clarify Congressional intent with respect to the FAA costs upon which the fees can be based. Specifically, the conference substitute replaces the word "directly" with "reasonably", since the word "directly" has been a source of much confusion and narrow interpretation, and has been a primary cause of recurring litigation which has frustrated and delayed the FAA's imposition of the overflight fees for a number of years. Additionally, this amendment specifies that the FAA's costs upon which the fees are based are to be determined solely by the Administrator. This is to clarify that the Administrator has full authority to determine costs by appropriate means. This amendment is not intended to require revision of the fees recently promulgated by the FAA (66 FR 43680, Aug. 20, 2001) but rather, to clarify longstanding Congressional intent that the FAA expeditiously and continuously collect the fees authorized under section 45301(a) of title 49.

43. AUTHORIZATION

Senate bill

Section 118(b): Authorizes such sums for the next 3 years as may be necessary to carry out the security functions.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes such sums as may be necessary to the TSA for operating costs and for screening services not covered by the above fee.

Authorizes $500 million for grants to airlines to fortify cockpit doors, install video monitors to view the passenger cabin, ensure continuous operation of transponder, and use of other technologies.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report authorizes the necessary spending for the cost of providing aviation security.

44. AIRPORT FUNDING

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 119(a): Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay security costs in FY 2002 for any cost incurred after 9/11 regardless of when it was incurred. Waives the local matching share. In deciding whether to make a discretionary AIP grant for security costs, the availability and use of non-Federal funding by the airport shall be considered.

Section 120: Authorizes such sums in 2002 to compensate airports for security costs. Costs must be documented and subject to an IG audit. DOT shall publish procedures for filing claims in 30 days.

Section 119(c): PFC requests for security funding should be expedited.

Section 119(b): For the purpose of determining AIP entitlements in FY 2003, enplanements in 2000 or 2001, whichever is higher, shall be used.

Section 201(b): Modifying terminal and baggage systems in order to install bomb detection equipment is made AIP eligible. Section 113: Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay for added law enforcement costs in at a non-hub or small hub airport regardless of when the cost was incurred.

Waives the local matching share.

In FY 2002, allows AIP and PFC money to be used to pay debt service if that would prevent an airport, or privately owned terminal, from defaulting on its bond.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes a total of $1.5 billion in 2002 and 2003 to reimburse airports for direct costs they incurred to meet new security requirements. Such sums to remain available until expended. Before getting the money, the airport must agree to meet with its concessionaires to discuss rent adjustments and provide an itemized list of costs incurred.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

45. COMPETITION PLANS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(a): Waives an airport's obligation to submit a competition plan in FY 2002 when it is seeking money to improve security.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report waives the obligation of an airport to submit a competition plan in FY '02 when seeking money to improve security.

46. REPORTING SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITIES

Senate bill

Section 121: Exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing, in good faith, suspicious activity. DOJ shall establish procedures to notify the FAA of people who may pose a risk of hijacking. Report shall be submitted in 120 days on the implementation of this notification.

House bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report encourages and exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing suspicious activities in response to a "reasonably believed" threat.

47. ARMING PILOTS

Senate bill

Section 122: National Institute of Justice shall assess non-lethal weapons for use by pilots and report to DOT in 90 days. After receiving report, DOT may authorize pilots to carry such weapons. DOT shall establish training and procedural requirements for using these weapons.

Section 125: Authorizes FAA to permit a pilot with proper training to carry a gun in the cockpit. FAA shall establish a training program. Report shall be submitted every 6 months on the effectiveness of this provision.

House bill

Section 106: DOT cannot take any action to prevent a pilot from taking a gun into the cockpit if the policy of the airline allows it and the pilot has completed a training program acceptable to the Under Secretary.

Conference substitute

A pilot is authorized to carry an approved firearm into the cockpit if approved by the Under Secretary and the air carrier, and the pilot has received proper training.

48. ISOLATED COMMUNITIES

Senate bill

Section 123: During an emergency, DOT, after consulting with the ASCC, may grant waivers on flight restrictions to allow flights carrying freight, mail, patients, and medical supplies to areas with extraordinary transportation needs given isolation of the area and if the waiver is in the public interest.

House bill

Section 120: Similar provision but worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that during an emergency DOT may grant waivers on flight restrictions to areas with extraordinary transportation needs.

49. SUPPLIES ON BOARD AIRCRAFT

Senate bill

Section 124: DOT shall ensure the safety of food and other supplies on aircraft by sealing packages, screening personnel and vehicles, etc.

House bill

See item 27

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that DOT should establish procedures to ensure the safety and security of on-board supplies for intrastate passenger aircraft. The Secretary will establish procedures that may increase security for the point of origin of the supplier, provide for sealed supplies, and the screening of the supplies as they enter the airport.

50. AIRMAN REGISTRY

Senate bill

Section 126: Directs FAA to modify the registry to make it more effective in combating terrorism. FAA should work with State and locals to assist in identifying those applying for or holding airmen certificates.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the FAA must take steps to make the airman registry more effective to combat terrorism by working with the appropriate authorities to assist in properly identifying persons applying for or in possession of airmen certificates.

51. PASSENGER MANIFESTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 111: Within 60 days, U.S. and foreign airlines on international flights to the U.S. must provide to the Under Secretary (or another agency) by electronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest with specified information.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires air carriers to use the Air Passenger Information System (APIS) to provide a crew and passenger manifest and related information to Customs for each flight.

52. RESULTS-BASED MANAGEMENT

Senate bill

Section 127: With 60 days, DOT shall establish acceptable performance levels for aviation security and provide Congress with an action plan clarifying the responsibilities of the government agencies involved. Each year, a performance plan shall be made available. Any contracts to implement this Act shall try to maximize the use of performance based service contracts.

House bill

Section 106(7): Consider establishing performance goals for screeners. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter until this is implemented or rejected.

Conference substitute

Modified Senate provision.

53. EMPLOYMENT REGISTER

Senate bill

Section 128(a): DOT shall establish and maintain an employment register.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

No provision.

54. TRAINING FACILITIES

Senate bill

Section 128(b): DOT may use FAA training facilities to train security screeners.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Secretary to use existing Federal training facilities, where possible, to address the training needs of security screening personnel.

55. AIRSPACE RESTRICTIONS

Senate bill

Section 129: President shall submit a report within 30 days describing any airspace restrictions that remain in place and the justification for those restrictions.

House bill

Section 119: The restrictions on Class B airspace shall cease to be in effect 10 days after enactment unless a notice is published prior to the 10th day reimposing and explaining the reasons for those restrictions.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to lift restrictions on Class B airspace under specified requirements.

56. VOLUNTEERS

Senate bill

Section 130: DOT shall carry out a program to permit police, firefighters, and paramedics to provide emergency services during flight. Exempts from liability those who help in an emergency. This does not authorize the possession of firearms.

House bill

No provision but exemption from liability seems to be covered by existing law, section 5(b) of Aviation Medical Assistance Act.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to implement a program that will allow qualified law enforcement, firefighters and emergency service technicians to assist in the event of an emergency during commercial air flights. This program will establish the credentials of volunteers, maintain their confidentiality and exempt them from liability.

57. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 110: Limits liability of passenger or crew who hurts a person they, in good faith, believe was hijacking or about to hijack the plane.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report exempts passengers and crew from liability if an individual "reasonably believed" that a hijacking was occurring.

58. GENERAL AVIATION SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 131: FAA shall begin a security program for aircraft over 12,500 pounds within 90 days. Waivers from this requirement can be granted. A security program for smaller aircraft shall begin in 1 year. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

Aircraft may not be sold or leased to an alien unless a background check has been done or until the security programs described above are implemented.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference report directs the Secretary to provide Congress a report on improving general aviation security in the United States within 3 months of enactment of the legislation.

The Conferees note that a number of issues on aviation security research merit the prompt attention of the Department of Transportation. In particular, the Conferees observe that research into providing better security with minimal disruption in the system in the area of general aviation is important.

The Conferees note that the FAA has recently designated a consortium of schools as a general aviation center of excellence and anticipates that the FAA would draw upon the expertise of these institutions in formulating a security program for general aviation.

The Conferees also note that NASA, in coordination with the DOT, is investigating technology that would facilitate remote screening of small aircraft prior to takeoff.

Such a general aviation remote screening system (GARSS) could be installed on a vehicle or mobile platform, or in a fixed facility alongside a taxiway, and would provide a pre-takeoff alert if suspicious objects or materials were detected aboard an aircraft.

The Conferees urge that the development and implementation of GARSS be pursued.

59. FUNDING FOR GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(b): In FY 2002, allows non-primary airports within Class B airspace to seek AIP money for any purpose, including operational costs.

Conference substitute

Modified House position.

60. CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO IRS CODE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(e): Amends Code to cross-reference this Security Act so that the money authorized by this Act out of the Trust Fund can be spent.

Conference substitute

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

The Conference Report amends the IRS code to cross-reference this legislation to provide for the authorization of spending ~~from~~ ^{from} the Trust Fund.

61. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

62. ALCOHOL AND DRUG TESTING

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 115: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to transfer alcohol and drug testing functions from the FAA to the TSA.

63. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 116: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

64. SAVINGS PROVISION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 117: Ensures a smooth transfer from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

65. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 118: Requires the President's budget submissions starting in 2003 to list the TSA budget separately.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

66. AIR AMBULANCES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Amends the Airline Stabilization Act to modify the method for distributing compensation to air ambulances.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends the Airline Stabilization Act to allow for a modified system of providing compensation to air tour operators and air ambulances to better address their needs after industry wide losses. It is the Conferees' position that the Stabilization Act's section 103 compensation formula language, "revenue ton miles or any other auditable measure" should be broadly construed and should not restrict compensation exclusively to Revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} Miles reported on previously filed DOT Form 41s. If Air, Crew, Maintenance, Insurance lessors can provide accurate and auditable records of their revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} miles during the relevant time period, then they should be eligible for compensation based under the Stabilization Act.

67. PASSENGERS WHO BOUGHT TICKETS ON BANKRUPT AIRLINES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123: Other airlines must honor these tickets to the extent practicable.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the air carriers, to the extent practicable, to honor the tickets of passengers purchased by airlines that file for bankruptcy, if the purchaser requests the use of his or her ticket within 60 days of the suspended or canceled flight, for the first 18 months after enactment of this legislation.

68. FLIGHT SERVICE STATION EMPLOYEES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(a): Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with these employees.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with flight service station employees.

69. WAR RISK INSURANCE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(b): Sense of Congress that vendors agents and subcontractors of general aviation aircraft should get war risk insurance.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress on the availability of war risk insurance to vendors, agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all their domestic operations.

70. ANIMALS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(c): Sense of Congress that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the Postal Service allows to be mailed.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the House that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the U.S. Postal Service permits to be sent in the mail.

71. CARRY-ON BAGGAGE

Senate bill

Report on carry-on baggage.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the Congress that the FAA should continue its current restrictions on carry-on baggage of 1 bag plus 1 personal item. A backpack should be considered a personal item.

72. USPS MAIL POLICY IN ALASKA

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees encourage the Congress to pass legislation quickly to restructure the United States Postal Service's process of tendering non-priority bypass mail with the State of Alaska. Restructuring this program to direct more carriers to convert to 121 passenger operators will improve the safety of air transportation in Alaska and enhance the security of passengers.

73. VICTIMS COMPENSATION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Title II:

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute extends the liability limitations of the Air Transportation Stabilization Act to aircraft manufacturers, State port authorities, owners and operators of airports, and persons with property interests in the World Trade Center.

These provisions limit liability under the Act to the maximum level of their insurance coverage.

The Conferees expect that security functions at United States airports should become a Federal government responsibility, and it is their belief that while the number of Federal air marshals is classified, their presence would have a deterrent effect on hijacking and would further bolster public confidence in the safety of air travel. The Conferees also noted that the effectiveness of existing security measures, including employee background checks and passenger pre-screening, is currently impaired because of the inaccessibility of, or the failure to share information among, data bases maintained by different Federal and international agencies for criminal behavior or pertinent intelligence information.

The Conferees developed this legislation to address the security of the nation's transportation system.

3. ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY FUNCTION WITHIN DOT

Senate bill

Section 102: Creates a new Deputy Secretary of Transportation.

House amendment

Section 101: Creates a new Transportation Security Administration (TSA) within DOT headed by an Under Secretary. Establishes qualifications. Sets 5-year term. TSA has same procurement and personnel authority as the FAA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report creates the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to be headed by an Under Secretary within the DOT.

4. FUNCTIONS OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Coordinate and direct the functions of DOT and FAA under Chapter 449.

Work with the FAA on actions that affect safety.

Coordinate with DOJ, DOD, and other agencies on matters related to aviation security.

Coordinate transportation and actions of other agencies during an emergency. (This does not supersede the authority of any other agency.)

Establish uniform standards for transportation during an emergency.

Provide notice to other agencies about threats during an emergency. The Secretary defines what constitutes an emergency.

Take other actions, the Secretary shall prescribe.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary will be responsible for security in all modes of transportation. Specifically, Under Secretary is responsible for the following:

Receiving, assessing, and distributing intelligence information to the appropriate people in the transportation community.

Assessing threats to transportation.

Developing policies to deal with these threats.

Coordinating with other agencies.

Serve as the liaison with the intelligence community.

Any person with a property interest in the World Trade Center, as a condition to receiving liability protection under the Act, is required to satisfy all contractual obligations to rebuild or assist in the rebuilding of the World Trade Center.

The Conference substitute also limits the liability for all claims arising from the terrorist-related attacks of September 11, 2001, brought against the City of New York to the greater of the City's insurance coverage or $350,000,000.

8 This limitation on damages against the City of New York, however, ~~does~~ not apply to any non-government or private entity that is contracted with the City.

The Conference substitute also excludes entities primarily engaged in the business of airport security from its limitation on liability.

Supervising airport security using Federal uniformed personnel.

Manage the Federal security personnel in the field

Enforce security regulations.

Undertake research to improve security.

Inspect, maintain, and test security equipment.

Ensure that adequate security is provided for the transportation of cargo.

Oversee the security at airports and other transportation facilities.

Perform background checks on screeners and those who work at airports.

Develop standards for the hiring and firing of screeners.

Train and test screeners.

Conference substitute

The Conferees believe the best way to ensure effective Federal management of the nation's transportation system is through the creation of a new Administration within DOT to be called the Transportation Security Administration (TSA). The TSA's responsibilities will encompass security in all modes of transportation.

5. PAY OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 127: Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule plus bonuses based on performance.

House amendment

Section 101(c): Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000).

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the Under Secretary is to be paid at Level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000). A bonus, not to exceed thirty percent of the annual salary may be provided based on the performance of the US to be determined by the Secretary.

6. REPORTS

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Annual report of activities.

Section 127: Annual DOT report on results achieved relative to the agency security performance plan.

Section 112: 60-day report on additional security measures.

Section 133: 120-day report on the new DOJ responsibilities for aviation security.

Section 113: 3-month report on how to improve security of general aviation and air charters.

House amendment

Section 106: Eliminates existing report in section 44938 of title 49, United States Code.

Conference substitute

6A. ENHANCED SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 115: 120 day report on the following issues:

- (1) Requiring verification of airport employees' identity.
- (2) Installing switches so flight attendants can notify pilots of a hijacking.
- (3) Revalidating airline and airport employee identification cards.
- (4) Updating strategy for dealing with hijackings.
- (5) Technology to improve communication between aircraft and ground facilities.

Section 211: DOT shall study options for improving positive IDs of passengers at check-in counters and boarding areas. Report required in 6 months.

House amendment

Section 106: Requires the Under Secretary to address the issues listed below and to report 6 months after the date of enactment on the progress being made in implementing each.

A similar report would have to be submitted each year thereafter until all the items had either been implemented or rejected:

- (1) Develop procedures (such as barrel rolls or depressurizing the aircraft) and authorize equipment (such as lethal or non-lethal weapons) to help the pilot defend the aircraft against hijackers.
- (2) After consultation with the FAA, find ways to—
 - (A) limit access to the cockpit;
 - (B) strengthen cockpit doors;
 - (C) use video cameras to alert pilots to problems in the passenger cabin without having to open the cockpit door;
 - (D) ensure that the aircraft transponder cannot be turned off in flight.
- (3) Impose standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles and employees of aircraft fuelers, caterers, cleaners, and others who have access to aircraft and secure areas of airports.
- (4) Require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains.
- (5) Use various technologies, such as voice stress analysis, to prevent a dangerous person from boarding a plane.
- (6) Develop certification standards for individual screeners.
- (7) Establish performance goals and use Threat Image Projection (TIP) or similar devices to test whether screeners are meeting those goals or certification standards.
- (8) Develop ways for airlines to have access to law enforcement and immigration data bases to ensure that dangerous people do not board their planes.
- (9) Use the profiling system known as CAPS to not only give special scrutiny to selected checked baggage but also to the passengers who fit the profile and their carry-on baggage.
- (10) Use technology to ensure that airport and airline employees and law enforcement officers are who they claim to be.
- (11) Install switches in the passenger cabin so that flight attendants can discreetly notify a pilot if there is a problem.
- (12) Change the training of airline personnel in light of the change in the methods and goals of hijackers as evidenced by the attack of September 11th.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

(13) Provide for background checks for those seeking flying lessons on large aircraft or flight simulators of such aircraft.

(14) Enter into agreements allowing trained law enforcement personnel of other agencies to travel with guns in order to assist a sky marshal.

(15) Perform more thorough background checks (including review of immigration and other government records) of airport screeners, student pilots, and others who have unescorted access to secure areas of the airport.

(16) Establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel authorized to carry a gun on board to ensure they are who they claim to be.

(17) Allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening for those passengers that wish to participate.

(18) Develop security procedures for stem cells and other medical containers that cannot be opened or x-rayed.

(19) Develop security procedures to allow musical instruments to be carried in the passenger cabin.

(20) Provide for the use of wireless devices to enable communications among airport security personnel about potential threats.

Conference substitute

The Under Secretary shall decide upon establishing security measures to: ensure that the flight transponder cannot be turned off in flight; require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains; use voice stress analysis, biometric, and other technologies to prevent dangerous persons from boarding a plane; establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel traveling with firearms to ensure they are who they claim to be; require the consideration of alternative security procedures that would not damage medical products; allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening on a voluntary basis; and, provide for the use of technology to enhance communications among airport security personnel about potential threats. The conferees encourage efforts by the Transportation Security Administration and professional organizations representing industry to use biometric information, such as fingerprints collected initially as input to the background check process, for future verification of identity at access control points to secure airport areas. The Conferees applaud efforts to improve day-to-day airport security by utilizing this raw biometric information collected from individuals as a recurrent identifier for access to secure areas. The Conferees urge the Transportation Security Administration to work with industry organizations that ~~can~~ assist in the process of background checks, record-keeping, and universal access control data. 7. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Senate bill

Section 102(b): Responsible for screening, including the hiring and training of screeners.

House amendment

No provision—The Under Secretary is responsible for screening.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

Conference substitute
No provision.

8. TRANSITION

Senate bill

Section 102(d): Until Deputy Secretary takes office, the functions are performed by the Assistant Administrator of the FAA.

Section 108: Transition to Attorney General immediate. Actions completed in 9 months.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary shall assume civil aviation security responsibilities in 3 months. In the meantime, Under Secretary can take over airline contracts with screening companies.

No change until Under Secretary is appointed.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the Under Secretary to assume responsibility for civil aviation security within 3 months of the enactment of this legislation.

9. TECHNOLOGY AND EQUIPMENT

Senate bill

Section 102(c): Amends 44932(c) to require FAA to ensure the use of the best available security equipment, not merely the best available x-ray equipment.

Section 108: Restates provision in current law requiring manual process where equipment is now underutilized.

Section 132: By September 30, 2002, FAA shall decide the feasibility of implementing technologies designed to protect aviation and automatically detect bombs, drugs, hazardous chemicals, and nuclear devices.

Section 201(b): FAA shall deploy and use existing bomb detection equipment. Within 60 days, FAA shall establish goals for—

- (1) deploying equipment now in storage;
- (2) specifying a percentage of checked bags to be scanned within 6 months, with a goal of scanning 100 percent;
- (3) the number of bomb detectors that will be purchased for deployment at medium sized airports within 6 months. [See item 29.]

House amendment

Section 106: Makes no change in section 44932(c) of title 49, United States Code, but directs Under Secretary to consider requiring various technologies described in item 6 above and report to Congress on them 6 months after enactment and annually thereafter until those technologies are deployed or a decision is made not to deploy them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees want new, state-of-the-art security equipment installed at airports on an expedited basis, and immediate action taken to ensure that existing explosive detection equipment is employed to the greatest extent possible for the screening of checked baggage. It is expected that additional equipment will be installed in as timely a manner as possible, and in the interim, other systems will be used to screen baggage. The Conferees agree that ev-

used

everything going on board a passenger aircraft should be screened within 60 days by FAA-approved methods.

10. AIRWORTHINESS OBJECTIONS BY FAA

Senate bill

Section 102: Must consult with FAA on all matters affecting safety and operations.

House amendment

Section 106: Under Secretary cannot take an action if notified by the FAA that it would adversely affect the airworthiness of the aircraft unless the Secretary approves the action.

Conference substitute

House provision.

11. ROLE OF NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD (NTSB)

Senate bill

No provision.

House amendment

Section 106: In taking an action that could affect safety, Under Secretary shall solicit and give great weight to views of NTSB.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct that in taking actions that could affect safety, the timely views of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) will be taken into consideration by the Under Secretary. The conferees wished to emphasize that the views of the NTSB should be provided in a sufficiently and timely manner so those views could be fully considered by the Under Secretary.

12. BIOLOGICAL AND CHEMICAL WEAPONS

Senate bill

Section 102(c): FAA shall develop ways to enhance the ability to detect biological and chemical weapons.

Section 106(c): DOT shall require airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect these weapons.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect and neutralize biological and chemical weapons, and instructs the FAA to develop ways to enhance the detection of these weapons. ✓

13. OVERSIGHT AND COORDINATION

Senate bill

Section 103: Establishes Aviation Security Oversight Council (ASOC), chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, and any other agency head DOT and DOJ determine to be appropriate.

House bill

Section 112: Establishes Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, and either NSC or Homeland Security. TSOB

shares intelligence, reviews emergency rules, and oversees actions of Under Secretary.

Establishes Advisory Council, composed of industry, labor, families, and others to advise Under Secretary on security matters.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report establishes the Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by the Secretary of DOT and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, NSC and Homeland Security. The TSOB may review and ratify or disapprove regulations issued by the Under Secretary; facilitate the coordination of intelligence, security and law enforcement activities affecting transportation; and, perform other duties including making recommendations to the Under Secretary for use in combating threats to the integrity of the nation's transportation system.

14. RULEMAKING

Senate bill

No Rules required by DOJ for its own employees; cockpit requirements issuable without APA.

House bill

Section 101: Under Secretary can issue security rules immediately without notice and comment, DOT or OMB review, and without a cost-benefit analysis but subject to disapproval by the TSOB.

Conference substitute

House provision.

15. INSPECTOR GENERAL

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 101: TSA is subject to the Inspector General Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference report instructs that the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will be subject to the Inspector General Act.

16. CROSS CHECKING DATA BASES

Senate bill

Section 103(a): DOT, acting through ASOC, shall try to develop a common data base with other agencies and share information about people.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASOC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies.

Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months.

A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent that the Under Secretary determines appropriate, the Under Secretary shall (1) establish procedures requiring airlines to use information from government agencies to identify people who may be a threat to civil aviation and (2) require more thorough background checks that include a review of other agency data bases.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the Senate and House at the conference on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses on the amendment of the House of Representatives to the bill (S. 1447), to improve aviation security, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the Senate and House in explanation of the effects of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences between the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clerical changes.

1. SHORT TITLE

Senate bill

Section 1: "Aviation Security Act".

House amendment

Section 1: "Airport Security Federalization Act of 2001"

Conference substitute

The title of the legislation will be "The Aviation and Transportation Security Act."

2. FINDINGS

Senate bill

Section 101: 7 findings on the importance of security and the need for Federal control and other changes.

House amendment

No provision

Conference substitute

The conferees recognize that the safety and security of the civil air transportation system is critical to the security of the United States and its national defense, and that a safe and secure United States civil air transportation system is essential to the basic freedom of America to move in intrastate, interstate and international transportation. The conferees further note the terrorist hijacking and crashes of passenger aircraft on September 11, 2001, which converted civil aircraft into guided bombs for strikes against the United States, required a fundamental change in the way it approaches the task of ensuring the safety and security of the civil air transportation system.

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

REV_00135775

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have instructed the Secretary to work with the TSOB to develop a data base that will allow the cross checking of the people on "watch lists" of various Federal law enforcement agencies to identify individuals that may pose a risk to security in an effort to identify potential risks to civil aviation. Passenger lists should be used in conjunction with this data base to help target those individuals that pose a threat, and allow appropriate action to be taken.

17. TERRORISM REPORT

Senate bill

Section 103(b): Require reports on all terrorism. Reports to be shared with DOT.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the intelligence community to ensure that reports on terrorism are shared with the DOT.

18. STRATEGIC PLANNING

Senate bill

Section 103(c): Require intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

19. COCKPIT SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 104: FAA shall issue a rule, without notice and comment, permitting only authorized persons to have access to the cockpit, requiring strengthening the door by installing locks and making them rigid, requiring the door to remain locked during flight except when the pilot needs to get out, and taking away the flight attendants key.

Special rules shall be issued for aircraft that do not have a door.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent the Under Secretary considers appropriate, the Under Secretary shall, after consultation with FAA, implement methods to restrict the opening of the cockpit door during flight and fortify those doors.

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Funds are authorized to help airlines pay for this.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report prohibits access to the flight deck of passenger aircraft by anyone other than the flight crew. Flight deck doors must be strengthened and remain locked while aircraft is in flight. Video cameras may be provided to alert pilots to cabin activity in the event of a security breach occurring during the flight.

These provisions apply to aircraft required to have a door between the flight deck and cabin. The Conferees also seek the redesign of cockpits to ensure the doors are secured at all times during flight. Redesign can encompass new flight deck materials, double doors to the cockpit as are used in Israel, and lavatories within the flight deck so that flight crew do not leave the flight deck. Once bathroom facilities are provided for the flight crew of passenger aircraft, the cockpit door no longer will need to be opened during flight.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to take into consideration the threat to aviation and national security when developing means to secure the flight deck on commuter aircraft. Any new burdens should be appropriate for the risk.

20. AIR MARSHALS

Senate bill

Section 105: Attorney General prescribes guidelines for training and deployment of sky marshals. DOT administers the program in accordance with these guidelines:

(1) Marshals may be placed on every flight but must be placed on every flight that DOT determines to be high risk.

(2) Marshals must be deployed in 30 days.

(3) Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

(4) DOT shall work with ICAO and foreign governments to address security concerns on foreign airlines.

(5) DOT may use personnel from other agencies, including the military, as air marshals.

Section 105: Waives age requirements for retired police, military and out-of-work pilots to work as air marshals, if they meet the background and fitness qualifications.

Report required in 18 months.

House bill

Section 105: Under Secretary deploys air marshals, provides for their background checks, trains them, and requires U.S. airlines to provide seats for them at no cost.

Preference for hiring laid off airline pilots as marshals.

Marshals must be placed on selected flights.

Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

DOT shall work with foreign governments to address security concerns on international flights from the U.S.

Until the Under Secretary has all the air marshals needed, personnel from other agencies may be used, with the other agency's concurrence, as air marshals on a non-reimbursable basis.

Airlines must provide seats, on a space-available basis, to off-duty marshals flying home.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that appropriately trained, supervised and equipped Federal Air Marshals (FAMs) may be deployed on every scheduled passenger flight, and must be placed on every "high risk" flight, which may include nonstop longhaul flights, or any other flight deemed appropriate, even if the flight is fully booked. For applicants who otherwise meet the background and fitness requirements, age restrictions may be waived to allow

of the 9-11-01.

(cockpit and cabin)

retired law enforcement officers, retired members of the armed forces, and members of commercial airline crews who have been furloughed from their positions. Personnel from other agencies may be deployed, with the agency's concurrence, as FAMs until an adequate number of FAMs are in place. Additionally, agreements may be entered into allowing trained law enforcement personnel from other agencies to travel with firearms in order to assist FAMs.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to follow air carrier passenger reservations and cancellation practices to the extent practicable. The Under Secretary should work cooperatively with air carriers to develop guidelines concerning reservations and cancellation for the transportation of Federal Air Marshals.

21. SCREENING

Senate bill

Section 108: Attorney General, in consultation with DOT, shall provide for screening of all passengers, property, mail, and cargo that will be carried aboard an aircraft.

Federal employees shall do screening.

Airport and airline employees shall be screened in the same way, except alternative methods may be used for security personnel.

Attorney General shall use screening technology approved by FAA.

Law enforcement personnel shall be deployed at each screening location.

At the 100 largest airports, additional police may be ordered.

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 120 days on effectiveness of security screening.

Section 106: DOJ and DOT may permit operational flexibility to tailor screening needs for seasonal variations, aircraft types, and special needs of small airports.

Section 108: Attorney General may require non-hub or smaller airports to use State or local law enforcement if the screening will be equivalent to that at larger airports, the training meets Federal standards, the airport is reimbursed by funds made available by this Act, and the airport is consulted.

House bill

Section 102: Federal government is responsible for screening passengers and property on passenger aircraft that originate in the U.S.. Silent on whether screeners are to be Federal employees or private contractors. Under Secretary shall deputize screeners to enforce Federal laws, but not to arrest people. Screeners must have common uniforms. Must be supervised by uniformed Federal employees.

Section 107: Under Secretary should consider certifying screeners and use TIP or similar technologies to measure their performance and revoke their certification if their performance is inadequate.

Section 104: Airport required to deploy law enforcement or military personnel at each screening location. Law enforcement can be either Federal or local.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the Federal government to hire, train and deploy Federal screeners, Federal managers, Federal security personnel and Federal law enforcement within 1 year. The participants in this Federal security workforce will not be able to strike or engage in work stoppages, and can be fired at the discretion of the Secretary if they are not able to adequately perform their duties.

The Conferees recognize that, in order to ensure that Federal screeners are able to provide the best security possible, the Secretary must be given wide latitude to determine the terms of employment of screeners. The Conference Committee expects that, in fixing the terms and conditions of employment the Secretary shall establish benefits and conditions of employment. The Conference Committee also recognizes that, in order to hire and retain screeners, the Secretary should also ensure that screeners have access to Federal health, life insurance, and retirement benefits, as well as workers' compensation benefits. The Committee believes that screening personnel must also be given whistleblower protections so that screeners may report security conditions without fear of reprisal.

The Conference Report requires the DOT to assume existing screening company contracts as soon as possible, but no later than 90 days after enactment of this legislation. The contracts for existing screeners can be extended for up to 6 months, and the DOT would have the option to extend contracts for no longer than 3 months, if necessary, to continue screening. DOT may also authorize additional Federal law enforcement, National Guard, and other personnel immediately to address the aviation security needs of the country.

The Conferees direct the Secretary to provide a report after one year from the date of enactment certifying deployment of the Federal screeners. Two years after certification airports can opt out of the Federalization of the screener level of the Federal workforce if the Secretary determines that these facilities would continue to provide an equal or higher level of security. Companies will be barred from providing screening if they violate federal standards, are found to allow repeated failures of the system, or prove to be a security risk. The DOT will also establish a Pilot Program for 5 airports, one from each category type, to apply for the use of private contract screeners.

Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the Act, the conferees expect the Transportation Security Administration to submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the screening requirements applicable to passengers boarding, and property being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or less used in scheduled passenger service with recommendations for any necessary changes in those requirements.

22. CITIZENSHIP OF SECURITY FIRMS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 104: Must be owned or controlled by a citizen of the U.S. to the extent the President determines that there are such firms.

Section 123(e): Similar sense of Congress.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that U.S. companies should be used to provide screening if they are available.

23. TRAINING OF PILOTS AND FLIGHT ATTENDANTS

Senate bill

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 6 months on crew training.

Section 107: DOT shall develop a mandatory airline training program for crews dealing with a hijacking. Training shall be developed in coordination with law enforcement experts.

House bill

Section 106: Under Secretary should consider updating training for dealing with hijacking that includes ways for dealing with suicidal hijackers. Report six months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that detailed guidance shall be developed for a mandatory air carrier training program to assist flight crews and attendants in hijack situations. The training curriculum will be developed in consultation with Federal law enforcement agencies with expertise in dealing with these types of threat conditions.

24. HOW FLIGHT ATTENDANTS NOTIFY PILOTS OF A HIJACKING

Senate bill

Section 107: FAA shall revise procedures by which flight attendants notify pilots and implement new measures as soon as practicable.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary should consider requiring the installation of switches in the cabin so that the flight attendants can discreetly notify the pilots.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Under Secretary to consider the installation of a switch to be located in the cabin for flight attendants to notify pilots in the event of a hijacking without the knowledge of passengers. or other devices

25. PROVISION OF PERSONNEL FROM OTHER AGENCIES

Senate bill

Section 105: Amends section 106(m) to allow other agencies to provide personnel to FAA.

House bill

Section 102(d): Same provision, worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conferees call upon other agencies to provide personnel that has received the proper training for use by the FAA as Federal air marshals (FAMs) in an effort to support and supplement ~~that~~ the FAM workforce in its early stages.

26. AIRPORT PERIMETER ACCESS SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 106: DOT may order deployment of law enforcement personnel as needed to bolster airport security by entering into an agreement with another agency to deploy Federal law enforcement at airports.

Section 106(b): FAA shall provide technical support and financial assistance to small airports to help defray security costs.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have given the Secretary the ability to work with the airports to address potential threats at individual facilities by ordering the deployment of Federal law enforcement authorities to improve airport perimeter and access security in an effort to counter potential criminal activities. Such actions also can include providing increased security at air traffic control facilities. Additionally, the FAA Administrator will develop a plan to provide technical support to enable small- and medium-sized airports to enhance their security operations, and shall include using network digital video surveillance systems.

27. INDIVIDUALS WITH ACCESS TO SECURE AREAS OF THE AIRPORT

Senate bill

See item 21

Section 106(a): DOT, in consultation with ASOC, shall consider whether such individuals should be screened.

Section 106(d): Amend 44903(g)(2) to delete 1/31/01 deadline and beef up language on access control requirements.

Consider deployment of biometric technologies.

Establish pilot programs at 20 airports to test new technologies.

DOT shall require airlines and airports to develop security awareness programs for employees.

Section 211: Within 6 months, DOT shall recommend to airports commercially available ways to prevent access to secure areas. As part of this, DOT shall review effectiveness of biometric and other systems, focus on eliminating piggy-backing, and include a 12-month deployment strategy for currently available technology at Category X airports. Not later than 18 months, DOT shall conduct a review of reductions in unauthorized access.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary shall consider imposing standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles that have access to secure areas and provide for the use of technology to verify the identity of those vehicles entering a secure area. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that all individuals, goods, property, vehicles, and other equipment seeking access to secure areas must be screened and inspected before entry. The Conference Committee instructs that prescribed requirements should provide at least the same level of protection as the screening of passengers and baggage. The Conferees, however, recognize that these requirements may make allowances for tools and equipment necessary to perform duties in secure areas. The Secretary will examine the physical configuration of individual airports, and consider the views of the TSOB to consider implementing standards to protect the integrity of secure areas.

28. BAN ON PARKING OF VEHICLES WITHIN 300 FEET OF TERMINAL

Senate bill

Section 106(b): FAA, in consultation with local law enforcement, shall reexamine the need for 300 feet restriction.

House bill

Section 121: Removes this parking ban if the airport, in consultation with local law enforcement, certifies to DOT, after doing a threat assessment, that safeguards are in place to protect public safety.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that all airports must consult with local law enforcement and inform DOT that proper safeguards are in place to ensure that parked vehicles are not a security risk. Each airport must submit views regarding its assessment of the needs of their facility.

29. CHECKED BAGGAGE

Senate bill

See item 9

Section 201(b)(1): Requirement for all baggage to be screened within 9 months.

FAA must establish within 60 days confidential goals for scanning a specific percentage of checked bags within 6 months and annual goals thereafter eventually scanning 100%.

Section 201(c) - page 85 FAA shall require airlines to upgrade the bag match system. Shall establish goals within 60 days to accomplish this including interim measures to match a higher percentage of bags until bomb detectors are used to scan 100% of bags.

Confidential report to Congress in 1 year.

House bill

See item 9

Section 106: All checked baggage must be screened by December 31, 2003. All existing explosive detection equipment must be used to the maximum extent possible.

Additional explosive detection equipment must be installed as soon as possible.

In the interim, airlines must implement a bag match program.

A system must be in place as soon as possible to screen cargo transported in passenger aircraft.

Section 123(d): Sense of Congress that all checked baggage should be screened by any available means.

Conference substitute

The Conferees feel strongly that all baggage to be placed on passenger flights must be screened. Existing technology, including EDS, should be used and upgraded in an effort to ensure that all checked baggage goes through such a system. Any baggage that does not go through EDS will be required to go through some form of manual or other comparable screening system. An alternate system of screening cargo should also be established, and periodic reports issued to provide an understanding of the progress made on these efforts.

30. COMPUTER ASSISTED PASSENGER PROFILING SYSTEM (CAPPS)

Senate bill

Section 201(d): FAA shall make all passengers subject to CAPPS even if they don't check bags so that their carry-ons and person will be subject to additional security measures. Report within 3 months.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASCC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to CAPPS and to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies. Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106(9): The Under Secretary should consider providing the enhanced use of CAPPS to more effectively screen passengers and carry-on baggage. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that an enhanced and upgraded use of the Computer Assisted Passenger Pre-Screening System (CAPPS) must be considered to more effectively screen passengers and baggage. The Conferees also recognize that adjustments may need to be made to reflect circumstances in some areas of the U.S., including State with unique transportation needs.

31. DEPUTIZING FOR ENFORCEMENT OF FEDERAL SECURITY LAWS

Senate bill

Section 108(b): Requires Attorney General to deputize State and local law enforcement to regulate screening at non-hubs.

House bill

Private contractor employees deputized.

Conference substitute

No provision.

32. HIRING AND TRAINING OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: DOJ, in consultation with DOT, shall establish a program for the hiring and training of screeners. Hiring qualifications shall be set in 30 days. Includes list of qualifications screeners must meet such as education and language requirements. Training plans must be developed within 60 days. Requires 40 hours of classroom training and 60 hours of on the job training. Current lists of dual use items (seemingly harmless items that could be used as a weapon) shall be part of the training. Section 104 - page 16

House bill

Under Secretary may set minimum pay for screeners. Preference shall be given to veterans in the hiring of screeners and laid off airline workers. Final rule for certification of screening companies changed from May 31, 2001 to 6 months after date of enactment. In the meantime, within 30 days of enactment, the standards in the proposed rule, such as education and language requirements, shall be in effect. All screeners must be in approved uniforms.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

33. CITIZENSHIP OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: Must have been a national of the U.S. for at least 5 years.

House bill

Section 104(a): Must be U.S. citizens.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that all airport screeners must be citizens of the U.S.

34. STATUS OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(d): Notwithstanding any law, the Attorney General may hire, fire, and pay screeners as he determines necessary.

House bill

Section 102: Federal supervisor can order the dismissal of any screener.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report provides the Under Secretary the authority to employ, terminate and fix the conditions of employment for the Federal screening workforce.

35. STRIKES BY SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(e): Strikes prohibited pursuant to Title 5.

House bill

Section 102: Strikes prohibited.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that the airport screening workforce will be prohibited from striking. The Conferees have provided the Transportation Security Administration authority to utilize existing authority provided to the FAA to develop personnel and acquisition systems. The authority gives the Administration flexibility to design its own policies and procedures and not use the FAA's system, while retaining the legal requirements under sections 40110 and 40112.

36. BACKGROUND CHECKS

Senate bill

Section 109(f): Requires background checks for current screeners and others with access to the airport.

Section 201(a): Requires background checks for current screeners and others to be completed in 9 months unless the person has had such a check in the past 5 years. Alternative checks shall be developed for those who have lived in the U.S. for less than 5 years.

House bill

Section 107: Allows smaller airports to use the same expedited procedures for criminal history background checks as the larger airports now use. (Under the 2000 Security Act these expedited procedures do not go into effect at smaller airports until 2003.)

Requires background check (including review of government data bases) for all current screeners and those with access to secure

areas except for those who have already had such a check or those who are exempted by FAA rules from such checks.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

The Conferees encourage the Under Secretary to provide channeling authority to professional organizations representing industry to FBI AFIS fingerprint databases to perform criminal history verification of aviation business employees. (S) ✓

37. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Senate bill

Section 110: Amends section 44912 to require periodic reviews of threats to civil aviation and the potential for the release of biological and chemical weapons. A person shall be designated to be responsible for security research. The person shall file an annual report on research activities. A scientific advisory panel shall be established. DOT shall coordinate research with DOJ.

Section 221: Authorizes $50 million per year to research various security technologies.

House bill

Section 101: Transfers security research from FAA to the TSA. The TSA can use FAA research facilities.

Conference substitute

A modified version of the Senate provision.

38. FLIGHT SCHOOLS

Senate bill

Section 111: Regarding jet-propelled aircraft, a person shall not give flight instruction, including instruction in simulator, to an alien (or other person specified by DOT) unless DOJ issues that person a certificate of completion of the background check of the alien. Requests for the background check shall be made jointly by the alien and the flight school. Investigation must be completed in 30 days. Investigation includes fingerprint check, immigration check, and a determination of whether alien is a national security risk. Expedited procedures shall be developed for an alien seeking recurrent training. Penalties for violations shall be developed by DOT rulemaking. Flight schools shall report aliens that they train.

Section 111(c): DOT and State shall work with ICAO to improve screening of student pilots.

House bill

Section 106(13): The Under Secretary should consider requiring background checks on individuals seeking flying lessons (including simulator lessons) on aircraft weighing more than 12,500 pounds. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter until the Under Secretary implements the checks or decides not to require them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that flight school training for aircraft with a minimum certificated weight of 12,500 pounds or more should not be allowed for any alien within the United States unless they have passed a sufficient background check. Such individuals seeking to attend flight school may begin pilot training after 45 days or upon being certified as having passed a background investigation regarding their criminal history and immigration status. A

1 And the House agree to the same.

security awareness program will be developed to assist employees that work at flight schools by helping to increase their awareness of a potential threat.

39. PENALTIES

Senate bill

Section 114: Imposes criminal penalties for interfering with security personnel at a commercial service airport.

House bill

Section 116(c): Transfers the relevant civil penalty authorities from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that an individual who disrupts the duties of security screening personnel within a commercial service airport shall be fined and/or imprisoned for up to 10 years. The use of a dangerous weapon to interfere with security screening may result in up to life imprisonment.

40. INTRASTATE AIR SERVICE

Senate bill

Section 116: DOT may grant antitrust exemptions to ensure continued viability of air service in that State.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that DOT may grant anti-trust immunity to ensure continued viability of air service within a state. If the Secretary approves any such request, a report must be given to the relevant Senate and House Committees within six months of the approval describing what actions have been taken by the carriers receiving the exemption.

41. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS

Senate bill

Section 117: DOT shall require all airlines to use the best technology to ensure that their systems are secure from unauthorized access. DOT shall submit an annual report on compliance.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

Under the direction of the Conference Report airlines are required to take action that will prevent unauthorized access to computer reservation systems and the information they contain on passengers. Technology should be utilized to the greatest extent possible to ensure the integrity of these systems.

42. FEES

Senate bill

Section 118(a): Within 180 days, airlines remit a $2.50 fee per enplanement.

House bill

Section 108: Under Secretary shall impose a fee of not more than $2.50 per one-way trip. The amount of the fee shall be reasonably related to the costs of providing the screening service. In addition, a fee can be imposed directly on the airlines but it cannot be more than the airlines paid for screening services in 2000. Fees shall be credited as off-setting collections. Passengers using airports where screening services are not provided may be exempted from the fee.

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute requires a fee to be charged to cover the cost of providing the aviation security services. The fee will be based on the number of times a passenger boards a plane during the course of travel, but will be capped at $5.00 per one-way trip. Any additional funds needed will be authorized to be appropriated or may come from a fee imposed directly on the airlines.

The Secretary may waive or modify the security fee to take into account the isolation of certain communities. In determining whether to waive or modify this fee, the Secretary shall consider the costs of transportation security and the benefits of transportation security that is bestowed on those communities. The Conference substitute amends section 45301(b) of title 49, United States Code, with respect to limitations on overflight fees to (1) to make the language consistent with the new security fee language of this Act, and (2) to clarify Congressional intent with respect to the FAA costs upon which the fees can be based. Specifically, the conference substitute replaces the word "directly" with "reasonably", since the word "directly" has been a source of much confusion and narrow interpretation, and has been a primary cause of recurring litigation which has frustrated and delayed the FAA's imposition of the overflight fees for a number of years. Additionally, this amendment specifies that the FAA's costs upon which the fees are based are to be determined solely by the Administrator. This is to clarify that the Administrator has full authority to determine costs by appropriate means. This amendment is not intended to require revision of the fees recently promulgated by the FAA (66 FR 43680, Aug. 20, 2001) but rather, to clarify longstanding Congressional intent that the FAA expeditiously and continuously collect the fees authorized under section 45301(a) of title 49.

43. AUTHORIZATION

Senate bill

Section 118(b): Authorizes such sums for the next 3 years as may be necessary to carry out the security functions.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes such sums as may be necessary to the TSA for operating costs and for screening services not covered by the above fee.

Authorizes $500 million for grants to airlines to fortify cockpit doors, install video monitors to view the passenger cabin, ensure continuous operation of transponder, and use of other technologies.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report authorizes the necessary spending for the cost of providing aviation security.

44. AIRPORT FUNDING

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 119(a): Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay security costs in FY 2002 for any cost incurred after 9/11 regardless of when it was incurred. Waives the local matching share. In deciding whether to make a discretionary AIP grant for security costs, the availability and use of non-Federal funding by the airport shall be considered.

Section 120: Authorizes such sums in 2002 to compensate airports for security costs. Costs must be documented and subject to an IG audit. DOT shall publish procedures for filing claims in 30 days.

Section 119(c): PFC requests for security funding should be expedited.

Section 119(b): For the purpose of determining AIP entitlements in FY 2003, enplanements in 2000 or 2001, whichever is higher, shall be used.

Section 201(b): Modifying terminal and baggage systems in order to install bomb detection equipment is made AIP eligible. Section 113: Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay for added law enforcement costs in at a non-hub or small hub airport regardless of when the cost was incurred.

Waives the local matching share.

In FY 2002, allows AIP and PFC money to be used to pay debt service if that would prevent an airport, or privately owned terminal, from defaulting on its bond.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes a total of $1.5 billion in 2002 and 2003 to reimburse airports for direct costs they incurred to meet new security requirements. Such sums to remain available until expended. Before getting the money, the airport must agree to meet with its concessionaires to discuss rent adjustments and provide an itemized list of costs incurred.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

45. COMPETITION PLANS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(a): Waives an airport's obligation to submit a competition plan in FY 2002 when it is seeking money to improve security.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report waives the obligation of an airport to submit a competition plan in FY '02 when seeking money to improve security.

46. REPORTING SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITIES

Senate bill

Section 121: Exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing, in good faith, suspicious activity. DOJ shall establish procedures to notify the FAA of people who may pose a risk of hijacking. Report shall be submitted in 120 days on the implementation of this notification.

House bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report encourages and exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing suspicious activities in response to a "reasonably believed" threat.

47. ARMING PILOTS

Senate bill

Section 122: National Institute of Justice shall assess non-lethal weapons for use by pilots and report to DOT in 90 days. After receiving report, DOT may authorize pilots to carry such weapons. DOT shall establish training and procedural requirements for using these weapons.

Section 125: Authorizes FAA to permit a pilot with proper training to carry a gun in the cockpit. FAA shall establish a training program. Report shall be submitted every 6 months on the effectiveness of this provision.

House bill

Section 106: DOT cannot take any action to prevent a pilot from taking a gun into the cockpit if the policy of the airline allows it and the pilot has completed a training program acceptable to the Under Secretary.

Conference substitute

A pilot is authorized to carry an approved firearm into the cockpit if approved by the Under Secretary and the air carrier, and the pilot has received proper training.

48. ISOLATED COMMUNITIES

Senate bill

Section 123: During an emergency, DOT, after consulting with the ASCC, may grant waivers on flight restrictions to allow flights carrying freight, mail, patients, and medical supplies to areas with extraordinary transportation needs given isolation of the area and if the waiver is in the public interest.

House bill

Section 120: Similar provision but worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that during an emergency DOT may grant waivers on flight restrictions to areas with extraordinary transportation needs.

49. SUPPLIES ON BOARD AIRCRAFT

Senate bill

Section 124: DOT shall ensure the safety of food and other supplies on aircraft by sealing packages, screening personnel and vehicles, etc.

House bill

See item 27

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that DOT should establish procedures to ensure the safety and security of on-board supplies for intrastate passenger aircraft. The Secretary will establish procedures that may increase security for the point of origin of the supplier, provide for sealed supplies, and the screening of the supplies as they enter the airport.

50. AIRMAN REGISTRY

Senate bill

Section 126: Directs FAA to modify the registry to make it more effective in combating terrorism. FAA should work with State and locals to assist in identifying those applying for or holding airmen certificates.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the FAA must take steps to make the airman registry more effective to combat terrorism by working with the appropriate authorities to assist in properly identifying persons applying for or in possession of airmen certificates.

51. PASSENGER MANIFESTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 111: Within 60 days, U.S. and foreign airlines on international flights to the U.S. must provide to the Under Secretary (or another agency) by electronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest with specified information.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires air carriers to use the Air Passenger Information System (APIS) to provide a crew and passenger manifest and related information to Customs for each flight.

52. RESULTS-BASED MANAGEMENT

Senate bill

Section 127: With 60 days, DOT shall establish acceptable performance levels for aviation security and provide Congress with an action plan clarifying the responsibilities of the government agencies involved. Each year, a performance plan shall be made available. Any contracts to implement this Act shall try to maximize the use of performance based service contracts.

House bill

Section 106(7): Consider establishing performance goals for screeners. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter until this is implemented or rejected.

Conference substitute

Modified Senate provision.

53. EMPLOYMENT REGISTER

Senate bill

Section 128(a): DOT shall establish and maintain an employment register.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

No provision.

54. TRAINING FACILITIES

Senate bill

Section 128(b): DOT may use FAA training facilities to train security screeners.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Secretary to use existing Federal training facilities, where possible, to address the training needs of security screening personnel.

55. AIRSPACE RESTRICTIONS

Senate bill

Section 129: President shall submit a report within 30 days describing any airspace restrictions that remain in place and the justification for those restrictions.

House bill

Section 119: The restrictions on Class B airspace shall cease to be in effect 10 days after enactment unless a notice is published prior to the 10th day reimposing and explaining the reasons for those restrictions.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to lift restrictions on Class B airspace under specified requirements.

56. VOLUNTEERS

Senate bill

Section 130: DOT shall carry out a program to permit police, firefighters, and paramedics to provide emergency services during flight. Exempts from liability those who help in an emergency. This does not authorize the possession of firearms.

House bill

No provision but exemption from liability seems to be covered by existing law, section 5(b) of Aviation Medical Assistance Act.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to implement a program that will allow qualified law enforcement, firefighters and emergency service technicians to assist in the event of an emergency during commercial air flights. This program will establish the credentials of volunteers, maintain their confidentiality and exempt them from liability.

57. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 110: Limits liability of passenger or crew who hurts a person they, in good faith, believe was hijacking or about to hijack the plane.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report exempts passengers and crew from liability if an individual "reasonably believed" that a hijacking was occurring.

58. GENERAL AVIATION SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 131: FAA shall begin a security program for aircraft over 12,500 pounds within 90 days. Waivers from this requirement can be granted. A security program for smaller aircraft shall begin in 1 year. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

Aircraft may not be sold or leased to an alien unless a background check has been done or until the security programs described above are implemented.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference report directs the Secretary to provide Congress a report on improving general aviation security in the United States within 3 months of enactment of the legislation.

The Conferees note that a number of issues on aviation security research merit the prompt attention of the Department of Transportation. In particular, the Conferees observe that research into providing better security with minimal disruption in the system in the area of general aviation is important.

The Conferees note that the FAA has recently designated a consortium of schools as a general aviation center of excellence and anticipates that the FAA would draw upon the expertise of these institutions in formulating a security program for general aviation.

The Conferees also note that NASA, in coordination with the DOT, is investigating technology that would facilitate remote screening of small aircraft prior to takeoff.

Such a general aviation remote screening system (GARSS) could be installed on a vehicle or mobile platform, or in a fixed facility alongside a taxiway, and would provide a pre-takeoff alert if suspicious objects or materials were detected aboard an aircraft.

The Conferees urge that the development and implementation of GARSS be pursued.

59. FUNDING FOR GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(b): In FY 2002, allows non-primary airports within Class B airspace to seek AIP money for any purpose, including operational costs.

Conference substitute

Modified House position.

60. CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO IRS CODE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(e): Amends Code to cross-reference this Security Act so that the money authorized by this Act out of the Trust Fund can be spent.

Conference substitute

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

The Conference Report amends the IRS code to cross-reference this legislation to provide for the authorization of spending ~~from~~ ^{from} the Trust Fund.

61. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

62. ALCOHOL AND DRUG TESTING

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 115: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to transfer alcohol and drug testing functions from the FAA to the TSA.

63. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 116: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

64. SAVINGS PROVISION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 117: Ensures a smooth transfer from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

65. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 118: Requires the President's budget submissions starting in 2003 to list the TSA budget separately.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report
House provision.

66. AIR AMBULANCES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Amends the Airline Stabilization Act to modify the method for distributing compensation to air ambulances.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends the Airline Stabilization Act to allow for a modified system of providing compensation to air tour operators and air ambulances to better address their needs after industry wide losses. It is the Conferees' position that the Stabilization Act's section 103 compensation formula language, "revenue ton miles or any other auditable measure" should be broadly construed and should not restrict compensation exclusively to Revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} Miles reported on previously filed DOT Form 41s. If Air, Crew, Maintenance, Insurance lessors can provide accurate and auditable records of their revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} miles during the relevant time period, then they should be eligible for compensation based under the Stabilization Act.

67. PASSENGERS WHO BOUGHT TICKETS ON BANKRUPT AIRLINES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123: Other airlines must honor these tickets to the extent practicable.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the air carriers, to the extent practicable, to honor the tickets of passengers purchased by airlines that file for bankruptcy, if the purchaser requests the use of his or her ticket within 60 days of the suspended or canceled flight, for the first 18 months after enactment of this legislation.

68. FLIGHT SERVICE STATION EMPLOYEES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(a): Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with these employees.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with flight service station employees.

69. WAR RISK INSURANCE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(b): Sense of Congress that vendors agents and sub-contractors of general aviation aircraft should get war risk insurance.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress on the availability of war risk insurance to vendors, agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all their domestic operations.

70. ANIMALS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(c): Sense of Congress that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the Postal Service allows to be mailed.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the House that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the U.S. Postal Service permits to be sent in the mail.

71. CARRY-ON BAGGAGE

Senate bill

Report on carry-on baggage.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the Congress that the FAA should continue its current restrictions on carry-on baggage of 1 bag plus 1 personal item. A backpack should be considered a personal item.

72. USPS MAIL POLICY IN ALASKA

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees encourage the Congress to pass legislation quickly to restructure the United States Postal Service's process of tendering non-priority bypass mail with the State of Alaska. Restructuring this program to direct more carriers to convert to 121 passenger operators will improve the safety of air transportation in Alaska and enhance the security of passengers.

73. VICTIMS COMPENSATION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Title II:

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute extends the liability limitations of the Air Transportation Stabilization Act to aircraft manufacturers, State port authorities, owners and operators of airports, and persons with property interests in the World Trade Center.

These provisions limit liability under the Act to the maximum level of their insurance coverage.

The Conferees expect that security functions at United States airports should become a Federal government responsibility, and it is their belief that while the number of Federal air marshals is classified, their presence would have a deterrent effect on hijacking and would further bolster public confidence in the safety of air travel. The Conferees also noted that the effectiveness of existing security measures, including employee background checks and passenger pre-screening, is currently impaired because of the inaccessibility of, or the failure to share information among, data bases maintained by different Federal and international agencies for criminal behavior or pertinent intelligence information.

The Conferees developed this legislation to address the security of the nation's transportation system.

3. ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY FUNCTION WITHIN DOT

Senate bill

Section 102: Creates a new Deputy Secretary of Transportation.

House amendment

Section 101: Creates a new Transportation Security Administration (TSA) within DOT headed by an Under Secretary. Establishes qualifications. Sets 5-year term. TSA has same procurement and personnel authority as the FAA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report creates the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to be headed by an Under Secretary within the DOT.

4. FUNCTIONS OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Coordinate and direct the functions of DOT and FAA under Chapter 449.

Work with the FAA on actions that affect safety.

Coordinate with DOJ, DOD, and other agencies on matters related to aviation security.

Coordinate transportation and actions of other agencies during an emergency. (This does not supersede the authority of any other agency.)

Establish uniform standards for transportation during an emergency.

Provide notice to other agencies about threats during an emergency. The Secretary defines what constitutes an emergency.

Take other actions, the Secretary shall prescribe.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary will be responsible for security in all modes of transportation. Specifically, Under Secretary is responsible for the following:

Receiving, assessing, and distributing intelligence information to the appropriate people in the transportation community.

Assessing threats to transportation.

Developing policies to deal with these threats.

Coordinating with other agencies.

Serve as the liaison with the intelligence community.

Any person with a property interest in the World Trade Center, as a condition to receiving liability protection under the Act, is required to satisfy all contractual obligations to rebuild or assist in the rebuilding of the World Trade Center.

The Conference substitute also limits the liability for all claims arising from the terrorist-related attacks of September 11, 2001, brought against the City of New York to the greater of the City's insurance coverage or $350,000,000.

8 This limitation on damages against the City of New York, however, ~~does~~ not apply to any non-government or private entity that is contracted with the City.

The Conference substitute also excludes entities primarily engaged in the business of airport security from its limitation on liability.

Supervising airport security using Federal uniformed personnel.

Manage the Federal security personnel in the field

Enforce security regulations.

Undertake research to improve security.

Inspect, maintain, and test security equipment.

Ensure that adequate security is provided for the transportation of cargo.

Oversee the security at airports and other transportation facilities.

Perform background checks on screeners and those who work at airports.

Develop standards for the hiring and firing of screeners.

Train and test screeners.

Conference substitute

The Conferees believe the best way to ensure effective Federal management of the nation's transportation system is through the creation of a new Administration within DOT to be called the Transportation Security Administration (TSA). The TSA's responsibilities will encompass security in all modes of transportation.

5. PAY OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 127: Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule plus bonuses based on performance.

House amendment

Section 101(c): Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000).

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the Under Secretary is to be paid at Level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000). A bonus, not to exceed thirty percent of the annual salary may be provided based on the performance of the US to be determined by the Secretary.

6. REPORTS

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Annual report of activities.

Section 127: Annual DOT report on results achieved relative to the agency security performance plan.

Section 112: 60-day report on additional security measures.

Section 133: 120-day report on the new DOJ responsibilities for aviation security.

Section 113: 3-month report on how to improve security of general aviation and air charters.

House amendment

Section 106: Eliminates existing report in section 44938 of title 49, United States Code.

Conference substitute

6A. ENHANCED SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 115: 120 day report on the following issues:

- (1) Requiring verification of airport employees' identity.
- (2) Installing switches so flight attendants can notify pilots of a hijacking.
- (3) Revalidating airline and airport employee identification cards.
- (4) Updating strategy for dealing with hijackings.
- (5) Technology to improve communication between aircraft and ground facilities.

Section 211: DOT shall study options for improving positive IDs of passengers at check-in counters and boarding areas. Report required in 6 months.

House amendment

Section 106: Requires the Under Secretary to address the issues listed below and to report 6 months after the date of enactment on the progress being made in implementing each.

A similar report would have to be submitted each year thereafter until all the items had either been implemented or rejected:

- (1) Develop procedures (such as barrel rolls or depressurizing the aircraft) and authorize equipment (such as lethal or non-lethal weapons) to help the pilot defend the aircraft against hijackers.
- (2) After consultation with the FAA, find ways to—
 - (A) limit access to the cockpit;
 - (B) strengthen cockpit doors;
 - (C) use video cameras to alert pilots to problems in the passenger cabin without having to open the cockpit door;
 - (D) ensure that the aircraft transponder cannot be turned off in flight.
- (3) Impose standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles and employees of aircraft fuelers, caterers, cleaners, and others who have access to aircraft and secure areas of airports.
- (4) Require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains.
- (5) Use various technologies, such as voice stress analysis, to prevent a dangerous person from boarding a plane.
- (6) Develop certification standards for individual screeners.
- (7) Establish performance goals and use Threat Image Projection (TIP) or similar devices to test whether screeners are meeting those goals or certification standards.
- (8) Develop ways for airlines to have access to law enforcement and immigration data bases to ensure that dangerous people do not board their planes.
- (9) Use the profiling system known as CAPS to not only give special scrutiny to selected checked baggage but also to the passengers who fit the profile and their carry-on baggage.
- (10) Use technology to ensure that airport and airline employees and law enforcement officers are who they claim to be.
- (11) Install switches in the passenger cabin so that flight attendants can discreetly notify a pilot if there is a problem.
- (12) Change the training of airline personnel in light of the change in the methods and goals of hijackers as evidenced by the attack of September 11th.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

(13) Provide for background checks for those seeking flying lessons on large aircraft or flight simulators of such aircraft.

(14) Enter into agreements allowing trained law enforcement personnel of other agencies to travel with guns in order to assist a sky marshal.

(15) Perform more thorough background checks (including review of immigration and other government records) of airport screeners, student pilots, and others who have unescorted access to secure areas of the airport.

(16) Establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel authorized to carry a gun on board to ensure they are who they claim to be.

(17) Allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening for those passengers that wish to participate.

(18) Develop security procedures for stem cells and other medical containers that cannot be opened or x-rayed.

(19) Develop security procedures to allow musical instruments to be carried in the passenger cabin.

(20) Provide for the use of wireless devices to enable communications among airport security personnel about potential threats.

Conference substitute

The Under Secretary shall decide upon establishing security measures to: ensure that the flight transponder cannot be turned off in flight; require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains; use voice stress analysis, biometric, and other technologies to prevent dangerous persons from boarding a plane; establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel traveling with firearms to ensure they are who they claim to be; require the consideration of alternative security procedures that would not damage medical products; allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening on a voluntary basis; and, provide for the use of technology to enhance communications among airport security personnel about potential threats. The conferees encourage efforts by the Transportation Security Administration and professional organizations representing industry to use biometric information, such as fingerprints collected initially as input to the background check process, for future verification of identity at access control points to secure airport areas. The Conferees applaud efforts to improve day-to-day airport security by utilizing this raw biometric information collected from individuals as a recurrent identifier for access to secure areas. The Conferees urge the Transportation Security Administration to work with industry organizations that ~~can~~ assist in the process of background checks, record-keeping, and universal access control data. 7. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Senate bill

Section 102(b): Responsible for screening, including the hiring and training of screeners.

House amendment

No provision—The Under Secretary is responsible for screening.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

Conference substitute
No provision.

8. TRANSITION

Senate bill

Section 102(d): Until Deputy Secretary takes office, the functions are performed by the Assistant Administrator of the FAA.

Section 108: Transition to Attorney General immediate. Actions completed in 9 months.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary shall assume civil aviation security responsibilities in 3 months. In the meantime, Under Secretary can take over airline contracts with screening companies.

No change until Under Secretary is appointed.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the Under Secretary to assume responsibility for civil aviation security within 3 months of the enactment of this legislation.

9. TECHNOLOGY AND EQUIPMENT

Senate bill

Section 102(c): Amends 44932(c) to require FAA to ensure the use of the best available security equipment, not merely the best available x-ray equipment.

Section 108: Restates provision in current law requiring manual process where equipment is now underutilized.

Section 132: By September 30, 2002, FAA shall decide the feasibility of implementing technologies designed to protect aviation and automatically detect bombs, drugs, hazardous chemicals, and nuclear devices.

Section 201(b): FAA shall deploy and use existing bomb detection equipment. Within 60 days, FAA shall establish goals for—

- (1) deploying equipment now in storage;
- (2) specifying a percentage of checked bags to be scanned within 6 months, with a goal of scanning 100 percent;
- (3) the number of bomb detectors that will be purchased for deployment at medium sized airports within 6 months. [See item 29.]

House amendment

Section 106: Makes no change in section 44932(c) of title 49, United States Code, but directs Under Secretary to consider requiring various technologies described in item 6 above and report to Congress on them 6 months after enactment and annually thereafter until those technologies are deployed or a decision is made not to deploy them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees want new, state-of-the-art security equipment installed at airports on an expedited basis, and immediate action taken to ensure that existing explosive detection equipment is employed to the greatest extent possible for the screening of checked baggage. It is expected that additional equipment will be installed in as timely a manner as possible, and in the interim, other systems will be used to screen baggage. The Conferees agree that ev-

used

everything going on board a passenger aircraft should be screened within 60 days by FAA-approved methods.

10. AIRWORTHINESS OBJECTIONS BY FAA

Senate bill

Section 102: Must consult with FAA on all matters affecting safety and operations.

House amendment

Section 106: Under Secretary cannot take an action if notified by the FAA that it would adversely affect the airworthiness of the aircraft unless the Secretary approves the action.

Conference substitute

House provision.

11. ROLE OF NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD (NTSB)

Senate bill

No provision.

House amendment

Section 106: In taking an action that could affect safety, Under Secretary shall solicit and give great weight to views of NTSB.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct that in taking actions that could affect safety, the timely views of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) will be taken into consideration by the Under Secretary. The conferees wished to emphasize that the views of the NTSB should be provided in a sufficiently and timely manner so those views could be fully considered by the Under Secretary.

12. BIOLOGICAL AND CHEMICAL WEAPONS

Senate bill

Section 102(c): FAA shall develop ways to enhance the ability to detect biological and chemical weapons.

Section 106(c): DOT shall require airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect these weapons.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect and neutralize biological and chemical weapons, and instructs the FAA to develop ways to enhance the detection of these weapons. ✓

13. OVERSIGHT AND COORDINATION

Senate bill

Section 103: Establishes Aviation Security Oversight Council (ASOC), chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, and any other agency head DOT and DOJ determine to be appropriate.

House bill

Section 112: Establishes Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, and either NSC or Homeland Security. TSOB

shares intelligence, reviews emergency rules, and oversees actions of Under Secretary.

Establishes Advisory Council, composed of industry, labor, families, and others to advise Under Secretary on security matters.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report establishes the Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by the Secretary of DOT and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, NSC and Homeland Security. The TSOB may review and ratify or disapprove regulations issued by the Under Secretary; facilitate the coordination of intelligence, security and law enforcement activities affecting transportation; and, perform other duties including making recommendations to the Under Secretary for use in combating threats to the integrity of the nation's transportation system.

14. RULEMAKING

Senate bill

No Rules required by DOJ for its own employees; cockpit requirements issuable without APA.

House bill

Section 101: Under Secretary can issue security rules immediately without notice and comment, DOT or OMB review, and without a cost-benefit analysis but subject to disapproval by the TSOB.

Conference substitute

House provision.

15. INSPECTOR GENERAL

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 101: TSA is subject to the Inspector General Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference report instructs that the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will be subject to the Inspector General Act.

16. CROSS CHECKING DATA BASES

Senate bill

Section 103(a): DOT, acting through ASOC, shall try to develop a common data base with other agencies and share information about people.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASOC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies.

Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months.

A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent that the Under Secretary determines appropriate, the Under Secretary shall (1) establish procedures requiring airlines to use information from government agencies to identify people who may be a threat to civil aviation and (2) require more thorough background checks that include a review of other agency data bases.

JOINT EXPLANATORY STATEMENT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The managers on the part of the Senate and House at the conference on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses on the amendment of the House of Representatives to the bill (S. 1447), to improve aviation security, and for other purposes, submit the following joint statement to the Senate and House in explanation of the effects of the action agreed upon by the managers and recommended in the accompanying conference report:

The House amendment struck all of the Senate bill after the enacting clause and inserted a substitute text.

The Senate recedes from its disagreement to the amendment of the House with an amendment that is a substitute for the Senate bill and the House amendment. The differences between the Senate bill, the House amendment, and the substitute agreed to in conference are noted below, except for clerical corrections, conforming changes made necessary by agreements reached by the conferees, and minor drafting and clerical changes.

1. SHORT TITLE

Senate bill

Section 1: "Aviation Security Act".

House amendment

Section 1: "Airport Security Federalization Act of 2001"

Conference substitute

The title of the legislation will be "The Aviation and Transportation Security Act."

2. FINDINGS

Senate bill

Section 101: 7 findings on the importance of security and the need for Federal control and other changes.

House amendment

No provision

Conference substitute

The conferees recognize that the safety and security of the civil air transportation system is critical to the security of the United States and its national defense, and that a safe and secure United States civil air transportation system is essential to the basic freedom of America to move in intrastate, interstate and international transportation. The conferees further note the terrorist hijacking and crashes of passenger aircraft on September 11, 2001, which converted civil aircraft into guided bombs for strikes against the United States, required a fundamental change in the way it approaches the task of ensuring the safety and security of the civil air transportation system.

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

REV_00135810

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have instructed the Secretary to work with the TSOB to develop a data base that will allow the cross checking of the people on "watch lists" of various Federal law enforcement agencies to identify individuals that may pose a risk to security in an effort to identify potential risks to civil aviation. Passenger lists should be used in conjunction with this data base to help target those individuals that pose a threat, and allow appropriate action to be taken.

17. TERRORISM REPORT

Senate bill

Section 103(b): Require reports on all terrorism. Reports to be shared with DOT.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the intelligence community to ensure that reports on terrorism are shared with the DOT.

18. STRATEGIC PLANNING

Senate bill

Section 103(c): Require intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires intelligence agencies to establish units for strategic planning on terrorism.

19. COCKPIT SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 104: FAA shall issue a rule, without notice and comment, permitting only authorized persons to have access to the cockpit, requiring strengthening the door by installing locks and making them rigid, requiring the door to remain locked during flight except when the pilot needs to get out, and taking away the flight attendants key.

Special rules shall be issued for aircraft that do not have a door.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent the Under Secretary considers appropriate, the Under Secretary shall, after consultation with FAA, implement methods to restrict the opening of the cockpit door during flight and fortify those doors.

A report is required in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Funds are authorized to help airlines pay for this.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report prohibits access to the flight deck of passenger aircraft by anyone other than the flight crew. Flight deck doors must be strengthened and remain locked while aircraft is in flight. Video cameras may be provided to alert pilots to cabin activity in the event of a security breach occurring during the flight.

These provisions apply to aircraft required to have a door between the flight deck and cabin. The Conferees also seek the redesign of cockpits to ensure the doors are secured at all times during flight. Redesign can encompass new flight deck materials, double doors to the cockpit as are used in Israel, and lavatories within the flight deck so that flight crew do not leave the flight deck. Once bathroom facilities are provided for the flight crew of passenger aircraft, the cockpit door no longer will need to be opened during flight.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to take into consideration the threat to aviation and national security when developing means to secure the flight deck on commuter aircraft. Any new burdens should be appropriate for the risk.

20. AIR MARSHALS

Senate bill

Section 105: Attorney General prescribes guidelines for training and deployment of sky marshals. DOT administers the program in accordance with these guidelines:

(1) Marshals may be placed on every flight but must be placed on every flight that DOT determines to be high risk.

(2) Marshals must be deployed in 30 days.

(3) Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

(4) DOT shall work with ICAO and foreign governments to address security concerns on foreign airlines.

(5) DOT may use personnel from other agencies, including the military, as air marshals.

Section 105: Waives age requirements for retired police, military and out-of-work pilots to work as air marshals, if they meet the background and fitness qualifications.

Report required in 18 months.

House bill

Section 105: Under Secretary deploys air marshals, provides for their background checks, trains them, and requires U.S. airlines to provide seats for them at no cost.

Preference for hiring laid off airline pilots as marshals.

Marshals must be placed on selected flights.

Marshals must be given a seat even if that means bumping a passenger.

DOT shall work with foreign governments to address security concerns on international flights from the U.S.

Until the Under Secretary has all the air marshals needed, personnel from other agencies may be used, with the other agency's concurrence, as air marshals on a non-reimbursable basis.

Airlines must provide seats, on a space-available basis, to off-duty marshals flying home.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that appropriately trained, supervised and equipped Federal Air Marshals (FAMs) may be deployed on every scheduled passenger flight, and must be placed on every "high risk" flight, which may include nonstop longhaul flights, or any other flight deemed appropriate, even if the flight is fully booked. For applicants who otherwise meet the background and fitness requirements, age restrictions may be waived to allow

of the 9-11-01.

(cockpit and cabin)

retired law enforcement officers, retired members of the armed forces, and members of commercial airline crews who have been furloughed from their positions. Personnel from other agencies may be deployed, with the agency's concurrence, as FAMs until an adequate number of FAMs are in place. Additionally, agreements may be entered into allowing trained law enforcement personnel from other agencies to travel with firearms in order to assist FAMs.

The Conferees instruct the Under Secretary to follow air carrier passenger reservations and cancellation practices to the extent practicable. The Under Secretary should work cooperatively with air carriers to develop guidelines concerning reservations and cancellation for the transportation of Federal Air Marshals.

21. SCREENING

Senate bill

Section 108: Attorney General, in consultation with DOT, shall provide for screening of all passengers, property, mail, and cargo that will be carried aboard an aircraft.

Federal employees shall do screening.

Airport and airline employees shall be screened in the same way, except alternative methods may be used for security personnel.

Attorney General shall use screening technology approved by FAA.

Law enforcement personnel shall be deployed at each screening location.

At the 100 largest airports, additional police may be ordered.

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 120 days on effectiveness of security screening.

Section 106: DOJ and DOT may permit operational flexibility to tailor screening needs for seasonal variations, aircraft types, and special needs of small airports.

Section 108: Attorney General may require non-hub or smaller airports to use State or local law enforcement if the screening will be equivalent to that at larger airports, the training meets Federal standards, the airport is reimbursed by funds made available by this Act, and the airport is consulted.

House bill

Section 102: Federal government is responsible for screening passengers and property on passenger aircraft that originate in the U.S.. Silent on whether screeners are to be Federal employees or private contractors. Under Secretary shall deputize screeners to enforce Federal laws, but not to arrest people. Screeners must have common uniforms. Must be supervised by uniformed Federal employees.

Section 107: Under Secretary should consider certifying screeners and use TIP or similar technologies to measure their performance and revoke their certification if their performance is inadequate.

Section 104: Airport required to deploy law enforcement or military personnel at each screening location. Law enforcement can be either Federal or local.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires the Federal government to hire, train and deploy Federal screeners, Federal managers, Federal security personnel and Federal law enforcement within 1 year. The participants in this Federal security workforce will not be able to strike or engage in work stoppages, and can be fired at the discretion of the Secretary if they are not able to adequately perform their duties.

The Conferees recognize that, in order to ensure that Federal screeners are able to provide the best security possible, the Secretary must be given wide latitude to determine the terms of employment of screeners. The Conference Committee expects that, in fixing the terms and conditions of employment the Secretary shall establish benefits and conditions of employment. The Conference Committee also recognizes that, in order to hire and retain screeners, the Secretary should also ensure that screeners have access to Federal health, life insurance, and retirement benefits, as well as workers' compensation benefits. The Committee believes that screening personnel must also be given whistleblower protections so that screeners may report security conditions without fear of reprisal.

The Conference Report requires the DOT to assume existing screening company contracts as soon as possible, but no later than 90 days after enactment of this legislation. The contracts for existing screeners can be extended for up to 6 months, and the DOT would have the option to extend contracts for no longer than 3 months, if necessary, to continue screening. DOT may also authorize additional Federal law enforcement, National Guard, and other personnel immediately to address the aviation security needs of the country.

The Conferees direct the Secretary to provide a report after one year from the date of enactment certifying deployment of the Federal screeners. Two years after certification airports can opt out of the Federalization of the screener level of the Federal workforce if the Secretary determines that these facilities would continue to provide an equal or higher level of security. Companies will be barred from providing screening if they violate federal standards, are found to allow repeated failures of the system, or prove to be a security risk. The DOT will also establish a Pilot Program for 5 airports, one from each category type, to apply for the use of private contract screeners.

Within 1 year after the date of enactment of the Act, the conferees expect the Transportation Security Administration to submit a report to the Senate Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation and the House of Representatives Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure on the screening requirements applicable to passengers boarding, and property being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or less used in scheduled passenger service with recommendations for any necessary changes in those requirements.

22. CITIZENSHIP OF SECURITY FIRMS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 104: Must be owned or controlled by a citizen of the U.S. to the extent the President determines that there are such firms.

Section 123(e): Similar sense of Congress.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that U.S. companies should be used to provide screening if they are available.

23. TRAINING OF PILOTS AND FLIGHT ATTENDANTS

Senate bill

Section 105(f): Report from DOT and DOJ required within 6 months on crew training.

Section 107: DOT shall develop a mandatory airline training program for crews dealing with a hijacking. Training shall be developed in coordination with law enforcement experts.

House bill

Section 106: Under Secretary should consider updating training for dealing with hijacking that includes ways for dealing with suicidal hijackers. Report six months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that detailed guidance shall be developed for a mandatory air carrier training program to assist flight crews and attendants in hijack situations. The training curriculum will be developed in consultation with Federal law enforcement agencies with expertise in dealing with these types of threat conditions.

24. HOW FLIGHT ATTENDANTS NOTIFY PILOTS OF A HIJACKING

Senate bill

Section 107: FAA shall revise procedures by which flight attendants notify pilots and implement new measures as soon as practicable.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary should consider requiring the installation of switches in the cabin so that the flight attendants can discreetly notify the pilots.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Under Secretary to consider the installation of a switch to be located in the cabin for flight attendants to notify pilots in the event of a hijacking without the knowledge of passengers. or other devices

25. PROVISION OF PERSONNEL FROM OTHER AGENCIES

Senate bill

Section 105: Amends section 106(m) to allow other agencies to provide personnel to FAA.

House bill

Section 102(d): Same provision, worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conferees call upon other agencies to provide personnel that has received the proper training for use by the FAA as Federal air marshals (FAMs) in an effort to support and supplement ~~that~~ the FAM workforce in its early stages.

26. AIRPORT PERIMETER ACCESS SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 106: DOT may order deployment of law enforcement personnel as needed to bolster airport security by entering into an agreement with another agency to deploy Federal law enforcement at airports.

Section 106(b): FAA shall provide technical support and financial assistance to small airports to help defray security costs.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have given the Secretary the ability to work with the airports to address potential threats at individual facilities by ordering the deployment of Federal law enforcement authorities to improve airport perimeter and access security in an effort to counter potential criminal activities. Such actions also can include providing increased security at air traffic control facilities. Additionally, the FAA Administrator will develop a plan to provide technical support to enable small- and medium-sized airports to enhance their security operations, and shall include using network digital video surveillance systems.

27. INDIVIDUALS WITH ACCESS TO SECURE AREAS OF THE AIRPORT

Senate bill

See item 21

Section 106(a): DOT, in consultation with ASOC, shall consider whether such individuals should be screened.

Section 106(d): Amend 44903(g)(2) to delete 1/31/01 deadline and beef up language on access control requirements.

Consider deployment of biometric technologies.

Establish pilot programs at 20 airports to test new technologies.

DOT shall require airlines and airports to develop security awareness programs for employees.

Section 211: Within 6 months, DOT shall recommend to airports commercially available ways to prevent access to secure areas. As part of this, DOT shall review effectiveness of biometric and other systems, focus on eliminating piggy-backing, and include a 12-month deployment strategy for currently available technology at Category X airports. Not later than 18 months, DOT shall conduct a review of reductions in unauthorized access.

House bill

Section 106: The Under Secretary shall consider imposing standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles that have access to secure areas and provide for the use of technology to verify the identity of those vehicles entering a secure area. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that all individuals, goods, property, vehicles, and other equipment seeking access to secure areas must be screened and inspected before entry. The Conference Committee instructs that prescribed requirements should provide at least the same level of protection as the screening of passengers and baggage. The Conferees, however, recognize that these requirements may make allowances for tools and equipment necessary to perform duties in secure areas. The Secretary will examine the physical configuration of individual airports, and consider the views of the TSOB to consider implementing standards to protect the integrity of secure areas.

28. BAN ON PARKING OF VEHICLES WITHIN 300 FEET OF TERMINAL

Senate bill

Section 106(b): FAA, in consultation with local law enforcement, shall reexamine the need for 300 feet restriction.

House bill

Section 121: Removes this parking ban if the airport, in consultation with local law enforcement, certifies to DOT, after doing a threat assessment, that safeguards are in place to protect public safety.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that all airports must consult with local law enforcement and inform DOT that proper safeguards are in place to ensure that parked vehicles are not a security risk. Each airport must submit views regarding its assessment of the needs of their facility.

29. CHECKED BAGGAGE

Senate bill

See item 9

Section 201(b)(1): Requirement for all baggage to be screened within 9 months.

FAA must establish within 60 days confidential goals for scanning a specific percentage of checked bags within 6 months and annual goals thereafter eventually scanning 100%.

Section 201(c) - page 85 FAA shall require airlines to upgrade the bag match system. Shall establish goals within 60 days to accomplish this including interim measures to match a higher percentage of bags until bomb detectors are used to scan 100% of bags.

Confidential report to Congress in 1 year.

House bill

See item 9

Section 106: All checked baggage must be screened by December 31, 2003. All existing explosive detection equipment must be used to the maximum extent possible.

Additional explosive detection equipment must be installed as soon as possible.

In the interim, airlines must implement a bag match program.

A system must be in place as soon as possible to screen cargo transported in passenger aircraft.

Section 123(d): Sense of Congress that all checked baggage should be screened by any available means.

Conference substitute

The Conferees feel strongly that all baggage to be placed on passenger flights must be screened. Existing technology, including EDS, should be used and upgraded in an effort to ensure that all checked baggage goes through such a system. Any baggage that does not go through EDS will be required to go through some form of manual or other comparable screening system. An alternate system of screening cargo should also be established, and periodic reports issued to provide an understanding of the progress made on these efforts.

30. COMPUTER ASSISTED PASSENGER PROFILING SYSTEM (CAPPS)

Senate bill

Section 201(d): FAA shall make all passengers subject to CAPPS even if they don't check bags so that their carry-ons and person will be subject to additional security measures. Report within 3 months.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASCC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to CAPPS and to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies. Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106(9): The Under Secretary should consider providing the enhanced use of CAPPS to more effectively screen passengers and carry-on baggage. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that an enhanced and upgraded use of the Computer Assisted Passenger Pre-Screening System (CAPPS) must be considered to more effectively screen passengers and baggage. The Conferees also recognize that adjustments may need to be made to reflect circumstances in some areas of the U.S., including State with unique transportation needs.

31. DEPUTIZING FOR ENFORCEMENT OF FEDERAL SECURITY LAWS

Senate bill

Section 108(b): Requires Attorney General to deputize State and local law enforcement to regulate screening at non-hubs.

House bill

Private contractor employees deputized.

Conference substitute

No provision.

32. HIRING AND TRAINING OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: DOJ, in consultation with DOT, shall establish a program for the hiring and training of screeners. Hiring qualifications shall be set in 30 days. Includes list of qualifications screeners must meet such as education and language requirements. Training plans must be developed within 60 days. Requires 40 hours of classroom training and 60 hours of on the job training. Current lists of dual use items (seemingly harmless items that could be used as a weapon) shall be part of the training. Section 104 - page 16

House bill

Under Secretary may set minimum pay for screeners. Preference shall be given to veterans in the hiring of screeners and laid off airline workers. Final rule for certification of screening companies changed from May 31, 2001 to 6 months after date of enactment. In the meantime, within 30 days of enactment, the standards in the proposed rule, such as education and language requirements, shall be in effect. All screeners must be in approved uniforms.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

33. CITIZENSHIP OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109: Must have been a national of the U.S. for at least 5 years.

House bill

Section 104(a): Must be U.S. citizens.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that all airport screeners must be citizens of the U.S.

34. STATUS OF SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(d): Notwithstanding any law, the Attorney General may hire, fire, and pay screeners as he determines necessary.

House bill

Section 102: Federal supervisor can order the dismissal of any screener.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report provides the Under Secretary the authority to employ, terminate and fix the conditions of employment for the Federal screening workforce.

35. STRIKES BY SCREENERS

Senate bill

Section 109(e): Strikes prohibited pursuant to Title 5.

House bill

Section 102: Strikes prohibited.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs that the airport screening workforce will be prohibited from striking. The Conferees have provided the Transportation Security Administration authority to utilize existing authority provided to the FAA to develop personnel and acquisition systems. The authority gives the Administration flexibility to design its own policies and procedures and not use the FAA's system, while retaining the legal requirements under sections 40110 and 40112.

36. BACKGROUND CHECKS

Senate bill

Section 109(f): Requires background checks for current screeners and others with access to the airport.

Section 201(a): Requires background checks for current screeners and others to be completed in 9 months unless the person has had such a check in the past 5 years. Alternative checks shall be developed for those who have lived in the U.S. for less than 5 years.

House bill

Section 107: Allows smaller airports to use the same expedited procedures for criminal history background checks as the larger airports now use. (Under the 2000 Security Act these expedited procedures do not go into effect at smaller airports until 2003.)

Requires background check (including review of government data bases) for all current screeners and those with access to secure

areas except for those who have already had such a check or those who are exempted by FAA rules from such checks.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

The Conferees encourage the Under Secretary to provide channeling authority to professional organizations representing industry to FBI AFIS fingerprint databases to perform criminal history verification of aviation business employees. (S) ✓

37. RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Senate bill

Section 110: Amends section 44912 to require periodic reviews of threats to civil aviation and the potential for the release of biological and chemical weapons. A person shall be designated to be responsible for security research. The person shall file an annual report on research activities. A scientific advisory panel shall be established. DOT shall coordinate research with DOJ.

Section 221: Authorizes $50 million per year to research various security technologies.

House bill

Section 101: Transfers security research from FAA to the TSA. The TSA can use FAA research facilities.

Conference substitute

A modified version of the Senate provision.

38. FLIGHT SCHOOLS

Senate bill

Section 111: Regarding jet-propelled aircraft, a person shall not give flight instruction, including instruction in simulator, to an alien (or other person specified by DOT) unless DOJ issues that person a certificate of completion of the background check of the alien. Requests for the background check shall be made jointly by the alien and the flight school. Investigation must be completed in 30 days. Investigation includes fingerprint check, immigration check, and a determination of whether alien is a national security risk. Expedited procedures shall be developed for an alien seeking recurrent training. Penalties for violations shall be developed by DOT rulemaking. Flight schools shall report aliens that they train.

Section 111(c): DOT and State shall work with ICAO to improve screening of student pilots.

House bill

Section 106(13): The Under Secretary should consider requiring background checks on individuals seeking flying lessons (including simulator lessons) on aircraft weighing more than 12,500 pounds. Report in 6 months and annually thereafter until the Under Secretary implements the checks or decides not to require them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that flight school training for aircraft with a minimum certificated weight of 12,500 pounds or more should not be allowed for any alien within the United States unless they have passed a sufficient background check. Such individuals seeking to attend flight school may begin pilot training after 45 days or upon being certified as having passed a background investigation regarding their criminal history and immigration status. A

1 And the House agree to the same.

security awareness program will be developed to assist employees that work at flight schools by helping to increase their awareness of a potential threat.

39. PENALTIES

Senate bill

Section 114: Imposes criminal penalties for interfering with security personnel at a commercial service airport.

House bill

Section 116(c): Transfers the relevant civil penalty authorities from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires that an individual who disrupts the duties of security screening personnel within a commercial service airport shall be fined and/or imprisoned for up to 10 years. The use of a dangerous weapon to interfere with security screening may result in up to life imprisonment.

40. INTRASTATE AIR SERVICE

Senate bill

Section 116: DOT may grant antitrust exemptions to ensure continued viability of air service in that State.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that DOT may grant anti-trust immunity to ensure continued viability of air service within a state. If the Secretary approves any such request, a report must be given to the relevant Senate and House Committees within six months of the approval describing what actions have been taken by the carriers receiving the exemption.

41. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS

Senate bill

Section 117: DOT shall require all airlines to use the best technology to ensure that their systems are secure from unauthorized access. DOT shall submit an annual report on compliance.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

Under the direction of the Conference Report airlines are required to take action that will prevent unauthorized access to computer reservation systems and the information they contain on passengers. Technology should be utilized to the greatest extent possible to ensure the integrity of these systems.

42. FEES

Senate bill

Section 118(a): Within 180 days, airlines remit a $2.50 fee per enplanement.

House bill

Section 108: Under Secretary shall impose a fee of not more than $2.50 per one-way trip. The amount of the fee shall be reasonably related to the costs of providing the screening service. In addition, a fee can be imposed directly on the airlines but it cannot be more than the airlines paid for screening services in 2000. Fees shall be credited as off-setting collections. Passengers using airports where screening services are not provided may be exempted from the fee.

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute requires a fee to be charged to cover the cost of providing the aviation security services. The fee will be based on the number of times a passenger boards a plane during the course of travel, but will be capped at $5.00 per one-way trip. Any additional funds needed will be authorized to be appropriated or may come from a fee imposed directly on the airlines.

The Secretary may waive or modify the security fee to take into account the isolation of certain communities. In determining whether to waive or modify this fee, the Secretary shall consider the costs of transportation security and the benefits of transportation security that is bestowed on those communities. The Conference substitute amends section 45301(b) of title 49, United States Code, with respect to limitations on overflight fees to (1) to make the language consistent with the new security fee language of this Act, and (2) to clarify Congressional intent with respect to the FAA costs upon which the fees can be based. Specifically, the conference substitute replaces the word "directly" with "reasonably", since the word "directly" has been a source of much confusion and narrow interpretation, and has been a primary cause of recurring litigation which has frustrated and delayed the FAA's imposition of the overflight fees for a number of years. Additionally, this amendment specifies that the FAA's costs upon which the fees are based are to be determined solely by the Administrator. This is to clarify that the Administrator has full authority to determine costs by appropriate means. This amendment is not intended to require revision of the fees recently promulgated by the FAA (66 FR 43680, Aug. 20, 2001) but rather, to clarify longstanding Congressional intent that the FAA expeditiously and continuously collect the fees authorized under section 45301(a) of title 49.

43. AUTHORIZATION

Senate bill

Section 118(b): Authorizes such sums for the next 3 years as may be necessary to carry out the security functions.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes such sums as may be necessary to the TSA for operating costs and for screening services not covered by the above fee.

Authorizes $500 million for grants to airlines to fortify cockpit doors, install video monitors to view the passenger cabin, ensure continuous operation of transponder, and use of other technologies.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report authorizes the necessary spending for the cost of providing aviation security.

44. AIRPORT FUNDING

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 119(a): Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay security costs in FY 2002 for any cost incurred after 9/11 regardless of when it was incurred. Waives the local matching share. In deciding whether to make a discretionary AIP grant for security costs, the availability and use of non-Federal funding by the airport shall be considered.

Section 120: Authorizes such sums in 2002 to compensate airports for security costs. Costs must be documented and subject to an IG audit. DOT shall publish procedures for filing claims in 30 days.

Section 119(c): PFC requests for security funding should be expedited.

Section 119(b): For the purpose of determining AIP entitlements in FY 2003, enplanements in 2000 or 2001, whichever is higher, shall be used.

Section 201(b): Modifying terminal and baggage systems in order to install bomb detection equipment is made AIP eligible. Section 113: Allows AIP and PFC funds to be used to pay for added law enforcement costs in at a non-hub or small hub airport regardless of when the cost was incurred.

Waives the local matching share.

In FY 2002, allows AIP and PFC money to be used to pay debt service if that would prevent an airport, or privately owned terminal, from defaulting on its bond.

House bill

Section 109: Authorizes a total of $1.5 billion in 2002 and 2003 to reimburse airports for direct costs they incurred to meet new security requirements. Such sums to remain available until expended. Before getting the money, the airport must agree to meet with its concessionaires to discuss rent adjustments and provide an itemized list of costs incurred.

Conference substitute

A blend of the House and Senate provisions.

45. COMPETITION PLANS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(a): Waives an airport's obligation to submit a competition plan in FY 2002 when it is seeking money to improve security.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report waives the obligation of an airport to submit a competition plan in FY '02 when seeking money to improve security.

46. REPORTING SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITIES

Senate bill

Section 121: Exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing, in good faith, suspicious activity. DOJ shall establish procedures to notify the FAA of people who may pose a risk of hijacking. Report shall be submitted in 120 days on the implementation of this notification.

House bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report encourages and exempts airline employees from liability for disclosing suspicious activities in response to a "reasonably believed" threat.

47. ARMING PILOTS

Senate bill

Section 122: National Institute of Justice shall assess non-lethal weapons for use by pilots and report to DOT in 90 days. After receiving report, DOT may authorize pilots to carry such weapons. DOT shall establish training and procedural requirements for using these weapons.

Section 125: Authorizes FAA to permit a pilot with proper training to carry a gun in the cockpit. FAA shall establish a training program. Report shall be submitted every 6 months on the effectiveness of this provision.

House bill

Section 106: DOT cannot take any action to prevent a pilot from taking a gun into the cockpit if the policy of the airline allows it and the pilot has completed a training program acceptable to the Under Secretary.

Conference substitute

A pilot is authorized to carry an approved firearm into the cockpit if approved by the Under Secretary and the air carrier, and the pilot has received proper training.

48. ISOLATED COMMUNITIES

Senate bill

Section 123: During an emergency, DOT, after consulting with the ASCC, may grant waivers on flight restrictions to allow flights carrying freight, mail, patients, and medical supplies to areas with extraordinary transportation needs given isolation of the area and if the waiver is in the public interest.

House bill

Section 120: Similar provision but worded differently.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report instructs that during an emergency DOT may grant waivers on flight restrictions to areas with extraordinary transportation needs.

49. SUPPLIES ON BOARD AIRCRAFT

Senate bill

Section 124: DOT shall ensure the safety of food and other supplies on aircraft by sealing packages, screening personnel and vehicles, etc.

House bill

See item 27

Conference substitute

The Conferees have determined that DOT should establish procedures to ensure the safety and security of on-board supplies for intrastate passenger aircraft. The Secretary will establish procedures that may increase security for the point of origin of the supplier, provide for sealed supplies, and the screening of the supplies as they enter the airport.

50. AIRMAN REGISTRY

Senate bill

Section 126: Directs FAA to modify the registry to make it more effective in combating terrorism. FAA should work with State and locals to assist in identifying those applying for or holding airmen certificates.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the FAA must take steps to make the airman registry more effective to combat terrorism by working with the appropriate authorities to assist in properly identifying persons applying for or in possession of airmen certificates.

51. PASSENGER MANIFESTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 111: Within 60 days, U.S. and foreign airlines on international flights to the U.S. must provide to the Under Secretary (or another agency) by electronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest with specified information.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires air carriers to use the Air Passenger Information System (APIS) to provide a crew and passenger manifest and related information to Customs for each flight.

52. RESULTS-BASED MANAGEMENT

Senate bill

Section 127: With 60 days, DOT shall establish acceptable performance levels for aviation security and provide Congress with an action plan clarifying the responsibilities of the government agencies involved. Each year, a performance plan shall be made available. Any contracts to implement this Act shall try to maximize the use of performance based service contracts.

House bill

Section 106(7): Consider establishing performance goals for screeners. Report after 6 months and annually thereafter until this is implemented or rejected.

Conference substitute

Modified Senate provision.

53. EMPLOYMENT REGISTER

Senate bill

Section 128(a): DOT shall establish and maintain an employment register.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

No provision.

54. TRAINING FACILITIES

Senate bill

Section 128(b): DOT may use FAA training facilities to train security screeners.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report directs the Secretary to use existing Federal training facilities, where possible, to address the training needs of security screening personnel.

55. AIRSPACE RESTRICTIONS

Senate bill

Section 129: President shall submit a report within 30 days describing any airspace restrictions that remain in place and the justification for those restrictions.

House bill

Section 119: The restrictions on Class B airspace shall cease to be in effect 10 days after enactment unless a notice is published prior to the 10th day reimposing and explaining the reasons for those restrictions.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to lift restrictions on Class B airspace under specified requirements.

56. VOLUNTEERS

Senate bill

Section 130: DOT shall carry out a program to permit police, firefighters, and paramedics to provide emergency services during flight. Exempts from liability those who help in an emergency. This does not authorize the possession of firearms.

House bill

No provision but exemption from liability seems to be covered by existing law, section 5(b) of Aviation Medical Assistance Act.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct the Secretary to implement a program that will allow qualified law enforcement, firefighters and emergency service technicians to assist in the event of an emergency during commercial air flights. This program will establish the credentials of volunteers, maintain their confidentiality and exempt them from liability.

57. LIMITATION ON LIABILITY

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 110: Limits liability of passenger or crew who hurts a person they, in good faith, believe was hijacking or about to hijack the plane.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report exempts passengers and crew from liability if an individual "reasonably believed" that a hijacking was occurring.

58. GENERAL AVIATION SECURITY

Senate bill

Section 131: FAA shall begin a security program for aircraft over 12,500 pounds within 90 days. Waivers from this requirement can be granted. A security program for smaller aircraft shall begin in 1 year. A report shall be filed in 18 months.

Aircraft may not be sold or leased to an alien unless a background check has been done or until the security programs described above are implemented.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference report directs the Secretary to provide Congress a report on improving general aviation security in the United States within 3 months of enactment of the legislation.

The Conferees note that a number of issues on aviation security research merit the prompt attention of the Department of Transportation. In particular, the Conferees observe that research into providing better security with minimal disruption in the system in the area of general aviation is important.

The Conferees note that the FAA has recently designated a consortium of schools as a general aviation center of excellence and anticipates that the FAA would draw upon the expertise of these institutions in formulating a security program for general aviation.

The Conferees also note that NASA, in coordination with the DOT, is investigating technology that would facilitate remote screening of small aircraft prior to takeoff.

Such a general aviation remote screening system (GARSS) could be installed on a vehicle or mobile platform, or in a fixed facility alongside a taxiway, and would provide a pre-takeoff alert if suspicious objects or materials were detected aboard an aircraft.

The Conferees urge that the development and implementation of GARSS be pursued.

59. FUNDING FOR GENERAL AVIATION AIRPORTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(b): In FY 2002, allows non-primary airports within Class B airspace to seek AIP money for any purpose, including operational costs.

Conference substitute

Modified House position.

60. CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO IRS CODE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 113(e): Amends Code to cross-reference this Security Act so that the money authorized by this Act out of the Trust Fund can be spent.

Conference substitute

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

The Conference Report amends the IRS code to cross-reference this legislation to provide for the authorization of spending ~~from~~ ^{from} the Trust Fund.

61. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report makes technical corrections to the Air Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act.

62. ALCOHOL AND DRUG TESTING

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 115: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to transfer alcohol and drug testing functions from the FAA to the TSA.

63. CONFORMING AMENDMENTS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 116: Amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends existing law to account for the transfer of functions from the FAA to the TSA.

64. SAVINGS PROVISION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 117: Ensures a smooth transfer from the FAA to the TSA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report

House provision.

65. BUDGET SUBMISSIONS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 118: Requires the President's budget submissions starting in 2003 to list the TSA budget separately.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report

House provision.

66. AIR AMBULANCES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 114: Amends the Airline Stabilization Act to modify the method for distributing compensation to air ambulances.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report amends the Airline Stabilization Act to allow for a modified system of providing compensation to air tour operators and air ambulances to better address their needs after industry wide losses. It is the Conferees' position that the Stabilization Act's section 103 compensation formula language, "revenue ton miles or any other auditable measure" should be broadly construed and should not restrict compensation exclusively to Revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} Miles reported on previously filed DOT Form 41s. If Air, Crew, Maintenance, Insurance lessors can provide accurate and auditable records of their revenue ~~for~~ ^{ton} miles during the relevant time period, then they should be eligible for compensation based under the Stabilization Act.

67. PASSENGERS WHO BOUGHT TICKETS ON BANKRUPT AIRLINES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123: Other airlines must honor these tickets to the extent practicable.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the air carriers, to the extent practicable, to honor the tickets of passengers purchased by airlines that file for bankruptcy, if the purchaser requests the use of his or her ticket within 60 days of the suspended or canceled flight, for the first 18 months after enactment of this legislation.

68. FLIGHT SERVICE STATION EMPLOYEES

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(a): Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with these employees.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress that FAA should continue negotiating in good faith with flight service station employees.

69. WAR RISK INSURANCE

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(b): Sense of Congress that vendors agents and sub-contractors of general aviation aircraft should get war risk insurance.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers the Sense of Congress on the availability of war risk insurance to vendors, agents, and subcontractors of air carriers for all their domestic operations.

70. ANIMALS

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 123(c): Sense of Congress that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the Postal Service allows to be mailed.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the House that airlines that transport mail should carry animals that the U.S. Postal Service permits to be sent in the mail.

71. CARRY-ON BAGGAGE

Senate bill

Report on carry-on baggage.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report offers ^{the} Sense of the Congress that the FAA should continue its current restrictions on carry-on baggage of 1 bag plus 1 personal item. A backpack should be considered a personal item.

72. USPS MAIL POLICY IN ALASKA

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conferees encourage the Congress to pass legislation quickly to restructure the United States Postal Service's process of tendering non-priority bypass mail with the State of Alaska. Restructuring this program to direct more carriers to convert to 121 passenger operators will improve the safety of air transportation in Alaska and enhance the security of passengers.

73. VICTIMS COMPENSATION

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Title II:

Conference substitute

The Conference substitute extends the liability limitations of the Air Transportation Stabilization Act to aircraft manufacturers, State port authorities, owners and operators of airports, and persons with property interests in the World Trade Center.

These provisions limit liability under the Act to the maximum level of their insurance coverage.

The Conferees expect that security functions at United States airports should become a Federal government responsibility, and it is their belief that while the number of Federal air marshals is classified, their presence would have a deterrent effect on hijacking and would further bolster public confidence in the safety of air travel. The Conferees also noted that the effectiveness of existing security measures, including employee background checks and passenger pre-screening, is currently impaired because of the inaccessibility of, or the failure to share information among, data bases maintained by different Federal and international agencies for criminal behavior or pertinent intelligence information.

The Conferees developed this legislation to address the security of the nation's transportation system.

3. ORGANIZATION OF SECURITY FUNCTION WITHIN DOT

Senate bill

Section 102: Creates a new Deputy Secretary of Transportation.

House amendment

Section 101: Creates a new Transportation Security Administration (TSA) within DOT headed by an Under Secretary. Establishes qualifications. Sets 5-year term. TSA has same procurement and personnel authority as the FAA.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report creates the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) to be headed by an Under Secretary within the DOT.

4. FUNCTIONS OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Coordinate and direct the functions of DOT and FAA under Chapter 449.

Work with the FAA on actions that affect safety.

Coordinate with DOJ, DOD, and other agencies on matters related to aviation security.

Coordinate transportation and actions of other agencies during an emergency. (This does not supersede the authority of any other agency.)

Establish uniform standards for transportation during an emergency.

Provide notice to other agencies about threats during an emergency. The Secretary defines what constitutes an emergency.

Take other actions, the Secretary shall prescribe.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary will be responsible for security in all modes of transportation. Specifically, Under Secretary is responsible for the following:

Receiving, assessing, and distributing intelligence information to the appropriate people in the transportation community.

Assessing threats to transportation.

Developing policies to deal with these threats.

Coordinating with other agencies.

Serve as the liaison with the intelligence community.

Any person with a property interest in the World Trade Center, as a condition to receiving liability protection under the Act, is required to satisfy all contractual obligations to rebuild or assist in the rebuilding of the World Trade Center.

The Conference substitute also limits the liability for all claims arising from the terrorist-related attacks of September 11, 2001, brought against the City of New York to the greater of the City's insurance coverage or $350,000,000.

8 This limitation on damages against the City of New York, however, ~~does~~ not apply to any non-government or private entity that is contracted with the City.

The Conference substitute also excludes entities primarily engaged in the business of airport security from its limitation on liability.

Supervising airport security using Federal uniformed personnel.

Manage the Federal security personnel in the field

Enforce security regulations.

Undertake research to improve security.

Inspect, maintain, and test security equipment.

Ensure that adequate security is provided for the transportation of cargo.

Oversee the security at airports and other transportation facilities.

Perform background checks on screeners and those who work at airports.

Develop standards for the hiring and firing of screeners.

Train and test screeners.

Conference substitute

The Conferees believe the best way to ensure effective Federal management of the nation's transportation system is through the creation of a new Administration within DOT to be called the Transportation Security Administration (TSA). The TSA's responsibilities will encompass security in all modes of transportation.

5. PAY OF DEPUTY SECRETARY OR UNDER SECRETARY

Senate bill

Section 127: Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule plus bonuses based on performance.

House amendment

Section 101(c): Paid at level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000).

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct that the Under Secretary is to be paid at Level II of the Executive Schedule ($141,300 in 2000). A bonus, not to exceed thirty percent of the annual salary may be provided based on the performance of the US to be determined by the Secretary.

6. REPORTS

Senate bill

Section 102(a): Annual report of activities.

Section 127: Annual DOT report on results achieved relative to the agency security performance plan.

Section 112: 60-day report on additional security measures.

Section 133: 120-day report on the new DOJ responsibilities for aviation security.

Section 113: 3-month report on how to improve security of general aviation and air charters.

House amendment

Section 106: Eliminates existing report in section 44938 of title 49, United States Code.

Conference substitute

6A. ENHANCED SECURITY

Senate bill

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

Section 115: 120 day report on the following issues:

- (1) Requiring verification of airport employees' identity.
- (2) Installing switches so flight attendants can notify pilots of a hijacking.
- (3) Revalidating airline and airport employee identification cards.
- (4) Updating strategy for dealing with hijackings.
- (5) Technology to improve communication between aircraft and ground facilities.

Section 211: DOT shall study options for improving positive IDs of passengers at check-in counters and boarding areas. Report required in 6 months.

House amendment

Section 106: Requires the Under Secretary to address the issues listed below and to report 6 months after the date of enactment on the progress being made in implementing each.

A similar report would have to be submitted each year thereafter until all the items had either been implemented or rejected:

- (1) Develop procedures (such as barrel rolls or depressurizing the aircraft) and authorize equipment (such as lethal or non-lethal weapons) to help the pilot defend the aircraft against hijackers.

- (2) After consultation with the FAA, find ways to—

- (A) limit access to the cockpit;
- (B) strengthen cockpit doors;
- (C) use video cameras to alert pilots to problems in the passenger cabin without having to open the cockpit door;
- (D) ensure that the aircraft transponder cannot be turned off in flight.

- (3) Impose standards for the screening or inspection of vehicles and employees of aircraft fuelers, caterers, cleaners, and others who have access to aircraft and secure areas of airports.

- (4) Require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains.

- (5) Use various technologies, such as voice stress analysis, to prevent a dangerous person from boarding a plane.

- (6) Develop certification standards for individual screeners.

- (7) Establish performance goals and use Threat Image Projection (TIP) or similar devices to test whether screeners are meeting those goals or certification standards.

- (8) Develop ways for airlines to have access to law enforcement and immigration data bases to ensure that dangerous people do not board their planes.

- (9) Use the profiling system known as CAPS to not only give special scrutiny to selected checked baggage but also to the passengers who fit the profile and their carry-on baggage.

- (10) Use technology to ensure that airport and airline employees and law enforcement officers are who they claim to be.

- (11) Install switches in the passenger cabin so that flight attendants can discreetly notify a pilot if there is a problem.

- (12) Change the training of airline personnel in light of the change in the methods and goals of hijackers as evidenced by the attack of September 11th.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\111601\111601.015

(13) Provide for background checks for those seeking flying lessons on large aircraft or flight simulators of such aircraft.

(14) Enter into agreements allowing trained law enforcement personnel of other agencies to travel with guns in order to assist a sky marshal.

(15) Perform more thorough background checks (including review of immigration and other government records) of airport screeners, student pilots, and others who have unescorted access to secure areas of the airport.

(16) Establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel authorized to carry a gun on board to ensure they are who they claim to be.

(17) Allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening for those passengers that wish to participate.

(18) Develop security procedures for stem cells and other medical containers that cannot be opened or x-rayed.

(19) Develop security procedures to allow musical instruments to be carried in the passenger cabin.

(20) Provide for the use of wireless devices to enable communications among airport security personnel about potential threats.

Conference substitute

The Under Secretary shall decide upon establishing security measures to: ensure that the flight transponder cannot be turned off in flight; require airlines to provide emergency call capability from aircraft and trains; use voice stress analysis, biometric, and other technologies to prevent dangerous persons from boarding a plane; establish a uniform system for identifying law enforcement personnel traveling with firearms to ensure they are who they claim to be; require the consideration of alternative security procedures that would not damage medical products; allow airlines to implement trusted passenger programs to use technology to expedite screening on a voluntary basis; and, provide for the use of technology to enhance communications among airport security personnel about potential threats. The conferees encourage efforts by the Transportation Security Administration and professional organizations representing industry to use biometric information, such as fingerprints collected initially as input to the background check process, for future verification of identity at access control points to secure airport areas. The Conferees applaud efforts to improve day-to-day airport security by utilizing this raw biometric information collected from individuals as a recurrent identifier for access to secure areas. The Conferees urge the Transportation Security Administration to work with industry organizations that ~~can~~ assist in the process of background checks, record-keeping, and universal access control data. 7. RESPONSIBILITY OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Senate bill

Section 102(b): Responsible for screening, including the hiring and training of screeners.

House amendment

No provision—The Under Secretary is responsible for screening.

November 16, 2001 (6:43 AM)

F:\V7\11601\11601.015

Conference substitute
No provision.

8. TRANSITION

Senate bill

Section 102(d): Until Deputy Secretary takes office, the functions are performed by the Assistant Administrator of the FAA.

Section 108: Transition to Attorney General immediate. Actions completed in 9 months.

House amendment

Section 101: Under Secretary shall assume civil aviation security responsibilities in 3 months. In the meantime, Under Secretary can take over airline contracts with screening companies.

No change until Under Secretary is appointed.

Conference substitute

The Conferees direct the Under Secretary to assume responsibility for civil aviation security within 3 months of the enactment of this legislation.

9. TECHNOLOGY AND EQUIPMENT

Senate bill

Section 102(c): Amends 44932(c) to require FAA to ensure the use of the best available security equipment, not merely the best available x-ray equipment.

Section 108: Restates provision in current law requiring manual process where equipment is now underutilized.

Section 132: By September 30, 2002, FAA shall decide the feasibility of implementing technologies designed to protect aviation and automatically detect bombs, drugs, hazardous chemicals, and nuclear devices.

Section 201(b): FAA shall deploy and use existing bomb detection equipment. Within 60 days, FAA shall establish goals for—

- (1) deploying equipment now in storage;
- (2) specifying a percentage of checked bags to be scanned within 6 months, with a goal of scanning 100 percent;
- (3) the number of bomb detectors that will be purchased for deployment at medium sized airports within 6 months. [See item 29.]

House amendment

Section 106: Makes no change in section 44932(c) of title 49, United States Code, but directs Under Secretary to consider requiring various technologies described in item 6 above and report to Congress on them 6 months after enactment and annually thereafter until those technologies are deployed or a decision is made not to deploy them.

Conference substitute

The Conferees want new, state-of-the-art security equipment installed at airports on an expedited basis, and immediate action taken to ensure that existing explosive detection equipment is employed to the greatest extent possible for the screening of checked baggage. It is expected that additional equipment will be installed in as timely a manner as possible, and in the interim, other systems will be used to screen baggage. The Conferees agree that ev-

used

everything going on board a passenger aircraft should be screened within 60 days by FAA-approved methods.

10. AIRWORTHINESS OBJECTIONS BY FAA

Senate bill

Section 102: Must consult with FAA on all matters affecting safety and operations.

House amendment

Section 106: Under Secretary cannot take an action if notified by the FAA that it would adversely affect the airworthiness of the aircraft unless the Secretary approves the action.

Conference substitute

House provision.

11. ROLE OF NATIONAL TRANSPORTATION SAFETY BOARD (NTSB)

Senate bill

No provision.

House amendment

Section 106: In taking an action that could affect safety, Under Secretary shall solicit and give great weight to views of NTSB.

Conference substitute

The Conferees instruct that in taking actions that could affect safety, the timely views of the National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) will be taken into consideration by the Under Secretary. The conferees wished to emphasize that the views of the NTSB should be provided in a sufficiently and timely manner so those views could be fully considered by the Under Secretary.

12. BIOLOGICAL AND CHEMICAL WEAPONS

Senate bill

Section 102(c): FAA shall develop ways to enhance the ability to detect biological and chemical weapons.

Section 106(c): DOT shall require airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect these weapons.

House bill

No provision.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report requires airports to maximize the use of equipment to detect and neutralize biological and chemical weapons, and instructs the FAA to develop ways to enhance the detection of these weapons. ✓

13. OVERSIGHT AND COORDINATION

Senate bill

Section 103: Establishes Aviation Security Oversight Council (ASOC), chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, and any other agency head DOT and DOJ determine to be appropriate.

House bill

Section 112: Establishes Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by DOT Secretary and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, and either NSC or Homeland Security. TSOB

shares intelligence, reviews emergency rules, and oversees actions of Under Secretary.

Establishes Advisory Council, composed of industry, labor, families, and others to advise Under Secretary on security matters.

Conference substitute

The Conference Report establishes the Transportation Security Oversight Board (TSOB) chaired by the Secretary of DOT and composed of DOJ, DOD, Treasury, CIA, NSC and Homeland Security. The TSOB may review and ratify or disapprove regulations issued by the Under Secretary; facilitate the coordination of intelligence, security and law enforcement activities affecting transportation; and, perform other duties including making recommendations to the Under Secretary for use in combating threats to the integrity of the nation's transportation system.

14. RULEMAKING

Senate bill

No Rules required by DOJ for its own employees; cockpit requirements issuable without APA.

House bill

Section 101: Under Secretary can issue security rules immediately without notice and comment, DOT or OMB review, and without a cost-benefit analysis but subject to disapproval by the TSOB.

Conference substitute

House provision.

15. INSPECTOR GENERAL

Senate bill

No provision.

House bill

Section 101: TSA is subject to the Inspector General Act.

Conference substitute

The Conference report instructs that the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) will be subject to the Inspector General Act.

16. CROSS CHECKING DATA BASES

Senate bill

Section 103(a): DOT, acting through ASOC, shall try to develop a common data base with other agencies and share information about people.

Section 211: DOT, as part of the ASOC, shall conduct a 90-day review of upgrades to the distribution of people on the "watch list" of Federal law enforcement agencies.

Upgrades shall be deployed in 6 months.

A report shall be filed in 18 months.

House bill

Section 106: To the extent that the Under Secretary determines appropriate, the Under Secretary shall (1) establish procedures requiring airlines to use information from government agencies to identify people who may be a threat to civil aviation and (2) require more thorough background checks that include a review of other agency data bases.

1 parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield direct services under
2 this section for any cost for which the airport operator,
3 on-airport parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield direct serv-
4 ices does not demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Sec-
5 retary, using sworn financial statements or other appro-
6 priate data, that—

7 (1) the cost is eligible for reimbursement under
8 subsection (a); and

9 (2) the cost was incurred by the airport oper-
10 ator, on-airport parking lot, or vendor of on-airfield
11 direct services.

12 The Inspector General of the Department of Transpor-
13 tation and the Comptroller General of the United States
14 may audit such statements and may request any other in-
15 formation ~~that~~ necessary to conduct such an audit.

16 (c) CLAIM PROCEDURE.—Within 30 days after the
17 date of enactment of this Act, the Secretary, after con-
18 sultation with airport operators, on-airport parking lots,
19 and vendors of on-airfield direct services, shall publish in
20 the Federal Register the procedures for filing claims for 21 reimbursement under this section of eligible costs incurred
22 by airport operators.

1 (c) DEADLINE FOR DEPLOYMENT OF FEDERAL
2 SCREENERS.—

3 (1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 1 year after
4 the date of enactment of this Act, the Under Sec-
5 retary of Transportation for Security shall deploy at
6 all airports in the United States where screening is
7 required under section 44901 of title 49, United
8 States Code, a sufficient number of Federal screen-
9 ers, Federal Security Managers, Federal security
10 personnel, and Federal law enforcement officers to
11 conduct the screening of all passengers and property
12 under section 44901 of such title at such airports.

13 (2) CERTIFICATION TO CONGRESS.—Not later
14 than 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act,
15 the Under Secretary shall transmit to Congress a
16 certification that the requirement of paragraph (1)
17 has been met.

1 Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transpor-
2 tation of the Senate and to the Committee on Trans-
3 portation and Infrastructure of the House of Rep-
4 resentatives on the deployment of the systems re-
5 quired by section 44901(c) of title 49, United States
6 Code. The Under Secretary shall include in the
7 report—

8 (A) an installation schedule;

9 (B) the dates of installation of each sys-
10 tem; and

11 (C) the date on which each system in-
12 stalled is operational.

13 (2) SCREENING OF SMALL AIRCRAFT.—Within
14 1 year after the date of enactment of this Act, the 15 Under Secretary of Transportation for Security shall
16 transmit a report to the Committee on Commerce,
17 Science, and Transportation of the Senate and Com-
18 mittee on Transportation and Infrastructure of the
19 House of Representatives on the screening require-
20 ments applicable to passengers boarding, and prop-
21 erty being carried aboard, aircraft with 60 seats or
22 less used in scheduled passenger service with rec-
23 ommendations for any necessary changes in those
24 requirements.

111) 1 SEC. 109. TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT OF SECURITY

2 SCREENING PERSONNEL.

3 (a) IN GENERAL.—Section 44935 of title 49, United
4 States Code, is amended—

5 (1) by redesignating subsection (f) as sub-
6 section (i); and

7 (2) by striking subsection (e) and inserting the
8 following:

9 “(e) SECURITY SCREENERS.—

10 “(1) TRAINING PROGRAM.—The Under Sec-
11 retary of Transportation for Security shall establish
12 a program for the hiring and training of security
13 screening personnel.

14 “(2) HIRING.—

15 “(A) QUALIFICATIONS.—Within 30 days
16 after the date of enactment of the Aviation and
17 Transportation Security Act, the Under Sec-
18 retary shall establish qualification standards for
19 individuals to be hired by the United States as 20 security screening personnel. Notwithstanding
21 any provision of law, those standards shall re-
22 quire, at a minimum, an individual—

23 “(i) to have a satisfactory or better
24 score on a Federal security screening per-
25 sonnel selection examination;

54

1 “(ii) to be a citizen of the United
2 States;

3 “(iii) to meet, at a minimum, the re-
4 quirements set forth in subsection (f);

5 “(iv) to meet such other qualifications
6 as the Under Secretary may establish; and

7 “(v) to have the ability to demonstrate
8 daily a fitness for duty without any impair-
9 ment due to illegal drugs, sleep depriva-
10 tion, medication, or alcohol.

11 “(B) BACKGROUND CHECKS.—The Under
12 Secretary shall require that an individual to be
13 hired as a security screener undergo an employ-
14 ment investigation (including a criminal history
15 record check) under section 44936(a)(1).

16 “(C) DISQUALIFICATION OF INDIVIDUALS
17 WHO PRESENT NATIONAL SECURITY RISKS.—
18 The Under Secretary, in consultation with the
19 heads of other appropriate Federal agencies,
20 shall establish procedures, in addition to any
21 background check conducted under section
22 44936, to ensure that no individual who pre-
23 sents a threat to national security is employed
24 as a security screener.

1 “(3) EXAMINATION; REVIEW OF EXISTING
2 RULES.—The Under Secretary shall develop a secu-
3 rity screening personnel examination for use in de-
4 termining the qualification of individuals seeking
5 employment as security screening personnel. The
6 Under Secretary shall also review, and revise as nec-
7 essary, any standard, rule, or regulation governing
8 the employment of individuals as security screening
9 personnel.

10 “(f) EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS FOR SCREENING
11 PERSONNEL.—

12 “(1) SCREENER REQUIREMENTS.—Notwith-
13 standing any provision of law, an individual may not
14 be deployed as a security screener unless that indi-
15 vidual meets the following requirements:

16 “(A) The individual shall possess a high
17 school diploma, a general equivalency diploma,
18 or experience that the Under Secretary has de-
19 termined to be sufficient for the individual to
20 perform the duties of the position.

21 “(B) The individual shall possess basic ap-
22 titudes and physical abilities, including color
23 perception, visual and aural acuity, physical co-
24 ordination, and motor skills, to the following
25 standards:

1 “(i) Screeners operating screening
2 equipment shall be able to distinguish on
3 the screening equipment monitor the ap-
4 propriate imaging standard specified by
5 the Under Secretary. Wherever the screen-
6 ing equipment system displays colors, the
7 operator shall be able to perceive each
8 color.

9 “(ii) Screeners operating any screen-
10 ing equipment shall be able to distinguish
11 each color displayed on every type of
12 screening equipment and explain what each
13 color signifies.

14 “(iii) Screeners shall be able to hear
15 and respond to the spoken voice and to au-
16 dible alarms generated by screening equip-
17 ment in an active checkpoint environment.

18 “(iv) Screeners performing physical
19 searches or other related operations shall
20 be able to efficiently and thoroughly ma-
21 nipulate and handle such baggage, con-
22 tainers, and other objects subject to secu-
23 rity processing.

24 “(v) Screeners who perform pat-downs
25 or hand-held metal detector searches of in-

1 individuals shall have sufficient dexterity and
2 capability to thoroughly conduct those pro-
3 cedures over a individual's entire body.

4 “(C) The individual shall be able to read,
5 speak, and write English well enough to—

6 “(i) carry out written and oral in-
7 structions regarding the proper perform-
8 ance of screening duties;

9 “(ii) read English language identifica-
10 tion media, credentials, airline tickets, and
11 labels on items normally encountered in
12 the screening process;

13 “(iii) provide direction to and under-
14 stand and answer questions from English-
15 speaking individuals undergoing screening;
16 and

17 “(iv) write incident reports and state-
18 ments and log entries into security records
19 in the English language.

20 “(D) The individual shall have satisfac-
21 torily completed all initial, recurrent, and ap-
22 propriate specialized training required by the
23 security program, except as provided in para-
24 graph (3).

1 “(2) VETERANS PREFERENCE.—The Under
2 Secretary shall provide a preference for the hiring of
3 an individual as a security screener if the individual
4 is a member or former member of the armed forces
5 and if the individual is entitled, under statute, to re-
6 tired, retirement, or retainer pay on account of serv-
7 ice as a member of the armed forces.

8 “(3) EXCEPTIONS.—An individual who has not
9 completed the training required by this section may
10 be deployed during the on-the-job portion of training
11 to perform functions if that individual—

12 “(A) is closely supervised; and

13 “(B) does not make independent judg-
14 ments as to whether individuals or property
15 may enter a sterile area or aircraft without fur-
16 ther inspection.

17 “(4) REMEDIAL TRAINING.—No individual em-
18 ployed as a security screener may perform a screen-
19 ing function after that individual has failed an oper-
20 ational test related to that function until that indi-
21 vidual has successfully completed the remedial train-
22 ing specified in the security program.

23 “(5) ANNUAL PROFICIENCY REVIEW.—The
24 Under Secretary shall provide that an annual eval-
25 uation of each individual assigned screening duties is

1 conducted and documented. An individual employed
2 as a security screener may not continue to be em-
3 ployed in that capacity unless the evaluation dem-
4 onstrates that the individual—

5 “(A) continues to meet all qualifications
6 and standards required to perform a screening
7 function;

8 “(B) has a satisfactory record of perform-
9 ance and attention to duty based on the stand-
10 ards and requirements in the security program;
11 and

12 “(C) demonstrates the current knowledge
13 and skills necessary to courteously, vigilantly,
14 and effectively perform screening functions.

15 “(6) OPERATIONAL TESTING.—In addition to
16 the annual proficiency review conducted under para-
17 graph (5), the Under Secretary shall provide for the 18 operational testing of such personnel.

19 “(g) TRAINING.—

20 “(1) USE OF OTHER AGENCIES.—The Under
21 Secretary may enter into a memorandum of under-
22 standing or other arrangement with any other Fed-
23 eral agency or department with appropriate law en-
24 forcement responsibilities, to provide personnel, re-

1 sources, or other forms of assistance in the training
2 of security screening personnel.

3 “(2) TRAINING PLAN.—Within 60 days after
4 the date of enactment of the Aviation and Transpor-
5 tation Security Act, the Under Secretary shall de-
6 velop a plan for the training of security screening
7 personnel. The plan shall require, at a minimum,
8 that a security screener—

9 “(A) has completed 40 hours of classroom
10 instruction or successfully completed a program
11 that the Under Secretary determines will train
12 individuals to a level of proficiency equivalent to 13 the level that would be achieved by such class-
14 room instruction;

15 “(B) has completed 60 hours of on-the-job
16 instruction; and

17 “(C) has successfully completed an on-the-
18 job training examination prescribed by the
19 Under Secretary.

20 “(3) EQUIPMENT-SPECIFIC TRAINING.—An in-
21 dividual employed as a security screener may not use
22 any security screening device or equipment in the 23 scope of that individual’s employment unless the in-
24 dividual has been trained on that device or equip-

13 SEC. 43. AIRPORT IMPROVEMENT PROGRAMS.

14 (a) COMPETITION PLAN.—Section 47106(f) is
15 amended—

16 (1) by redesignating paragraph (3) as para-
17 graph (4); and

18 (2) by inserting after paragraph (2) the fol-
19 lowing:

20 “(3) SPECIAL RULE FOR FISCAL YEAR 2002.—

21 This subsection does not apply to any passenger fa-
22 cility fee approved, or grant made, in fiscal year
23 2002 if the fee or grant is to be used to improve se-
24 curity at a covered airport.”.

1 ment and has successfully completed a test on the
2 use of the device or equipment.

3 “(h) TECHNOLOGICAL TRAINING.—

4 “(1) IN GENERAL.—The Under Secretary shall
5 require training to ensure that screeners are pro-
6 ficient in using the most up-to-date new technology
7 and to ensure their proficiency in recognizing new
8 threats and weapons.

9 “(2) PERIODIC ASSESSMENTS.—The Under
10 Secretary shall make periodic assessments to deter-
11 mine if there are dual use items and inform security
12 screening personnel of the existence of such items.

13 “(3) CURRENT LISTS OF DUAL USE ITEMS.—
14 Current lists of dual use items shall be part of the 15 ongoing training for screeners.

16 “(4) DUAL USE DEFINED.—For purposes of
17 this subsection, the term ‘dual use’ item means an 18 item that may seem harmless but that may be used
19 as a weapon.

20 “(i) LIMITATION ON RIGHT TO STRIKE.—An indi-
21 vidual that screens passengers or property, or both, at an
22 airport under this section may not participate in a strike,
23 or assert the right to strike, against the person (including 24 a governmental entity) employing such individual to per-
25 form such screening.

1 “(j) UNIFORMS.—The Under Secretary shall require
2 any individual who screens passengers and property pur-
3 suant to section 44901 to be attired while on duty in a
4 uniform approved by the Under Secretary.”.

5 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—Section
6 44936(a)(1) of title 49, United States Code, is amended—

7 (1) in subparagraph (A) by inserting “as a se-
8 curity screener under section 44935(e) or a posi-
9 tion” after “a position”; and

10 (2) in subparagraph (E) by striking clause (iv).

11 (c) TRANSITION.—The Under Secretary of Trans-
12 portation for Security shall complete the full implementa-
13 tion of section 44935 (e), (f), (g), and (h) of title 49,
14 United States Code, as amended by subsection (a), as soon
15 as is practicable. The Under Secretary may make or con-
16 tinue such arrangements for the training of security
17 screeners under that section as the ~~Attorney General~~ de-
18 termines necessary pending full implementation of that
19 section as so amended.

20 (d) SCREENER PERSONNEL.—Notwithstanding any
21 other provision of law, the Under Secretary of Transpor-
22 tation for Security may employ, appoint, discipline, termi-
23 nate, and fix the compensation, terms, and conditions of 24 employment of Federal service for such a number of indi-
25 viduals as the Under Secretary determines to be necessary

*Under
Secretary*

1 to carry out the screening functions of the Under Sec-
2 retary under section 44901 of title 49, United States
3 Code. The Under Secretary shall establish levels of com-
4 pensation and other benefits for individuals so employed.

5 ~~(e) FINAL RULES ESTABLISHING TRAINING STAND-~~
6 ~~ARDS FOR SCREENERS.—Section 44935(e)(1) of title 49,~~
7 ~~United States Code, is amended by striking “May 31,~~
8 ~~2001” and inserting “6 months after the date of enact-~~
9 ~~ment of the Airport and Transportation Security Act”~~

4 (b) ADDITIONAL MATTERS REGARDING RESEARCH
5 AND DEVELOPMENT.—

6 (1) ADDITIONAL PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS.—

7 Subsection (a) of section 44912 of title 49, United
8 States Code, is amended—

9 (A) by redesignating paragraph (4) as
10 paragraph (5); and

11 (B) by inserting after paragraph (3) the
12 following new paragraph (4):

13 “(4)(A) In carrying out the program established
14 under this subsection, the Administrator shall designate
15 an individual to be responsible for engineering, research,
16 and development with respect to security technology under
17 the program.

18 “(B) The individual designated under subparagraph
19 (A) shall use appropriate systems engineering and risk
20 management models in making decisions regarding the al-
21 location of funds for engineering, research, and develop-
22 ment with respect to security technology under the pro-
23 gram.

24 “(C) The individual designated under subparagraph
25 (A) shall, on an annual basis, submit to the Research, En-

1 gineering and Development Advisory Committee a report
2 on activities under this paragraph during the preceding
3 year. Each report shall include, for the year covered by
4 such report, information on—

5 ~~“(i) progress made in engineering, research,~~
6 and development with respect to security technology;

7 ~~“(ii) the allocation of funds for engineering,~~
8 research, and development with respect to security
9 technology; and

10 ~~“(iii) engineering, research, and development~~
11 with respect to any technologies drawn from other
12 agencies, including the rationale for engineering, re-
13 search, and development with respect to such tech-
14 nologies.”.

15 ~~“(2) REVIEW OF THREATS.—Subsection (b)(1)~~
16 of that section is ~~amended—~~ (to the

17 ~~“(A) by redesignating subparagraphs (A)~~
18 G) through ~~(F)~~ as subparagraphs (B) through ~~(G)~~, (H)
19 respectively; and

20 ~~“(B) by inserting before subparagraph~~
21 (B), as so redesignated, the following new sub-
22 paragraph (A):

23 ~~“(A) a comprehensive systems analysis (em-~~
24 ploying vulnerability analysis, threat attribute defini-

1 tion, and technology roadmaps) of the civil aviation
2 system, including—

3 ~~“(i) the destruction, commandeering, or~~
4 diversion of civil aircraft or the use of civil air-
5 craft as a weapon; and

6 ~~“(ii) the disruption of civil aviation serv-~~
7 ice, including by cyber attack;”.

8 ~~“(3) SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY PANEL.—Subsection~~
9 (c) of that section is amended to read as follows:

10 ~~“(c) SCIENTIFIC ADVISORY PANEL.—(1) The Ad-~~
11 ministrator shall establish a scientific advisory panel, as
12 a subcommittee of the Research, Engineering, and Devel-
13 opment Advisory Committee, to review, comment on, ad-
14 vise the progress of, and recommend modifications in, the 15 program established under subsection (a) of this section,
16 including the need for long-range research programs to de-
17 tect and prevent catastrophic damage to commercial air-
18 craft, commercial aviation facilities, commercial aviation
19 personnel and passengers, and other components of the 20 commercial aviation system by the next generation of ter-
21 rorist weapons.

22 ~~“(2)(A) The advisory panel shall consist of individ-~~
23 uals who have scientific and technical expertise in—

24 ~~“(i) the development and testing of effective~~
25 explosive detection systems;

67
68

1 “(ii) aircraft structure and experimentation to
2 decide on the type and minimum weights of explo-
3 sives that an effective explosive detection technology
4 must be capable of detecting;

5 “(iii) technologies involved in minimizing air-
6 frame damage to aircraft from explosives; and

7 “(iv) other scientific and technical areas the
8 Administrator considers appropriate.

9 “(B) In appointing individuals to the advisory panel,
10 the Administrator should consider individuals from aca-
11 demia and the national laboratories, as appropriate.

12 “(3) The Administrator shall organize the advisory
13 panel into teams capable of undertaking the review of poli-
14 cies and technologies upon request.

15 “(4) Not later than 90 days after the date of the 16 enactment of the Aviation and Transportation Security
17 Act, and every two years thereafter, the Administrator
18 shall review the composition of the advisory panel in order
19 to ensure that the expertise of the individuals on the panel
20 is suited to the current and anticipated duties of the 21 panel.”.

22 “(c) COORDINATION WITH ATTORNEY GENERAL.—
23 Section 44912(b) of title 49, United States Code, is
24 amended by adding at the end the following:

1 ["(3) Beginning on the date of enactment of the 2 Aviation and Transportation Security Act, the Adminis-
 3 trator shall conduct all research related to screening tech-
 4 nology and procedures in conjunction with the Attorney
 5 General.".]

7 (a) IN GENERAL.—Chapter 449 of title 49, United
 8 States Code, is amended by adding at the end the fol-
 9 lowing new section:

10 "§ 44939. Training to operate certain aircraft

11 "(a) WAITING PERIOD.—A person subject to regula-
 12 tion under this part may provide training in the operation
 13 of any aircraft having a maximum [certificated] takeoff
 14 weight of 12,500 pounds or less to an alien (as defined
 15 in section 101(a)(3) of the Immigration and Nationality
 16 Act (8 U.S.C. 1101(a)(3))) or to any other individual
 17 specified by the Under Secretary of Transportation for Se-
 18 curity only if—

19 "(1) that person has first notified the Under
 20 Secretary [and the Attorney General] that the indi-
 21 vidual has requested such training and furnished the
 22 Under Secretary with that individual's identification
 23 in such form as the Under Secretary may require;
 24 and

Subchapter II
 of

Attorney
 General

1 “(2) the Attorney General has not directed,
2 within 45 days after being notified under paragraph
3 (1), that person not to provide the requested train-
4 ing because the Attorney General has determined
5 that the individual presents a risk to aviation or na-
6 tional security.

7 “(b) INTERRUPTION OF TRAINING.—If the Attorney
8 General, more than 45 days after receiving notification
9 under subsection (a) from a person providing training de-
10 scribed in subsection (a), determines that the individual
11 presents a risk to aviation or national security, the Attor-
12 ney General shall immediately notify the person providing 13 the training of the determination and that person shall 14 immediately terminate the training.

15 “(c) COVERED TRAINING.—For the purposes of sub-
16 section (a), training includes in-flight training, training in
17 a simulator, and any other form or aspect of training.

18 “(d) SECURITY AWARENESS TRAINING FOR EMPLOY-
19 EES.—The Under Secretary shall require flight schools to
20 conduct a security awareness program for flight school
21 employees to increase their awareness of suspicious cir-
22 cumstances and activities of individuals enrolling in or at-
23 tending flight school.”.

1 (b) CLERICAL AMENDMENT.—The table of sections
2 at the beginning of such chapter is amended by adding
3 at the end the following new item:

“44939. Training to operate certain aircraft.”.

4 (c) INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION.—The Secretary
5 of Transportation, in consultation with the Secretary of
6 State, shall work with the International Civil Aviation Or-
7 ganization and the civil aviation authorities of other coun-
8 tries to improve international aviation security through
9 screening programs for flight instruction candidates.

10 (d) EFFECTIVE DATE.—The amendment made by
11 subsection (a) applies to applications for training received
12 after the date of enactment of this Act.

5 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The chapter anal-
6 ysis for chapter 465 of such title is amended by inserting
7 after the item relating to section 46502 the following:

“46503. Interference with security screening personnel”.

117/ 8 SEC. 441. PASSENGER MANIFESTS.

9 Section 44909 is amended by adding at the end the
10 following:

11 “(c) FLIGHTS IN FOREIGN AIR TRANSPORTATION TO
12 THE UNITED STATES.—

13 “(1) IN GENERAL.—Not later than 60 days
14 after the date of enactment of the Aviation and
15 Transportation Security Act, each air carrier and
16 foreign air carrier operating a passenger flight in
17 foreign air transportation to the United States shall
18 provide to the Commissioner of Customs by elec-
19 tronic transmission a passenger and crew manifest
20 containing the information specified in paragraph
21 (2). Carriers may use the advanced passenger infor-
22 mation system established under section 431 of the 23 Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1431) to provide the
24 information required by the preceding sentence.

1 “(2) INFORMATION.—A passenger and crew
2 manifest for a flight required under paragraph (1)
3 shall contain the following information:

4 “(A) The full name of each passenger and
5 crew member.

6 “(B) The date of birth and citizenship of
7 each passenger and crew member.

8 “(C) The sex of each passenger and crew
9 member.

10 “(D) The passport number and country of 11 issuance of each passenger and crew member if
12 required for travel.

13 “(E) The United States visa number or
14 resident alien card number of each passenger
15 and crew member, as applicable.

16 “(F) Such other information as the Under
17 Secretary, in consultation with the Commis-
18 sioner of Customs, determines is reasonably
19 necessary to ensure aviation safety.

20 “(3) PASSENGER NAME RECORDS.—The car-
21 riers shall make passenger name record information
22 available to the Customs Service upon request.

23 “(4) TRANSMISSION OF MANIFEST.—Subject to
24 paragraph (5), a passenger and crew manifest re-
25 quired for a flight under paragraph (1) shall be

1 transmitted to the Customs Service in advance of
2 the aircraft landing in the United States in such
3 manner, time, and form as the Customs Service pre-
4 scribes.

5 “(5) TRANSMISSION OF MANIFESTS TO OTHER
6 FEDERAL AGENCIES.—Upon request, information
7 provided to the Under Secretary or the Customs
8 Service under this subsection may be shared with
9 other Federal agencies for the purpose of protecting
10 national security.”

11 118) SEC. 148. AIR TRANSPORTATION ARRANGEMENTS IN CER-
12 TAIN STATES.

13 (a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any provision of
14 section 41309(a) of title 49, United States Code, to the 15 contrary, air carriers providing air transportation on
16 flights which both originate and terminate at points within
17 the same State may file an agreement, request, modifica-
18 tion, or cancellation of an agreement within the scope of
19 that section with the Secretary of Transportation upon a
20 declaration by the Governor of the State that such agree-
21 ment, request, modification, or cancellation is necessary
22 to ensure the continuing availability of such air transpor-
23 tation within that State.

24 (b) APPROVAL OF SECRETARY.—The Secretary may
25 approve any such agreement, request, modification, or

1 cancellation and grant an exemption under section
2 41308(c) of title 49, United States Code, to the extent
3 necessary to effectuate such agreement, request, modifica-
4 tion, or cancellation, without regard to the provisions of
5 section 41309(b) or (c) of that title.

6 (c) PUBLIC INTEREST REQUIREMENT.—The Sec-
7 retary may approve such an agreement, request, modifica-
8 tion, or cancellation if the Secretary determines that—

9 (1) the State to which it relates has extraor-
10 dinary air transportation needs and concerns; and

11 (2) approval is in the public interest.

12 (d) TERMINATION.—An approval under subsection
13 (b) and an exemption under section 41308(c) of title 49,
14 United States Code, granted under subsection (b) shall
15 terminate on the earlier of the 2 following dates:

16 (1) A date established by the Secretary in the
17 Secretary's discretion.

18 (2) October 1, 2002.

19 (e) EXTENSION.—Notwithstanding subsection (d), if
20 the Secretary determines that it is in the public interest,
21 the Secretary may extend the termination date under sub-
22 section (d)(2) until a date no later than October 1, 2003.

23 (f) REPORTS.—If the Secretary approves any such
24 agreement, request, modification, or cancellation under
25 this section and grants an exemption, the Secretary shall

1 transmit a report to Committee on Commerce, Science,
2 and Transportation of the Senate and the Committee on
3 Transportation and Infrastructure of the House of Rep-
4 resentatives within 6 months describing what actions have
5 been taken by the air carriers to which the exemption was
6 granted. The Secretary shall also notify those committees
7 if the Secretary extends the termination date under sub-
8 section (e).

9 SEC. 117. AIRLINE COMPUTER RESERVATION SYSTEMS.

10 In order to ensure that all airline computer reserva-
11 tion systems maintained by United States air carriers are
12 secure from unauthorized access by persons seeking infor-
13 mation on reservations, passenger manifests, or other non-
14 public information, the Secretary of Transportation shall
15 require all such air carriers to utilize to the maximum ex-
16 tent practicable the best technology available to secure
17 their computer reservation system against such unauthor-
18 ized access.

1 SEC. 116. SECURITY SERVICE FEE.

2 (a) IN GENERAL.—Subchapter II of chapter 449 is
3 amended by adding at the end the following:

4 “§ 44940. Security service fee

5 “(a) GENERAL AUTHORITY.—

6 “(1) PASSENGER FEES.—The Under Secretary
7 of Transportation for Security shall impose a uni-
8 form fee, on passengers of air carriers and foreign
9 air carriers in air transportation and intrastate air
10 transportation originating at airports in the United
11 States, to pay for the following costs of providing
12 civil aviation security services:

13 “(A) Salary, benefits, overtime, retirement
14 and other costs of screening personnel, their su-
15 pervisors and managers, and Federal law en-
16 forcement personnel deployed at airport security
17 screening locations under section 44901.

18 “(B) The costs of training personnel de-
19 scribed in subparagraph (A), and the acquisi-
20 tion, operation, and maintenance of equipment
21 used by such personnel.

22 “(C) The costs of performing background
23 investigations of personnel described in sub-
24 paragraphs (A), (D), (F), and (G).

1 “(D) The costs of the Federal air marshals
2 program.

3 “(E) The costs of performing civil aviation
4 security research and development under this
5 title.

6 “(F) The costs of Federal Security Man-
7 agers under section 44903.

8 “(G) The costs of deploying Federal law
9 enforcement personnel pursuant to section
10 44903(h).

11 The amount of such costs shall be determined by the 12 Under Secretary and shall not be subject to judicial 13 review ~~and section 44903.~~

14 “(2) AIR CARRIER FEES.—

15 “(A) AUTHORITY.—In addition to the fee
16 imposed pursuant to paragraph (1), and only to
17 the extent that the Under Secretary estimates
18 that such fee will be insufficient to pay for the
19 costs of providing civil aviation security services
20 described in paragraph (1), the Under Sec-
21 retary may impose a fee on air carriers and for-
22 eign air carriers engaged in air transportation
23 and intrastate air transportation to pay for the 24 difference between any such costs and the
25 amount collected from such fee, as estimated by

1 the Under Secretary at the beginning of each
2 fiscal year. The estimates of the Under Sec-
3 retary under this subparagraph are not subject
4 to judicial review.

5 "(B) LIMITATIONS.—

6 "(i) OVERALL LIMIT.—The amounts
7 of fees collected under this paragraph for
8 each fiscal year may not exceed, in the ag-
9 gregate, the amounts paid in calendar year
10 2000 by carriers described in subpara-
11 graph (A) for screening passengers and
12 property, as determined by the Under Sec-
13 retary.

14 "(ii) PER-CARRIER LIMIT.—The
15 amount of fees collected under this para-
16 graph from an air carrier described in sub-
17 paragraph (A) for each of fiscal years
18 2002, 2003, and 2004 may not exceed the
19 amount paid in calendar year 2000 by that
20 carrier for screening passengers and prop-
21 erty, as determined by the Under Sec-
22 retary.

23 "(iii) ADJUSTMENT OF PER-CARRIER
24 LIMIT.—For fiscal year 2005 and subse-
25 quent fiscal years, the per-carrier limita-

tion under clause (ii) may be determined by the Under Secretary on the basis of market share or any other appropriate measure in lieu of actual screening costs in calendar year 2000.

“(iv) FINALITY OF DETERMINATIONS.—Determinations of the Under Secretary under this subparagraph are not subject to judicial review.

“(c) SPECIAL RULE FOR FISCAL YEAR 2002.—The amount of fees collected under this paragraph from any carrier for fiscal year 2002 may not exceed the amounts paid by that carrier for screening passengers and property for a period of time in calendar year 2000 proportionate to the period of time in fiscal year 2002 during which fees are collected under this paragraph.

“(b) SCHEDULE OF FEES.—In imposing fees under subsection (a), the Under Secretary shall ensure that the fees are reasonably related to the Transportation Security Administration’s costs of providing services rendered.

“(c) LIMITATION ON FEE.—Fees imposed under subsection (a)(1) may not exceed $2.50 per enplanement in air transportation or intrastate air transportation that

1 originates at an airport in the United States, except that
2 the total amount of such fees may not exceed $5.00 per
3 one-way trip.

4 "(d) IMPOSITION OF FEE.—

5 "(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding section
6 9701 of title 31 and the procedural requirements of
7 section 553 of title 5, the Under Secretary shall im-
8 pose the fee under subsection (a)(1), and may im-
9 pose a fee under subsection (a)(2), through the pub-
10 lication of notice of such fee in the Federal Register
11 and begin collection of the fee within 60 days of the 12 date of enactment of this Act, or as soon as possible
13 thereafter.

14 "(2) SPECIAL RULES PASSENGER FEES.—A fee
15 imposed under subsection (a)(1) through the proce-
16 dures under subsection (d) shall apply only to tickets
17 sold after the date on which such fee is imposed. If 18 a fee imposed under subsection (a)(1) through the 19 procedures under subsection (d) on transportation of
20 a passenger of a carrier described in subsection
21 (a)(1) is not collected from the passenger, the
22 amount of the fee shall be paid by the carrier.

23 "(3) SUBSEQUENT MODIFICATION OF FEE.—

24 After imposing a fee in accordance with paragraph
25 (1), the Under Secretary may modify, from time to

1 (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT TO AIRPORT AND
2 AIRWAY TRUST FUND.—Section 9502(d)(1)(A) of the In-
3 ternal Revenue Code of 1986 (relating to airport and air-
4 way program) is amended by inserting “or the ~~Airport and~~ (Aviation
5 Transportation Security ~~Federalization~~ Act” after “21st
6 Century”.

124) 7 SEC. 14. TECHNICAL CORRECTIONS.

8 (a) REPORT DEADLINE.—Section 106(a) of the Air
9 Transportation Safety and System Stabilization Act (Pub-
10 lic Law 107-42) is amended by striking “February 1,
11 2001” and inserting “February 1, 2002”.

12 (b) INSURANCE AND REINSURANCE OF AIRCRAFT.—
13 Section 44306(c) (as redesignated by section 201(d) of 14 such Act) is amended by inserting “in the interest of air
15 commerce or national security or” before “to carry out
16 foreign policy”.

17 (c) FEDERAL CREDIT INSTRUMENTS.—Section
18 102(c)(2)(A) of such Act is amended by striking “rep-
19 resentatives” and inserting “representations”.

20 (d) MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF COMPENSATION PAYABLE
21 PER AIR CARRIER.—Section 103 of such Act is amended
22 by adding at the end the following:

23 “(d) COMPENSATION FOR CERTAIN AIR CARRIERS.—

24 “(1) SET-ASIDE.—The President may set aside
25 a portion of the amount of compensation payable to

1 time through publication of notice in the Federal
2 Register, the imposition or collection of such fee, or
3 both.

4 "(4) LIMITATION ON COLLECTION.—No fee
5 may be collected under this section except to the ex-
6 tent that the expenditure of the fee to pay the costs
7 of activities and services for which the fee is imposed
8 is provided for in advance in an appropriations Act.

9 "(e) ADMINISTRATION OF FEES.—

10 "(1) FEES PAYABLE TO UNDER SECRETARY.—
11 All fees imposed and amounts collected under this
12 section are payable to the Under Secretary.

13 "(2) FEES COLLECTED BY AIR CARRIER.—A fee
14 imposed under subsection (a)(1) shall be collected by 15 the air carrier or foreign air carrier that sells a tick-
16 et for transportation described in subsection (a)(1).

17 "(3) DUE DATE FOR REMITTANCE.—A fee col-
18 lected under this section shall be remitted on the
19 last day of each calendar month by the carrier col-
20 lecting the fee. The amount to be remitted shall be
21 for the calendar month preceding the calendar
22 month in which the remittance is made.

23 "(4) INFORMATION.—The Under Secretary may
24 require the provision of such information as the
25 Under Secretary decides is necessary to verify that

1 fees have been collected and remitted at the proper
2 times and in the proper amounts.

3 "(5) FEE NOT SUBJECT TO TAX.—For purposes
4 of section 4261 of the Internal Revenue Code of
5 1986 (26 U.S.C. 4261), a fee imposed under this
6 section shall not be considered to be part of the 7 amount paid for taxable transportation.

8 "(6) COST OF COLLECTING FEE.—No portion
9 of fee collected under this section may be retained
10 by the air carrier or foreign air carrier for the costs
11 of collecting, handling, or remitting the fee except 12 for interest accruing to the carrier after collection
13 and before remittance.

14 "(f) RECEIPTS CREDITED AS OFFSETTING COLLEC-
15 TIONS.—Notwithstanding section 3302 of title 31, any fee
16 collected under this section—

17 "(1) shall be credited as offsetting collections to
18 the account that finances the activities and services
19 for which the fee is imposed;

20 "(2) shall be available for expenditure only to 21 pay the costs of activities and services for which the
22 fee is imposed; and

23 "(3) shall remain available until expended.

1 “(g) REFUNDS.—The Under Secretary may refund
2 any fee paid by mistake or any amount paid in excess of
3 that required.

4 “(h) EXEMPTIONS.—The Under Secretary may ex-
5 empt from the passenger fee imposed under subsection
6 (a)(1) any passenger enplaning at an airport in the United
7 States that does not receive screening services under sec-
8 tion 44901 for that segment of the trip for which the pas-
9 senger does not receive screening.”.

10 “(b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—The analysis for 11 such chapter is amended by adding at the end the fol-
12 lowing:

“44940. Security service fee.”

1 ["§ 48114. User fee for security services charge

2 ["(a) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary of Transpor-
